CHIGNECTO POST AND BORDERER

SACKVILLE, N. B., JUNE 21, 1894

THE people of Lower Sackville should supply electric lights for the Bandstand.

FREQUENT acts of rowdyism and vandalism emphasize the evident need of a policeman in Sackville.

THE prospects of the great Canadian hen are beginning to brighten. Eggs have been put on the free list of the United States tariff bill.

ERASTUS Wiman has been pronounced guilty of forgery with a recommendation to mercy. Among his prominent defenders was Attorney General Longley of Nova Scotia.

LORD Roseberry having gained the favor of the irreverent by owning the horse which won the Derby will now defer to the moralists wishes and quit the turf. The morals of great men are carefully guarded.

New Brunswick people will do well to look after any little islands up in the St. Lawrence river which are free to them for picnic and fishing grounds since all available spots of that character in New Brunswick have been already leased to Americans by Mr. Blair.

NEARLY all the delegates to the great Y. M. C. A. convention in London were men of years adorned with grey beards. This is a way of receiving one's youth in name at least. The wisdom of the founders of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. is shown by the presence of the Y's. An old men's association would not attract members.

WHEN a strike occurs it is almost impossible to get even an approximately correct statement of the true difficulty. The recent strikes at Joggins and Springhill were no exception to this general rule and it is to be presumed the present Joggins strike is not. There is probably another side to the story of the strike told in another column.

ENQUIRY has shown the New York police force to be one of the most corrupt organizations in that centre of corruption. The evidence given indicates that there exists in connection with the force a regular system of blackmail, levied on the vice of the city which was actually encouraged by those whose duty it was to suppress it, in order that they might profit by the assessments they collected from its establishments as the price of protection.

THE young Duke of Marlborough is said to be about to marry Miss Darcy, the wealthy daughter of a wealthy Australian. The old Duke married Mrs. Hammersley, the wealthy widow of a wealthy American business man, and thereby wrought much good to an impoverished estate. If the succession is rapid enough and the supply of heiresses does not fail, the [illegible] will reach a height the original John might have envied.

The grain and root crops at Sackville are said to be suffering on account of the cold nights and dry weather. Grass which started early is looking well at present and if rain comes soon will be a good crop. Tuesday's Transcript.

The fact that the rest of the Maritime Provinces was affected by the drought equally with Sackville and that the needed rain came three days before the publication of the above paragraph did not weigh with the Transcript man who is never so well satisfied as when he can say something that will injure Sackville and the Sackville end of the county.

DR. R. C. Weldon the member for Albert is accused of inconsistency by certain party papers because he spoke against the sale of The Thousand Isles and then voted for it. This is hardly fair as the vote was a distinct vote of want of confidence. Dr. Weldon may have regarded his position as between the devil and the deep sea and chosen the course which appeard to him if not the most beneficial, at least the less injurious. It may be less distasteful to him to behold the Stars and Stripes flying on Canadian islands in the St. Lawrence than to see all Canada annexed to the United States as some of our liberal friends advocate. Dr. Weldon deserves praise for explaining his position so clearly and condemning as far as he conscientiously could a measure he believes to be wrong.

The Carter-Hebert Case.

Richard Carter of Pt de Bute, a constable, went to Moncton last Thursday with an execution given by Stipendiary Magistrate Cahill of Sackville at the suit of Blair Taylor against Pascal Hebert of the Queen Hotel Moncton. Carter called on Hebert at the hotel and presented him with the execution. Hebert wished to turn property over to satisfy the execution. Carter believed Hebert had no property but to make sure made enquiries with Heberts's consent. While these enquiries were being made Hebert went from the hotel to the park. Carter having found that Hebert had no property in his own name followed and demanded payment, threatening arrest. Hebert claimed that he had previously been arrested which Carter denied and insisted on making the arrest. Some bystanders interfered and prevented it and Carter was arrested by Officer Thompson taken to Moncton and there set at liberty. Carter returned next day with the execution for Hebert and was again arrested on a warrant issued by R. Barry Smith the charge being assault on Pascal Hebert at the Park. Carter was anxious to proceed with the investigation but the magistrate adjourned till Wednesday 20th when a hearing was to be given.

Yesterday morning the assault case came up before R Barry Smith at Moncton, H Hanington for prosecution, F A McCully for defence. Twenty five subpoenas were served Tuesday. Among those examined yesterday were Stipendiary Wortman, Pascal Hebert, and P S McMannus. The amount in question was $25. It is said that Carter will take action against all the parties who were concerned in his first arrest.

Louis Burque of Buctouche, a few mornings ago on going to his barn found that some person had entered it during the night and had close shaved the tail of his three year old colt.

Dominion Parliament.

THE ROYAL WILLIAM.

In the commons Thursday, on motion to adopt the report of the parliamentary library, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper said that the report referred to a great historical event and to some of the eminent men who had assisted in its commoration. The act was the Royal William, a Canadian built vessel which was the first steamer to cross the Atlantic. The minister proceeded to acknowledge the prominent part in the commemoration of this event taken by the Nova Scotia Historical society, whose resolution, passed in July, 1893, he read to the house. Sir Charles also alluded to the pamphlet prepared by Capt. Wurtele, describing the building of the Royal William at Quebec, and the incidents of her voyage from Pictou, N. S., to London in 1833. This pamphlet will be printed. The report, which recommended the placing of a memorial plate in the library of parliament, was adopted.

BRAZIL SHOULD PAY.

Dr. Weldon for Albert and Mr. Baird, M. P. have this week interviewed the minister of marine respecting the claims of Canadian shipowners for the unlawful detention of the vessels at Rio Janeiro during the late disturbance at that port. The views submitted by the members are in effect that all nations who invite the ships and commerce of other nations to their ports are bound to furnish them with protection against the unlawful acts of their own people, except in case of actual belligerency or recognized warfare. The contention that the fighting at Rio was mere rioting or mob disturbance, and did not reach the dignity of the recognized warfare, is generally conceded. It is understood that the British foreign office has undertaken to secure indemnification for the owners of the British ships which sustained severe losses, and Messrs Weldon and Baird have urged upon Sir C. H. Tupper the expediency of forwarding the claims of Canadian owners through the same channel. The minister, after giving the matter careful consideration and examining all the authorities on the subject, has called for proof and facts upon which the Canadian claims are based. Accordingly today Mr. Baird handed him the declaration of Capt. Hayes of the ship Mabel Taylor, one of the R. C. Elkin's fleet. The question is one of great importance to ship-owners, as losses were sustained at it which it is contended should be made good. Mr Baird and Dr Weldon deserve the good wishes of the ship-owners of the maritime provinces for interesting themselves in this matter.

THE FRANCHISE ACT.

In the house Thursday, Sir John Thompson introduced a bill to amend the Franchise act. He briefly sketched its provisions. Its principal features were, first, in reference to the revision of the present year, to bring into force the provisions of the Redistribution act of 1892. It will follow that a revision of the present year will be made the basis of constituencies as rearranged by that act, although the act would not come into force until the expiration of the present parliament. But it was the duty of the government to see that constituencies would be ready for a general election, so that, while it is possible that there will be another revision next year and before a disolution, we must keep constituencies in a position to have a vote taken at any time. In making the revision care will be taken that the polling sub-divisions shall not run from the old, but new constituencies before an election should take place in any of these constituencies. In the meantime, the list of electors for the constituency can be made from the sheets of the constituency as it now stands. Thus the two principles can be held in view in the one revision. A change has been proposed also in the basis. The basis of the franchise will be adopted from the franchise of the several provinces. While he argued this work was a departure, it was not at all a surrender of any principle. The practical differences between the provincial and dominion franchises are now so few as to render it not worth the expense of keeping them up separately. The adoption of a common system for local and dominion purposes has the recommendation of economy which was not peculiar to the dual system which has been in vogue for the past few years. The new system should be available for yearly use, and while some difficulty and labor will be experienced in the preparation of the first list, the bill will so simplify the system as to make future revisions easy. The great principle of the act of 1885, however, namely that the revision be made by officers under the control of parliament would be adhered to in the bill, first as regards the franchise itself, and secondly as to the carrying out of the franchise law. The principle is maintained that elections to the dominion house ought not be under the control as regards franchises of officers of any other than federal authority.

Mr. Laurier congratulated the government on all points of the bill but the retention of the revising barristers, but he hoped that feature would be abandoned in time.

THE CAPES ROUTES.

Mr. Perry moved for a return showing number of trips made by ice-boats between Cape Tormentine and Cape Traverse in the season of 1894. Speaking to his motion, he deplored the inadequacy of the service between the Island and Pictou performed by the Stanley, although the government was to be congratulated upon the improvement of the service over that performed by the Northern Light. He thought that the Stanley would give a better service between the capes. He favored the tunnel scheme, but as it would take 20 years to complete it, he thought provision should be made for daily service in the meantime.

Mr. Wood of Westmorland defended the government against the charges of the last speaker that the government had not carried out the terms of union. An honest effort had been made to give P. E. Island the best possible communication with the mainland. The Stanley had been built and was admitted to be admirably suited for the winter navigation of the Northumberland Straits. The question raised by Mr. Perry was worthy the consideration of the government, and whether the Stanley could not do a better service between Cape Tormentine and Cape Traverse than between Georgetown and Pictou. He contended the government should try the experiment of placing the Stanley on this route. He commended the action of the government in testing the feasibility of the tunnel scheme. It would be some years before the tunnel could be built. In the meantime a summer ferry should be established between the Capes. This would give the people of P. E. I. mail twice daily instead of once as at present and would also place them in closer connection with the I. C. R. trains.

Mr. Davies held that the government was simply bamboozling the people. A proper tunnel would cost from fifteen to twenty millions and a five million tunnel was a farce.

Mr. Tupper—Are you against the tunnel scheme?

Mr. Davies declined to commit himself.

At the Joggins.

JOGGINS, N. S., JUNE 9.—Many people in the Maritime Provinces have heard a great deal about the Joggins during the past few years but few have any idea of the improvements which have been and are being made at the thriving little town and the collieries which support it. To those who have known it in the past, who have watched its growth, and who visit it now, it presents a specimen of western growth in an eastern province. To the capitalist, the laboring man, and the scientist this seaport village is of equal value and interest. In later letters I may speak of the growth of the town, the history of the mines, or the geologic formations. For the present I will confine myself to the progress made by the enterprising Canada Coal and Railway Co. during the past year, and the bright prospects which now lie before them.

One of the most important steps which have recently been taken was the opening up of a new slope, No. 3, which has now a daily output of about 150 tons. No 2, the slope which has alone been in regular operation of late years, brings the total daily output up to about 450 tons. The greater part of this goes to the C. P. R. at St. Andrews, but at present during the great coal strike in the United States considerable is being shipped to Boston. To convey this coal to Boston four large schooners and the tug Storm King have been engaged. Then of course the local demand has to be supplied. At present seven or eight schooners are loading at the wharves and that average has been kept up since the first of April. A great quantity is also shipped by rail. The coal is highly spoken of especially by steamboat captains who value it for its great strength in burning.

About ten years ago old No. 1. mine situated between No. 2 and the shore and only one-quarter of a mile from the shore was abandoned, work being concentrated at No. 2. Its period of inactivity has ceased however and in a very short time it will be adding its share to the general output. It is expected that the summer of '95 will see the output increased to seven or eight hundred tons per day. All the coal is at present screened at No. 2, and the dumping wheel has of late been found too slow for requirements and will shortly give place to a more rapid machine. A long trestle is being built to lessen the angle of elevation for loaded cars of coal which are being hauled from No. 3 to No. 2. In a short time a large and powerful engine will replace the smaller one now in use at No. 3, and the latter will go into service at old No. 1. Two large new boilers have just been put in to supply steam for the hoisting engine of No. 2. A very convenient trestle work has been built at the wharves so that the rise and fall of the tides do not interfere with loading vessels. Underground various improvements have been made all tending toward increasing the output and lessening expense per ton. At present in all the departments about three hundred and fifty men are employed.

S., and Miss Susan Grace, youngest daughter of Mr. Richard D. Allen, of Cape Tormentine, N. B. The knot was well tied by the resident Methodist minister. After the bridal party, with the few friends who were present, had partaken of a delicious tea the happy couple left by carriage for home, amid heartiest congratulations.

—A very pleasant evening party was given at the home of Mrs. Memel Spence last Friday evening. Over fifty young people assembled and enjoyed to the full boating, music, and conversation. At ten o'clock lunch was served, followed by ice-cream, When the clock had pealed forth the hour of midnight the company began to disperse. Among those present were Rev. Mr. and Miss Herdman, Mr. Richard Kinnear of Moncton, Mr. and Mrs. James Gray, and Joseph Harper.

We are very proud of our stars, and hope they will shine again quite soon.

Another Fredericton Sensation.

A CLERGYMAN AND A UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR JOIN THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Rev. Finlow Alexander, who for years has been the trusted sub-dean of Christ Church Cathedral at Fredericton N. B., has left the Church of England and will join the Roman Catholic church. Mr. Alexander has been formally suspended as a clergyman of the Episcopal church and his authority as such cancelled. This action was taken in consequence of Mr. Alexander's intention to publicly explain the reasons for his change of views on the first opportunity that offered. Bishop Kingdon could not allow this to be done, and has caused his late sub-dean to be summarily suspended, pending further action.

Professor Stockley also severs his connection with the church of England for the same purpose, but this occasions no surprise, as Prof. Stockley was originally a Catholic, and it is said had always a leaning in that direction. He has resided with Mr. Alexander for the past nine months, and the influence of his strong and vigorous mind upon that of the sub-dean is given as the chief cause of this transference of religious views and principles. Whether this be true or not, the fact remains that Mr. Alexander has left the English church and that he will at once become a Roman Catholic.

At the Sunday afternoon service in the cathedral all doubts were set at rest when Bishop Kingdon formally announced the change of view of his subdeacon, and forthwith proceeded with his suspension.

Rev. Finlow Alexander is an Englishman by birth and a doctor of medicine as well as a clergyman. In his younger days he was for some time surgeon on ships that sailed the eastern seas, and figured in at least one bloody affray with Chinese pirates. After taking holy orders he was for several years rector of a parish in Ontario, but the greater part of his clerical life has been spent in Fredericton, where he soon won the esteem of all classes and the love of the poor, to whom he was a practical friend as well as a spiritual counsellor. Mr Alexander is well versed in church music and a paper which was published a few years ago in the Globe attracted much attention in musical circles.

Prof. Stockley, who is a graduate of Trinity college, Dublin, is generally admitted to be one of the ablest men who ever filled a chair in the provincial university.

Joggins Strike.

The Miners at Joggins are again out on strike. The Sun report says that the cause of the trouble is as follows: A merchant at River Hebert took out a garnishee order attaching the wages of one of the men, Carl Bansemer. There was sixteen dollars in the hands of the company, and the men demanded that the money be paid to Bansemer. The management contended that they must abide by the order of the court but on the day following, in the absence of General Manager Dick the money was paid to Bansemer by Manager Archibald who did not understand the situation clearly. On Mr. Dick's return on Monday the men held a meeting and decided that unless the company would undertake to protect the employed from all such legal proceedings they would order a stike. The management after consulting their solicitors felt they could not make an arrangement of this kind and refused to accede to the demand. The result was a strike without further notice.

Mr. Dick requested a committee of the workmen to meet him and Mr. Rogers, one of the company's solicitors, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock to examine the papers in the Bansemer matter and discuss the position of the company under the law, but for some unexplained reason the committee did not put in an appearance. The men contend that an attempt was being made to get rid of Bansemer, but this is flatly contradicted by the manager as well as by the merchant who took the proceedings and his lawyer. The general impression is that there is no grievance; that the management simply has to abide the order of the court in all such cases, and pay the money as directed, and the men are unreasonable in requiring an agreement contrary to law.

Sackville, April 10th, 1894.

HERCULES.

HERCULES is a blood bay stallion, 16 hands sired by Redwood, by Columbus Hambletonian 853, record 2.26, by Ajax 49, sire of three in 2.30, by Hambletonian 10, sire of forty-one in 2.30, and of 113 sires (among whom is Electioneer, sire of Sontag, 2.08¾, Arion, 2 years, 2.10¾, Palo Alto, 2.08¾, etc) with 650 in 2.30. First dam by Jay Gould 197, record 2 20¼, sire of Adel Gould 2 19, and twenty-six others in 2.30, by Hambletonian 10; dam Lady Sanford, by American Star 14; second dam by Eaton Eclipse, son of American Eclipse, grandsire of dam of Lady Thorne, 2.18¼, and Mambrino Patchen 58. American Star 14 is the greatest female-producing line, crossed directly as in the case of HERCULES with old Hambletonian. American Star have given Guy 2.10¾, Dexter 2.17¼, Robert McGregor 2.17¼, and forty other 2.30 performers, as well as twenty-seven speed-transmitting stallions. Jay Gould is the fastest of all the Hambletonian-Star stallions, and is a full brother in blood to twenty-two sires that have produced 100 performers with records from 2.08¾ to 2.30, including Dictator, Aberdeen, Artemas, Masterlode, Arthurian, Startle, Susquehanna, etc

HERCULES, as will be seen by the above is one of the best bred stallions in the Maritime Provinces, and should transmit great speed-producing qualities He is ten years old, sound, of excellent disposition and his colts are all large and appear to know no gait except a trot.

It will pay those interested in improving their stock to investigate the merits of this stallion.
