Matrimonial.

There was a brilliant double wedding yesterday afternoon at Christ Church Cathedral, Hamilton, when Miss Amy Martin and her sister Miss O'D. Martin were married, the former to Philip DuMoulin, son of the Bishop of Niagara, the latter to Philip Luxton, of Victoria, B. C. His lordship the bishop took the first part of the service and gave the benediction at the altar. He was assisted by the rector, Rev. Canon Bland and Rev. Canon Sutherland, of St. Mark's.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Braithwaite, the Misses Bankier, Misses Mary Strathy, Isabel Scott, Beryl Wood, Enid Hendrie, Margaret Hay, Vera Martin, Edith Baldwin and Hilda Burton. There were also two pages, Alasdain Crerar and Crawford Martin.

The brides were exquisitely gowned in Irish poplin, trimmed with Limerick lace. Their trains were of rich satin brocade, draped from the left shoulder. The bridal veils were of beautiful Limerick lace that fell gracefully from their wreaths of orange blossoms. Miss Amy Martin carried a bouquet of white bride roses, and Miss O'D. Martin held choice orchids.

FINKBEINER—KLAGER.

A very quiet marriage ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Klager, Jackson street, Hamilton, the occasion being the marriage of her daughter, Miss Louisa, to the Rev. C. S. F. Finkbeiner, of Zurich. Rev. Mr. Heist officiated, and only the immediate family friends were in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Finkbeiner left on the 4:45 train for the Falls, and will be at home to their friends in Zurich, Ont., after the 22nd inst. Mrs. Finkbeiner was very highly esteemed by a large circle of friends in London.

More Parks for the People.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

In your columns you advocate more parks for the people." Why cannot the vacant land at the foot of King street belonging to the city be utilized for such purposes? It would be a small "breathing spot," but it would do for a start, and more land could be added as our finances would allow. It is not expensive parks, occupying the most valuable land in the center of the city, that the people want. It costs the average workingman half a day's pay to take his family on the cars to and from Victoria Park. Far better results would be got from having small, inexpensive parks in each ward. I don't see why the vacant lands owned by the city cannot be used in this way. What do you say about it, Mr. Editor? Yours, etc.,

An Interesting Case.

Mr. W. G. Phyall, proprietor Bodega Hotel, 36 Wellington street east, Toronto, says: "While living in Chicago I was in a terrible shape with itching and bleeding piles. I tried several of the best physicians and was burnt and tortured in various ways by their treatments to no avail, besides spending a mint of money to no purpose. Since coming to Toronto I learned of Dr. Chase's Ointment, I used but one box and have not been troubled with piles in any shape or form since."

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly, and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

—Rev. Mr. Rhodes, of Hyde Park, left his horse hitched to a post on Richmond street the other night while he made a business call. When he returned the horse was gone, and Mr. Rhodes walked to Hyde Park, arriving at 3 a.m. He found the horse waiting for him at home, but a valuable robe was missing from the rig.

—Lucius Henry, of the Caradoc reserve, came up before Squire J. B. Smyth yesterday afternoon, charged with having assaulted Julia Waucaush, of the same reserve. The case was adjourned until Sept. 29, when the evidence for the defense will be taken. Henry is alleged to have attacked Mrs. Waucaush while she was driving some cows from pasture.

—On Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's father, Miss Isabella M. Smith, daughter of Mr. Wm. T. Smith, of 379 Central avenue, was married to Mr. Wm. T. Mortimer. Rev. Joseph Edge performed the ceremony. Miss Mary Mortimer, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Will Smith, jun., brother of the bride, was groomsman.

—The Rural-Decanal Chapter of Middlesex met yesterday in Bishop Cronyn Hall, the Rev. Canon Smith, rural dean, presiding, and Rev. G. B. Sage acting as secretary. The following gentlemen were appointed a missions committee for the deanery, who with the rural dean, will act as assessors when required: Clerical, Revs. H. A. Thomas and C. R. Gunne; lay, Messrs. F. T. Harrison and C. C. Hodgins.

—Sarah Hamilton, who died at the General Hospital on Friday last, of consumption, was an inmate of that institution for a short time only. She was for nine years a domestic at Miss McGlashan's, Glanworth, who on many occasions had befriended deceased, and was not aware of her death until after the burial had taken place. Deceased came from England when nine years of age. A brother is living somewhere in the Northwest, while an aunt lives in Montreal.

—Mrs. Joseph Peasley, of Plympton, Lambton county, who died from spinal injuries received in a runaway accident last Saturday, was well-known in London and vicinity. Rowell, con. 5, London township; John, of Granton; George, con. 14, and Christopher, con. 15, London township; Edward, of Plympton, and Arthur, a member of the London Police force. Mrs. M. Kohl, con. 15, London township, is the only sister of the deceased.

—The meetings of London Council, No. 397, R. T. of T., are being well attended, and much interest is shown in the competition for rewards offered by Bro. Linnell. New members are being initiated each meeting. The council hopes to do much active work during the winter months. The committee having the first open meeting of the season in charge are working hard arranging for a carpet rag social, Oct. 3. By their report this promises to be a very pleasant meeting. Arrangements are being made for the district meeting, which will be held at Nilestown, Oct. 19. At the last regular meeting, held on the 19th inst., a pleasing programme was given at the close of the business [illegible] ion by Sister Ramsey, Bros. Moule [illegible] Madden.

—The circumstances surrounding the arrest of A. D. Hodgins, formerly of this city, on a charge of arson at Petrolia, are given by the Petrolia Advertiser, as follows: "B. Pratt, Hodgins' assistant, sleeps over the store. Coming down on the night in question he found a carefully-laid contrivance, a regular time fuse, for firing the building. He told Pitman, who owns the building, the police were called, and an information laid against Hodgins, who went away the night of the 'fire,' by Pitman. P. C. McRitchie was detailed by Chief Jackson to watch the building. He failed to do so, and Hodgins returned and opened up the store. He was seen looking into the cubby-hole, and was there alone for a few minutes, in which time he lit a fire in the kitchen. When McRitchie did arrive it was found that the contrivance had been carefully removed, and nearly all traces cleaned up. The stock-in-trade and fixtures were all insured for more than Witnesses Primmer and Endress valued them. The gist of the matter is this: An attempt was made to fire the building, suspision points somewhat towards Hodgins, but the case was a good deal spoilt by the failure of P. C. McRitchie to properly attend to the duty of watching the premises."

DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL.

The inquest into the death of Fred Barnes, the C. P. R. brakeman, killed at Chatham, was concluded at that place on Tuesday evening, the jury returning a verdict that Barnes accidentally fell from a car. No blame was attached to the other train hands. Joe Reddick, the engineer of the train on which Barnes was standing, testified that they were backing into the "Y." The deceased was on the top of one of the cars, and was riding the cars into the siding. Reddick found Barnes lying across the tracks, under an oil car, with his feet cut off. There were no frogs around or anything that he could trip or slip on to cause him to fall under the cars. John McAllister, the fireman; Edwin Rafferty, the other brakeman; George Cruickshank, the conductor; James Goodall, section foreman; M. Cloherty, watchman, and John Donegan, freight clerk, corroborated the engineer's evidence.

IMPECUNIOUS BOARD OF WORKS

No Funds Left for New Undertakings.

The Last of the Big Sewer Contracts Awarded.

Harding and Leathorn Will Construct Section "A"—Only Two Tenders—A Large Grist of Miscellaneous Matters.

"Where is the money to come from?" is a question that members of the board of works have become very familiar with. There are a number of things the board would undertake if the question could be satisfactorily answered, but unfortunately there is not a cent on hand for any new work. At the regular meeting of the board last night, Ald. Parnell questioned the engineer upon their financial condition, and it was found that out of the total appropriation only $3,300 was left, and that the closest estimates for the balance of the year would exceed this sum. A detailed statement of the finances will be furnished by the engineer at the next meeting. The members present were: Ald. Douglass (chairman), Garratt, Reed and Parnell, Mayor Wilson, Engineer Graydon and Secretary Bell.

The letter of W. C. L. Gill, calling attention to the dilapidated condition of the city registry office, was referred to next year's council. The committee favored the erection of a new building on the court house square.

The account of $125 28 against Geo. T. Hiscox, for a walk on the King street side of the Hiscox block, was again before the committee, and the latter refused to accept Mr. Hiscox's offer of $94 in full of all claims. The entire amount will be collected. "He's a friend of mine," said Ald. Garratt, "make him pay."

W. H. Bartram claimed that the name of Beech street, West London, had not been legally changed to Cavendish street by the registered bylaw, and suggested that a new bylaw be passed, making the change legal. The matter was referred to the city clerk for a report.

Action was deferred with regard to the proposed sewer on Adelaide street, from Dundas street to Lorne avenue.

The mayor protested against the contractors being paid 90 per cent of the price of the various artificial stone walks being laid in the city. The contract called for the retention of 25 per cent, he said. Twenty-five per cent will be retained on future payments.

Ald. O'Meara, on behalf of a number of ratepayers from Huron and Regent streets, complained vigorously of the neglect on the part of the city clerk in not entering an appeal against an award made by the engineer of London township, by which certain lands in the township are drained over the property of the complainants. At the last meeting of the committee it was decided to appeal against the award, but when the appeal came before the county judge, no person appeared in support of it, the result being that the award was sustained. A sub-committee was named to interview the ratepayers concerned, and endeavor to settle the difficulty.

Park Ranger Grant had a number of men working for him this week, but the engineer didn't know "where the money was to come from," and ordered the discharge of the men. The committee authorized the chairman and engineer to allow Mr. Grant help when necessary.

The chairman pointed out that the exhibition grounds and buildings appropriation was overdrawn $389.

Ald. Parnell thought that the fair board should keep the grounds and buildings in repair.

The chairman said they might request the board to pay the overdraft.

Ald. Garratt said the Western Fair was simply a money-making concern—a circus which the citizens had to pay taxes to help keep up. There was more money in half a military camp than in four fair. The sooner the council dispensed with the latter, the better it would be for the city.

The Bell Telephone Company's application for permission to open the asphalt pavement in a number of places was granted, on condition that a bond be furnished to them to have the pavement put in proper repair next year.

Bylaws for mosaic tile walks on the north and south sides of Simcoe street, between Maitland and William, were referred to the engineer to ascertain the kind of a walk desired.

Gorman, Eckert & Co., and Sterling Bros. asked for a refund on additional walk they ordered in front of their warehouses. Filed.

The flushing of the Elmwood avenue sewer was ordered.

The construction of cement walks on the west side of Talbot street, between Fullerton and Carling streets, and on the south side of Dundas street, from Kensington bridge to the west limit of lot 16, will be advertised.

W. L. Crofoot applied for the privilege of holding religious services in Victoria Park. Filed.

The petition of A. Irwin for a sidewalk on the north side of Bruce street, from Cynthia street to lot 56, was referred to the assessment commissioner.

The sewer committee met subsequently, and Ald. Carrothers joined the members of the board of works. The contract for section A, the last of the new system, was awarded to Messrs. Harding & Leathorne, of this city, at $4,485. The only other tender was by A. J. Brown, of Toronto, who has the contract for the north end section, now in course of construction. Mr. Brown's figure was $4,631. Tenders for the siphon house will now be called.

The Beckett & Wade contract for the south end sewer was discussed by the committee, and Engineer Graydon was instructed to bring in a report as to the settlement made and the advisability of continuing the sewer to the point originally intended. The work was stopped shortly after the death of Mr. Beckett. Now Mr. Wade desires to complete the contract.

FIREMAN URQUHART MAY RECOVER

Brought to the Victoria Hospital to Undergo an Operation.

Further Particulars of the the Strathroy Fire at Which He Was Injured.

Frank Urquhart, the Strathroy fireman, who was buried under the brick wall of a burning stable Wednesday evening, was brought to Victoria Hospital here yesterday afternoon by Dr. Wishart, with a view to performing an operation for the relief of the brain. The injured man has not yet regained consciousness, but there are some hopes of his recovery. His jaw was broken, his head badly bruised, and he is suffering from concussion of the brain. The doctors made an examination for a fracture of the skull this morning, but did not discover any. A consultation of the doctors at the hospital was to take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Urquhart is about 25 years of age, married, and has three children, one but a few days old. He is a barber.

A late dispatch concerning the fire at which Urquhart was injured states that the fire company fought the flames for some time with a branch inside the building, when, without warning, the brick wall caved in on several of the firemen. Frank Urquhart, Harry Buller, George Herd, Jos. Northcott and Edward Johnston were in the building at the time. Johnston had just been relieved at the nozzle by Frank Urquhart, and got away with little injury. Urquhart was buried under the ruins. Harry Buller sustained injuries in the foot. The others escaped with slight bruises. When Urquhart was rescued he was unconscious, and Drs. McCabe, Thompson and Berden did all in their power for him. Yesterday his recovery seemed very improbable.
