John Howarth, of Shedden, was committed to jail for 40 days on Monday for contempt of court in not satisfying a Division Court judgment obtained by Mayor McCully, of St. Thomas. This is the second time Howarth has been committed for the same debt.

Squire Thomas Williams, of St. Thomas, one of the wealthiest residents of the western district, was stricken with apoplexy at an early hour Monday morning, and is now in a serious condition. He is 89 years of age.

H. W. C. Meyer, of Wingham, counsel for Henry Garbutt in the pending extradition proceedings, presented his Q. C. patent to the court at Osgoode Hall Tuesday morning, and was called within the bar by Chief Justice Galt.

HALDIMAND.

A peculiar action has been brought by Miss Charlotte M. J. Lyons, of Cayuga, to have her marriage with Augustus Matthews, of Matthews Bros., owners of the Maggie Mason, set aside. The couple were married on Jan. 31, 1877, by Rev. John Wilson, of Dunnville, but they have never lived together, the young bride being persuaded by her relatives not to go with her husband. The marriage was never consummated. The girl is an orphan, and is entitled to some property left by her father. Matthews says that her relatives turned her against him, and succeeded in persuading her not to live with him. Immediately after their marriage he wanted her to go with him, but she refused. He speaks very highly of his wife, but is very bitter against her relatives. He has instructed his lawyer to defend the action. It is not known upon what grounds the plaintiff seeks to have the marriage declared void.

KENT.

Raleigh township has abandoned its projected dredging and drainage works, to carry out which the new dredge was built. It seems that Harwich, which was contributing to the cost, appealed from its assessment, and the appeal being allowed it withdrew, with the result as stated.

A lamp exploded in the caboose of an M. C. R. freight train in charge of Conductor J. Day at Harwich Saturday night. The caboose took fire and was destroyed.

Mrs. Bridal, living near Keith, was assisting her husband at logging on the farm near Dresden, on Saturday, when a limb attached to a moving log struck her in the stomach, inflicting injuries from which she died in a couple of hours.

LAMBTON.

William B. Marden, the young fellow who had been in Sarnia jail for a week or so on a charge of stealing about $140 from Far & Sharpe, has been let go, there not being sufficient evidence on which to hold him.

Before Judge Mackenzie the other afternoon were heard arguments on the tenders received for the Sarnia Oil Company refinery. Gen. Alger had tendered at $10,000; J. L. Englehardt, for the Imperial Oil Company, of Petrolea, had tendered at $10,000 15, and Gen. Alger had put in a subsequent tender at $12,000. Mr. Cameron appeared for the Buffalo Trust Company and Gen. Alger, and wanted the last Alger tender accepted. T. G. Meredith appeared for Imperial Oil Company, and wished its tender accepted—claimed that the one of Alger at $12,500 was irregular. D. McMillian appeared on behalf of the liquidator, Sheriff Flintoft. Arguments were heard and Judge Mackenzie took the matter under consideration.

OXFORD.

David Elliott, Blenheim, rendered valuable assistance by signalling a train on the C. P. R. at the time of the washout near his farm on Aug. 11, and thus preventing heavy damage to property, and probably great loss of life. The other day he received $10 from the company, together with a pass entitling him to travel free over the C. P. R.

The congregation of Guthrie Church, Harriston, met on Sept. 21, when a very hearty and perfectly unanimous call to the pastorate was extended to the Rev. Gutavus Munro, M. A., of Embro. Mr. Munro has enjoyed a very happy pastorate of over eighteen years in his present charge.

PERTH.

The Reliance Electric Light Company, composed principally of Toronto shareholders, has got into a little trouble at Stratford. They are planting poles along the street with the intention of selling illumination to whoever may buy. A faction in Stratford, headed by John Read, disputes the company's rights to the streets of Stratford, and an injunction is talked of. The company, it is said, have no contract nor agreement with the corporation.

D. W. Clark, North Easthope, has an imported Clydesdale brood mare and colt, which he has been keeping in the best of condition all summer preparing them for exhibition at the fall fair next Thursday and Friday. On Monday night some person or persons cut the hair off the tails of both animals within about an inch of the flesh. The work is supposed to have been promoted by spite, and was evidently done with a view of spoiling the horses for exhibition.

It is reported that Stratford is to have an opera house, and is to be located in the old Jarvis block, on Ontario street.

On Saturday morning the money was missed and the losers went to Guelph and reported the matter to Chief Randall. Laing was taken into custody, and on being questioned owned up to the theft.

"How long has he been preaching?" asked the stranger, as he came in during the sermon and took a seat in a back pew.

"Thirty or forty years, I think," replied the old member, "but I don't know exactly."

"I'll stay then. He must be nearly done."

Patti's Wonderful Orchestrion.

[Letter in Boston Herald.]

The latter is the largest instrument of the kind in all the world. It was built for Craig-y-Nos, cost nearly $25,000, and plays an almost endless list of operas and concert music. It is like a full orchestra, and Patti calls it the "Spirit of the Castle." No one, of course, has the temerity to presume to sing or play to Patti unless she requests this personally. Nor has anyone the temerity to ask her to sing in the usual after-dinner style. Pianos are in plenty at the castle. Yet these, by a sort of unwritten law, keep silent state, at least when the hostess of the house is present. It was no small relief to me to find that, although the house guests included many well-known musicians, one was not bored with what I call incessant "musical shop." Generally speaking, musical people, like painters, make life almost unendurable to others out of their own "art swim." But at Craig-y-Nos, nestled in a Welsh valley, the "Rock of the Night," eight miles from any neighbor, one can have peace and happiness. Mme. Patti-Nicolini and Mr. Ernest Nicolini do their musical stint of practicing in their own rooms in the forenoon, before the 12:30 breakfast, and when they elect to sing for their friends they have made themselves a theater to sing in.

"German Syrup"

The majority of well-read physicians now believe that Consumption is a germ disease. In other words, instead of being in the constitution itself it is caused by innumerable small creatures living in the lungs having no business there and eating them away as caterpillars do the leaves of trees. The phlegm that is coughed up is those parts of the lungs which have been gnawed off and destroyed. These little bacilli, as the germs are called, are too small to be seen with the naked eye, but they are very much alive just the same, and enter the body in our food, in the air we breathe, and through the pores of the skin. Thence they get into the blood and finally arrive at the lungs where they fasten and increase with frightful rapidity. Then German Syrup comes in, loosens them, kills them, expells them, heals the places they leave, and so nourish and soothe that, in a short time consumptives become germ-proof and well.
