Manitoulin Listening To Speech of Gamey And All Praise It

Man From Manitoulin Will Be Tendered a Banquet by His Constituents.

EVERYONE WILL ATTEND IT.

Gore Bay, June 22.—(From World staff corespondent.)—Renewed interest in the Gamey-Stratton case has developed here since the speech of the member for Manitoulin in the House defending his position was commenced. Undoubtedly his remarks have been received here very favorably. In fact considerable enthusiasm has been created by the candid statement of Mr. Gamey. Preparations are under way to give the member a rousing reception on his return to the island. He is to be tendered a banquet as a slight testimonial of the faith his constituents continue to retain in his integrity. Plans for this function have not been definitely formed, but many farmers from this end of the island have called personally upon W. H. Price, the editor of The Algoma Conservator and J. Russell McGregor, the two close personal friends of Gamey, who have been more or less associated with him in the sensational case, all expressing the desire to be present at the proposed banquet. Details are to be arranged as soon as it is definitely known just when Mr. Gamey will return home. He is expected here as soon as the House adjourns.

Topic for Years.

Politically the bribery scandal promises to overshadow other events in Manitoulin for years to come. Each side has its bitter partisans, and thruout the whole affair it has proven a most disturbing factor. The men of the island called to testify in behalf of Gamey, and whose evidence was ruled out, came home bristling with indignation, and the report of the commission but increased this resentment. On the other hand it provoked very marked satisfaction among the supporters of the government. While the island is Conservative the margin is close, and the Liberals are numerous and aggressive.

The island had scarcely recovered from the excitement incident to the publication of the report of the commission when Gamey's speech in the House electrified the community surrounding his home. The speech of the Provincial Secretary did not create a ripple of excitement, while that of Gamey was received with enthusiasm by his followers and with astonishing interest by even those opposed to him. On the whole it is considered that Gamey's case has been considerably strengthened in public opinion by his energetic manner of handling the facts suppressed by the commission. The publication of the information concerning alleged bribing of Sullivan and his father-in-law contributed a good deal of fuel to the flames. In fact the suggestion that still another commission may be requested to consider this status of the case is received with more than usual satisfaction by the Conservatives here.

Timber Scandals Interest.

The revelations of the timber scandals have proved as lively a theme of discussion here as the primary cause. This subject touches the very vitals of Manitoulin, as the lumber interests rank close to that of the live stock and agricultural resources. Cap. Sullivan is no stranger in these parts, and the deals in the Land Department of the government are believed to be many, and the loot enormous. But, on the contrary, there is an element on the other side of the proposition that must be reckoned with, as the Liberals are as aggressive as the Conservatives, and equally confident that the charges are largely composed of thin air and a liberal supply of partisan spirit. However, the appearances are that a commission to investigate these alleged scandals would be favorably received by both sides in this end of the island. The feeling is but little less acute in other parts of the island. It would not provoke much surprise if something of this kind should be decided upon by the government, even at this late day.

Price's Strong Language.

A decidedly interesting phase of the case has developed here over the strong editorial comment of W. H. Price, editor of The Conservator, touching the Commission's verdict. Mr. Price called a spade a spade in no veiled way, in a two-column article in his weekly. He denounced the two judges as a disgrace to the cloth, and the deductions as absolutely contrary to the spirit and the letter of the evidence. In conclusion, Mr. Price pointed out that Mr. Gamey had been deliberately misrepresented in the interest of Mr. Stratton and other government interests. The attack was considered to be of unpardonable bitterness by many leading Liberals, and several copies of the article were marked and sent to the judges, the Department of Justice and leaders of the party at Toronto, in the expressed hope that the editor would be cited for contempt or criminal libel. While the Liberals are awaiting replies to these notices with interest, the Conservatives are equally anxious to know the decision of the judges on the subject. In fact, Mr. Price and the other leaders here make no secret of their desire to see just such proceedings taken.

Price a Strong One.

Editor Price is one of the strongest editorial writers in the weekly service thruout Canada, and understands the Manitoulin situation thoroly. He is not apprehensive as to the result, and declares personally that he would have to be prodded pretty hard before he would be willing to retract his article. He declares he wrote it deliberately, that it is true, and that the facts and circumstances bear well the view he has taken of the Commission's investigation and verdict. He thinks it a travesty upon justice, and says so. Conservative leaders here declare the government would not dare to permit Mr. Price to be cited for contempt for fear of the further discussion of this phase of the case by the press of the country.

There is no disputing the fact that the sensational developments of the past few months have changed the political lines here very materially. Some ardent Gamey advocates have deserted him, and he has won some equally bitter opponents to his side. It is the feeling generally expressed here that if Mr. Stratton should resign and go to the people for endorsement Mr. Gamey would do the same. The ultimate result here is a mooted question, but the Conservatives are firm in their opinion that Gamey has strengthened himself, and could be re-elected. The Liberals assert that he could never be returned.

DR. LORENZ IN MONTREAL GIVES FREE INSTRUCTION

Four Hundred Physicians Watch Him Demonstrate His Marvelous Powers.

Montreal, June 22.—(Special.)—Dr. Lorenz is the hero of the hour here. In the presence of some 400 physicians of the city and environs—from the medical man at the head of his profession to the youngster just entering upon it—Dr. Lorenz, in the operating theatre of the General Hospital, performed two operations and was publicly thanked alike for his methods and the cordial manner in which he imparts instruction.

The first case was congenital hip disease, in the treatment of which Dr. Lorenz has been uniformly successful. The doctor, in dealing with this and the subsequent case, captivated the large audience, which included four lady doctors, several medical men from a distance and twenty-five nurses.

The second case was the boy Jackson, who suffered from a club-foot. Here, again, there was the steady manipulation which at last had the desired effect. The foot became pliable, the tendons and the muscles yielded; the foot was fixed in proper place and supported with a casing of plaster of paris.

The boy will be sent home at once, and improvement will be observable from the start. The little girl will be kept in the hospital for some time.

ESCAPE WAS MARVELOUS.

Aged Couple Thrown From Rig—Woman Clung to Bridge.

Whitby, June 22. — (Special.) — An aged couple, Mr. and Mrs. Grills of the Township of Mariposa, met with a nasty accident last night, a couple of miles north of Oshawa. Their escape from death was marvellous. Crossing the main road from Raglan to Oshawa, is a creek, known as Conklin's. Over this is a bridge 20 feet high, and, going uphill from the bridge, is a nasty bit of roadway, with deep embankments on either side, most imperfectly protected. The horse was frightened by some cattle on the road, and turned round and rushed down the hill, spilling the occupants of the rig just at the bridge. The old lady was thrown over the bridge, but managed to seize it with one hand, and, despite the fact that she held a child in her other arm, held on until rescued by some other travelers on the road, who heard her cries. When rescued, she was just about exhausted, and in another minute would have fallen 20 feet into the water, and doubtless have been drowned. A fractured leg was the worst injury sustained. The old people were taken on to Oshawa, where they received medical attention. A suit against the Township of East Whitby is now threatened.

CHAPLIN ARISES AGAIN

And Again His Motion is Voted Down Strenuously.

London, June 22.—When the House of Commons went into committee on the budget bill, Henry Chaplin (Conservative), former president of the Board of Agriculture, moved the rejection of the clause providing for the repeal of the grain tax. After a discussion, during which Mr. Ritchie, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, declared the tax had been of no advantage to the British farmers, and had been a disadvantage to the dairymen, by increasing the price of foodstuffs, and pointed out how the whole tax fell on consumers, the motion was defeated by 416 to 32 votes.

PARKS STILL POPULAR.

New York, June 22. — Samuel J. Parks walked around yesterday with a chip on his shoulder. He still wore his fighting regalia, altho the returns showed that he was 200 votes ahead of his opponents who were on the ticket with him for the election of walking delegate of the Housesmiths' and Bridgemen's Union, one of the most powerful labor organizations in this city. "My enemies are still praying for my defeat,' said Parks, "and I am going to keep my eyes wide open until the last vote is counted."

BRITTON AND KILLAM.

Ottawa, June 22.—(Special.)—Objections to Judge Britton as a Commissioner to investigate the Treadgold concessions have not been heeded by the government. Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced in the House to-day that Judge Britton would conduct the enquiry. Chief Justice Killam of Manitoba has been asked to be associate commissioner with Judge Britton, but his acceptance has not yet been received.

GOVERNMENT IS RETICENT REGARDING G.T.P. POLICY

Cabinet Ministers Say a Charter is One Thing and Assistance Another.

Ottawa, June 22.—(Special.)—A dozen clauses of the Grand Trunk Pacific bill were considered in committee of the House this afternoon. Renewed efforts were made to force a statement of policy from the government, but were stubbornly resisted. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Messrs. Blair and Fielding insisted that a charter is one thing and federal assistance another. They would not listen to the suggestion that national interests, like the location of the route, capitalization and bonding should be safeguarded in the provisions of the charter. If federal assistance is given the Grand Trunk Pacific the charter will be modified thru the subsidy resolutions.

The government contention is that if no federal assistance is granted the company should not be subjected to new restrictions that have not been imposed on railways of less magnitude. This argument is no answer to the reasonable proposal that the government should declare its policy in advance of the passage of the bill. Parliament cannot discuss a gigantic project such as the Grand Trunk Pacific bill without knowing whether it is to be built solely from private capital or with the assistance of the government. Neither can parliament afford to dismiss a project involving 3000 miles of railway with the indifference that might be displayed in the discussion of some petty branch line. The government, however, is fully determined upon its course, and whether the Grand Trunk Pacific is to be aided or not aided must remain a dark secret until the company's charter is approved.

Discussion in House.

Criticism of the bill beyond its general features turned on the question of over capitalization and excessive bonding privileges. The opposition, backed up by a few Liberals, including Messrs. McCreary, Bourassa and Angers, argued that over capitalization and excessive bonding meant unnecessary burdens on the traffic and an increased difficulty in limiting rates. Following up this argument, Mr. Bourassa moved that the capitalization of the road, which the bill authorizes to be $75,000,000, should not exceed $60,000,000.

A. C. Bell of Pictou gave notice of a motion that the total amount of capitalization should not exceed in all per mile for the eastern section $30,000, Quebec section $30,000, Woodland section $30,000, Prairie section $20,000, Mountain section $50,000.

Mr. Bourassa's motion was ruled out of order on the ground that only unimportant amendments can be moved without notice of motion in the committee stage of a bill. The amendment will come up in another form.

Mr. Borden Led.

R. L. Borden led in the attack on the capitalization and bonding powers of the road. He showed that the capitalization varied from $40,000 to $70,000 per mile, and this, added to the bonding powers of the road, must mean a heavy indebtedness. "If," said Mr. Borden, "the Canadian Northern can build up its road for $18,000 a mile, including equipment, why should the Grand Trunk Pacific, running thru the same country, be capitalized for over $40,000 a mile. I am not in favor

FOR GOVERNMENT LINE QUEBEC TO WINNIPEG

Government Will Give Running Rights to All Companies Wishing Them.

The Evening Globe yesterday had the following special from Ottawa:

Messrs. Hays and Wainwright are here for the purpose of having further conferences with the government.

The report now is that a majority of the cabinet favors the construction by the government of a line between Quebec and Winnipeg with running rights to all companies that wish to use it.

There is a possibility that this plan may take the place of the proposal for a guarantee of bonds to the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Messrs. Hays and Wainwright were closeted with the Minister of Justice for a couple of hours this morning. Afterwards a Cabinet Council was summoned, at which, it is believed, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick submitted a memorandum to the government containing the basis of an agreement.

GLANDERS KILL HUMAN BEING.

Boston, June 22.—Within less than a month in this State there have been at least four deaths from glanders in human beings. This record is worse than has been reported in Massachusetts for years. No less than 700 horses have been killed the last year, so that the really remarkable thing is that so few men have been mortally smitten.

In Chelsea an expressman is reported dead from this scourge; in Lawrence a peddler; in Northboro and Brockton, farmers. The State Cattle Bureau is hunting down the disease in horses.

Wolves Seen Near Guelph Worrying Flock of Sheep

Farmer Fires a Charge of Shot at Two, But They Trot Off to Safety.

Guelph, June 22.—About 6.30 Friday morning last, M. McCutcheon of the 3rd con., lot 8, Erin Township, was called by some carpenters at work on his barn, and informed that dogs were at his sheep. He went out to investigate, taking along a gun. When he arrived at the field where the sheep were pasturing at the rear of a bush, about fifty or sixty rods from the house he was surprised to see in his flock two full-grown wolves, about the largest he had ever seen. They were tearing one of the ewes within 25 feet of Mr. McCutcheon but paid no attention to his presence till the gun was fired. They then relaxed their hold on the ewe, gave three or four vicious growls and turned and started off into the swamp.

The gun was single-barelled and the bulk of the charge was lodged in one of the animals, but was not fatal in its effect. It was evident that the shot had located in one of the wolf's legs, as it limped away on the other three. The other wolf, which was standing at the side of the injured one, also received a few grains of the shot. Mr. McCutcheon and the carpenters, W. Watson, Emerson Tolton and Stanley McDougall, arrived a few minutes later and after getting the dogs on the hunt, the party followed the wolves for some distance.

As there are in the neighborhood of about 100 acres of heavy tamrack swamp, they were unable to overtake them. Blood tracks were traced for about 50 rods into the swamp. For some time past the flocks in that neighborhood have been attacked and several sheep destroyed. Among the losers are Mr. Dennie, who resides on the same concession line as Mr. McCutcheon, and who had a ewe badly worried, and John Allan, who lost several lambs. Mr. McCutcheon found one ewe just about dead and another badly worried.

This is the first time in his recollection that wolves have been seen in this section, and he has lived there about eighteen years. It is supposed that they have been in the swamp for a year or more. The people in the neighborhood will welcome hunters from the city, who have good dogs for wolf hunting. A bounty of $15 is given for every wolf killed in the township.

The farm of Mr. McCutcheon is located about three miles from Ospringe and 16 miles from the city.

DR. HENDERSON KICKED IT MAY PROVE FATAL

Met Serious Accident in the West Jumping From Runaway Rig.

Winnipeg, June 22.—Dr. Henderson of Toronto, who is visiting his brother, Rev. Mr. Henderson, was rather seriously injured at La Riviere to-day, being kicked in the side by a horse when jumping from a runaway rig in which he was driving with his brother.

Two doctors are in attendance, and it is hoped his injuries will not prove fatal.

EATS SNAKES AND GRASS.

Man Found Making Strange Meal and Gives Odd Explanation.

Morristown, N. J., June 22. — Bicyclists passing along Hibernia turnpike, near Beach Glen, this morning, saw a man sitting beside the road, holding a live three-foot blacksnake, from which he was taking bites. With each bite he plucked grass and ate the two together with seeming relish. The wheelmen notified the authorities, and, when the man was taken into custody, only the head of the snake remained. He gave his name as R. O. Garmby. He explained he was a follower of Mme. Blavatsky, and believed in the theory of reincarnation. He said he is the reincarnation of a hog, which was the reason he had a fondness for snakes and grass.

LOOK TO THE FUTURE.

Hon. Mr. Tarte's Advice to St. Jean Baptiste Celebrators.

Montreal, June 22.—(Special.)—Hon. Mr. Tarte writes as follows concerning the St. Jean Baptiste celebration: "We will do, let us hope, something else this week besides flying flags. We should conduct this business honestly and with sobriety, like business men. A good examination of the national conscience never does any harm. Men and things go quickly in these days, and those who are tardy and indifferent are sure to be left behind. There will be in our city to-morrow and next day a good many of our fellow countrymen able to think and act as well. We ask them to look to the future and to the means that will render them happy and prosperous and free."

KEEP OUTSIDE CITY.

London, June 22.—At a joint meeting of the City Council and the London Township Council to consider the matter of allowing the London, Aylmer and Port Burwell Railway to lay down tracks on Trafalgar-street, which is in the city, it was decided the road must build its line outside the city limits.

TORONTO LAD DROWNED FELL OUT OF HIS BOAT

Member of Wallace Nesbitt's Party Lost While Fishing Near Romaine, Quebec.

W. H. Beatty, Queen's Park, received the following telegram from Wallace Nesbitt, dated from Romaine, Quebec:

"Douglas Plumb drowned. Fell overboard. Waiting to recover body. Will be some days away."

This is the sad climax to a fishing expedition taken three or four days ago into Quebec interior by Hon. Mr. Nesbitt and Sir Charles Ross, accompanied by Douglas Plumb, son of the late Thomas Plumb, late of McCarthy, Osler and Hoskin of Toronto.

The fishermen had been out only two days when the accident that resulted in Douglas Plumb's death occurred. All the others of the party are safe. The drowned lad was only 18 years of age.

The nearest point to their fishing grounds was Romaine, a Hudson Bay post.

SOAP AND WATER.

School Teacher Who Used Treatment to Preserve Truth in Court.

Toronto Junction, June 22.—A son of William McClure of King, who attends school on Yonge-street, near Holland Landing, was whipped by the school teacher for telling a lie, and, to make his mouth clean hereafter, had it washed out with soap and suds. The school teacher appear before Magistrate Woodcock at Newmarket on Saturday charged with being too severe in his punishment. Medical evidence went to show that the boy had not been too severely beaten; but the magistrate did not know what judgment to render for the soap and water treatment, and reserved decision on this point. The teacher told his pupils that the first one he caught telling a lie he would wash his mouth out with soap suds. He carried out his threat.

FARM LIFE FOR JEWS.

Chicago, June 22. — That the salvation of the Jew lies on the farm was the opinion expressed yesterday at a meeting of the District Grand Lodge, No. 2, I. O. F. S., of I., held at 507 Marshfield-avenue. The principal speaker was Rabbi A. R. Levy, whose subject was "Jewish Immigrants."

"There are several hundred Jewish farmers in Illinois, and I know they are satisfied," he said. "I believe that, in years to come, the Jewish people will flock to the country to become farmers."

Another Beecher Coming To Preach in This City

Dr. R. J. Campbell, Now in New York, Will Be Here on July 21.

Rev. James L. Gordon expects that the Rev. Reginald J. Campbell successor to Joseph Parker in London, England, will address a mass meeting in the Bond-street Congregational Church on Tuesday evening, July 21.

The following report of his first sermon in America is taken from The New York World:

"Another Beecher."

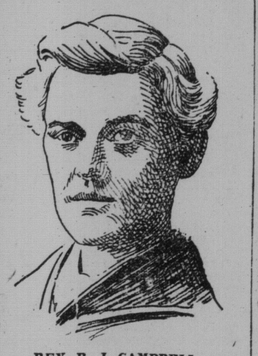
"Another Beecher!" This was the comment of scores of those who heard the Rev. Reginald J. Campbell, preach at Henry Ward Beecher's old church, in Brooklyn, yesterday morning.

"It seems like old times," remarked one of the old Plymouth pillars, who had come in from the country at the special request of Dr. Hillis, as he saw the old familiar faces, now seldom seen at church services, appearing one by one in the pews.

Mr. Campbell, most-talked-about preacher in England, took by storm the enormous congregation which gathered to hear him. With a flood of anecdote, quotation, humor, pathos and simple homily he had his listeners laughing, crying and meditative intermittedly. When he closed with a touching tribute to the memory of Mr. Beecher, coupled with a personal appeal to every member of his congregation there was scarcely a dry eye in the auditorium.

Has Come to Learn.

Before beginning his sermon proper Mr. Campbell thanked his friends for the very kind welcome they had accorded him.



REV R. J. CAMPBELL.

"But I did not come here to teach you anything," he continued. "I came here to learn your methods, in order, if possible, to apply them when I return. But I find it difficult to get away from England, for I have left the Old Country I have brought its weather with me. (Laughter.)

"But, seriously, you can have very little idea of with what solemn feelings I stand here this morning. Mr. Beecher was not only a friend of Dr. Parker's, but he was one of my earliest ideals. As a boy, the only preachers in whim I took much interest were Charles Haddon Spurgeon and Henry Ward Beecher."

Mr. Campbell announced that the subject of his sermon would be "The Vision of God," or merely "Seeing God." The text was "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God."

The minister said he did not believe the sermon on the Mount was spoken

ARREST FOUR FIREBUGS FOR BRANTFORD FIRES

A Last the Perpetrators of Mohawk Institute Demolition Are Caught.

Brantford, June 22.—(Special.)—A third fire occurred at the Mohawk Institute last night, thus destroying the few buildings not destroyed in the fires of April 19 and June 6, the loss being estimated at $1500. The result of the fire is that four inmates of the institution, namely, Roy Wilson, Jesse Debo, Isaiah Antone and Alexander Maracle are under arrest, charged with causing all three fires.

At the court this morning Roy Wilson, aged 12, the youngest of the boys, confessed to striking the match and collecting the material which caused the fires of April 19 and June 21. His confession bears out in every detail the statements of Principal Ashton.

Jesse Debo, when examined by the magistrate, corroborated the statement of Wilson, but denied knowing that Wilson intended to burn the institute.

The other two boys corroborated Debo, all claiming that when they assisted Wilson they knew nothing of his intentions. Wilson was also charged with setting fire to the barns on June 6. He pleaded not guilty, but said that Frank Winnie, who slept with Maracle had stated that he was going to do the deed.

The arrest of Winnie was ordered. The other four were committed for trial.

COUP D'ETAT IN MALTA.

Constitution of 1849 Has Been Re-Established.

London, June 22. — According to a despatch from Valetta, Malta, a minor coup d'etat has been effected there by the abrogation of the constitution of 1887 and the re-establishment of the constitution of 1849. By this step the Legislative Council, hereafter, will be composed of eight elected members and nine government members, instead of fourteen and six, respectively, as heretofore. Some such action had been expected, in consequence of the trouble about the language question. The elected members objected to the predominance of the English language in the schools, and recently defeated the education appropriation for the current year. On June 17, the Lieutenant-Governor desired to reintroduce the appropriation bill, but the elected members refused him permission to do so. Under the new conditions, the government will control the Legislative Council.

TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION.

John Bertram and William Fry Have Accepted Positions.

Ottawa, June 22.—(Special.)—Sir William Van Horne has declined to act on the Transportation Commission. This intimation received by the government following the refusal of Harold Kennedy of Quebec to act, has very materially changed the make-up of the Commission. Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated to-day that John Bertram of Toronto had accepted. William Fry of Quebec has been appointed instead of Mr. Kennedy. The Sir William Van Horne urges that he has too many other duties to take a place on the Commission. Sir Wilfrid expressed the hope that Canada's great railway magnate might finally be induced to accept.

KING AIDED MURDERERS SAYS A GERMAN PAPER

Peter Was Fully Informed of the Conspiracy at Belgrade, Servia.

Berlin, June 22.—The Allegemeine correspondent learns that the new King of Servia was not only fully informed of the military conspiracy at Belgrade, but that he was actually carried out by his agents. The officers broke into the Konak with the fixed determination of killing the royal couple. The question of demanding the abdication of King Alexander was not mentioned. On the contrary, the late King, perceiving his peril, spontaneously offered to renounce the crown, but the officers ignored this and proceeded to the murder.

Man From Manitoulin Finishes in an Hour Sensational Speech

IF PEN IS INCAPABLE THEN USE THE SWORD

Emperor William Looks to the Army to Support His Policy if Necessary.

Berlin, June 22. — The papers now print two speeches which Emperor William delivered at Doberitz (near Berlin) on the occasion of the recent unveiling of a monument there to Frederick the Great. The speech referred to was delivered to the officers in the barracks.

He lauded the army as a national institution. The generals, being the educators, are regarded with respect and confidence by soldiers and citizens. It was a magnificent school for the education of youth. In a national sense the army must have not only service regulations, tactics and strategy, but pride and joy in the service.

"Then," the Emperor added, "my army will ever remain the instrument that I need to support my policy when necessary."

His Majesty concluded with quoting Frederick the Great's remark: "Where the pen alone no longer suffices it must be supplemented by the keen-edged sword."

ANOTHER MONTREAL STRIKE.

Fifty Men and Women in a Cloak Factory Go Out.

Montreal, June 22.—There is another small strike on. About fifty men and women employed in cloak making in the factory of Waldman and Somer went out to-day. The men claim that under present conditions it was impossible to make a living. The committee representing the employes interviewed the firm, but, they say, they got no satisfaction, and they finally decided to go on strike. The pressers, operators and finishers are involved. The men say they will not return to work until a satisfactory agreement has been reached.

The officials of the firm, when seen, stated that they would absolutely refuse to recognize the union. They would deal only with their employes as employes.

TRIED TO BLOW UP BUILDING

Is Charge Laid Against Two Men, "Wanted" for a Year.

Edwin Garvin and William McGuire, who have been wanted for nearly a year by the Toronto police on a charge of assault and for an alleged plot to blow up the Robert Sabeston Wool Stock Co. building near the Don bridge, were arrested in Brantford yesterday. Detective Duncan will bring them to Toronto to-day.

It seems that when the trouble occurred Garvin, who was foreman of the Duke-street factory, was accused by his employer of double dealings during a strike, which was going on among the hands. In the quarrel which ensued one Louis Breadeunez, who sided with Saleston, charged Garvin, McGuire and a man named Campbell of assaulting him. The latter was acquitted in the Police Court, but the other two disappeared. It is alleged that after the quarrel in the Duke-street building these men went to the factory near the Don bridge and emptied the boiler at the same time altering the steam gauge in such a way as to make it appear that it contained plenty of water. If the trick had not been discovered a terrific explosion would have been caused when the first fire was lighted under the boiler.

TO BE PAID SOON.

Employes of Board of Works Will Be Pleased.

Ottawa, June 22.—(Special.) — Employes of the Board of Works, Toronto, who are two weeks behind in their pay, will probably be paid up this week. The trouble is that the appropriation from which these salaries are paid is a special one. It is included in the supplementary estimates that were submitted to the House last week and for which Hon. W. S. Fielding asked expeditious treatment. The supplementary estimates include many other appropriations that are required at once and they will be given priority in supply. In all probability the appropriation for the Board of Works, Toronto, will be voted late to-night or to-morrow.

MAYOR IS FINED.

In Default He Will Be Jailed for Twenty Days.

Amherstburg, June 22.—The adjourned trial of Mayor J. J. Brault, charged with frequenting barrooms on Sunday, was resumed to-day, with C. H. Clarke, Crown attorney, as prosecutor. The Mayor again failed to appear. The prosecuting attorney proceeded with the trial and secured a conviction. The defendant was fined $10, and $11 costs, in all $21, to be paid forthwith or be committed to jail for twenty days.

SIR ASHLEY LOST.

Member of Treasure Hunting Party is Swept Overboard.

Halifax, June 22.—Advices received here to-day state that Sir Ashley Cooper, one of the party of Englishmen who left Halifax on March 17 in the Schooner Hattie, L. M., had been swept overboard and drowned on April 7. This is the vessel which is bound to the Straits of Magellan to search for gold. The first port they touched at since leaving Halifax was Montevideo, where she arrived on June 16.

Offers to Retire if He Cannot Prove Report is Contrary to Evidence.

J. W. ST. JOHN HAS THE FLOOR

R. R. Gamey occupied an hour in finishing his address to the legislature on Monday. He spoke to crowded galleries and a fair representation of members, but the Provincial Secretary was conspicuous by his absence the greater part of the time. The man from Manitoulin had the close attention of everyone within the sound of his voice, and his remarks were punctured with repeated and hearty applause from the opposition benches. In opening he acknowledged that he was not familiar with parliamentary ethics, and craved pardon for any infraction of the rules of debate; nevertheless he desired to express himself in language within the rules of the House, but expressive. He tallied some effective points against his traducers, sifted the report for errors and omissions, and expressed a willingness to meet the Chancellor in an argument, and if he could not show that the finding was contrary to the evidence he promised to retire from political life.

The government offered no reply to his argument. The Attorney-General remained in his seat long after the member for Manitoulin finished, and would not reply when challenged to do so by Col. Matheson. Then Mr. St. John took up the debate, and for three hours poured hot shot into the government ranks. He held the floor all evening and emptied the benches on the right, the Liberals remaining in the smoking room and the corridors while he was speaking. Mr. St. John moved the adjournment at 10 o'clock, and will resume this morning.

A number of friends of Mr. Gamey brought in a magnificent bouquet of pink and white peonies and deposited it on the table of the opposition lobby. There were between 60 and 70 great blooms in the bouquet and attached was a card bearing the words "In appreciation of one who preferred to be rather than seem an honest man."

The Attorney-General has been taking notes and intends to reply, but may permit the opposition to let loose most of its heavy thunder before he rises to the occasion. No other government speaker is anxious to take a hand in the affair. A. G. McKay was considered the most likely proposition until a few days ago, but his absence from the House indicates that he is not going to speak. Altho within speaking distance of the Parliament Buildings for some time, his friends say he has been too unwell to undertake the task of defending the report.

Senator William Gibson of Beamsville was a visitor to the House yesterday, and sat near the Premier's desk during the afternoon session.

R. R. GAMEY.

Mr. Gamey, in opening, said he would devote a few moments to reply to some criticisms of his remarks on Friday. He acknowledged that, on Friday, he overstepped the rules and privileges of the House in not always addressing the chair, for which offence he asked pardon, and would try to keep

UNDER A $1000 BOND.

Montreal, June 22.—Mrs. Loo Lin (Makchue) arrives in Montreal from San Francisco tomorrow, via Victoria and Vancouver, under a $1000 bond, and will remain in the city until her certificate as a teacher arrives from China. She taught for eleven years in the Baptist Mission of Canton, and is thus entitled to admission into the United States irrespective of her husband's vocation.

LOAN OF $25,000.

Wiarton, June 22.—The bylaw voted on here to-day, awarding the Sugar Beet Company a loan of $25,000 was carried with little opposition. The total vote was: For, 343; against, 46.

Newyorkish.

The latest summer walking hat for ladies is distinctly novel. That is the new flat New York hat. It has the catchy turn to its rim and just enough of decoration on it to make the hat neat and attractive. The Dineen Co. have imported some just off Broadway. They arrived by express yesterday.

COOL AND SHOWERY.

Meteorological Office, Toronto, June 22.—8 p.m.—A disturbance which developed over Southwestern States during Sunday has moved northeastward to the Great Lakes, and rain is falling over Western Ontario this evening.
