After a while, His Excellency the Governor General having come, and being seated on the Throne,—

The Honourable the Speaker commanded the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod to proceed to the House of Commons and acquaint that House that,—

It is His Excellency the Governor General's pleasure that they attend him immediately in the Senate Chamber.

The House of Commons being come,

His Excellency the Governor General was pleased to open the Session by a Gracious Speech to both Houses, as follows:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:
Members of the House of Commons:

I meet you at a time when the people of Canada, in common with the other peoples of the Commonwealth, mourn the loss of our late Sovereign, King George VI. His late Majesty was greatly loved by all His subjects in Canada who have vivid recollections of His visit to this country and of His many associations with His Canadian people. In no part of the Commonwealth has the sense of personal loss been more deeply felt than in our country. I join with you in extending deepest sympathy in their bereavement to Her Majesty the Queen, to Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother, to Queen Mary, to Princess Margaret and all the members of the Royal Family.

The people of Canada have already had an opportunity of meeting their new Sovereign. In the course of her visit to our country a few months ago Her Majesty made a deep and lasting impression on her Canadian subjects. As the Queen assumes her heavy responsibilities she is assured of the loyalty and devotion of the Canadian people in full measure.

I am deeply sensible of the great honour of having been appointed by His late Majesty as His personal Representative in my native land. As I take up my duties as the Representative of the Queen, I assure you of the pleasure with which I look forward to our association in Parliament and I deem it a privilege to be connected with you in your labours for the welfare and happiness of the Canadian people.

The situation throughout the world continues to cause concern and to require my Ministers to devote a great deal of attention to our external affairs. The government remains convinced that the nations of the free world must continue to increase their combined strength, in order to ensure lasting peace and security by the effective discouragement of aggression.

In Korea it has not yet been possible to bring about an armistice but negotiations with this end in view are still going on. Canadian forces together with their comrades from other of the United Nations are giving distinguished service in that unhappy land.

A formation from the Canadian Army now forms an effective part of the integrated force of the North Atlantic Alliance in Europe and further elements of the Royal Canadian Air Force are progressively being despatched overseas. Amendments to legislation relating to our armed forces will be submitted for your approval.

Your approval will also be sought for a further Canadian contribution to the Colombo Plan and for technical assistance to under-developed areas.

A Japanese Peace Treaty has been signed and will be submitted for your consideration.

At home our economy remains very buoyant. External trade and capital investment have reached record levels. Generally speaking employment remains at a high level. Inflationary pressures are still being strongly felt and require the maintenance of anti-inflationary measures.

Unfortunately foot and mouth disease has appeared in cattle in a small area in Saskatchewan. Immediate steps have been taken to limit the affected area, eradicate the disease and meet the situation resulting from the embargo under United States law on exports of livestock and meat to that country.

A Board of Engineers has been established to prepare an application for submission to the International Joint Commission concerning the development of hydro-electric power in the International section of the St. Lawrence river.

As a measure designed to assist in the development of our natural resources you will be asked to consider legislation to enable the Canadian National Railways to construct a branch line between Terrace and Kitimat in British Columbia.

You will be asked to consider legislation to amend the War Veterans Allowance Act 1946 and the Veterans Benefit Act 1951.

A Bill to revise the Immigration Act will be placed before you. If that Bill can be finally dealt with during the present session, related amendments to the Canadian Citizenship Act will be submitted.

You will be asked to approve a Bill to authorize the Federal Government to enter into new Tax Rental Agreements with the Provinces.

You will be invited to consider a measure to provide for the readjustment of representation in the House of Commons.

You will be asked to consider a complete revision of the Criminal Code prepared by a Commission which has been engaged on this project for the past three years.

A bill will be introduced to authorize certain preparatory steps in connection with the establishment of a National Library.

A bill will also be presented respecting Trade Marks.

Other measures to be introduced will be amendments to the Food and Drugs Act; the Canada Grain Act; the Cold Storage Act; the Canadian Farm Loan Act; the Civil Service Superannuation Act; the Currency Act; the Canada Shipping Act; the Northwest Territories Act; the Aeronautics Act; the Radio Act; the Government Employees Compensation Act 1947 and the Unemployment Insurance Act 1940.

Members of the House of Commons:

You will be asked to make provision for all essential services, and for national defence and the meeting of our obligations under the United Nations Charter and the North Atlantic Treaty, for the next fiscal year.

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

May Divine Providence bless your deliberations.

The Commons withdrew.

His Excellency the Governor General was pleased to retire.

PRAYERS.

The Honourable Senator Hugessen, presented to the Senate a Bill intituled: "An Act relating to Railways."

The said Bill was read the first time.

The Honourable the Speaker informed the Senate that a copy of the Speech of His Excellency the Governor General had been left in his hands.

The same was read by The Honourable the Speaker.

On motion it was—

Ordered, That the Speech of His Excellency the Governor General be taken into consideration on Wednesday, next.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator Hugessen, it was—

Ordered, That all the Senators present during the Session be appointed a Committee to consider the Orders and Customs of the Senate and Privileges of Parliament, and that the said Committee have leave to meet in the Senate Chamber when and as often as they please.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator Hugessen, it was—

Ordered, That pursuant to Rule 77, the following Senators, to wit: the Honourable Senators Aseltine, Beaubien, Gouin, Haig, McDonald, Quinn, Robertson, Taylor and the mover be appointed a Committee of Selection to nominate Senators to serve on the several Standing Committees during the present session; and to report with all convenient speed the names of the Senators so nominated.

With leave of the Senate, and—

The Honourable Senator Crerar, from the Standing Committee on Finance, presented the following Report.

The said Report was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

On March 26th, 1952, the following Order passed the Senate:

"That the Standing Committee on Finance be authorized to examine the expenditures proposed by the Estimates laid before Parliament for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1953, in advance of the Bills based on the said Estimates reaching the Senate; that it be empowered to send for records of revenues from taxation collected by the Federal, Provincial and Municipal governments in Canada and the incidence of this taxation in its effect upon different income groups, and records of expenditures by such governments, showing sources of income and expenditures of same under appropriate headings, together with estimates of gross national production, net national income and movement of the cost-of-living index, and their relation to such total expenditures, for the year 1939 and for the latest year for which the information is available, and such other matters as may be pertinent to the examination of the Estimates, and to report upon the same.

That the said Committee be empowered to send for persons, papers and records."

Due to the Senate adjournment for the Easter Recess, Your Committee did not begin its enquiry until the beginning of May.

At its first meeting Your Committee decided that in a general way the enquiry should be made along the same lines as last year and, with this in view, data was secured similar to that provided a year ago. This added another year for study and comparison. Appended to this report, therefore, are several exhibits which, if studied with care, present a fair picture, not only of the Federal Government's revenues and expenditures, but that of the Provinces and Municipalities as well.

All Canadians, wherever they may be, pay taxes to three governing authorities, Municipal, Provincial and Federal. They tend to look at each one of these apart from the others, whereas the really important thing for the Canadian taxpayer is not the taxation he has to meet from each of these governing authorities, but what he has to meet from all combined. It may be added here that the data provided in these exhibits come from official sources, mainly from the Bureau of Statistics which has a wealth of information on all aspects of the Canadian economy.

Exhibit I in the appendices gives an analysis of the main estimates submitted by the Government during the present session of Parliament by standard objects and special categories of expenditures. This, with the explanatory notes attached to it, gives a clear picture of how the Government proposes to spend the money entrusted to it. Your Committee was helped much in its enquiry by the detailed analyses by Departments of the total of these standard objects and special categories which were included in the book of estimates submitted to Parliament. The general picture can be seen in the Table attached as Exhibit I. As examples: It will be noted that the total money required for travel and removal expenses for all Government purposes is well over 46 million dollars, of which just about 14 millions is for purely civilian needs and 32 millions for defence and defence production. Your Committee feels certain that this amount of 46 million dollars could be sharply reduced without injury to the public interest. As another example we take office stationery, supplies, equipment and furnishings. Here 18 million dollars is provided, of which over 12 millions is for purely civilian purposes. Surely all this could be much reduced without hurt to efficient administration.

We draw attention also to a few other items of substantial increase in the estimates for the present fiscal year as against the previous year. In the item of materials and supplies the increase is from approximately 39 million dollars to over 43 million dollars. Under the heading of construction or acquisition of buildings, the total amount spent in the last fiscal year was 127 million dollars, which increases this year to 136 million dollars, or an additional 9 million dollars. Under repairs and upkeep, a similar increase is approximately one million, four hundred thousand dollars. Under the item of rentals the increase for the present year as against the last is 750 thousand dollars. That is, in the present year the estimates provide for spending 750 thousand dollars more for renting premises for government purposes than the previous year. It should be borne in mind that these increases are for purely civilian purposes apart from defence and defence production, and are at a time when the strains are heavy upon our economy for the latter purposes. Governments are more often criticized because they spend too little than because they spend too much, and too often those in opposition to government criticize the governments they oppose because more money is not being spent for roads, or welfare, or hospitals, or this or that or the other thing.

Your Committee believes that there needs to be a new approach everywhere to the business of public spending. The increasing tendency of people to demand that the government do something about all kinds of problems which the community or individual should solve for itself or himself, is, we believe, accountable for much mounting public expenditure and, if not checked, bids fair to undermine our present system of government.

A further observation requires to be made here. We draw attention to the items in the civilian Estimates that have to do with the construction or acquisition of buildings and works, their repairs and their upkeep, and rentals for buildings which different Government Departments require. The total amount under these three items found in the Public Works Department Estimates is slightly in excess of 80 million dollars. The total for all Departments of Government under these items is in excess of 163 millions. Under the Public Works Act, the Public Works Department of Canada has the responsibility of providing and maintaining all the public buildings and works required by the other civilian Departments. It is true Part II of the Public Works Act makes an exception to the effect that the Governor-in-Council "may at any time transfer the management, charge and direction of any public work, or any power, duty or function with respect to any class of works, whether public or private, which is assigned to or vested by Statute in any Minister or Department, to any other Minister or Department." But surely this was only intended to meet special circumstances, and was never intended to be used in the broad sense in which it is used today.

From the figures just quoted, it would appear that other Departments of Government combined are directly spending more for these purposes than the Public Works Department which is primarily charged with this responsibility. For example, the Post Office Department, which requires public buildings all over Canada, either through building or rental for Post Office purposes, and requires to have them repaired and maintained, has all this work done by the Public Works Department, as was intended under the Act. The question naturally arises, why should this not be done for other civilian Departments of Government? When, for example, the Department of Agriculture, or National Revenue, or National Health and Welfare, directly provides for their own needs by building, or rental or both, they have to provide their own architects, their own engineers, and their own servicing establishment generally. It certainly appears that this can have no other effect than duplication and overlapping and the inevitable general increase in costs that is bound to result from this practice.

There are exceptions in the case of Departments which have services abroad. The office space and maintenance which they require abroad will be secured more economically by such a Department directly. But practically all of these expenditures, to which attention is drawn, are within Canada and with very few exceptions, as for example the maintenance of buildings and roads in National Parks, we do feel that this part of the administration of our public business should be under Public Works.

In Exhibit II will be found the combined revenues and expenditures of all Governments in Canada for the year 1939, taken as a base year, and for the years 1949 and 1950, with the sources from which governments obtained their revenue and the purposes for which they spent it. Since the Public Finance Division of the Bureau of Statistics has not the complete data for 1951, only preliminary estimates are given for this year. For 1952 comparable data for all governments have yet to be unfolded; but Your Committee thinks it is a fair assumption that for this present year all governments combined will take from Canadian taxpayers in excess of 6 billion dollars, and will spend somewhat short of that amount.

In the Federal field the need for increased revenue and, as a result, increased taxation, arises mainly from rapidly expanding defence expenditures, which this year will be over 2 billion dollars; and expanding welfare costs which, for the same period, if we include soldiers' pensions and allowances, at all levels of government, will be at least 1½ billions of dollars, of which more than two-thirds is for Federal account. Of this latter amount two items, Old Age Pensions with Pensions for the Blind, and Family Allowances, will require over 675 million dollars.

In this connection it is interesting to note that in the year 1951 the Canadian people spent, on

1)	Alcoholic beverages	$ 651,000,000.00
2)	Tobacco in various forms	422,000,000.00
3)	Race track betting	55,000,000.00
4)	Soft drink beverages of all kinds	158,000,000.00
5)	Commercial recreation	160,000,000.00
	or a total of	$1,446,000,000.00

This total is almost equal to the total amount spent under the general heading of Social Security. It is sometimes argued that the taxes collected for Social Security goes back directly to the taxpayers, and so should be regarded as a sort of credit to the taxpayers accounts. But this is not so. The money collected in taxes for security benefits, in the large aggregate, passes from the taxpayer to a different person. We are not concerned here with the merits or demerits of this, but simply to say that on any reasonable basis it can only be regarded as part of the tax burden.

Your Committee thinks that in a young country like Canada, with its immense resources and with greater opportunity for the individual to make his way than can be found in any other part of the world, Social Security measures as a whole should be reviewed and assessed in the light of sound national development.

Exhibit III deals with the figures on national income and gross national product, and data is given for all the years from 1939 to and including 1951. Perhaps, for the purposes of clarity, the distinction between gross national product and net national income should be repeated here. Gross national product is the total gross income of all the people of Canada from all sources, which can be compared to the gross income of a business corporation, a farmer or a labouring man. To arrive at the net national income, certain deductions must be made from the gross product. In the course of a year machinery employed to produce the gross national product has to be depreciated, since all machinery tends to wear out within a limited time. The same thing is true of houses and automobiles. When all these and similar charges are put together they are deducted from the gross product. The result may be described as the net national income.

It is out of this net national income that all people in Canada meet their total living expenses and, since Canadians enjoy a high standard of living, this amount is the major item. In the second place, there has to be deducted the amount all citizens pay to their various Governments in taxes. Speaking generally, what is left is the volume of savings, which may be invested in life insurance policies, Bonds of Governments or of Corporations, or annuities, or in business undertakings of one kind or another, or retained by individual Canadians as a protection against their future needs.

Here we must pay a well deserved compliment to the Minister of Finance who, in his annual budget speech, and especially in the white paper that accompanied the budget statement, gave a vast amount of information on how and why the Canadian economy is working at the highest level reached in our whole history. The Minister estimated that our gross national product for the present fiscal period would be about 22½ billion dollars. This should leave a net national income of approximately 18 billion dollars. If we could be certain that our economy would continue to expand as it has done in recent years, Your Committee thinks that Canadians could feel reasonably secure for their future; but we should recognize clearly also that, if cold and chilling winds blow upon us, the result might be greatly different. Indeed, the Minister drew attention to this possibility in his budget speech when he said "Every Honourable Member will agree, I hope, that it is not possible to predict with certainty the level of prices during any future twelve months to within 1%. Yet on a gross national product of 20 billion dollars, the difference between a 1% rise and a 1% fall in prices during the year is a difference of 400 million dollars in gross national product. Under our present tax structure, such a slight change in price could produce a difference of from 80 to 85 million dollars in our revenues": This is a significant and important statement.

It is well to remember that if our economy remains buoyant, and we reach 18 billion dollars of net national income, the Canadian people will pay in taxes for this period, to all their governments, just about one-third of this amount. Everyone will admiit that this heavy burden of taxation, brought about in a substantial degree by the large defence spending, is certainly about the limit, or even beyond the limit, that Governments can with safety take from the taxpayers. We have no guarantee that, so far as our economy is concerned we shall continue indefinitely to live in the sunshine. It should be kept in mind that about half the increase that has taken place in our gross national product, and therefore, in our net national income, over the last twelve years, has been due to the persistent inflation of our economy. On the value of the pre-war dollar, the total representing product and income would be about half of what they are today. This is equally true of other countries as well.

Amid all the good times we have experienced in recent years, it should never be forgotten that the Canadian economy is very vulnerable in one important aspect, and that is in our continued ability to sell our products abroad. We have now daily evidence in this matter through the effects produced by exchange difficulty in the sterling area. We see emerging once more, since the end of the war, the tendency toward further restrictions on trade by some of the countries in which we ordinarily sell a large amount of our surplus. If, for the reasons just cited and for other reasons which might be added, we find increasing difficulty in getting into the markets of the world, then there is little doubt of the effect it will produce on our economy at home. We have seen the effect produced by foot and mouth disease where our large market for cattle in the United States has been completely shut off for the time being. Ordinarily, British Columbia and Eastern Canada sell much of their forest products in the sterling area. For reasons already stated, this market has been greatly curtailed. These are instances of what might happen to us. These are the imponderables which largely influence the manner in which our economy operates. If we lose a market, as is the case for the time being with our livestock, or if we lose our markets for forest products, or for any of our other products, almost certainly someone will demand to know what some government or other proposes to do about it. If the government gives the relief that may be demanded it can only be done at the expense of the taxpayers. And if this attitude of mind, so prevalent in recent years, which in increasing degree demands that some government or other must find a solution for the problems of the individual, or the community, continues to grow, and as far as possible to be met, we are assuredly on the slippery slope that will land us in ever increasing difficulties. If, within the next few years, we should have a 20% decline in prices, or lose 20% of our foreign markets, what happens to the edifice of expenditures we have built up in the days of sunshine? This problem is worth thinking about. Moreover, the gaining of world markets and increased trade means competition. This in turn involves cost of production, and here labour costs is the most important item. There is abundant evidence to show that notwithstanding the increase in prices that has taken place since the end of the war, labour generally has quite substantially improved its position. In other words, notwithstanding the increase in prices, what labour receives today for a day's work will buy substantially more than what labour received six years ago for a similar day's work; and it should not be overlooked either that the business corporation, be it large or small, or the individual business man looking after his own business, will as far as he possibly can put into the price of the goods he sells the increased costs that have to be provided in the carrying on of business. This applies in an equal degree to the taxes that business generally has to pay. Wherever possible they are passed on to the consumer and this, in the conduct of human affairs, is inevitable, human nature being what it is.

Without question Canada is at one of the great cross-roads of its history. Without question the essence of the struggle between free men and the autocratic states is the maintenance of our personal freedom and liberty. In the short view this is obscured by the individual's concern with his own personal affairs. As a people we may be thinking too much of security for the moment, and not enough of where we will be if the dark forces of tyranny overwhelm us. We are thinking too much of our enjoyments, of what we can get rather than what we can give. In the long run these are the things that vitally matter. In a society where the tendency is for each group to scramble for all it can get, regardless of its effect on others, we have in the present state of world affairs a society that may be headed for the abyss.

Exhibit IV—as an appendix to this report—covers reported numbers of employees of the Government of Canada, excluding members of the Armed Forces and the R.C.M.P., as at March 31, 1939, 1948, 1949, 1950, 1951 and 1952. From this appendix it will be noted that between March 31, 1951, and the corresponding date in 1952, the total employees of the Government of Canada increased by just about 13,000. Of this increase slightly more than 10,000 is in the services of the Defence Department (it should be kept in mind that these are civilian employees), and the total in the Defence Department has now reached almost 40,000. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board, which reported 260 employees a year ago, has been wound up. A study of this Table will indicate where the other increases over the past year have taken place. These increases outside the Defence Department can be laid at the door of expanding Government services. The increased cost is not confined to the increase in Government servants. It means increased demands for office space and increasing costs for all the things the servants need to do their work.

While Your Committee recognizes that an increasing population may require correspondingly increased expenses by governments at all levels, nevertheless the increasing costs of the whole apparatus of Government in Canada is a matter for concern. Here the truth needs to be recognized—that if the people demand more services from their Municipalities, their Provincial Governments, or the Federal Government, they must expect that their taxes will have to be increased. While Your Committee has no data on what is happening in this respect at the Provincial and Municipal level, we still think it fair to say that these increasing costs of Government administration will be found, with exceptions here and there, in all levels of the vast mechanism of Government in this country. If the Public insists that the administrative costs of Governments be reduced—as many think they should—it cannot reach this desirable end unless it rids itself of the idea that governments have to dance when it calls the tune of more expenditures.

In Exhibit V will be found the movement of the cost-of-living index from the year 1945 down to the present time, with the changes recorded month by month for 1950, 1951 and 1952 to March 1st. Since the latter date a further slight reduction has taken place. The movement of this cost-of-living index reflects the inflation that has taken place since 1945, where the index stood at 119·5 compared with 1935 to 1939, as represented by 100. During the war years the cost-of-living was held stable because of the controls over wages, salaries, and prices maintained during the war; the increase of 19·5 points having occurred before these controls were made effective in November, 1941. There are those who urge a return to control of prices but this, without a similar control on wages and salaries, would not be worth the paper it was written on.

The further inflation which seriously threatened—even a year ago—has been brought under a measure of control. But while the forces of inflation have apparently been checked, they may easily flare up again. The possibilities of further inflation in the United States appear to be by no means over. The prospect there, is for a heavy government deficit and, when governments do not pay their way, the result is bound to be inflationary. In addition, labour in the United States is demanding sharply increased wages—definitely another inflationary factor. In Canada we may still face demands of a similar kind. If further inflation should take place in the U.S., Canada could not escape the consequences of it. About all that can be said is that we have no clear charted course before us. We do not know from which direction the gales may come upon us; yet we can safely assume that if we practice moderation in our own personal expenditures, and if our governments practice care and economy in the spending of the funds the taxpayers have given them, we will at least have taken in some measure some protection against the uncertainties of the future.

Mr. Gilbert Jackson, a well-known Economist of Toronto, in giving evidence before Your Committee, all of which is reported in the Minutes of the Proceedings of the Committee, stated that to increase the gross national product by one dollar required that almost five dollars be saved and invested. Mr. Jackson's data to support this impressed the Committee with its soundness. Your Committee also had as a witness Mr. Monteath Douglas, Director of the Canadian Tax Foundation, whose head office is in Toronto. Mr. Douglas also gave the Committee useful information and it likewise can be found in the Minutes of the Proceedings.

As a result of our enquiry, we suggest the following recommendations:

1) There has been an increasing volume of publications from Government Departments. Your Committee feels that much of this is unnecessary and useless and should be completely overhauled. We recommend strongly that Departments be required to budget for their postage and that the franking privilege—now general among all Departments for the stuff they imagine they need to send out to the public—should be restricted wholly to the personal mail of Members of Parliament when Parliament is in session. This would tend to limit the publication of material to what was necessary and useful. Consideration should be given by the Government to making a fair charge for necessary Government publications, such as geological surveys, maps and scientific publications, and the like.

2) The growing practice for other Departments of Government to bypass Public Works Department and build up little Public Works branches of their own, should cease, and all such work placed in charge of the Public Works Department, where the law intended it should be.

3) We suggest that beneficial results would follow the holding of a Conference between the Provinces and the Federal authority for the purpose of finding where economies, as between their administrations, could be brought about. We believe important savings in the cost of Government as a whole could be found, with important benefits to the Governments concerned, and their taxpayers as well.

This brings us to the conclusion of our report:

That the tax burdens of the Canadian people are heavy no one will deny. At the Federal level we propose to spend 2,000 million dollars, or about $4.00 out of every $9.00 for defence, and no one can say how long we shall have to sustain this burden. With the passing of time the conflicts between those countries where freedom has entirely disappeared and the freedom-loving Western nations certainly are not growing less, but are becoming deeper and more intense. It is not given to mankind today to know what will come out of all this turmoil and conflict; but if we are wise we shall realize that we may have to live in this kind of world for many years to come. If we are to win out in the end—along with the nations associated with us—we must keep our resolution strong and our vision clear. There are no saner, steadier people anywhere in the world than the Canadian people, and they must have courageous leadership to guide them along the right paths. In these dangerous days we cannot have both ease and sacrifice. If we put both ease and security first—and if the other Western nations do the same—then undoubtedly in the end we will have lost our ease and security because we will have lost our freedom.

Your Committee wishes to express its thanks to all the witnesses who appeared before it for the assistance they gave the Committee in carrying on its work.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

T. A. CRERAR,
Chairman.

PRAYERS.

The Honourable Senator Aseltine, Chairman of the Standing Committee on Divorce, presented their three hundred and twenty-fifth and Final Report.

The same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

TUESDAY, 24th June, 1952.

The Standing Committee on Divorce beg leave to make their three hundred and twenty-fifth Report, as follows:—

For the present Session 372 petitions for Bills of Divorce were presented to the Senate and dealt with by the Standing Committee on Divorce, as follows:—

Petitions heard and recommended	313
Petitions heard and rejected	2
Petitions withdrawn	7
Petitions not proceeded with	50
Total	372

Of the petitions recommended during the present Session of Parliament 89 were by husbands and 224 were by wives.

Of the petitions recommended 3 were from petitioners domiciled in the province of Newfoundland and 310 were from petitioners domiciled in the province of Quebec.

The Committee held 41 meetings. On 29 days the Committee functioned in two sections.

In 20 cases the Committee recommended that part of the Parliamentary fees be remitted.

The fees paid to Parliament for bills of divorce heard and recommended during the Session of 1952 amounted to $63,730.00, being approximately $5,040.00 more than in 1951.

Assuming that all Bills of Divorce recommended by the Committee, now in various stages before Parliament, receive Royal Assent, the comparison of dissolutions of marriage granted by Parliament in the last ten Sessions is as follows:—

1944	111
1945	179
1946	290
1947	348
1947-48	292
1949, 1st Session	184
1949, 2nd Session	166
1950	240
1951	294
1952	313

The religious denomination of the petitioners and respondents for the present Session is as follows:—

	Roman Catholic	Anglican	Jewish	United Church	Presbyterian	Other or not stated.
Petitioners	82	76	44	43	30	29
Respondents	88	57	43	42	26	66

Statistics covering the number of divorces granted in the whole of Canada during the years 1947 to 1951, both inclusive, are as follows:—

	1947	1948	1949	1950	1951
Canada	8,199	6,881	5,934	5,373	5,163
Prince Edward Island	18	49	20	13	10
Newfoundland				5	4
Nova Scotia	207	78	181	199	187
New Brunswick	236	211	202	194	156
Quebec	348	292	350	234	290
Ontario	3,509	3,107	2,396	2,228	2,002
Manitoba	665	477	411	309	361
Saskatchewan	509	333	289	280	226
Alberta	881	651	594	534	589
British Columiba	1,826	1,683	1,491	1,377	1,339

The following statement shows a comparison between the number of divorces granted to husbands and wives respectively in the years mentioned:—

	Husbands	Wives
1947	3,539	4,660
1948	2,643	4,238
1949	2,259	3,675
1950	2,100	3,273
1951	2,010	3,153

Your Committee makes the same recommendation that it made in the 1950 and 1951 Reports. It regrets that Parliament has not seen fit to solve the problem of Parliamentary divorce by setting up suitable courts or tribunals before which the numerous cases from Quebec and Newfoundland could be heard. It is to be hoped that something will be done in that regard in the near future.

All which is respectfully submitted.

W. M. ASELTINE,
Chairman.

Ordered, That the same do lie on the Table.

The Honourable Senator Farris, from the Standing Committee on Banking and Commerce, to whom was referred the Bill (333), intituled: "An Act to amend The International Boundary Waters Treaty Act", reported that they had gone through the said Bill, and had directed him to report the same to the Senate, without any amendment.

The said Bill was then read the third time.

The question was put whether this Bill shall pass.
It was resolved in the affirmative.

Ordered, That a Message be sent to the House of Commons to acquaint that House that the Senate has passed this Bill, without any amendment.

The Honourable Senator Doone, from the Special Committee appointed to inquire into circumstances and conditions relating to the sale and distribution of salacious and indecent literature in Canada, presented the following Report.

The same was read by the Clerk, as follows:—

WEDNESDAY, 25th June, 1952.

The Special Committee appointed to enquire into the Sale and Distribution of Salacious and Indecent Literature in Canada begs leave to report, as follows:—

1. In obedience to the order of reference of May 8th, 1952, your Committee held six meetings, at which twenty-five witnesses were heard. Briefs, recommendations and resolutions numbered in the hundreds and representing millions of Canadian citizens were received. Individual letters reached heavy proportions. In this respect an intense public interest was displayed, one letter alone being endorsed with a thousand signatures. Church officials and religious groups of all faiths tendered enthusiastic approval. Social, civic and business organizations in all parts of Canada commended your Committee on the work in progress. The press gave a generous and sustained support in publicizing proceedings. Your Committee wish to extend its keen appreciation to all co-operating in its efforts.

2. Through the testimony given and through communications received your Committee has been made abundantly conscious of the seriousness of the problem under investigation and the timeliness of the enquiry. Minutes of proceedings which are available for distribution give arresting proof of this feature.

3. Your Committee at its inception realized that the time factor and available facilities would be deterrents to a complete survey during the present sitting of Parliament. The energy and co-operation, however, of the reportorial and stenographic staffs made a gratifying progress possible, but time did not permit of an exhaustive or comprehensive study. Many organizations, national in character, expressed a desire to be heard after conventions planned for the summer months. Distributors also wish to give testimony. For these reasons no definite findings can be reported at this time.

4. Your Committee, therefore, recommends that at the earliest possible date, during the next Session of Parliament, a Committee, similarly constituted be appointed to carry on the investigation authorized under the present order of reference. The enthusiasm and interest exhibited by the people of Canada in the aims of your Committee, and the importance of the enquiry from the standpoint of national good, emphasize the necessity of reaching conclusions from which corrective measures may be taken. Such measures should be instituted with a minimum of delay.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Chairman.
