A POOR RECEPTION.—The Paradise Row branch of the Salvation Army, yesterday morning paid a visit to North street, to try and convert some of the inhabitants. Alas for the gospel soldiers! the inhabitants were not in a very tranquil mood. Trouble was only prevented by the arrival of the police on the scens.

"YOU KNOW, JEDGE"—William Brown bald-headed colored man of 60, from Hammond Plains, was given in charge by the old colored deacon, Charles Roan, for coming to his house in a drunken state. The reverend Charley, after wiping off his grey whiskers with his coat sleeve said William came to his premises with a whole flask of rum, and when nobody would take the stuff from him he stood up by the stove and drank the whole lot himself. Brown's wife who is a sister to Charley's fourth wife, is staying at the deacon's, and Charley says if he hadn't given Brown in charge he would have punished his wife. When the Stipendairy asked Charley how much liquor was in the flask, the deacon said "you know jedge, same as common flask you know jedge"—Acadian Recorder.

Very Near Death.

On Saturday evening Frederick Brittain the well known Carleton expressman had an narrow escape from death. About 7 o'clock in the evening he went out to his barn to feed his horse and becoming overcome by a sudden rush of blood to the head, he fell on the barn floor in an insensible condition. He laid on the floor in that condition for about an hour and a half, when some of his family becoming uneasy about his non-appearance went out to the barn and found him. He was taken into the house and Dr. White summoned. When the doctor arrived he did all he could to bring life back but it was not until after about four hours that Mr. Brittain showed any signs of returning consciousness. He is now able to be about his house but is still very weak. The doctor said if Mr. Brittain had remained half an hour longer in the barn he would have died.

SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.

Skating.

WON BY A THIRD OF A MILE.

Hugh McCormick defeated Axel Paulsen in a ten mile race Saturday afternoon near Minneapolis. The weather was mild and the track bad. A fair start was made at 3.35 p. m. McCormick made his first five miles in 27 minutes and his last in 19½ minutes. He had gained half a lap during the first four miles, and then the two skaters kept along easily until the twenty-ninth lap, when McCormick increased his lead and completed his thirty-second and final lap, a third of a mile ahead of Paulsen: time 46½ minutes. Three hundred dollars was up as a purse. A large sum of money changed hands as Paulsen was backed strongly, although unadvisedly, by his friends.

The Ring.

JOE M'AULIFFE AND JACKSON.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31, 1890.—Joe McAuliffe has announced that he has backing to the extent of $5,000 to fight Peter Jackson, and will endeavor to arrange a meeting with him just as soon as the Australian returns to California. McAuliffe correctly states that Jackson promised before he went to England to give him the very first match after his return. McAuliffe is now ready to fight Jackson for a stake of $5,000 a side and any purse which the California club may give. McAuliffe says that as Sullivan will not fight for less than $25,000, and the club will not give that sum, and as Slavin wants to fight only the winner of the Sullivan-Jackson match, there is really no prospect of Jackson getting a match immediately with Sullivan or Slavin. Joe, therefore, thinks that Jackson ought to redeem his promise, and give him a chance to prove what he and his friends frequently assert is quite possible, namely, that he can defeat Peter under the rules that governed their other fight. Jackson was asked today if he was willing to meet McAuliffe again, and said that he did not know what he would do, but supposed that, if the California Athletic Club should want to arrange such a match, he would probably do as they desired, as he is ready to meet any man that they put up against him.

A Military Funeral.

The funeral of the late Corporal Henry Ellis of the Band of the 62nd Fusiliers took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. Bannister, Leinster street. Along the streets through which the procession passed thousands had gathered to witness the imposing spectacle of a military funeral, and at the Church of England burial ground where the interment was made every avenue was lined with people. On Leinster street, at 2.30 p. m. the escort stood, drawn up, facing the house under command of Sergt. McCafferty. When the coffin appeared arms were presented and reversed. The coffin was covered with a Union Jack, and on it were placed the bearskin, belt and short sword of the deceased. It was laid upon a gun carriage, the order of procession being as follows:

Firing party with arms reversed.
62d, Artillery, and City Cornet bands brigaded, under the leadership of Bandmaster Jones of the Fusiliers.
Pioneer Lodge of Odd Fellows, under Mr. J. L. Wilson, marshal.
Rev. R. Mathers in surplice.
Gun Carriage with remains.
Mourners.
The Fusiliers, privates and officers.
Citizens.
Coaches and sleighs.

Arriving at the gate of the burial ground the firing party opened ranks, turned inwards and rested on their arms reversed, standing at ease, while the procession passed through, when they followed and were drawn up at open order, facing the grave. After the service by the clergyman, the Oddfellows performed their impressive ritual singing a hymn, and then throwing their bunches of evergreen into the grave. The firing party presented arms and fired three volleys in the air, the bands played God save the Queen between each volley. After the last volley the national anthem was given. The procession re-formed and marched back to King street, where a vote of thanks was tendered the City Cornet and Artillery bands by the commanding officer of the battalion, for the part they took in the burial ceremony.

Soap Stealers.

Two young English lads who figured conspicuously as witnesses in the case of Annie Denaco in the Police Court a few weeks since have again brought themselves into prominence. This time they have been stealing soap from Stewart's soap factory. On Friday Sergt. Hastings received information which led him to believe that these two lads had been stealing soap from some factory in the city and taking it to their boarding houses on Sheffield street. He made inquiries and ascertained that the Messrs. Stewart had missed quantities of soap but could not find out who took it. The boys in question were watched and on Saturday evening Mr. Stewart opened their dinner kettles and found in each six cakes of fancy soap. The boys were kept at the store and Mr. Stewart accompanied by officer Fullerton paid a visit to Sheffield street. They went into Mrs. James Ross's place where one of the boys boarded and after searching found 26 cakes of soap in a trunk. They then went to Joseph Collier's where the other lad boarded and found 22 cakes.

The practice of stealing soap has been going on for some time and it is not known exactly how much has been taken. The boys have likely been supplying Sheffield street with soap. They were allowed to go and will not be prosecuted.

Attempted Suicide in Moncton.

A Moncton telegram of yesterday says:—The public were shocked last night to hear that Patrick Ashe, I. C. R. engine driver, had cut his throat. For the past few months Ashe has been suffering from kidney complaint, and it is supposed that in a fit of melancholy he attempted his life. He, his wife and three year old boy have been stopping at the Queen Hotel about three weeks. At 6 o'clock last night, shortly after a visit to a doctor, he entered the kitchen of the hotel and the occupants were horrified at his appearance, he having cut his throat in the barn and walked to the kitchen where he sat down. Doctors were immediately sent for, and in the meantime Ashe walked up stairs to his room. In a short while Doctors Ross, McCully and Baxter arrived, and on examination, found the œsophagus and windpipe severed. The jugular was not cut and consequently, but little blood was lost. A tube was inserted in the windpipe and the wounds attended to, and he rested fairly well since. But few are allowed to see him. To one of the visitors he said: "Why did I do this?" The physicians regard the recovery of Mr. Ashe as extremely doubtful.

New Gold Mine.

Mr. J. D. Huntington, a native of the Eastern part of this province, but lately of Providence, R. I., says the Yarmouth Times, has been prospecting in this county at different periods for the past three years and has taken up a large tract of land at and near Chegoggin Point. There is a lead or belt of quarts about 400 feet wide which Mr. Huntington has carefully tested, and as a result of his investigations has decided to put up a stamp mill and proceed at once to develop his claim. Instead of mining, as is usually done, the lead will be quarried out and crushed in an improved mill such as is used at the Black Hills. If the quartz turns out as well as is expected, work will be carried on, on an immense scale and the mine will be the largest gold mine in Canada. Mr. Huntington has associated with him several capitalists of Providence, R. I. Work has already been commenced. The company, is known as the Huntington Reef Mining Company, and will be incorporated. The machinery is now on the way to Yarmouth and the timber is being got out for the buildings. At the outset a stamp mill will be used but the buildings will afford accommodation for 100 stamps if needed, and it is quite probable this capacity will be utilized by the end of the present year.

Brevities.

A few nights ago some fiends entered the barn of Mr. Jas. F. Brown, at West Quaco, and when the doors were opened next morning a cow was found hamstrung. It is presumed that the same parties are the perpetrators of a series of burglaries and theft there.

The American Navy.

WASHINGTON, January 29.—In his letter to the Senate transmitting the report of the naval policy board, Secretary Tracy says that to bring the navy to the strenth suggested in his report would involve an annual appropriation during 15 years of $9,000,000, or less than one half the amount proposed by the naval board. The policy board's report says: "There are indications that sharp commercial complications with other nations will result in our obstructing the interests of foreign nations. The construction of a canal between the Atlantic and Pacific and competition between other nations for our vast and increasing ocean-carrying trade will bring responsibilities and chances of war which we should prepare to meet. Our weakness and total lack of preparation is astounding."

The board recommends the addition of ninety-two ships and one hundred torpedo boats to the navy.

Strength of the British Army.

The latest returns of the British regular forces at home and abroad show that during the last twelve months the number of troops has declined. The diminution, however, is not serious in comparison with the strength of twelve months ago, amounting only to about 1,000 men, there being about 210,000 officers and men on the roll, to compare with 211,000 towards the end of 1888.

The full establishment would be 214-500, but this has been rarely much more nearly approached than during the last two years; and the 210,000 is a greater total by nearly 10,000 than that of four years ago. The cavalry of all kinds are now reckoned at 19,000, the artillery at 35,300, the engineers at 7,000, the foo guards and infantry at 139,500, the Army Service Corps at 3,400, the Medical Staff Corps at 2,400, the Ordnance Store Corps at 750, the new Corps of Armourers at 300, the Corps of Ordnance Artificers at 70, and the remainder, to fill up the 210,000, are made up of the West India Regiment, the Maltese Artillery and other Colonial corps. By this calculation it appears that the Artillery, Engineers and Army Service Corps have each increased in strength, the cavalry is on a level with last year, and the infantry have decreased about 1,500.

Justice Bain delivered judgment in Ald. Callaway's case this morning, refusing a writ of prohibition against Judge Ardagh to prohibit him from further proceedings in the contested election petition and the case will be taken up to-morrow by the County court judge. Mr. Callaway will appeal.

SOLID GOLD Watches
FOUND IN TEA.

The Novelty Tea Co.

have completed a branch of their establishment at the old Sheffield House, 11 Market Square, St. John, and are now ready to do business. In order to lose no time in introducing their famous blend of Tea, the Company will for the next 30 days put in Every Can of Tea a Souvenir, such as Solid Gold Watches of the best American and Swiss makers, Genuine Diamond, Sapphire, Turquoise, Garnet and Amethyst Jewellery and articles of less value too numerous to mention. Bear in mind that this costly mode of advertising will be discontinued after 30 days and the Tea will then be sold on its merits alone. Our Tea is only sold in Cans, price $1.00 each, 6 Cans for $5.00, 13 Cans for $10.00, or 27 Cans for $20. This system of advertising their Tea is simply to bring before the public a Tea that will speak for itself when introduced. Watch our future advertisements for particulars as to Souvenirs that have been given away by us. The following, and others whose names we do not mention by request, were among the fortunate ones Saturday. H. A. Doherty, clerk at the Royal Hotel, paid $1 for a Can of Tea and found in it a Genuine Diamond Scarf Pin set in Solid Gold. G. L. CARD.

To the public and our numerous patrons. As our business has made great strides during the past year and greatly exceeded our expectations we find it impossible to keep track of such a large number of small accounts unless we keep a large staff of book-keepers and collectors constantly employed which we cannot afford to do, therefore we have been compelled to notify you all that in the future we intend to do a strictly cash business. Parties wishing accounts rendered monthly will be accommodated, but all such accounts will have to be paid when the last parcel for the month is sent. All other parcels will have to be paid for on delivery. Hoping that all will see the justice of our course and soliciting a continuance of patronage.
We remain yours truly,
