Mail Steamship.

During the last week of November, the Bay and Town of Galway were visited by Mr. Wag, staff, of New York, the owner of the new steamship which is to leave New York about the middle of this month for Galway.

A public meeting was held in Galway, at which Mr. Wagstaff gave a statement of his plan. He said that his father and himself had come to the resolution of placing a line of steamers on the route from New York to the west [illegible] furnish the information they required, he had visited the west coast; and he had arrived at the conclusion, after careful examination and mature deliberation, that a line of steamers from New York to Galway would be a paying speculation—for after having seen the port of Galway, he was perfectly satisfied that it was, of all others, the best adapted for intercourse by steam with America. Having submitted a plan of his steamer to the meeting, Mr. Wagstaff said, he felt confident she would perform the voyage with great ease, in eight days. If he succeeded he pledged himself to put on a line of steamers between Galway and New York which would make the voyage in seven days.

It was stated by Mr. Wagstaff that in his steamers he should look very much to the accommodation of emigrants. The sexes should be kept apart; there should be state-rooms and such accommodations as had never before been seen in an emigrant ship. The emigration from Ireland was the great traffic upon which he calculated, and he expected to take emigrants as low as six pounds each. He should make the trial for six months certain; as if the first one or two trips failed, he felt sure of succeeding in the third or fourth. He asked no pecuniary aid from the people of Galway, but was determined to prove the advantages of their port entirely at his own expense.

This project has created a good deal of sensation in Ireland, and if carried out successfully will cause a great and decided change in the present expensive mode of crossing the Atlantic, and lead to more frequent intercourse between the people of Europe and America. Independently of the expense, the sea-voyage is to very many the great objection to crossing the ocean. When the voyage is reduced to seven days, and even much less than that from Halifax, with a corresponding diminution in the passage, the trip will be made by hundreds, perhaps thousands, who now never dream of such an event, except as something very desirable, but wholly beyond their time and their means.—New Bruns.

CONSUMPTION PREVENTED.

That consumption, when once firmly fixed and seated, can be cured, we much doubt; but that it can be prevented, if the proper remedies are applied in season, we firmly believe. A slight cold, a gentle cough, a general derangement of the nervous system, which renders the individual sick or well—these are the symptoms which herald the approach of the fell destroyer. If these be attended to in season all may be well but neglect them and they will be sure to gain the mastery, and what was at first only troublesome at last becomes alarming, and often fatal.

For incipient consumption, we know of no better remedy than WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. It is soothing and healing in its nature, and is admirably adapted to allay and dissipate that annoying and distressing irritation which so much prevails at this season of the year, caused by colds, coughs and chills, brought on by frequent and sudden changes in the weather. We know of several severe cases which have been radically cured by the use of this Balsam.

Consumption, however, is a disease which differs very much in the severity of its symptoms and the rapidity of its progress, and has long baffled the skill of physicians, it cannot be supposed that this or any other remedy is capable of effecting a cure in every case and every stage of the disease, on the contrary, we must expect it to fail sometimes, a circumstance which occurs daily with all the most valuable remedies we possess.

The success which has attended this medicine for several years past, has overcome the prejudices of all respectable men, and the article has taken a stand among the first class of discoveries and blessings of the age; and when resorted to in season, eradicates the disease for which it is recommended.

None genuine, unless signed I. BUTTS on the wrapper.

SHARP'S Family Medicines.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

OF INTEREST TO ALL.

Sharp's Celebrated Family Medicines and Preparations.

SHARP'S COMPOUND ALKALINE INFUSION OF SARSAPARILLA.—Sarsaparilla has of late years been much used, and with great success, in cases of Chronic Rheumatism, as an alternative in Scrofulous affections, Scurvy, Obstinate, Cutaneous Eruptions, Indolent Ulcers, Diseases of the Periosteum and Bone, attended with obscure pains, wasting the flesh, tenderness of the part, tumors and nodes unconnected with Syphilis, and in that state of the habit known among medical men under the term of Cachexia, but which is not easy to define. In such cases Sarsaparilla proves a most valuable remedy, and often effects a cure when all other remedies have long been administered in vain, and when the diseased state of the system has been of many years duration.

This article, prepared by John G. Sharp, has performed numerous and most astonishing cures of persons who have for years been festered with sores from head to feet, and others who have been sent up with Mercurial Rheumatism, which they had been laid up with for 2 or 3 years. Prepared and sold by John G. Sharp, Member of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain. N. B.—Dose, a Wine Glass full, three times daily.

SHARP'S BALSAM of HOARHOUND AND ANISEED, for Coughs, Colds, Shortness of Breath, Asthma, &c.

This excellent medicine has the extraordinary property of immediately relieving Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Difficulty of Breathing, and Huskiness of the Throat. It operates by dissolving the congealed phlegm, and causing free expectoration.

Persons who are troubled with that unpleasant tickling in the Throat which deprives them of rest night after night, by the incessant cough which it provokes, will by taking one dose find immediate relief, and one bottle in most cases will effect a cure. Sold in bottles at 1s. 6d, to 2s. 6d, each.—Prepared by John G. Sharp, member of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, Dock street, St. John, N. B.

Sharp's Tincture of Myrrh and Borax; prepared with Eau de Cologne.

Self-Preservation:

A MEDICAL TREATISE ON THE PHYSIOLOGY [illegible] which, if not [illegible] at an early period of life, will inevitably undermine the physical and mental powers, diminish and enfeeble the natural feelings, and exhaust the energies of Manhood. With practical observations on the Treatment of Nervous Debility and Indigestion, whether arising from those causes, close study, or the influence of Tropical climates; Local and Constitutional Weakness, Syphilis, Stricture, and all Diseases and Derangements resulting from Indiscretion. With Fifty Coloured Engravings, illustrating the Anatomy, Physiology, and Diseases of the Reproductive Organs, explaining their structures, uses and functions, and the various injuries that are produced in them, "by solitary habits, excesses and infection."

CONTENTS OF THE TREATISE.

CHAPTER I.—On the Philosophy of Marriage, with its Hindrances and Obligations; and on Infelicitous and Unproductive Unions.

CHAPTER II.—On the Anatomy and Physiology of the Generative Organs, their functions, structures and secretions, proving that great Mental and Physical power are dependent on their healthy action.

CHAPTER III.—On Solitary Habits; their various effects on the Animal Economy; the concealed cause of Debility of the functions of the Stomach, Lungs, and Brain, and general weakness of the Mental Faculties.

CHAPTER IV.—On the Secret Disorders of Youth and Maturity, and the Treatment of Nervous and Local Weakness, Mental Debility, and Premature Decay.

CHAPTER V. and VI.—On the Disorders arising from indiscriminate Excess, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, and other Diseases of the Urethra.

REVIEW OF THE WORK.

Marriage requires the fulfilment of several conditions, in order that it may be really the cause of mutual happiness. Could the veil, which covers the origin of domestic wretchedness, be raised, and its true source in every instance be discovered, in how many could it be traced to physical disqualifications and their attendant disappointments. Excesses are always injurious; the gift, which when used in moderation is fraught with advantage, becomes, when abused, the prolific source of mischief, and of greater or less injury to the constitution and vital powers. The particular excesses, on the nature and consequences of which this Treatise professes to dilate, are productive of greater misery to the human frame than any other to which it is subject. This work contains an accurate and complete account of the Anatomy and Physiology of the Reproductive Organs, and of their relative conditions in health and disease. Nor are these the sole contents of the work, the means of escape, as well as the nature of the danger, are pointed out in clear and intelligible language. It deservedly requires the closest attention and study, for what subject can be of more importance than the preservation of health, and of the physical capabilities of which every man should be possessed. It unfortunately happens, that the unhappy victim of excessive indulgence and vicious habits, whether acquired in early life, or from the follies of advanced age, while suffering from their invariable consequences, unwisely entert
