—The new railway iron bridge across the River La Planche was put up and finished on Sunday last. About 60 men were employed. A train ran from Amherst Station to the "scene of labor," two or three times during the day, taking those who were desirous of seeing the work, free.

Hillsboro and Surrey Notes.

—Winter has set in here in earnest, we have considerable snow and no flies.

—Seven vessels are now in port, this probably will be their last trip of the season from here.

—The farmers in this vicinity have been lately having their grain threshed, and report the yield much below the average, wheat being especially light.

—Preparations are being made for the opening of the rink, which will take place at an early date. It is this season under the competent management of Messrs. Jones & Carlisle, who will spare no pains in making the rink a pleasant place to spend an hour or two of the long winter evenings.

—The mills of the Albert Manufacturing Co. have closed for the winter, having done a large and profitable summer's work. The hands who were employed in the mill have been placed in the lumber business. The company have several parties in the woods in different parts of the county. They also have four quarries in operation, thus giving employment to a large number of men.

—The Rev. Dr. Day spent the Sabbath in the village in the interests of the Baptist Convention fund. The rev. gentleman preached three powerful sermons, two in the Hillsboro and one in the Valley Church. The subject of the afternoon was "The wonderful love of the Saviour," based upon John 15,: 9, As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you, etc. In the evening he took as his theme the minor report of Caleb and Jehoshua of the land of Canaan.

Elgin, A. C., Items.

—The pupils of the school are preparing a concert to be given on the evening of the 22nd. The proceeds will be devoted to the purchasing of books for a school library. Geo. Smith, A. B., has begun his annual tour of inspection in Albert County. He speaks of a marked improvement in the character of the schools.

—On the Pollet River lumbering operations will be unusually brisk, principally in procuring material for deals and ship timber. The thaw of last week broke the ice in the river carrying away unsurveyed many logs which had been piled thereon. Teams are employed hauling for the three mills, which ship their manufactured stuff over the Elgin Branch.

—More than two-thirds of the Railway tax has been collected and that, it is said, from the poorest and least able to pay. Of the seven thousand dollars levied, two thousand remain to be paid. The returns have been made by the Collector, and now executions are in order. The people are beginning to see that the tax could have been paid yearly without causing any peceptible inconvenience.

—The recent snow falls with the accompanying cold weather have created activity in many ways in Elgin. The farmer has his cattle to house, his pigs to kill, his harness and sleds to repair; while his wife darns the socks, knits mittens, and puts circular patches on juvenile pants where winter sports produce the most friction. The lumberman, too, "swamps out" his roads over which he "portashes" his pork and molasses and beans, the lumberman's traditional fare while he inhabits the forest primeval. And the store keeper smiles and smiles and adds another cent to the price of his treacle.

—Elgin boasts of two associations: one a Lodge of I. O. G. T., whose members "look not upon the wine when it is red" and discountenance the use of old rye. It has a lecture committee who will probably secure a few lectures during the winter. The other is a grange which meets once per fortnight. Its membership has embraced the majority of the farmers with their families, in all numbering thirty-five. This society, which has but recently taken advantage of the co-operative system, has already purchased goods exceeding two hundred dollars in value. The estimated saving on such purchases is about sixty dollars, or a little less than two dollars per head. This saving has been made principally in the purchase of machinery, an important item to farmers. New orders are to be made for goods in a few days, when the agent arrives with samples. If, in addition to their economic power, grangers are made instruments for the social and intellectual cultivation of our farmers, they cannot be too highly commended. The Division Grange meets with the Elgin Grange about the fourth of January.

A Richibucto Mystery.

Clerical Kidnapping.—A Race for a Boy.—A Midnight Journey.—The Lost Scent.

(From a Correspondent.)

Not far from the village of Richibucto, lives a respectable and well-to-do farmer of Dutch ancestry. His wife is a lady of Acadian parentage. One boy alone has been wont to play around their door; a fine youth who filled the house with glee, and received the usual quantity of petting and spanking. This boy figures as the central character of the following history:—

Some weeks since the lady of the household was surprised to see two stylish carriages stop in front of their house. One contained a Minister who prosecuted his divine avocation in the vicinity, the other had in it a strange gentleman and lady.

Inquiries made by the visitors about the boy of the family, elicited information to the effect that he was at school. This learned, both carriages moved off in the direction of the school house. Madame, however, grew suspicious. She wondered in her heart what this might mean, and finally called her husband to assist in her deliberation. He was still more suspicious; and, in a twinkling, his horse was harnessed and the couple were

MAKING FAIR TIME IN PURSUIT.

Their worst fears were realized, as they saw at a glance on their arrival at the school. The two teams were fairly under way, the one in advance containing not the strange couple, but the boy in question. The air was filled with cries of the wildest sort. The farmer lashed his horse to a wild burst of speed. Kent County has gallant steeds full many, and this was not the worst among them. The chase waxed hot, and the avengers of blood were near, when the pious pastor created a diversion. He became a valuable accessory to the fugitives. Whenever the farmer and his wife would go past him and sweep down upon their prey, that valiant horseman of the cloth steered his team across the road and blocked up the passage. For miles that unequal chase continued. Never was worthier steed urged to grander flight, and never was nobler effort made by a Canadian horse; but the wily theologian was not to be outwitted. Hither and thither across the road he wound his devious way, describing curves, circular, parabolic and ellptical with the precision of an astute mathematician. Through his instrumentality with what supernatural assistance he could command the flight was made a success. A pair of wildly swinging arms, a skyward sweep of a juvenile foot, was the last glimpse afforded of the loved and lost one, and a last despairing cry for help was the last they heard of him.

BEARING RAPIDLY DOWN UPON THE KIDNAPPERS,

THE READER BACKED UP.

In the language of certain old novelists, our story will resort to a date some twelve years previous to the occurences mentioned above. One wintry day, a veiled lady, unknown at Richibucto, made her appearance at the leading hotel in the village. After making minute inquires she took her journey to the farm-house mentioned above. She re-appeared at the hotel a few days after, veiled as before, and went away. The hitherto childless home of the farmer was now gladdened with the presence of an infant, whose first appearance synchronized with the visit of the mysterious stranger. Year by year afterwards came welcome remittances to the foster parents.

Be it known that the foster parents never attempted to pass the child off as their own. The near neighbors knew as much about his birth and parentage as they did; which, as regarded the parentage was simply nothing at all. During one of the visits of the lady, a promise was made that when the boy should be grown up, would be given as a bonus to the parties who were in loco parentis. It was fear for these dollars that moved the farmer and wife to set out on that awful and vain chase. There was great agitation and anger at the loss of the cherub. The farmer and his wife are inconsolable. Not only that the boy is gone, although it grieves them sore, but it is the thousand dollars lost that troubles them much more. They think the strange man in the carriage that bore away the young fellow was a clergyman also.

THE SUM OF ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

Letters have been received by them, saying that their foster child is all right, but they still remain in trouble and mystery as do their neighbors. Y. Z.

The exposure of the utter worthlessness of the large packs of horse and cattle powders has saved our people a vast sum. There is only one kind now known strictly pure and these are Sheridan's. Don't throw away your money.

An Eastern paper says: "Every man who goes into the lumber woods this winter should take with him a supply of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and Parson's Purgative Pills. This little precaution may save months of labor and much suffering.

Bill Heads, Letter Heads, Business Cards, &c., neatly printed at this Office.

The Rev. J. W. S. Young, in a letter to the "Carleton Sentinel" of a recent date, says:—This is the first time I ever gave a testimonial to a paper in favor of any medicine, but it seems my duty to say I think "W. T. Baird's Cure All Liniment" the best we ever used in our family for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, and Pains in the Stomach.

DYE'S CELEBRATED ELECTRO-VOLTAIC BELTS AND ELECTRIC APPLIANCES on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed Warning!

We regret that it is necessary to warn the public against so-called respectable druggists, who for a few cents additional profit, are palming off a dangerous and flesh-eating substitute for that great remedy, PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR. As Putnam's is a simple, purely vegetable compound, and non-poisonous in composition, no surprise need be felt that serious results have attended the use of caustic applications substituted as above for the genuine "CORN EXTRACTOR." Age of Enlightenment.

In an age of enlightenment like the present, the value of electricity, and of compounds containing an electric principle as remedial agents, is widely appreciated. Foremost among the latter, both as regards the thoroughness and safety of its effects, and the rapidity of its action, is THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL, a widely popular external and internal remedy for coughs, colds, sore throat, asthma, croup, and other affections of the breathing organs; an invaluable outward specific for lame back, soreness and contraction of the muscles, and every variety of sore or hurt; a prompt source of relief for pain, and a medicine upon which the public can also implicitly depend in cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, piles and kidney complaints, inflammatory affections, dysentery, and many other ailments. Its persistent use eradicates the most obstinate of the disorders to which it is adapted. Physicians speak of it in the highest terms. Moreover, horsemen and stock raisers administer it with the greatest success for diseases and hurts of horses and cattle. Sold by all medicine dealers.

Prepared only by NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont.

THE MEDICAL FACULTY were among the first to recognize the value of Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda as a remedy for throat and lung affections, premature decline and generally debility. Physicians not only recommend it for incipient consumption, bronchitis, asthma, and minor pulmonary and bronchial troubles, but speak in the highest terms of it as a means of enriching the blood and counteracting a hereditary tendency to consumption. In every part of the Dominion and throughout the United States it has attained a popularity as wide-spread as it is deserved, and the evidence attesting its efficacy is voluminous and convincing. The Cod Liver Oil, which is its diamonic constituent, is absolutely pure, does not nauseate the stomach; so and Hypophosphites, superior ingredient, chemically blended with other agencies which renpossess invigorating properties involving der it most desirable in cases of tissue and such a tremendous force as incipient consumption, loss of bodily substance, hectic cheeks with a prompsumption, which is insidious. In addition to titude truly astonishing effects, it imparts tone to the its pulmonic action, and being a fine blood dewhole system, exerts a tendency to scrofulapurent, it is sold at a reasonable price, Moreover, the smaller bottles (the contents the contents sufficing to break up a bad of one bottle) cost only 50 cents, and of the larger, $1.00. Prepared by NORTHROP & LYMAN Toronto, Ont.

ICKED BY INNUMERABLE PANGS, restlessly by day, sleepless at night, rising unrefreshed in the morning, without appetite, harassed by varying and perplexing symptoms, the dyspeptic takes indeed a gloomy view of human existence. For him the zest of life seems gone. Heartburn, oppression at the pitch of the stomach, and the attendant annoyance of constipation and biliousness, combine to render him utterly wretched. But there is, if he will but take advantage of it, a reliable source of relief from all this misery. NORTHROP & LYMAN'S VEGETABLE DISCOVERY AND DYSPEPTIC CURE is, as its name implies, a botanic preparation, free from mineral poison, and an all-sufficient remedy for the indigestion in its most obstinate form. It not only enriches the blood by enabling the digestive organs to convert the food received into nutriment, but purifies it by increasing the action of the bowels and kidneys, the natural outlets for its impurities. But while it relaxes the bowels, it never does so violently and with pain, like a drastic cathartic. It aids, but never forces, Nature, invigorating as well as purifying and regulating the system. It thoroughly removes those disease humours which tend to vitiate the blood, purifies the urinary secretion, and promotes a flow of healthy bile into the natural channel, besides expelling it from the circulation. Experience has proved that this standard medicine is a thorough remedy for dyspepsia, scrofula, erysipelas, salt rheum, lumbago and all impurities of the blood. Price, $1.00. Sample Bottle, 10 cents. Ask for NORTHROP & LYMAN'S Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. The wrapper bears a fac-simile of their signature. Sold by all medicine dealers.
