Before the people today, and which stands preeminently above all other medicines, is

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

It has won its hold upon the hearts of the people by its own absolute intrinsic merit. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story:—

Hood's Cures

Even when all other preparations and prescriptions fail.

"The face of my little girl from the time she was three months old, broke out and was covered with scabs. We gave her two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and it completely cured her. We are glad to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla." THOS. M. CARLING, Clinton, Ontario. Be sure to

FOOTBALL

BROKE LEG—SKULL CRACKED.

Detroit, Nov. 16.—On Wednesday, while playing football on the D. A. C. grounds, George Lawrence had one of his legs broken. Thursday afternoon the M. A. A. juniors were pitted against the Ivys at the M. A. A. grounds, and Jack Hanley, who played half-back for the M. A. A. team, lies in St. Mary's Hospital with his skull fractured. At last accounts Hanley was in a fair way to recover.

THE WHITBY SENSATION.

One of the Insurance Agents Gone—Two Others Under Arrest.

Whitby, Ont., Nov. 16.—Yesterday was a day of startling developments in the Alger insurance conspiracy case. During the continuance of the preliminary investigation of the charges against Alger, John Hortop, agent of the Ontario Mutual, was arrested on information charging him with complicity in the Home Life application for $5,000. Henry Trull, agent for the Equitable Life, has departed, and the Crown is resting its case against Alger until communication with him can be opened up, as he is a material witness. It was when an officer of the sheriff called at Trull's house in Oshawa yesterday to serve a subpoena that the Equitable agent's sudden departure was learned. His son said he had gone away for a couple of weeks—he did not know where.

Brown and Hortop, the other insurance agents, were arraigned, charged with conspiracy to secure $5,000 in the Home Life Association, and the medical testimony of Drs. Ferguson and Eastwood were taken as to Mrs. Alger's state of health for years before her death, and of the post mortem examination.

The First Thing To Remember

Is that I am in business to make money . . . . .

But I don't expect to get rich this year or next. I go on these principles—

Make a man's clothes fit perfectly.

Give him cloth a little better than you tell him it is.

Don't put the price any higher than it ought to be.

The best part of this plan is that your customer comes back every time he wants clothes, and sends his friends around, too.

That is the way I hope to make money.

Queen Victoria Entertains the Ruler of Portugal.

Barnato's Prestige Tumbles With the Kaffir Stocks.

A $7,000,000 Hotel in London — Wales' Doings—Dukes and Dollars.

(Copyrighted, 1895, by The Associated Press.)

London, Nov. 16.—As if in defiance to the ill-luck which is said to accompany the number 13, Queen Victoria today returned to Windsor Castle from Balmoral, in a special train, consisting of thirteen cars, one of which was a handsome, large saloon car, set apart for the use of her Majesty, the other cariages containing the members of her suite, servants, baggage, etc. The Queen's car is fitted up as a library and dining-room. It is richly upholstered with white silk, and its furniture is embroidered with gold.

AMUSING KING CARLOS.

In honor of the visit of King Carlos of Portugal to the Queen at her Highland home, her Majesty caused a large bonfire to be lighted on the top of Craig Owen on Saturday last, an honor heretofore reserved for her immediate family. The Queen also ordered a torchlight procession of Highlanders, who passed in front of Balmoral Castle and afterwards executed Highland dances in the presence of her Majesty and King Carlos.

THE PRINCE'S MOVEMENTS.

The Prince of Wales passed through London today from a visit to the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire at Chatsworth, near Bakewell, Derbyshire, on his way to Sandringham. The party at Chatsworth, which included the Earl and Countess of Warwick, was conveyed to the races at Derby by a special train every day. Another large Saturday to Monday party is being entertained at Sandringham, and this recalls the fact that while Hon. Geo. N. Curzon, the Under Secretary of the Foreign Office, was one of the party entertained by the Princess of Wales last week at Sandringham, his wife (formerly Miss Mary Lieter, of Washington and Chicago) was not present, while Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain (a Miss Endicott, of Washington) and other ladies were invited.

WILLIAM'S CONGRATULATIONS.

Emperor William of Germany sent a special courier to Sandringham with a birthday gift for the Prince of Wales, who was 54 years old on Saturday last. The Emperor is also said to have written to the Prince of Wales, expressing the hope that the Duke of York's next son will have the name of Shaksepeare bestowed upon him, among his other names.

THE DUKE AND DOLLAR ALLIANCE.

The newspapers here, which have greedily published every cable detail of the Marlborough-Vanderbilt wedding, continue to criticize the Americans for supplying them. Vanity Fair, for instance, says that the Churchill family is much annoyed at the "vulgar notices of the marriage," and that the Dowager Duchess of Marlborough "is not the best pleased that both her son and her grandson married Americans." Truth thinks it clear that the "New York arch-millionaire has not got beyond the elementary stage of gold-calfism, when the calf seeks to attract attention by the most lavish display of wealth."

A SEVEN MILLION DOLLAR HOTEL.

The new hotel upon the Thames' embankment has at last been named and will be known as the Cecil. It will be opened either in February or early in March, will have 1,000 available guest rooms, and will be managed by M. Bertini, which has long been connected with the Criterion Restaurant, in Piccadilly Circus. It is stated that the this new caravansary, when completed, including the price paid to the Marquis of Salisbury for the land, will have cost upwards of $7,750,000.

THE NEW OPERA HOUSE.

Nothing now prevents the immediate beginning of work upon the new London Opera House, save a technical permit from the crown lease holder of the property and the London County Council. The syndicate, which has the matter in hand has received a long lease at a yearly rental of $21,000. The plans for the building submitted by Mr. Walter Emden, the well known theatrical architect, have also been approved by the syndicate, and a sum in excess of $700,000 is in the keeping of an insurance company.

COWPUNCHERS SET ADRIFT.

One of the greatest trials which the American consul in London has to endure is the relief of men who have shipped here from America as cattlemen and are turned adrift at the end of the voyage. Many of these men are engaged in New York and other ports to take care of live stock, and are promised a small sum and return ticket for their labor. Upon arrival, however, they only receive a few shillings, and the return passage is denied them, with the result that they are left penniless on the London streets. There have been numerous instances of this of late, and the consul has fairly been besieged with applications for relief. The consulate has frequently referred the matter to Washington, but, it being an issue of personal contract, the Government seems powerless to offer any redress.

THE RENALS-BARNATO AFFAIR.

The common council, for the first time on record, at a stormy meeting on Thursday, refused by a large majority to pass the customary vote of thanks to the retiring Lord Mayor, Sir Joseph Renals. This was mainly on account of the dinner which Sir Joseph gave to Barney Barnato, on the ground that the latter had proved himself to be the "savior of London," by bolstering up his own Kaffir securities. Sir Joseph Renals' unfortunate visit to France is also severely criticised. He is charged with not having been sufficiently profuse in his civic hospitality, and he is found fault with for allowing his name to be advertised as chairman of an insurance company. In short, the whole Renals-Barnato affair is causing a great stir in the city. Barnato, who, a few weeks ago, was the most sought-after man in London, being pestered almost to sickness for tips from about half the members of the peerage, is now in very bad odor.

May Fair remarks that since the "slump in Kaffirs, Barnato's social aspirations have suffered a severe check. All the "smartest" men and women were at one time suffering from the South African speculating fever. They are now recovering.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

—Miss Crowe, of Dundas, is visiting relatives in this city.

—Mrs. (Rev.) W. J. Clark, of this city, is with relatives in Dundas.

—Mrs. James McGee, of Auburn, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Young, of this city.

—The abusive language case of Herman Hazel, of Belmont, against William A. Taylor has been settled by Squire Lacey and withdrawn. Taylor is also a resident of Belmont.

—Engineer Findley, of the waterworks, left for Toronto this morning to attend the funeral of his sister, who died near that city yesterday. He will be absent until Tuesday.

—Mr. G. P. Kirk delivered an interesting address last night before the patients of the asylum on the Exploits of Cartier and Champlain, and the history of Canada in their period.

—Mr. W. J. Fleming, whose entertaining description of the Australian gold fields in the St. Thomas Journal, was reproduced in the "Advertiser" last night, is a brother of Mr. D. Fleming, of this city. The latter spent two years in that colony. His father, Mr. Wm. Fleming, who is now a prominent merchant in Sydney, was formerly in the oil business here with Mr. Duffield.

—Mr. J. W. Belcher, who for a number of years has held a prominent place with the Bell Organ and Piano Company, and for the past year had occupied the position of manager at London and Western Ontario, has resigned his situation to resume his voca studies in Detroit, where he will a so be connected with one of the leading music houses of that city.

—The City Council meets on Monday night. It was expected that the car shops matter will be dealt with, but unless the agreement arrives back from Montreal before Monday evening it will not come up for another fortnight, unless a special meeting is called for the purpose. The agreement was last submitted to the company four days ago.

—At the November meeting of the quarterly official board of the London West Methodist Church, held on the 13th inst., a unanimous resolution was passed appreciative of the labors of the pastor, Rev. B. Clement, in all the departments of his work and declaring that his ability in the pulpit had increased the congregations. It expressed regret that in compliance with church discipline they would as pastor and people so soon have to separate.

—A number of young people of Dundas Center Methodist Church met last evening to form a reading circle, to be known as the Shakespearean Club. They decided to meet every alternate Saturday evening, and elected officers as follows: Honorary president, Rev. E. B. Lanceley; president, Mr. Horton (Collegiate Institute); vice-president, Mr. A. E. Bennett; secretary, Miss Mabel Williams, and a programme committee consisting of Miss L. Noble, Miss N. Keenleyside, together with the other officers of the club. It was decided to take up, as a beginning, Tennyson's "In Memoriam."

—There can be no question as to the popularity of Victor Herbert's programme, whether in New York or outside of it. Gilmore's great old band directed by Victor Herbert, has just closed five weeks of two concerts daily at the Cotton States and International Exposition at Atlanta, Ga., and at almost every one the big auditorium on the grounds was packed to the steps. The vast crowds at times seemed wild over "the magnificent music," as one of the critics called it. Often programmes were doubled. But two concerts every week day was not enough and a series of Sunday concerts were arranged at the Grand at Pittsburg, where Gilmore's played ten days at the Western Pennsylvannia Exposition. The entire Gilmore Band will be here on Tuesday, Nov. 19, in grand concert, with Victor Herbert, all the soloists and Miss Ida Klein, the famous prima donna of New York. Seats now on sale.

T. S. EDWARDS DEAD.

Thomas Stephen Edwards, the well-known St. Thomas grocer, died Thursday of brain affection, in his 58th year, after a month's illness. Deceased was born at Lobo, and went to St. Thomas in 1884, where he opened out a grocery and crockery store, which he continued until a short time ago. He leaves, besides his wife, one son, A. T. Edwards, grocer, St. Thomas, and one daughter, Mrs. R. D. Kilgour, London. He was a member of St. Davi's Lodge, No. 302. A. F. & A. M., and No. 76, I. O. O. F., and was insured in the latter for $2,000. The remains were brought to London today via M. C. R. The funeral will take place on Sunday at 9:30 o'clock from the residence of Mr. Campbell, Wharncliff road, London West, to Lobo cemetery

Eciton!

You may puzzle a long time over that word before you tell how to pronounce it. Take the last end first and read backward, and you have the familiar word "notice." Thus it might puzzle you to learn that "Yrevocsid Lacidem Nedlog" cures incipient consumption and all scrofulous impurities of the blood, and is a sure remedy for piles, skin affections and all complaints due to deranged liver. Take the right hand end of your title and read backwards, and you have the "Golden Medical Discovery," the famous preparation of Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo. Get hold of disease by the right end. Don't wait till the undertaker is the only man that can do anything. "G. M. D." cures consumption, lung scrofula, when taken in the early stages of the disease.

THE BEST ATTRACTS THE BEST

That's why the best shoppers of the city and "THOSE WHO KNOW" invariably patronize our many departments. They are all up to the same high standard. Can't get anything too good for them, which, of course means that we can't get anything too good for our customers. That's the kind of business we conduct—that's the kind of business that is appreciated. People are tired of buying inferior classes of goods and endeavoring to make them look as good as the good kinds. It can't be done. You know what they are for and how nice they are. Perhaps you were

THE ONLY HELP.

A Victim of Bright's Disease for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Neepawa (Special), Nov. 11.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says: "From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heartfelt gratitude, I am perfectly cured. Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's disease at such a stage.

Gentlemen,—We enclose a letter received a few days ago from Miss Lillian Russell, which we think may be of service to you.
Yours truly,

318 West 77th Street,
NEW YORK, Aug. 14, 1895.

Messrs. Redfern, 210 Fifth avenue:

Gentlemen,—Kindly make up for me the gown I selected yesterday, using, as you suggested, the Fibre Chamois in the waist for warmth, and in the skirt and sleeves to give them that very stylish and bouffant effect. I find that the moreen petticoat does not give half the style that the genuine Fibre Chamois does. So naturally use nothing but the genuine goods. Truly yours,

MAY BE POSTPONED.

Season Too Far Advanced to Test the Redmond Pond.

The New Street Watering System Will Mean a Saving to the City of Between 133,000 and 150,000 Gallons.

It is altogether likely that, owing to the lateness of the season, the experiments proposed to be carried out by the water commissioners at Redmond's pond will have to be postponed until spring. It was the intention of the board to pump off the water in the pond, and judge by the method of its filling up again whether the pond is fed by living springs, or whether it acts merely as a receptacle for the surface water on the surrounding land.

Last year 400,000 gallons were used for street watering purposes. If the new arrangement comes into force, and the street railway waters one-third or more of the streets with water pumped by them from the river, it will mean a saving to the city of at least 133,000 gallons, and probably 150,000.

"And I know the water commissioners would pay a good price for a spring of that capacity," said Chairman Cowan today.

"Do you think it would be a good proposal," Mr. Cowan was asked, "to abolish the watering of lawns in the morning, and make it obligatory to do that work at night? Florists and others never water their plants just before the sun is going to shine on them, and why water the grass?"

"I think the proposition is a splendid one," said Mr. Cowan. "Two hours in the evening ought to be sufficient for the needs of any lawn, and watering in the morning is simply a waste."
