WON TWO GAMES IN NINTH

Toronto Trimmed Providence By the Same Score in Both Contests By Strong Finishes.

BUFFALO ALSO TOOK DOUBLE-HEADER

Rochester Beat Newark, Montreal Lost to Worcester—The Records.

Torontos captured a double-header from Providence on Friday by the same score in both games. Buffalo also took two games from Jersey City and, as a result the margin between the prospective champions and the runners-up remains the same. To-day's games will bring the Eastern League to a close, and if the locals take one of the games the flag will remain on Canadian soil. The other games in the circuit resulted in a win for Worcester over Montreal, while Rochester trimmed Newark. The record:

Clubs.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Toronto	83	42	.664
Buffalo	76	46	.623
Jersey City	72	64	.529
Worcester	68	62	.523
Providence	65	64	.513

Games to-day: Providence at Toronto (two games), Jersey City at Buffalo, Worcester at Montreal, Newark at Rochester.

Two Games Again To-Day.

The final games of the Eastern League season will be played to-day at Diamond Park between Toronto and Providence, and the championship depends upon them. The games Friday are sufficient evidence that to-day's double-header will be bitterly contested from beginning to end. The first game will commence at 2 o'clock and the second at 4.

Gardner and Bruce will pitch for Toronto and Corridon and Sullivan for the visitors. The games will be played, rain or shine, and the largest crowd of the season is assured. There will be special accommodation in the shape of extra benches and chairs, so that everybody will have a good view of the games. The gates will be opened at 1 o'clock.

The Torontos will be in good shape to meet the Pittsburgs on Tuesday afternoon at Diamond Park, after two days' good rest. The regular team will be in the field with Jimmy Miller at second base, Capt. Bannon in centre field, and Jimmy Jones in right field. Gardner and Toft will be the battery for the locals. The Pittsburgs have won nearly 100 championship games in the National League this season.

Batted Two Victories in Ninth.

Sensational finishes were the order of the day at the ball grounds on Friday, when Toronto captured two games, winning out in the ninth by clean hitting. Both games were hard-fought battles, abounding in fast exhibitions in the field at all stages of the game. Pappalau, of Stackpole, a New England recruit, were the opponents on the slab in the first game, with honors in favor of Pappalau. Bean was put out of the game, as he so lost control of his feelings as to throw a ball at the umpire. Briggs pitched the locals to victory in the second game, and, with perfect control, served the sphere in a most deceptive manner. The game was won in the ninth, with two men out, on Downey's corking drive for three sacks to deep centre. The fielding of the locals was gilt-edged in both games. Carr, at third, made a sensational stop of Armbruster's drive in the first game, and in the next game picked up a fast one from Brown's bat, throwing out the runner. Downey, Bannon and Massey picked up everything that came their way with consistent regularity. Massey's fast fielding of Connor's bunt down the line in the ninth, throwing out Corridon at the plate, was loudly cheeped, as it cut off a run.

A rank decision by Umpire Cox in Providence's first innings of the second game gave them a run, and nearly cost Toronto the game. Brown, the first man up, singled safely, and was advanced a base on Bean's sacrifice. Then Corridon sent an easy grounder to Downey, who immediately threw the ball to Carr, to catch Brown at third, when the latter deliberately, and with his wonted premeditation, struck the ball with his hand, knocking it out of its course, and as a result scored. The Toronto men at once mentioned the decision, but Mr. Cox would not consider the contention and allowed the run to score. Such decisions by an official should not be tolerated by either team, since much depends on games at this juncture. Any interference by a base runner, as in this case, to the intelligent fielding of the ball, should receive a just punishment, and any umpire who does not enforce the rules is not filling his position.

Toronto 2, Providence 1.

The first game was won in the last inning, when Toronto scored two runs. Pappalau was in winning form, and Providence were unable to score till the seventh, when Bean walked, but was forced at second on Corridon's hit to Bannon, the latter reaching second on Carr's fumble of a bounder from McMahon's bat, and scoring on Connor's clean hit. The locals got together in the ninth, when Jones banged the ball past the pitcher, Corridon, who also essays to play third. Then Louis Bruce, who was called upon to bat for Weidensaul, beat out a neat bunt. A run netted when Carr hit safely, and Bruce trotted home on Downey's opportune hit.

In the second game Providence took an early lead, when Brown, who hit safely, went to second on Bean's sacrifice, and scored on Corridon's grounder to short, as Brown interfered with the play. Toronto tied the score in the sixth, when, with one out, Jones cracked off a corking double. Then Bruce flied out to Stackpole, but the latter threw low to Connor, who let it go thru his legs, and Jones registered. In the ninth some fast fielding prevented Providence scoring. Corridon singled, went to second on McMahon's sacrifice, and to third on Armbruster's single. Connor placed a pretty bunt down to Massey, who fielded the ball perfectly to Toft, the latter nipping Corridon at the plate. The locals then went in for their half, when, with two out, Briggs reached first on Kelly's bad muff, and scored on Downey's beautiful drive to deep centre for three sacks.

RACE WEEK BOXING SHOW.

Callahan and McClelland Will Clash for 20 Rounds in the Ring.

Toronto is the natural location for the long-talked-of bout between Jack McClelland of Pittsburg and Tim Callahan of Philadelphia. Twice previously the Crescent A.C. had the pair almost together, and it now seems certain that they will meet at the regular autumn race-week show in the rink. Because McClelland has showed the superior hitting powers in his three bouts here, followers of the game seem inclined to make him favorite, tho Callahan's many friends will hardly see him go unsupported.

The Philadelphian has taken extra care in preparation, and will come to Toronto three days before the bout in perfect physical condition. McClelland, too, never neglects his training. Harry Yanger, the Chicago featherweight, has challenged the winner.

The preliminary bouts will be announced on Monday. Kid Brady, Pete Barry and several 105-pound boys are already training in expectation of clashing in the scrimmaging. Charlie Wren, 126 lbs., Art Edmunds, 125 lbs., Jimmy Yanger, Mason, 125 lbs., would be willing to box five rounds.

Young in Draw at Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—Jack Beansey of Troy, N., and Joe Youngs of Buffalo fought 10 rounds to a draw at Maisonneuve last night. It was agreed to fight with one arm free, which Beansey handled perfectly, and he had the best of the infighting. Both are husky, rough-and-tumble men, who can give and take all sorts of punishment, but Beansey was cleverer of the two, and did all the leading. His lefts to the body and to the jaw had plenty of steam, but Beansey blocked most of them in a way that surprised his friends, and had some of his counter swings landed the shades of sleep would have settled down upon Mr. Youngs of Buffalo.
