The attention of the travelling public is called to the advertisement in to-day's GAZETTE of the sailings of the Monticello. This elegant sea-going steamer will begin her trips to Digby and Annapolis on Wednesday next, the 27th inst., and will sail from St. John for these Nova Scotia ports every Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning at 7.45 a. m., returning the same day. For a pleasure trip this route is unsurpassed.

The stockholders of the Shore Line railway met at St. George Thursday. The following directors were elected:—Russell Sage, Giles E. Tanton, Richard J. Cross, Sidney Shepherd, New York; Frank Todd St. Stephen; H. McLean, St. John. Trustee Strudee surrendered the road to Mr. Sage, who recently purchased it at auction. It is expected the road will be put in first class condition and the general opinion is that an immediate effort will be made to extend it from Calais to Bangor. It is understood that Warren Lamb of St. Stephen, will be general manager of the line.

KEEP THEM OUT.

Those who try to pass the I. C. R. station gate at train time and are refused, may just as well understand first as last that any attempt to crawl through the baggage-room window or to travel a quarter of a mile and go in the lower entrance will result in failure, for Officer Stevens has a viligent eye, and always looks after the interests of respectable people.

No rowdies are allowed in the station, and there is a still smaller chance of any of the gentry passing the gate. Nearly every day trouble is caused in this way and not un frequently is it necessary to "iron" individuals. This morning Officer Stevens performed a successful operation on one of them, and doubtless he will stay away for some little time.

FREDERIC VILLIERS.

The Story of His Interesting and Exciting Life.

Born some six-and-thirty years ago in London, Frederic Villiers was sent, when still very young, to receive his education in France. He was seventeen when he began to study at the Royal Academy, and did his first drawings for Mr. Byron Webber, who had just started the Sporting and Dramatic News. Before seven years had passed he had tired sufficiently of student life, and on a certain eventful evening in June, 1876, his eye lighted on the pink poster of the Globe announcing the Turkish and Servian declarations of war. "I hoped my chance had come at last," said Mr. Villiers, "I thirsted eagerly for a change, and my one wish was to lose myself for awhile in the din and excitement of battle. I procured pen and paper from a refreshment bar, and a few minutes later dropped a proposal directed to Mr. W. Thomas of the Graphic, into the first letter-box. I saw him next day. Our whole conversation scarcely amounted to a hundred words, and in a few hours I was on my way to Servia. It was barely a week after seeing the poster that I met Archibald Forbes at Parachjin. His first words were:—'You must be hungry. I think I can find you a tolerable substitute for Bass and beefsteak.' Over a schnitzel and a glass of Servian beer we seemed to swear eternal friendship, and a couple of hours later I was busily engaged in sketching the Bulgarian prisoners under his auspices. We went through the Servian Campaign and the Russo-Turkish War together. During the armistice I crosssed over to the Turks, visited the scene of the alleged Bulgarian atrocities, and met Lady Strangford hard at work relieving the distress in the Mariza valley. In the following year Forbes and I were the only two English correspondents present at the crossing of the Danube, the July attack on Plevna, and the fighting in the Shipka Pass, when Radestky brought up his infantry, mounted on Cossack horses, and saved the day. In the autumn a sharp attack of fever brought me home; but I started again after three weeks rest, followed Skobeleff over the Balkans to Adrianople, and was in time for the signing of the treaty of peace at San Stefano. I knew Skobeleff well, and stayed with him in his camp outside Stamboul. I remember his showing me laughingly the German Order of Merit, and telling me the Emperor William had given him the only cross he had recieved during the war. My next missions were to Syria and Malta: but the autumn of '78 saw me following the fortunes of Sir Samuel Brown's division in Afghanistan. The Viceroy declined to allow me to go to Cabul, so I providentially escaped participating in the ill-starred mission, and went on to Sydney, where I very fortunately declined an invitation to join a cruise in the Sandfly, and so avoided being eaten by cannibals with the rest of the crew. I completed at Euston my tour round the world, which commenced at Charing Cross, by returning to London in time to paint a picture for the Academy. I went through all the Egyptian Campaign of 1882, from Alexandria to Tel-el-Kebir, sketched Arabi in his cell, and then varied my military experiences by illustrating the Coronation of the Czar. A year later I was at El-Tab and Tamia, and on the cessation of hostilities accompanied the Hewett mission to Abyssinia. My share in the Soudan Expedition is comparatively recent history. I survived two untoward upsets in the Nile to cross the desert with General Stewart, and was the only correspondent in the square of 1200 which cut its way through the enemy to the Nile. No sooner was I back in London than I left again to see the fighting in Servia, and during the peace preliminaries accomplished the quickest journey to Mandalay on record, getting delivered even before the letters. Then came a long and serious illness (the after consequences of Burmese fever), and while lying helpless in bed I resolved to make a pacific campaign in my own country, the sequel to my martial experiences. I hope I have succeeded, and I think I can still find material for half-a-dozen lectures at least in my ten years' wanderings in many lands." Mr. Villiers will deliver two lectures in St. John in the second week in April.

Brevities.

Rev. Sidney Welton has decided to accept the call extended to him by the Hampton Baptist congregation.

Only those whose taxes are paid today will have an opportunity to vote at the approaching aldermanic elections in Portland.

The local government is asked for a grant toward the expense of replanking Rodney wharf, Carleton.

Denis McCarthy, an employe of Moore's nail works, died yesterday. His funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from his father's residence, Pond street.

The Monticello is expected to make her first trip to Digby and Annapolis next Wednesday.

The board of health have placarded 25 houses in St. John, and in some instances the infected houses contain more than one patient, so that the cases of fever are quite numerous.

City Police Court.

Michael Donavan drunk on King street (east) was fined $5 or 30 days.

Richard Kent drunk on Union street was fined $4 or 10 days.

Portland Police Court.

There was no business before the Portland Police Court this morning.

Provincial Notes.

Some men when drunk grow grave and act and talk wisely; some grow funny and act foolishly. It was evidently one of the latter who left a bear skin robe on the stairs of this office last midnight. Had he been sober or one of the former, he would have "laid it our table" in the orthodox way, instead of leaving it where he did, where some other crank could steal it. If any person lost such an article he can get it by calling.—Halifax Herald.

TENDERS WANTED.

TENDERS will be received for the construction of Pile Trestle and Howe Truss Bridge, for the proposed Railway extension between the I. C. R. Wharf and the Long Wharf, according to plans and specifications, up to 12 o'clock (noon) of MONDAY, 25th March, instant. The plans and specifications may be seen at the office of William Pugsley, Esq. Tenders to be directed to

A. W. MACRAE,
Agent for the owners of the Long Wharf,
Office No. 3 Church street.

SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.

Athletic.

A despatch from Pittsburg says: "Manager Davis, of the approaching six-day pedestrian contest, has returned from the East. He reports that there are more entries for the contest than the track will permit. In addition to the entries already noticed "Parson Tillie," of Canada, Adams, Dolan and others are noted.

It is expected that Alberts and Herty will start. The former is now on a hunting expedition in Massachusetts, but Noremac thinks he will be here. All the leading men are training because the winner will realize at least $1,000 and probably $1,500. Noremac thinks he can win the race, and is, therefore, training hard every day. There will be a great demand for expert trainers. Many of the contestants will bring trainers, but they will need assistants.

The Britishers have developed another phenomenal sprinter in George Grant, of Edinburgh. He won the late Sheffield handicap, and George Smith, the local sprinter, received a letter from England yesterday stating that Grant is matched to run Wharton. The letter goes on to say that Grant is considered to be about three yards better than even time. This is interesting in view of the fact that during the winter the public has been informed that Johnson, Davis et al. have been running on muddy tracks in much better time than this. The Sheffield authorities are either handling comparatively slow men, even in Wharton and Grant, or Johnson and his colleagues are deceiving the public. The latter seems to be the fact.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Baseball.

ST. LOUIS, March 20.—Great excitement has been caused among the baseball men of St. Louis, Kansas City, and St. Joe over the action of criminal jurisprudence at Jefferson City which reported favourably the bill prohibiting baseball playing on the Sabbath within the limits of Missouri. It is well known that if such a law was passed and enforced it would put an end to professional ball in Missouri. It is doubtful whether a professional club could exist in this state without the patronage derived from the Sunday games. President Von der Ahe and St. Louis, President Speas and Manager Watkins, of Kansas City, and Manager Lord, of St. Joe. have all been interviewed on the subject, and all are a unit in expressing themselves as ready to go out of the business as soon as such a measure is enforced.

Rowing.

J. A. St. John, the backer of Oarsman Gaudaur, has announced that he intends this summer to arrange a grand contest between the principal scullers, O'Connor, Teemer, Gaudaur, Hosmer, Hanlan, and Hamm, if the last mentioned wish. Said Mr. St. John: "I include Hanlan, because I have his word that he does not intend retiring from the profession." Regarding the proposed race, St. John continues, "I am prepared to offer them a large purse to row for if they all come in. It does not matter to me where they row so long as the regatta takes place in some boating centre where a large number of the friends of the contestants can see them row. A course in the vicinity of Boston will be as acceptable to me as any other. The men have all rowed here, and are well known to Bostonians. I will make the purse large if the men all agree to start, but I would prefer to wait until Hanlan returns. When the ex-champion is with us once more I will formally make the proposition I have just suggested to all the men."

O'Connor has not yet had any answer to his letter to Searle, but Hanlan's remaining in Australia would go to show that it is believed there that O'Connor is going to meet Searle on his own waters. The Santa Cruz Cal., Independent says:—"Wm O'Connor the champion carsman of America, now in Santa Cruz, will soon sail for Australia to row Searle for the champion of the world. Mr. O'Connor by way of exercise takes a twelve-mile walk every day.

Cricket.

The coming season of cricket promises to be very lively at Providence, R. I., and already the players are getting into trim for the early practice contests. A long debate took place at a meeting held there lately on the question of arranging for an inter-State Massachusetts match, and the proposition finally prevailed. An Arbitration Committee was chosen, to whom all disputed games will be referred. The following clubs will take part: Pawtucket, Lonsdale, Thornton, Wanskuck, Ashton, Saylesville, Lorraine, and Rumford.

Notes.

At the Rochester meeting a new rule was adopted which provides that in cases of rain, where three innings have not been played, the home team shall issue rain checks to the crowd and the visiting team shall receive no guarantee money.

Whittaker, the record beater, is coming back to this country soon.

Lehr, the German champion, trains to spurt two laps, one-half mile.

The league clubs will have to travel the following distances to play championship games this season: Chicago, 11,036 miles; Boston, 10,172; Washington, 9,378; Cleveland, 9,402; Philadelphia 9,378; New York, 9,097; Indianapolis, 8,821; Pittsburg, 8,752.

John Morrill has signed with Boston. The Boston club issues no season tickets.

The California League has decided to admit ladies free to all games.

The ladies' bicycle is destined undoubtedly to take the place of the tricycle for ladies' riding. Besides being much lighter it is more graceful, less liable to get out of order, easier running, takes up less room, and when a lady has once learned the knack of balancing it is just as safe as the tricycle, and a lady looks more ladylike in riding.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Indications,—Fair, stationary temperate, winds becoming southeasterly.

Coming Events.

Concert in Carmarthen street church this evening.

At a special meeting of St. George's society, held last evening, it was decided to duly honor St. George's day, Tuesday, April 23rd.

A most elaborate programme has been arranged for the public musical and literary entertainment in Good Templar hall on Tuesday evening next under the auspices of Finch Lodge, I. O. G. T.

A dude's highest ambition this year is to be an equestrian, and a lot of donkeys have just been imported for them so that the unities may be preserved.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S VISIT.

Arrangements are being made by Count Herbert Bismarck for the Journey to England.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE.

BERLIN, March 23.—It is reliably stated that Count Herbert Bismarck is now engaged in making arrangements concerning the visit of the Emperor William to England. Whether it will be in the nature of a Diplomatic visit, as in the case of his recent journey to Russia, or whether it will only be domestic in its character is not yet known.

The Lunenburg Progress says: Seven new schooners, averaging about 80 tons each have been launched from the yards here within a fortnight, five of the number going off of the stocks since our last issue. They are now being fitted for the deep sea fisheries and will sail for the Banks in a few days as a part of the town fleet.

DANGER!
People having Feather beds and Pillows do not seem to realize the danger there is in using them without being cleaned, especially in times of an epidemic, as feathers retain all the exhalations and poisonous matter exuding from the person, and by so doing spread sickness through the family.
Our steam cleansing process eliminates all the poisonous matter and leaves the feathers in a better condition than ever.
