REAR ADMIRAL KINGSMILL GIVEN FREEDOM OF CITY

Guelph Honors Distinguished Son as Feature of the Old Home Celebration.

GUELPH, Aug. 5.—(Special).—To-day was military day of the Gelph old home week, and from the point of attendance and the number of attractions it was the biggest of the week.

The day started with a grand civic reception to Rear Admiral Kingsmill, one of the old Guelph boys of whom the Royal City is justly proud. The reception was attended by a large and fashionable gathering. As the admiral alighted from the carriage three bands struck up "Rule Britannia." He was escorted by a guard of honor, composed of officers of the local corps. The great crowd of people received him with loud and prolonged cheers.

His Worship Mayor Newstead, when the council chamber had been reached, presented the rear admiral with the freedom of the city, while the chair-man of the reception committee, Ald. Kennedy, presented him an illuminated address.

The reply of the admiral was short but to the point. He said the profession of his choice was not one that bred orators, but expressed very well his heartfelt thanks for the cordial reception.

He had only done, in serving the empire as a naval officer, what any son of the Royal City would do. He had gone wherever he was sent.

A big luncheon at the Victoria Bowling Club's beautiful green was tendered the admiral, at which many of the most promient citizens were present.

In the afternoon he enjoyed seeing the races at Exhibition Park with a party of old friends and to-night he witnessed the military tattoo.

There was an exceptionally fine matinee provided for the old home week to-day by the Guelph Riding and Driving Association.

To-morrow is the last day of the old home week festivities and another big crowd is expected to wind up a celebration which has surpassed all expectations.

EXHIBITION ENTRIES EXTENDED.

Yesterday was the biggest day ever known at the exhibition offices for the reception of entries. However, as a number of exhibitors have written in complaining that the date is unsually early for the closing of the list, it has been decided to accept entries until Wednesday, the 12th inst. Every mail brought in from twenty to thirty registered letters. One was from Sir Geo. Drummond, Huntley Wood Farm, Beaconsfield, Que., making a large entry of some royally bred cattle, some from his majesty's farm at Sandringham, and a large number of Cotswold and Shropshire sheep.

C.P.R. STRIKE DECLARED 450 OUT IN W. TORONTO

Causes Considerable Excitement in the Town—Dr. Hackett Being Asked to Run for Mayor.

WEST TORONTO, Aug. 5.—Promptly at 10 o'clock to-day upwards of 450 men in the local C. P. R. shops went on strike in sympathy with the strikers in other Canadian cities. Many men who went to work this morning for the first time quit the shops with their fellow-employes. There was no flurry or excitement of any kind. The men just put on their coats and left the shops, without a word. The foremen could only stand and look on, and say nothing. George Garrett of Clinton-street, Toronto, was the only man who remained in the paint shop after 10 o'clock to-day.

Samuel Maguire, a yard boss, did not quit work either, but he found himself working alone. Out of the 400 men employed in the yards, only four remained at work after the strike was called.

A crowded mass meeting was held this afternoon in St. James Hall. Nothing of the proceedings gone thru was disclosed, but it was learned that the men are determined to stand together with their comrades all over Canada. "I imagine the whole trouble will be over in a day or so," said a C.P.R. carpenter to-night, "but of course it all depends on the attitude taken by the company. If they are determined to beat us, we will also be determined to fight them to a finish." Much dissatisfaction is being expressed by the strikers on account of the boilermakers remaining at work. "They were just as enthusiastic at the meetings as any of us," said a young carpenter to-night, "and in fact it was principally for their sakes that the strike was ordered."

Tho there were minor differences between the company and employes in the local shops, there were no great grievances. "I thing we could easily have come to terms with the company if we only had our own troubles to attend to. We never thought of going on strike except in sympathy with the western employes," said one of the union men to-night. "But the company have, as a matter of fact, been acting very unpleasantly this past year or so. They are flooding the shops here with carpenters at 20 cents per hour, and last year 25 cents was the established price. Some of the older employes are still getting 25 cents per hour, but they are gradually being weeded out to make room for the men who are willing to work for the lesser figure." In many other little ways the company have been making the shops an unpleasant place to work in. A few years ago if a man did his duty, he was sure of continued employment, but now we are trembling in our shoes every day lest something is going to happen. I think it's all due to the foremen being changed so often. This has been a noticeable feature of the management during the past twelve months."

The streets of West Toronto were dotted to-day with little groups of strikers discussing the situation. The older employes in the West Toronto shops were not so enthusiastic about agreeing to strike as were their younger fellow workmen. "There are dozens of just such men as myself in the employ of the C.P.R. in this town," said a veteran boilermaker last night. "We have only two or three more years to work until we receive pensions and if the company wanted to show any spite over the strike, we might be laid off and then hired again as new employes without any regard to our previous long years of service.

"The traffic department might as well strike too, if for nothing else but sympathy," said a brakeman last night. "If no agreement is reached the whole system will be more or less tied up within a week, as there will be no one to repair an engine or car when it gets out of order and the yards are full of these break-downs every day."

There are three names already mentioned as possible mayoralty candidates next January. They are Ald. Hain, Ald. Whetter and Dr. W. T. Hackett, chairman of the school board.

Dr. Hackett is being urged by a number of his friends to announce himself as a candidate, but as yet he has not arrived at any definite decision on the matter. Ald. Hain, generally conceded to be the most experienced among his colleagues, in municipal affairs, is not very ambitious to enter the contest for the mayoralty, as he prefers to evade all glamor of distinction beyond being the people's representative in ward one. Ald. Whetter was returned to council last year with the largest majority of any of his brethren in office. He also is being urged to try for the chief magistracy. Ex-Councillor Sam Ryding is planning too, and may be a candidate for municipal honors.

The work of excavating for the basement of the new school at the corner of Louisa and Elizabeth-streets, is now in progress. The council's opposition to the chosen site has decreased considerably, since it has been learned that sewer connections could not be obtained further south on Elizabeth-street.

The Interurban Electric Company is the proposed new name for the reorganized Stark T. L. and P. System.

The ladies of St. Mark's church are holding a garden party on Saturday at the residence of Thompson Porter, St. Clair-avenue, near the Northern railway.

NORTH TORONTO, Aug. 5.—Magistrate Ellis to-day fined Charles Strader of the Davisville Hotel, $25 and costs for keeping liquor for sael. Strader pleaded guilty. The men found on the premises also appeared before the magistrate, but the case was adjourned for a week.

George Allwood was fined $1 without costs for allowing his horse to stray.

The dam at the pumping station is about finished. Commissioner Walmsley will install the filtering basin and construct another round well in front of the pumping station.

This evening while Hilda, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mull of Yonge-street, was playing with her companions, she tripped and fell, breaking her right arm between the wrist and elbow. Dr. Bond reduced the fracture.

YORK TOWNSHIP COUNCIL.

Much of Yesterday's Expenditure Was Along School Lines.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, Aug. 5.—Requests for grants until the debentures are issued for school building purposes were one of the features at today's township council meeting.

The trustees of S.S. No. 28, Mount Dennis, asked for $2000, and Trustee Bayliss went home with the cheque in his pocket. No school in the township has made such headway in building as Mount Dennis. After the school closed in June, the building was torn down, and a new structure of six rooms is now standing on its place and will be ready when the holidays are over.

Ex-Reeve George Syme, trustee for S.S. No. 29, applied for $1000 to build a portable school in his section, as the people there cannot afford to pay the high prices charged by West Toronto.

W. G. L. Spaulding, chairman of the school board of S.S. No. 22, Swansea, asked re the issue of debentures to raise $6500 for an addition to the school.

The sum of $650 was granted out of the accrued interest of school fund principal and dividend as follows: S. S.'s Nos. 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 23, 25, 27, 28; U. S. S. 26 and separate school No. 1, Deer Park, the sum of $26 each.

Rev. Baynes-Reid asked for the grading of Haywood-crescent previous to the laying of a concrete sidewalk as a local improvement.

Mr. Sanderson, who owns a one-foot reserve on Oak-avenue, wanted road improvements. Reeve Henry stated that the work was contemplated if East Toronto had given some assistance.

Mr. Bell desired filling up on Gerrard-street near his property.

Mr. Jackson of Buttonwood-avenue asked to have the water diverted to prevent the flooding of his land.

Weston Fair wanted a $100 grant, and got $75.

Seventy-eight ratepayers of Swansea petitioned the council not to spend $3000 for the opening up of a roadway from College-street to High Park. If money is available for the Swansea division, the petition asks that it be spent on Windermere-avenue.

Seven ratepayers of Oak-avenue petitioned council to have that roadway graded north of Pine-avenue, and about 17 ratepayers asked for the grading of Bertha-street and Oak-avenue.

The plan of subdivision of part of the east half of lot 5, concession 1, F. B., also amending part of Reg. Plan M. 28, showing Kenilworth-avenue 50 feet in width was approved.

The commissioner was instructed to arrange with the Toronto Electric Light Company to install an arc lamp on the southeast corner of Birch-avenue and Queen-street.

"BROOM GETTING OLD."

Ontario Alliance Makes Charges Against License Officials.

There will be a big local option campaign in Ontario this fall, said Secretary Ben. H. Spence of the Alliance, to The World yesterday afternoon. "There is a lot of territory which is open to a vote the coming winter. I am holding several educational campaign meetings every week now, and we are receiving reports from the workers in many parts of the province, which show that the local option campaign this winter will again be extensive."

The Alliance secretary then pointed out that the organization is registering a kick against the way the Ontario license law is being violated. It is so voiced in the current number of the Alliance organ in a leading editorial on law enforcement. The article says: "With the change of government came a marked improvement in enforcement. The broom seems getting old. This should not be." It is then stated that the Whitney government appointed a special officer to supplement the work of the regular local inspectors, which has done good, but it is charged that the local officers are leaving too much to the special officers and that "the law is being flagrantly violated."
