HAMILTON NEWS

BOARD OF HEALTH MATTERS

Wrangle Over a Vacancy in the Scavanger Driving Department —Two Applicants.

PARKS AND CEMETERY AFFAIRS.

Trades and Labor Council Resolutions—Prof. Alexander of Toronto Lectures—News Notes.

Hamilton, March 10.—(Special.)—There was a lively time at the Board of Health to-night over the vacancy caused by the discharge of J. Braidwood, a scavenger driver, on account of complaints against him. Three members of the board wanted W. Campbell appointed, and three held out for Daniel Jarvis. As the Mayor could not be found to give the deciding vote, the appointment was left over till the next meeting. Chairman Crooks was instructed to put a man on the job temporarily.

The chairman announced that a man on the York-road, in whose house there was scarlet fever, was bringing milk into the city daily. The Health Inspectors were notified to investigate the case and take action at once.

Lawry & Co. were notified to connect their pork factory with the sewer at once.

Ald. Griffith and Mr. Kirkpatrick were appointed a committee to wait on the Finance Committee and ask for an appropriation with which to build a sewer on Birch-avenue.

The Parks Committee.

The Parks Committee this evening discussed at some length the recommendations of the sub-committee appointed to enquire into the alleged irregularities at the cemetery and to further consider the new bylaw regulating the home of the dead. The committee reported that it had found the men who received extra pay earned it by working out of the regular city hours. The bylaw contained a number of clauses regarding fees, the former fees being cut in half. The committee recommended that Edward Bridger be appointed superintendent of grass-cutters at $500 a year. The last clause expressed the committee's opinion that A. Craig, the present superintendent of the cemetery, was too old to do the work properly, and suggested that he be asked to resign and give place to a younger man. Mr. Craig is 80 years old. The resignation clause caused a lot of talk, and finally it was decided to lay the clause over.

Later on in the evening Ald. Burkholder brought up the proposition to place the management of the cemetery under a Board of Governors, and Ald. Evans and Nicholson were favorably impressed with his arguments. The committee will seriously consider the proposal at the next meeting.

Lecture on "In Memoriam."

Prof. W. J. Alexander of Toronto University this evening gave the first of eight lectures in the University extension course on Tennyson's "In Memoriam," in the Collegiate Institute Assembly Hall. There was a large audience. Rev. Dr. Lyle occupied the chair. The lecturer outlined the three-fold theme of the poem, and told of the circumstances that caused it to be written. Next week the first 27 sections will be dwelt on.

Trades and Labor Council.

The Trades and Labor Council adopted two long reports at its meeting to-night. The council recommended that the hours of labor of the men at the disposal works should be reduced. A resolution asking that the salaries of letter-carriers be increased was also passed.

Police Points.

This morning Magistrate Jelfs sent John Laird, York-street, a lad, to jail for six months for stealing lead pipe.

T. S. T. Stonehouse pleaded guilty to a charge of fraud and was remanded till to-morrow for sentence.

William N. Dundon, a Toronto man, was arrested to-day on a charge of fraud. He, it is alleged, collected $6 from William D. McKay, representing that he was agent for the Sun Savings and Loan Company, Toronto.

A case which caused considerable talk around Police Headquarters is one in which a man who resides on the East Side figured. He went home earlier than usual last night and found a strange pair of trousers in his bedroom. He discovered $65 in a pocket in the pants. These he placed in his own pocket and left his house for good.

Home Circle Affair.

The members of Circle No. 121 of the Canadian Home Circles gave an at home to their friends last evening in the A.O.U.W. Hall. About 150 were present, and the following entertained them: Misses Russell, Lavis, Wallace, Erdman, Thompson, Woodman and the Howard brothers. James Kedford made a capable chairman.

Minor Matters.

A son of Rev. Mr. Howett of this city, who is at present in Jerusalem, died to-day.

Bishop DuMoulin preached in the Church of the Ascension to-night.

Ed Arnett, a Mount Hope butcher, was run over by a wagon and his life is despaired of.

A large addition is to be built to the W. E. Sanford Company warehouse on King-street.

The officers of the Hamilton Field Battery have decided to purchase new uniforms. The uniforms provided by the Government have become shabby.

If you see a man with odd socks on, don't put him down as a lunatic. He is only following New York fashions, at least, according to Ross' furnishing window, corner James and Rebecca-streets.

Fred Wall, Mulberry-street, was arrested to-night on a charge of stealing tools from the East End Incline Railway.

John Berry, Bold-street, was run in this evening for committing a nuisance on the street.

SHAWNEETOWN IN PERIL.

Fears That the Flood Disaster of Last April May Be Repeated —Levee May Break.

Shawneetown, Ill., March 10.—This city is threatened with another flood similar to the one that almost swept the town away a year ago. The residents are moving out as rapidly as possible, and all live stock has been removed. The levee is thought to be weak in some places, and a break is liable to occur at any time. Many men are patrolling the levee. Business is suspended and the citizens who remain are in constant fear of being swept away.

Last April the levee broke without warning. Twenty-five people were drowned and many residences and business houses destroyed. The town has been practically rebuilt and should another flood occur, the loss would be tremendous.

KRAPOTKIN SHOWS IT UP.

Russian Exile Says the Proposal is to Exchange Alsace-Lorraine for French Indo-China.

London, March 10.—Prince Krapotkin, the Russian exile, who has made a savage attack on the Czar's peace proposal, says that the real objects of the proposal are for Germany to exchange Alsace-Lorraine for French Indo-China, thus bringing about an understanding between Germany and France, and to re-establish the temporal power of the Pope for his services in this direction.

A POINTER TO UNCLE SAM.

Had Better Hurry Up the Nicaragua Canal and Not Have to Send Troops Around the World.

London, March 10.—The Daily News, commenting upon the landing of the American troops at La Valetta yesterday, says that, apart from the sight-seeing and the fraternization with the British troops, the moral for the United States is that they had better see about the Nicaragua Canal immediately. These men, it adds, are simply crawling around the world to reach a place they ought to be able to get to by a straight run across the Pacific. It is a good way to learn geography, but is not exactly the way to reinforce garrisons in a crisis in their struggle with a determined enemy.

ONE GRAFTER MULCTED.

J. B. Lane Said He Paid His Wife's Dressmaking Bills With Notices in American Papers.

London, March 10.—Some peculiar testimony was given in the Westminster County Court to-day in the trial of an action against J. B. Lane to recover the amount of a dressmaker's bill. The defendant testified that his wife had arranged for the payment of the bill by means of notices in American newspapers, of which he and she were correspondents.

In reply to a question by the judge, Lane said that advertisements in pursuance of this arrangement were published in The New York Mail and Express, Cleveland World and Chicago Times-Herald. He testified that he was correspondent of these papers, and had told the editors that his wife got her clothes made by means of those advertisements. Judgment was given to the plaintiff.

McMASTER WILL ENLARGE.

Undergraduates Subscribe $1100 to Erect a New Wing.

McMaster University intend shortly to build an addition to the present premises. For some time the accommodation has been found to be all too meagre. The undergraduates have taken hold of the matter and have already subscribed $1100 to this end.

Hits—Just Right at the Right Time.

It's a quick move from one season's trade to the next, and the man of business has to be on the alert to have everything just right at the right time. The demand for gentlemen's spring hats is increasing every day and J. & J. Lugsdin, 122 Yonge-street, are right forward with from 40 to 50 cases of the very newest English and American hats, hard, soft and silk, from the most noted makers in the world, including the celebrated Youmans of New York. Highest standard of quality and moderately priced.

THE GERMAN VERSION OF IT

Herr Rose, Consul at Apia, Tells His Side of the Samoan Story.

ATTITUDE OF THE WARSHIPS.

Mataafa Did Not Take Part in the Fighting—British Officials Criticised.

Berlin, March 10.—The Reichsanzeiger to-day publishes a series of official despatches from Samoa. Herr Rose, the German Consul, in his report of events prior to Jan. 4, dated Jan. 23, says the decision of Chief Justice Chambers in favor of Malietoa Tanus was bound to have a stupifying effect, inasmuch as in a written statement, dated Oct. 5, 1895, Mr. Chambers declared there was no ground for contesting Mataafa's assumption of the sovereignty if he was legally elected King.

During the course of the discussion prior to the outbreak, respecting the measures to be adopted to assure public security, Mr. Maxse, the British Consul, and Captain Sturdee, of the British cruiser Porpoise, are represented as intimating their intention of forcibly preventing any advance of the Mataafans, and to actively protect the Tanusites. While the Germans only announced such military measures as were prompted by the necessity to protect the lives and property of the whites, the British guards stationed at Mr. Chambers' residence would, owing to the locality, have been drawn directly into conflict with the natives.

Attitude of the Warships.

Relating to the attitude of the warships, the consul says Dr. Raffel took measures for the protection of the British mission, and he concludes with declaring that Mataafa did not take part in the fighting. Moreover, he points out, he was recognized on the English side by a letter published in the Apia newspapers. According to Consul Rose, Mataafa was not responsible for the war, but up to the last endeavored to prevent it.

In another report, Herr Rose describes the events between Jan. 4 and Jan. 9. He says Dr. Raffel closed the Supreme Court on Jan. 6 because he thought Mr. Chambers was precluded by law from exercising the functions of Chief Justice as long as the Government was installed contrary to his decision, and he remained in office.

Third Report From Rose.

A third report from Herr Rose, dated Jan. 25, refers to the Grevesmuhl case, and describes how, on Jan. 19, Grevesmuhl, a German subject, was sentenced to a fine and imprisonment by Chief Justice Chambers. The sentence of imprisonment became effective forthwith, and Dr. Raffel, "as representative Chief Justice," and by the advice of Herr Rose, quashed the imprisonment on the ground of irregularity and brought Grevesmuhl to the German Consulate, "as the sole competent legal authority."

The German consul opened the proceedings against Grevesmuhl on Jan. 20, and on the same day, considering the Chief Justice's interference with the jurisdiction of a consul to be a noteworthy circumstance, and interesting to all the consuls, he invited his colleagues to a conference, but they declined to attend. On Jan. 21, Grevesmuhl was sentenced to pay a fine of 600 marks, and the money was paid the same day.

HIS ASHES WERE BURIED.

Remains of the Incinerated Body of Capt. James Silversides Buried at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound Times: The local customs officials were not over agreeably surprised to discover on Tuesday that their office had for the last two weeks been used as a mortuary chamber. The body of the late Capt. James Silversides, who died recently in Chicago, were, in accordance with the expressed wish of the deceased, cremated, and the ashes forwarded here for burial. The box containing the remains arrived in bond on Feb. 22, consigned to "J. Wilson, undertaker, Owen Sound." The Canadian Express Company, in whose care the casket was forwarded, mailed the usual notice, but on account of the wrong address, Mr. William Wilson, the well-known undertaker, who had previously received instructions as to burial, did not receive the card, and the box lay in the customs office for two weeks without claimant. The manifest simply called for a box, and not until by chance Mr. Wilson, while in conversation with one of the officials, happened to refer to the non-arrival of the box, did they learn of the nature of its contents. The ashes were buried in Greenwood Cemetery on Tuesday. The burial is possibly the first of the kind ever made in Owen Sound.

STEAMBOAT LINES MAY UNITE.

The White and Black Line of Steamers Plying on the Mackinac Route Likely to Amalgamate.

Owen Sound, March 10.—A report emanating from a reliable source is in circulation this week that the White and Black lines of steamers will be amalgamated and the old-time rivals become one institution. A meeting is called for next Wednesday to deal with the matter. The Great Northern Transit Company—White Line—and the North Shore Navigation Company—Black Line—have been operating together for the past two seasons, and we presume the proposed amalgamation is to reduce management expenses. Another report in this connection is that the C.P.R. will insist on Owen Sound being the headquarters of two of the steamers, and failing this the latter company would put on liners of their own. While the last report is not confirmed or denied here, it is known that the matter has been considered by the heads of the passenger and freight departments of the C.P.R. and conclude that this is the decision arrived at.

Money Circulation Increased.

New York, March 10.—Bank clearings at U.S. cities for the week ended March 10 show total clearances $1,910,473,027, an increase of 49.5 per cent., as compared with the corresponding period last year. Outside of New York City the clearances were $659,530,449, increase 30.7 per cent.

For the Dominion of Canada the clearances were as follows: Montreal $17,375,511, increase 18.2 per cent.; Toronto $10,884,520, increase 15.7 per cent.; Winnipeg $1,803,787, increase 26.5 per cent.; Halifax $1,251,827, increase 20.3 per cent.; Hamilton $732,357, increase 3.8 per cent.; St. John, N.B., $581,578, increase 8.3 per cent.; Vancouver, $496,327; Victoria, $546,079.

BIG SEIZURE OF OPIUM.

Treasury Agents Get Their Clamps on $30,000 Worth.

New York, March 10.—Special Treasury agents made a seizure of 203 cases of opium this afternoon, valued at $30,000. The agents have been working on the opium smuggling cases for months past, and have been of the opinion that a well-organized gang have been conducting very extensive smuggling operations across the line border. It is believed also that the gang has been smuggling silk extensively. The smugglers, it is said, have been successful in bringing large quantities of opium to this country.

Catarrh Cured.

One bottle does it. One dollar buys it. C. E. Green, Room E, Confederation Life Building, Toronto. West entrance.

Owen Sound Votes To-Day.

Owen Sound, March 10.—The ratepayers vote to-morrow on the Hay loan bylaw, to make a loan of $15,000 towards the re-construction of the burned chair factory.

ON AND OFF THE STAGE

"1492" and Fanny Rice.

Stuart, "The Male Patti," and his big company of comedians, singers, dancers and specialists, will give two performances of "1492" at the Toronto Opera House to-day. Following "1492," the attraction next week will be Fanny Rice in "At the French Ball," which is an odd conceit from the German, whence the greater number of the successful farces are drawn. It has a serious undercurrent, but this is never allowed to crop up to the surface. It is the story of a shoemaker's wife of humble surroundings who imagines that she is not getting her full share of the good things of life and therefore decides to seek the bauble happiness as she has it pictured in her own way. Her experiences are immensely funny, but by the time she has tried the French ball and a wine supper she concludes that all that glitters is not gold, and that she was far better off in her humble home, with the honest love and devotion of her husband. It is a salutary lesson, but that is but the moral, and the play is one long continuous laugh. During Miss Rice's engagement matinees will be given, as usual, on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

A Perfect Mr. Barnes.

"Mr. Barnes of New York" at the Princess Theatre next week promises to be a rattling good performance of an exceedingly bright play. Everybody has read A. C. Gunther's famous novel of the same name, and nobody has commenced it without going through to the end. It is as full of interest as a roll of butter of substance. There is never a quiet moment. As the moral is so is the play, which is by the author of the novel himself. Mr. Barnes, the typical and ever-alert American, will be personated by Mr. Maurice Freeman, and the leading lady character, Marina, a beautiful, temporarily vengeful and vivacious Corsican, by Miss Maud Edna Hall, who has been specially engaged, having been brought for the purpose all the way from New Orleans, where she had been playing the part with unqualified success. Miss Marshall will play the aristocratic Enid Anstruther, with whom Mr. Barnes falls in love; Mr. Mortimer Snow the lively Count Musso Danella, Mr. McCullum Tomasso, the man who spurs Marina on to the fulfilment of the vendetta, and Mr. Barry O'Neill Edwin Garard Anstruther. The other characters will all be adequately taken, while the scenery and settings will be both picturesque and appropriate, it being Mr. Cummings' desire to present a production that shall be perfect in every detail and even superior to that given in this city by the Frohman Company at the Grand five years ago.

Merry Minstrels.

Al G. Fields' Greater Minstrels will give a popular matinee at the Grand to-day, the prices being 25 and 50 cents. The last performance will be given to-night.

London Gaiety Girls.

At the Bijou Theatre, for the week commencing March 13, with matinees on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, the attraction will be the London Gaiety Girls. With a program of rare excellence, entirely original in conception of anything seen in this city this season, the entertainment offered is one of the best on the road. The burlesque is from the pen of that celebrated author, Charles A. Reese, and great care has been taken to faithfully carry out the idea of presenting something new. During the action of the burlesque many novelties are introduced, also a chorus of 20 handsome girls in stunning costumes, followed by many entertaining specialties. Included in the coterie of this company are such people as: Powers and Hyde, champion cake-walking specialty; those funny Irish comedians, Connors and Dunn; Leona, in a sensational aerial performance; Miss Zoa Matthews, the original of "I Want a Real Coon"; Miss Maud DeLora, in a new and clever specialty; McAvoy and Mills, in a new and up-to-date specialty, and, as a special attraction, the management have engaged Ed. B. White, late sparring partner of John L. Sullivan, and Rolla White, champion lady bag puncher of the world.

In spite of the decision against Sunday concerts, the British American Band will give their regular concert to-morrow evening. The program to be played is an excellent one, and doubtless another large house will attend. A silver collection will be taken at the door for band concerts.

"The Heart of Maryland."

Patrons of the Grand Opera House will have an opportunity Monday night of witnessing a play, of which they have heard very much for the past two years. David Belasco's romantic drama, "The Heart of Maryland," was first produced in Washington in 1896, and became an immediate and unqualified success. The author has woven a story which is instinct with vitality, well proportioned in form and, above all, which appeals to common nature. The action taking place during the civil war, the characters are true to life.

"His Father's Boy."

In "His Father's Boy," the new farcical play by Sydney Rosenfeld, that Roland Reed will present here for the first time at the Grand on Thursday next, that charming actress, Miss Isadore Rush, will be seen to especial advantage.

Empire Music Hall.

Another surprise is in store for the lovers of the weed. Manager McConnaughy at the Empire will present a racy burlesque in five scenes, a sizzling bunch of beauteous femininity, a torrid bevy of shapely dizzinessis and visions of loveliness will be the order for next week. A pretty picture will at all times be presented to patrons. Nothing will be allowed to be said or done that would shock the natural sensitiveness of the most exacting person. With this grand production of "An Artist's Model" there will also be 10 of the finest vaudeville acts ever presented on any stage in Canada. Boys' you can smoke and enjoy yourselves. See one of the raciest shows in Toronto, and at the extremely low price of 15 and 25 cents evening, matinees 10 and 15 cents. Regular matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

Miss Anglin in "The Musketeers."

A Montreal despatch says: It is quite likely that the engagement of Miss Margaret Anglin with "The Musketeers" will not be a very lengthy one. The part that she takes has nothing really in it, and Miss Anglin is not altogether satisfied with it. The management have engaged Miss Nora O'Brien, a young actress who is expected to arrive from Baltimore this evening. They state that she will play Claudote, and act as an understudy to Miss Anglin.

A Great New York Critic.

Mr. H. E. Krehbiel, who lectures on the 23rd instant at Association Hall on "How to Listen to Music," is one of America's greatest musical critics, and this is equally true whether speaking of his written or spoken work. His knowledge of music is profound, while his manner of imparting that knowledge is extremely pleasant and devoid of that pedantic heaviness which characterizes the work of most scholarly men. In other words he can interest a merely curious audience and make his meaning as plain to amateurs as though they were professionals. His learning carries a dash of pleasantry with it, which is particularly grateful to the general public, which does not care to be bored by any man no matter how great his knowledge is of his subject. The plan opens at Mason & Risch's warerooms on the 13th inst. at 10 a.m.

Convict Killed by Soldiers.

Madrid, March 10.—In a conflict to-day between the Spanish soldiery and a number of mutinous convicts at Santonna, 16 miles east of Santander, the site of an important arsenal and of several military magazines, one convict was killed and seven were wounded.
