ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

Fourth Line of Sidney—On Friday, March 4th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Nicolson was invaded by about fifty friends and neighbours of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Nicolson to bid them farewell before their departure to their new home on the 3rd of Thurlow.

Mr. George Pollard, acting as chairman, called the company to order and asked Miss Bradley to come forward and read an address, while Messrs. Gerald Bush and Ernie Burkitt made the presentation.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicolson both responded, expressing their appreciation and inviting them all to visit them in their new home. Short addresses were given by several present, testifying to their esteem after which "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" was sung. The address was as follows:—

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Nicolson,—

The golden thread of purpose which winds through life and shapes its destiny, has caused you to leave the scenes of your childhood and youth to seek a new environment wherein you shall find a home of your own.

We deeply regret your departure from our midst. Accordingly, we have gathered here at this opportune time, endeavouring to show in a tangible way the deep esteem and regard in which we hold you and to express our best wishes for your future welfare.

The people of the Fourth feel that they are losing one of their most popular young man and woman, as you have always been a great factor in the social life of this community. Your kindness, geniality and cheriness of temperament have radiated good-will and jollity to all those who have come within the magic circle of your influence.

You are now starting out to assume the duties and responsibilities of life. As the choice of your vocation has been decided upon, we feel confident that you are already upon the first stepping stone to success.

We also hope that the bent of your every effort to follow the course, which you have marked out for yourselves, will not only give you power to stem the current of mere circumstance, but that it will in the end achieve for you honour, wealth and distinction.

In the course of a few years you will have made many new friends, but we as your first friends, wish to assure you that none will be more interested in your welfare than those of the 4th and 5th concession of Sidney. Our combined best wishes for a prosperous, successful and pleasant journey through life go with you into your new home in Thurlow.

As a slight remembrance and token of our interest in you both, we would ask you to accept this clock in the kindly spirit in which it is given, and trust that it will recall to your mind your happiest days on the Fourth among your old friends. Signed,

Gerald Bush,
Ernie Burkitt.

WANT "WAR" TO CEASE.

President Harding to Start "Comic Opera" Proceedings at Once.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—In his initial message to the special sessions of Congress, probably before the first of April, President Harding will outline his entire foreign policy. Immediately thereafter the Knox resolution declaring war with Germany and Austria at an end will be favorably reported to the Senate and hurried through.

Call for the special session of Congress will be issued by the President within a few days. In a conference at the White House to-day, Senator Lodge and Representative Mondell, leader in the House, will fix up the precise date with the President.

On Saturday Senator Lodge urged that Mr. Harding call Congress together before April 4th, the date previously selected.

While the Senate is now in session for the purpose of receiving appointments, the separate peace plan cannot be presented until the House is also in session. The plan really calls for establishment of a new precedent in law—the right of Congress to repeal an act of its own creation—a declaration of war.

Senator Knox, supported by able constitutional lawyers, contends that Congress has the power.

President Harding holds the same opinion and the Knox resolution will be presented without delay and signed within a few hours of its passage.

As the Knox resolution merely declares that a state of war has ceased to exist and does not fix any terms of conditions incident to peace, these will be included later in treaties with both Austria and Germany.

An Unusual Gunman.

PORT ARTHUR, March 8.—David Siddall walked into the police station on Sunday and reported that he had shot and wounded a man named Kirkpatrick at Hurlett, thirty miles east of here. He was placed under arrest and later given bail.

His story is that Kirkpatrick was attempting to take a cow, ownership disputed, from his barn and that he threatened Siddall with a knife.

Siddall shot Kirkpatrick in the leg, then gave first aid and took him to his own home before reporting to the police.
