LATEST INTELLIGENCE.

BY THE R. M. STEAMER.

The R. M. Steamship Cambria arrived at this port at an early hour yesterday morning, in 12½ days from Liverpool. The following extracts comprise the principal items of general intelligence:—

GREAT BRITAIN.

DEATH OF THE QUEEN DOWAGER.—Her Majesty the Queen Dowager died on Sunday morning the 2nd inst. at 7 minutes after two o'clock, without any apparent suffering, and retaining her complete mind to the last. The announcement of this melancholy event was then made in the London Gazette extraordinary:

"The Queen and Prince Albert paid their last visit to the Dowager Queen on the 22nd ult., before leaving for Osborne, and during her week her Royal Highness the Duchess of Kent twice visited the illustrious Queen. During the last week the bulletins sent to her Majesty's physicians do not set that little, if any, hope remained of the aged Queen's recovery. On Friday the condition excited the greatest alarm. On the morrow [illegible] place, and [illegible] were hastily summoned to the chamber. Her Majesty [illegible] Sunday morning, [illegible] peaceful. A [illegible] serious alarm [illegible] any doubt the [illegible] her Majesty [illegible]

A day or two [illegible]

tures, had rendered her deeply beloved by all classes of the inhabitants.

It is quite unnecessary to notice the charitable disposition of her late Majesty further than to state that she had given annually above £20,000 to different charitable purposes, and was connected with all the principal charities in London.

The deceased Queen Dowager Adelaide Louisa Theresa Caroline Amelia was the eldest daughter of George Frederick Charles, the late reigning Duke of Saxe Meiningen, and the Princess Louisa Eleanor, daughter of Christian Albert, Prince of Hohenlohe Langenburg. She was born on the 13th of August, 1792.

The funeral of the deceased lady took place on Thursday morning, which bespoke the [illegible]. The funeral service was performed by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Queen Adelaide's coffin was placed by the side of her royal husband's, both of them resting on a long stone platform, about 18 inches high and 3 or 4 feet broad, erected on the marble on the floor of the vault.

We understand that another company of Sappers are under orders for Halifax.

The Observer states that there has been no difference of opinion between any of the great powers on the question of the British fleet's entrance into the Dardanelles.

The Weekly Chronicle announces that there is not the slightest truth in the report recently circulated that the Prime Minister and a portion of his colleagues have resolved to propose a fixed duty on corn.

It is said to be the intention of Ministers, in the ensuing session, to repeal the Window-tax altogether—the amount about £1,500,000; but its abrogation will be chiefly hailed by the country on account of its sanitary tendencies. The repeal of the tax on paper has also been fixed on, because of the intolerable vexation which the excise laws occasion to persons engaged in paper trade.

Three German Jews are in custody, in London, for having forged Russian bank notes to the amount of £150,000.

COMMERCIAL.—Liverpool, Friday Evening. Commercial affairs continue in a quiet, but steady position. Both here and in London the Produce markets have been freely supplied. On the part of buyers there is a somewhat increasing activity, and most of the goods brought forward have found a free sale at full, and, in some instances, rather advanced prices.

In the Grain trade there has been little activity, but holders are, for the most part firm. At Liverpool the best Western Canal Flour is now quoted at 28s. to 21s; New Orleans and Ohio, 24s to 26s. Indian Corn realises 43s to 44s 6d for white and yellow.

Specie continues to arrive, particularly Gold, in considerable quantities. The Bank continues on the increase, and Money is very abundant at somewhat easier rates even than heretofore.

Price of Gold is 0.10 per cent, dearer in London than Paris, and 0.57 per cent dearer than in Hamburgh.

FOREIGN.

The election of the President of the French Republic has passed over in profound tranquillity, and with much apparent satisfaction to the people.

A sinister report has been revived that Russia insists on the removal of Pontois and the other refugees on the Turkish frontier, on their being exclusively receive service, and to be kept under a guard [illegible]. The Porte pleads that they have [illegible] the Mahometan faith, and that the Sultan has exclusive jurisdiction over them. Count Titoff [illegible] demands that Kossuth and the Polish refugees shall not only be removed, but "expelled" and this to be declared [illegible]. The Turkish Minister denies those demands, [illegible] the notes which have [illegible] have been sent on to St. Petersburg. [illegible] appears to be an [illegible] relations between the Porte and Russia.
