Sunday-school Concert.

The Methodist church was filled on Sunday evening last by an attentive and appreciative audience, which had assembled to listen to the concert by the pupils of the Sabbath-school in connection with the church. Mr J. W. Caldwell, who for many years has faithfully and efficiently filled the position of superintendent, presided. After prayer by Rev. Mr Hale, the pastor, and music by the school, Miss Bessie Webster was called upon and gave an interesting account of the school as she remembered it. A most pleasing programme of recitations, duets, quartettes and choruses was rendered by the children and greatly enjoyed by all present. After this had been concluded excellent addresses were given by Rev. D. B. Hemmeon, of Lockport, and Rev. Mr Hale, and the meeting closed with the benediction by the pastor. A collection was taken to assist the school in its work. The whole exercise passed off very successfully and reflected credit on all concerned.

"Kent Lodge."

One day this week a representative of the ACADIAN was shown through Kent Lodge by the popular proprietor, Mrs Moore. This house has ever been a favorite with tourists, but the large addition and extensive improvements recently completed upon it have wonderfully added to its attractiveness and it is now one of the finest summer hotels in the province and a decided credit to the town. Kent Lodge now contains over twenty sleeping apartments, nice parlors and a magnificent dining-room. From the windows of each of these rooms an almost unequalled view may be had. The finish of the house is nearly all of hard wood, the stairs being of ash. Its historical associations has ever been a drawing card with Kent Lodge, and Mrs Moore has taken care to furnish her house so as to add to this effect. The room once occupied by the Duke of Kent is now furnished with relicts of antique furniture in imitation of the style of the olden times. The sideboard in the dining-room formerly belonged to the Duke of Kent, and the andirons in the fireplace were unearthed years ago on the premises. Altogether Kent Lodge is all that a tourist could desire, and it will undoubtedly receive its full share of patronage.

Boys' 2-piece Suits, best value in town, $1.25. GLASGOW HOUSE.

Acadia Seminary Hotel opened its doors to the summer tourists this week and a number have already arrived. The building has been completely renovated, the fine grounds improved, and a competent staff of assistants obtained so that the reputation of being the finest hotel in Nova Scotia won for it last year by the enterprising management will doubtless be sustained. A bright little journal setting forth the attractions of Wolfville as a tourist resort has also been issued by Mr Rockwell and is to be largely circulated. The Acadia Seminary Hotel in the hands of such an enterprising and business-like manager as Mr Rockwell is doing very much to advertise and bring visitors to our town and his enterprise cannot be spoken too highly of.

An accident to the draw in the bridge over the Sissiboo river at Weymouth on Monday has seriously delayed traffic over the railway this week. As a consequence the express from Yarmouth has been fully four hours late every day since.
