TROLLEY VERSUS STORAGE.

MORE ABOUT THE DUBUQUE FOLLY OF BATTERY CARS.

Interview With the Mayor—The City Has No Power to Order the Storage—The City Engineer Can Only Approve—Keeping Back an Improvement by Unnecessary and Ill-Advised Opposition.

The World of yesterday let in more light on the street car propulsion question than the columns of false and foolish matter published by our contemporaries for weeks past. They were writing about something of which they were ignorant. They did not take the trouble to read the agreement between the city and the syndicate, but started in to clatter nonsense. Here are sample paragraphs of this style of senseless journalism:

Telegram editorial, March 7: "Now the Engineer and the council have the game in their own hands. Their duty is to order the syndicate to adopt the motor cars, running successfully in Birmingham, Eng., and Washington, D.C."

Telegram editorial, March 10: "Chairman Saunders at his own expense has gathered information that justifies the Engineer in ordering the street railway to put on motor cars. There is no need for delay. Motor cars work well in Washington. Why not here? Order the Street Railway Company to try them, and it will be time to discuss a compromise when they ask for one."

The World by publishing extracts from the agreement brought out these facts:

(1) That the city, through its engineer and council, cannot order but only approve of the system. The Mayor has no part in the matter.

(2) That the system to be submitted by the syndicate must be to them (the syndicate) one that is commercially practicable.

(3) That the city must approve of a system within a year of the signing of the agreement (Sept. 1, '91).

(4) That for the city to trifle with the matter instead of coming to a conclusion is to give the syndicate cause for damages.

These are hard facts, not to be got over by mere ravings. They are the substance of a solemn agreement prepared by the city's own lawyers, revised and re-revised a dozen times. If it had been the desire of the city not to have the trolley system at the time of the agreement it would have been prohibited by a special clause. If the papers which are dissatisfied with the trolley would direct their ammunition on those who drew the agreement, or if they directed their statements to regrets that this and that was not provided for, there would be sense in their case; but to try to raise a disturbance by ignoring the agreement is to show a lack of common sense.

If the city is to be saddled for 30 years (we do not say so) with the trolley than these papers who supported the agreement when The World opposed it should have joined us in making the time of the contract 20 instead of 30 years. But they were silent.

Make a Compromise.

We believe Mr. Blake and Mr. Biggar for the city and Mr. Laidlaw for the syndicate will be able to reach a compromise to-day if they are allowed to keep to the text of the agreement and not be distracted by the shoutings of muddlers. There must be a give and take in these matters, and Mr. Blake evidently thinks so as well as others.

The Mayor Talks.

The Mayor is still in favor of the storage system. He says Toronto should not tie herself for 30 years to a system that will in a few years become antiquated, as the trolley is sure to become. The 10-year clause in the agreement referring to a change of system is of no earthly use, it is too much one-sided and the railway company have the bright side of it. The Mayor, continuing, said while the city may not have the power to say which system shall be adopted, they have this clause to fall back on: "Electric or other new system of motor or a combined system approved by the City Engineer and confirmed by the City Council as suitable shall be introduced within one year."

According to the Mayor's interpretation of the clause this gives the council the right to refuse acceptance of the system the Railway Company may advocate, without the city being liable for damages.

Mr. Blake's Opinion.

Mr. S. H. Blake, who is acting with City Solicitor Biggar in the street railway matter, regretted that the city had so long delayed deciding on an electrical system. "If this had been done," said the learned Q.C., "it would have been of great benefit to the city in arguing its case before the Private Bills Committee in the Local House, as the system adopted will materially affect the amount the road should be bonded for — some systems costing more than others. Mr. Blake drew attention to clauses 2, 6, 12, 23, 24, 20, 21, 22 in the bill as deserving of special consideration by the city. The last three clauses ask for the right to construct a railway on the Island, establish parks, etc. Mr. Blake will insert the time-worn sentence, "Not to be operated on the Lord's day." The World saw Ald. Leslie later in the day. Said the Alderman, "And they can add to it unless decided otherwise by the vote of the people." Mr. Blake said "the people were not the proper judges of what they wanted."

In speaking about clause 24, as printed in The World of yesterday, Mr. Blake advised immediate action. As to the choice of a system the chances are that the committee will adopt one system or the other at the special meeting to-night.

More About the Dubuque Experiment.

TORONTO, March 19.

G. S. Patterson, Superintendent Battery Cars, Washington, D.C.:

Our City Council to decide Monday night between trolley and storage for our railway. Our Alderman Saunders favored trolley; visited Washington; now advocates storage. Wire full report to me with your own practical opinion of relative merits of systems.

H. A. EVERETT.

H. A. Everett, Toronto:

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 20.—My personal opinion is that the trolley system is practically much better under all conditions than storage. Storage is good on level road. Our line is favorable for storage, also climate. Yours is not. See Toronto News, March 9, misquoting me. Trolley will give better satisfaction to all. Ald. Saunders probably took for granted all the storage men said. I don't agree with them fully.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, March 21.—Overhead system on two roads gives complete satisfaction; storage system on third road being replaced by overhead. Storage very costly to operate, unreliable, weak and unsatisfactory to railway company and public.—F. W. CRAWFORD, JOHN GLAB, DENNIS SMITH, F. J. SWOLLY, members City Council; J. M. KENETY, City Auditor.

The Dubuque Cars Expensive and Heavy.

Mr. C. W. Kohl, a practical and successful electrician, was seen by The World yesterday, and proved to be emphatically in favor of the trolley system. He referred to the disastrous result of the Dubuque experiment with storage cars, fully substantiating the communications published in yesterday's World; and as Mr. Kent has been in Dubuque, and is thoroughly acquainted with the street railway system there, his testimony is of considerable value. He also gave some interesting facts about the relative weight of the cars under the two systems.

"One car," said Mr. Kent, "needs 250 cells, and each cell weighs from 40 to 50 lbs. The car itself weighs five tons and the total weight is thus something like 10 tons. It will carry 125 persons averaging over 150 lbs. in weight. The trolley car weighs just about five tons and accommodates 125 persons. The storage car is thus twice as heavy as the trolley car."

"The story that there is danger from lightning is incorrect," said Mr. Kent, later on. "There are lightning arresters upon every car and upon the station. Should a wire be broken, there is a cut-off at the station that shuts off the current the moment it touches the ground. Nor is the story true that the trolley cars have caused the death of persons. A man was killed in Buffalo by the car striking him, an accident that might have occurred with a horse car. No person has ever been killed by electricity from a trolley car.

"The storage battery people will not put a car on the streets until there is no danger of a snowstorm," concluded Mr. Kent. "They know that the car would be powerless in that event, and the columns of The Electrical News will show how they have backed out of the challenge issued by the editor of that paper."

The Storage Battery at Dubuque, Ia.

[From The Electrical World.]

Mr. J. A. Rhomberg, President of the Dubuque Street Railway Company, in a recent interview, pronounces the storage battery a failure and gives some facts in support of his claim, some of which are as follows:

"We commenced running the six cars on or about May 29, 1891, and to our knowledge the batteries had already begun to give way at about the beginning of July, of which I at once notified the Accumulator company. The Accumulator company had three of their own electricians here to superintend the whole plant from the very beginning up to Dec. 1, excepting a couple of weeks, when there was only one, and one electrician until after Jan. 1, 1892. These three electricians were operating the plant; they were looking after the batteries, of which they had full charge, and they had likewise full control over the men that handled the batteries, whereas during all this time we had nothing whatever to do with the batteries.

"The results since have shown that it is utterly impossible to make it a success, as the second and also the third set of positive plates have given out in almost the same way as the first, notwithstanding the fact that they were treated quite differently from the first set, they being permitted to make only one or two trips, of six to twelve miles, with one charge, whereas the first sets of positive plates were allowed to make three trips, or 18 miles. With one charge, however, if we have the least bit of snow, the batteries are scarcely able to make a trip of four miles, or from the car house to the I.C.R. depot and return, and in many instances they could not do that and had to be towed to the car house. The original cost and maintenance of the batteries since the latter part of May up to date amounts to $25,000.

The maintenance per cell is about $4 for every 60 days, if one runs the cars regularly as they ought to be run. These $4 include new positive plates, freight, pins, acid and labor and breakage. This makes the cost of maintenance $2½ per cell per annum instead of $2.50, as per their guarantee, which would amount to $2880 per car per annum. However, making it only $4 for every 90 days, would bring it up to $16 per cell per annum, or about $2560 per annum for each car.

"The people of Dubuque, particularly those living near and above the car house, know what an intolerable nuisance the storage battery system is, as they have been daily run into the car house and have been obliged to wait while the batteries were being changed. And this happens almost every trip. One hears people daily saying that they would prefer to have the horses and mules back again rather than have the storage battery system continue, so disgusted are they with the way the latter has been running during the last four or five months.

"I do not pretend to say that all storage batteries are a failure, but ours most certainly are. There may be batteries having a much greater efficiency.

"I am sorry that we are compelled to install the overhead system on our road, for we should by all means prefer the storage system if it could be made a financial success."

Mr. Saunders' Mission

While not wishing to find fault with Ald. Saunders' report on the storage system, and admiring his zeal in a good cause and his liberality in journeying to Washington at his own expense for the benefit of the city, his report looks as if he had jumped at conclusions rather hastily. He states he inspected the storage battery road thoroughly and rode from "the extreme north end of the track to the southerly terminus," a distance of one mile and an eighth, think of it, 1⅛ miles on a level street. He has the electrician's word for it that the car would run 20 miles without change of battery, but the alderman only rode 2¼ miles. Of course the electrician would have no interest in misleading Ald. Saunders. This courteous electrician also volunteered the information that there would be no difficulty in running cars by the storage battery system on any street in Toronto. It is "dollars to doughnuts" he never saw Toronto, but "he knows," at least he knows who pays his salary.

The president of the Metropolitan Road informed Mr. Saunders that they had made a discovery which would enable them to run cars with a battery weighing less than 4000 pounds. Perpetual motion has been discovered several times, but as yet the machine has not been patented. It is customary all over for business men to accept untried inventions as facts. The President of the Metropolitan was "very sanguine." The Street Commissioners are anxiously looking forward to the working of the system, and if satisfactory a permit will be given to run. From the above it will be seen that, with the exception of that 1⅛ miles' ride, Ald. Saunders is dealing altogether in "futures."

And it is from reading Ald. Saunders' report that the Mayor, in his last message to the council, says: "I am decidedly of opinion that the storage battery system of electricity is the only one that should be permitted to be used in the streets of Toronto at the present time."

Editor World: With the hope of aiding in the solution of the electric motor question I send you the following: The city of Brooklyn, N.Y., recently appointed three prominent gentlemen as commissioners to report on the practicability of the various electric motors for street cars. They reported definitely in favor of the trolley system. I was the guest of one of these commissioners last month while attending the convention of superintendents and he informed me that their investigations proved conclusively that there is yet only one reliable electric car system and that is the trolley.

CANADA FOR THE CANADIANS.

SENTIMENTS BREATHED AT THE CONSERVATIVE BANQUET.

Annual Gathering of the Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association—French and English Speaking Canadians Pledged to Build Up a Canadian Nationality.

The two new Conservative Ministers, Messrs. Ouimet and Patterson, made their first appearance in Toronto last night at the annual banquet of the Young Men's Liberal Conservative Association at the Rossin House and made a favorable impression. The Quebec Minister struck the right key when he said that the Conservative party, now ruling the country, was the National party of Canada. He spoke in the right vein when he said that toleration by Quebecers of Ontario and by Ontarians of Quebec was the characteristic which marked the many hitherto successes of the Conservative party. Mr. Patterson, in his remarks, was extremely judicious, and showed how good a party manager he was by placating everybody. The eloquent address of Dr. Montagu was a strong feature of the evening and it is not a dispararagement to mention after his address the many excellent speeches made by the young men of the association. Nothing could be done in better taste than the toast and the reply of A. G. McLean on receiving the address and watch and chain from the members of the association as a token of the esteem in which he was held by them.

The first toasts were the Queen and the Governor-General and Lieut.-Governor. Then followed the toast of the evening, "Canada," coupled with which were the names of the Hon. J. A. Ouimet, Minister of Public Works; and Hon. J. C. Patterson, Secretary of State.

The Minister of Public Works.

Hon. J. A. Ouimet, Minister of Public Works, on rising was received with tremendous cheers. He thanked them for the sincere manner in which he had been received and apologized for not having a better command of the English language in which to express his thanks for coupling his name with the toast of our country.

A Voice: Oh, you are all right!

Hon. Mr. Ouimet: I am afraid, Mr. Chairman, that D'Alton McCarthy has come too late in the day for me. [Cheers and laughter.] I do not say that by way of reproach to Mr. McCarthy. I don't think he is any more in earnest than I am. [Laughter.]

It was certainly a great treat for him to be present on this occasion and to represent the young men from Lower Canada. "I am here also," he continued, "to thank you for the great service you have rendered to this country during the recent bye-elections. [Cheers.] You remember how a year ago our late revered chieftain, Sir John Macdonald, for various reasons, decided to go to the country. The principal reason was that the noble man who had built up this country—whose life had been devoted to the object of uniting the different races in order to perpetuate a national feeling in this country—Sir John Macdonald—thought the work of his life was threatened. He foresaw that by the false promises of our enemies—[cheers]—that our farmers, after three or four bad crops and the results of the McKinley bill, might be tempted into the disloyal path. Besides, Mr. Chairman, his great soul saw (Sir John) had a presentiment that he might not be alive long to lead the Conservative party in the great battle for a great Canadian nationality. [Cheers.] It was these things that influenced our late commander-in-chief in bringing about the great battle we had last year.

"While you in Ontario were fighting against American money," he continued, "we were fighting against Mercier's money in Quebec. After all we did pretty well. [Cheers.] True you were more successful in Ontario. You had the satisfaction of carrying a majority of the seats in your province, which we did not. But the battle was not over, for the young men who had been tempted away by Mercier are again back and the Province of Quebec is now as strongly Liberal-Conservative as in the days of the late Sir George Etienne Cartier. [Loud cheers.]

The Young Men and the Party.

"Is it not right," he proceeded, "that the young men of the country should be with the Liberal-Conservative party? [Hear, hear.] If we go back into Canadian history, as far as 1854, when the Liberal-Conservatives and the best of the Liberal party came to the conclusion that if we wanted to make this country a great country and to create a new nationality every honest man must unite and form an alliance. Then was laid the foundation of the nationality carried out in after years by Sir John Macdonald and the Liberal-Conservative party. If you follow the history of the country still further you will find that every one of the measures for the aggrandisement of the country are due to the Liberal-Conservative party. [Loud cheers.] The policy of the Conservative party was written on every page of the country's history.

What the Conservative Party Has Accomplished.

"The first articles of the alliance were the abolition of the clergy reserves and the seigiorial tenure. These were the two great obstacles in the way of national progress in this country. The Conservative party started the commercial policy of this country. We started the Grand Trunk Railway and the great canal system. Another thing which proves that the Liberal-Conservative party was the great national party was its shrewdness in bringing the best men the Reform party ever produced into their ranks to help them carry out their projects. Confederation became a providential necessity and the best men in the Liberal party came to our assistance because they admitted that their own party was the party of destruction, the party of unbelief in the future of the country. [Laughter.]

"Among the leading men who took part in Confederation Ontario claims the most prominent figure—Sir John Macdonald. [Hear, hear.] But the Province of Quebec produced a good many interesting figures. A good many very noble men who have worked for the edification of this country, and let me tell you at once that among the French-Canadians—but I think we should abolish the word French-Canadian, because I think there is nothing in this country but Canadians—the first prominent is that of Lafontaine, who in alliance with Mr. Robert Baldwin won for us the great boon of responsible government."

Proceeding he said that as the Conservative party in the past had had the support of the young men of Lower Canada so it would in the future. [Cheers.] "Dear as this country is to you I don't think I am saying too much when I say that this country is still dear to the hearts of French-Canadians. This country was discovered by our forefathers, and they have shed their blood for it. There is no part in this country which has not witnessed their heroic deeds. They have traced every pathway opened to commerce from ocean to ocean. [Applause.] But, gentlemen, this country is now a British possession, and I am not sorry for it. [Tremendous cheering.] I think it was a providential thing for Canadian nationality. It was a providential thing that this country was taken from the crown of a king who never appreciated it beyond saying that it was a country of snow. I think it was a providential thing that both English and French nationalities should unite on the same domain and if we are true to that which has been prepared for us we shall see the greatest nationality that will exist for centuries to come. [Loud cheers.] Gentlemen, why should not history repeat itself? Why should not the future hold in itself the nucleus of a great and new people, and why should we not unite together under the great title of Liberal-Conservative to prepare for this great event?! He quoted the late Sir George Cartier: "This country is a country for one people alone and this country is one in which you must all live united, and in which we must all try and make a grand country and a great nation." [Loud applause.] "I hope," continued the speaker, "that this day will see the inauguration of a new era and I will carry to the young men of the Province of Quebec the pledge you will, I am sure you will, all take to work as a united Conservative party of the Dominion, and to make the great cause of our party successful for a long time to come and to live happily and prosperously in a united country."

On taking his chair the meeting rose en masse, cheered and rapturously waved table napkins.

Mr. Patterson's Address.

Hon. J. C. Patterson, Secretary of State, on rising was greeted as the hero of West Huron, and cries of "He's a jolly good fellow," "He's a daisy just now," and "He's an angel just now." He said he was present not as a member of Government but as the president of the Liberal-Conservative Union of Ontario and to pay a debt of gratitude to the Young Conservatives for the gallant services they had rendered not only in the campaign of 1891, but during the recent bye-elections. "We have a cause," he proudly remarked, "which warms the young Canadian hearts and your association was largely the cause of arousing this enthusiasm throughout the province." [Cheers.]

He put in a good word for his political opponents: "They have been misled and let us hope they will come to see the error of their ways. As Emerson says: 'After all we must judge a man at the time we see him at his best.'" He often looked back to time in 1885, when Sir Richard Cartwright spoke words of patriotism in reference to the work of volunteers in the Northwest. "Then I saw him at his best and I shall see him at his best again." [Hear, hear.] He spoke feelingly of Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, who had become broken in health while serving his country.

While he failed not to see the importance of political economy, yet the building of a country depended on something more than discussing the question of a tariff on radishes and binding twine. National sentiment was something of greater importance.

"The Dominion and Local Parliaments" followed and it was responded to by G. R. R. Cockburn, M.P., E. Costsworth, M.P., Dr. Montague, David Creighton and W. F. Maclean. Then came the toast of "The Army, Navy and Volunteers," which brought Capt. Henderson of the 48th Highlanders and Major MacGillivray to their feet. "The Past Presidents" was replied to in felicitous speeches by A. Worrell, W. D. Macpherson, A. G. McLean.

Mr. Frank Yeigh, president of the Young Liberal Association, spoke for the kindred associations. His remarks were happy and humorous.

"The Learned Profession," "The Ladies" and "The Press," were the concluding toasts. It was an early hour in the morning when the most successful annual banquet ever held by the Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association was brought to a close.

HIS ILLNESS TROUBLES EUROPE.

Emperor William's Prolonged Absence From His Capital at This Crisis Gives Rise to the Gravest Rumors.

BERLIN, March 21.—Chancellor von Caprivi, who was yesterday summoned by Emperor William to a conference at Hubertus-tock, returned to Berlin at 6 o'clock last night. The Chancellor called upon Dr. von Boetticher, vice-president of the Prussian Council of Ministers, and conferred with him on the Ministerial crisis. The situation is still ominous and continues to be the subject of conversation in the official circles of Europe. It is stated on unquestionable authority that, in spite of all statements to the contrary the Emperor is really very ill. He is suffering, not from catarrh, but from an abscess in his ear, the worst which he has ever had. The physicians have been very uneasy and have prescribed for him absolute repose. In reply to a dispatch from Queen Victoria, the Prussian Count has explained that such repose was necessary on account of "very intense cerebral anæmia, followed by pain." It can be readily understood that the word "cerebral" has given rise to many comments.

An Adelaide despatch states that Frederick Deeming, alias Williams, resided there under the name of Wood and was the author of a gigantic robbery there.

"Three Days' Grace."

We have never asked it before.

We have always met the expectations of the public amply and promptly on time.

But we mean to make our spring opening in men's fashionable headwear a really stunning affair this season, and we have gone to unusual lengths of preparation for that purpose. All the very latest spring styles of the world's leading hat fashioners are now in. Nearly all the cases have been unpacked and we are now able to announce that on Friday next we shall have everything in readiness for the swell reception in new spring hats, to which we invite the attendance of every gentleman in this city.

Our spring display is of special interest to those who defer their choice until they have seen all that the kings of fashionable hatdom have created for the season, and they will find their patience amply repaid when they see the magnificent display of new styles at Dineen's spring opening on Friday.

THE STRIKE EXTENDING.

The Trainmen on the Pacific Division of the C.P.R. Go Out.

WINNIPEG, March 21.—Striking trainmen on western division of the C.P.R. have finally succeeded in inducing the trainmen Pacific division to strike; also the men there went out at midnight last night.

The statement is officially contradicted that the trainmen employed on the western division of the C.P.R. were required by Mr. Whyte to agree to abandon their organizations under penalty of being dismissed by the company. On the other hand Assistant Superintendent Whyte distinctly informed them that he did not wish them to withdraw from any organization, break any obligation or commit any dishonorable act. He laid stress upon the fact that there were only two points of difference between the company and the committee, compensation of conductors and detention time.

The G.T.R. Strike.

There is nothing new in connection with the G.T.R. strike. The trainmen's meetings at various centres Sunday unanimously agreed to leave everything in the hands of the officials of the organization at Montreal.

The following shows the wages received by the men and the increase asked for:

	Present wages.	Asked for.
Conductors (through trains)..	$2 50	$3 00
Conductors (accommodation and branch trains).....	2 30	2 50
Brakemen.....	$1 10 to 1 55	1 75
Freight conductors.....	1 75 to 2 15	2 50
Train baggagemen.....	1 50	1 90

The company offered the conductors on through trains an advance of 25 cents a day, but refused the other demands.

REBATE ON CANAL TOLLS.

The Government Not Liable for Goods Stolen From Its Warehouses.

OTTAWA, March 21.—In the Exchequer Court here to-day Justice Burbidge gave judgment in the case of the Queen v. the Ogdensburg Transit Company in behalf of the crown for $5347, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent. from Dec. 8, 1890. This was a case for damages against the steamer Haskell, which on July 29, 1889, ran into the head gates of lock 16 on the Welland Canal.

A decision of some importance to the traveling public was given in the Exchequer Court to-day. Sarah Dickenson sued the Government for certain goods, glacier diamonds, said to be stolen from the examining warehouse at Montreal. The damages claimed were $465. It was said the goods were stolen from the box in which they were shipped from London. The court held that the goods were not stolen while at Montreal, and even if they had been the Crown was not liable. Judgment was therefore given for the Crown with costs.

Perfected His Invention and Died.

OTTAWA, March 21.—Robert Romaine, clerk of the stationery department of the House of Commons and brother-in-law of Richard White of The Montreal Gazette, died here to-day. Deceased was in his 72nd year. Along with the late Mr. Thomas White he started The Peterboro' Review. One of his hobbies was an invention, which he had just completed before his death, called the steam farmer. This invention was to do away with the use of horses to a large extent on the farm. Deceased had been ailing for some time. He was a printer by trade and printed the hand bills which were sent out during the troublesome times of 1837 for the arrest of Papineau and Cartier in Quebec.

Hamilton's Mayor Not Dead.

HAMILTON, March 21.—There was great excitement in town yesterday and to-day over a rumor that was started nobody knows how, and which flew like the wind. The rumor was that Mayor Blaicher was dead, having died on the voyage from New York to Nassau. There was no foundation for the report whatever.

The Uncertainty of Life.

You are, perhaps, comfortably situated, and very careful in regard to securing your business or property against destruction by fire or water, but neglect to secure to your family in the event of your early death an amount which will at least be sufficient to give your children a fair education and place them in a way to earn their own living.

Though the hand of death has been laid on numbers of your acquaintances, still you remain blind to the possibility, and even probability, of a like misfortune occurring to your own family.

A good way of securing to your family an amount to protect them in case of your early death is to take out a policy of life assurance.

The North American Life Assurance Company of this city has some plans of insurance which will just meet your case, viz., protection for your family in case of your death and a desirable investment for yourself, if you live for a certain number of years. 246

CANADIAN ALIEN LABOR LAW.

THE HOUSE DIVIDED INSIDE OF THE PARTY LINES.

A Retaliatory Measure Directed Against the United States Which Does Not Meet With the Approval of the Government—The Debate Adjourned in Order That Labor May be Consulted.

OTTAWA, March 21.—The House found itself divided inside of the party lines today on the question of the Alien Labor Law introduced by Mr. Taylor of Leeds.

The act is laid down on the lines of the United States act, and its purpose is to prevent the importation of workmen into Canada under contract.

Mr. Taylor in introducing it said if they could not get reciprocity in labor with the United States the only resort was to adopt their own tactics towards them. He quoted quite a number of cases where Canadians were prevented taking employment in the United States under the provisions of the law of that country. He said that this was the third time he brought the bill forward; now he intended to press it to a division on the third reading.

Mr. Fraser, the giant of Guysboro, pointed out that the bill would prevent us from importing skilled labor in new industries, instancing the glass and steel works in New Glasgow, where it was imperative to get skilled labor from abroad.

Dr. Sproule thought that Mr. Fraser had not read the bill. The fifth clause specially provided for the importation of such labor under contract.

Sir John Thompson Opposes the Bill.

Sir John Thompson said he was aware that this measure was supported by a large class, but he failed to see that its adoption would benefit any class in the community. If we were suffering by the operation of alien labor laws he could not see, nor had they been shown, that the adoption of a similar law here would mitigate the application of the law in the United States. There would be no amelioration or amendment of its provisions. On the other hand, while it was just now the policy of the United States to restrict emigration to that country, it should be our object to attract emigration of a suitable kind. Mr. Fraser had pointed out another defect, and he could not see that the clause that had been quoted as covering that defect was at all clear or conclusive. It would be difficult for persons who require skilled labor to first ascertain whether there were not somewhere in the Dominion persons who filled that occupation. They were told that the bill before them was the counterpart of the American bill. He could not believe it, for it included all the features that had made the American measure the laughing stock of the civilized world. The committee that met two years ago had deplored and condemned the American law and now it was proposed that we should enact a law identical with it. Parliament would always be found willing to afford fair and proper protection to the workingman, but they could consent to no legislation which proposed to prevent men coming here at their own expense to engage in lines of employment. It was particularly undesirable that in the circumstances of their present relations to the United States any legislation of this nature should receive the assent of Parliament. He believed it was a subject capable of friendly adjustment, and representations of the harsh nature of the provisions of the United States labor law would be made by the Canadian Government. He moved the six months' hoist.

Mr. Laurier Coincides.

Mr. Laurier agreed in a large measure with what had fallen from the leader of the Government. The author of the bill had admitted that it was of a retaliatory character. He thought, however, that a convenient and propitious time to have protested against the American Act was during the recent visit of the Canadian Ministers to Washington.

Both Mr. Ryckman and Mr. McKay of Hamilton supported the bill. The latter said that the Government's policy of protection should be applied to the workingmen as well as to their masters.

Mr. J. D. Edgar opposed the bill and Mr. W. B. Ives of Sherbrooke supported it on the ground that we could not afford to be ignored by any higher moral considerations than our United States neighbors.

Mr. Mills of Bothwell also opposed the bill.

Labor's Voice.

Mr. Ingram, the labor representative of St. Thomas, was not prepared to endorse all the clauses, but the principle he could heartily support. The United States act bore heavily on Canadian workmen at Niagara Falls, Clifton and other points along the border. At St. Stephens, N.B., 700 men who earned their bread in the Canadian industries lived across the border in Maine. He asked that no vote be taken until they could hear from the representatives of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. They would be here in a few days.

He therefore moved the adjournment of the debate, which was accepted without demur.

At the opening of the House to-day Major Chapleau, Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, occupied a chair to the left of the clerk. On the table near him were piled the poll books and envelopes containing the ballots cast in the London election. Mr. Lister's motions calling for these passed in due order and in a day or two all the other documents will be brought down and then the scrap over the Cockney electoral fight will begin.

Mr. McMullen wants to know what irregularities Deputy Minister of Marine Tilton was guilty of and has moved for papers.

Mr. Perry is making enquiries in regard to the mooted tunnel under the Straits of Northumberland to connect Prince Edward Island with the mainland and we may expect a speech on the subject at an early day. It is only calculated to cost about $10,000,000.

Some Fun in the Senate.

Senator Boulton stood the Senate on its head again to-day. He had a question on the order paper asking whether the Government intended resuming the commercial status with Newfoundland. In putting the question he intimated that he intended reviewing the whole question, at the same time producing from the cavernous depths of his desk a stack of manuscript about a foot thick.

Basso Profundo Kaulbach tried to stem the torrent, with the result that a spirited debate took place on a point of order whether such a little question could consistently have such an enormous tail. The senators dearly love a point of order, and it was discussed with numerous quotations from Bourinot and May.

The enquiring senator came out on top. Then point after point was made and finally the Speaker ruled that the remarks were not germane to the question, and the senator had to subside truculently, promising to fire it off again on a substantive motion.

GAVE HIS OWN DEATH SIGNAL.

A Grand Trunk Employe Has Both Legs Cut Off.

LONDON, Ont., March 21.—Robert Maxwell is at the Rectory-street crossing of the G.T.R. to attend to the ash pans of the locomotives and reload the tenders. The engine attached to the through freight train from Point Edward to Toronto came along last night and he went down into the dumping-hole to clean out the pan. He turned the water on as usual to scour the place, and started to crawl out under the locomotive. When half way out he gave the word, "All right," to the driver, and the latter started the engine. Maxwell suddenly remembered he had forgotten to shut the water off. He started back, but the huge wheels had begun to move, and they passed over Maxwell's limbs, cutting off both his feet above the ankles. He was removed to the station and taken in the ambulance to the hospital, where he now lies. It is not likely he will recover.

CONSIDINE'S CAREER ENDED.

One of the Worst Criminals in Detroit Fatally Wounded in a Quarrel.

DETROIT, Mich., March 21.—Detroit's toughest citizen, Johnnie Considine, received the finishing touch in his career of crime Saturday night, when he received in the left breast a bullet which fatally wounded him.

While drunk Considine quarreled with H. A. McCarthy, inventor of the cash register. The men were separated, but later in the evening met in Swan's restaurant, where the quarrel was renewed. Here Considine's actions were so threatening that McCarthy finally pulled a revolver and fired at Considine. The ball entered his breast. Physicians announce that he can not recover.

Considine's career for the past 10 years here has been filled with sensational criminal exploits. He has been tried for murder, has been involved in numberless shooting and stabbing scrapes, has acted as a fence for big crooks operating in this city and vicinity.

Considine is well-known in Toronto. His sister left here for Detroit on Sunday to nurse him.

A Chinese Crew Drowned.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 21.—The steamer Zambesi, which arrived here yesterday from the Orient, brings word that eight of the Chinese crew of the steamer Alwine, which left Shanghai on Jan. 20 for wreck of the steamer Marie, near Chofoo, have been drowned. During the gale on the night of Jan. 27 the engineer, who was on the Marie, was unable to get back and the Alwine sent her lifeboat for him. It was capsized and the crew were drowned. The Alwine then put to sea, but afterwards returned to the wreck.

The Political Situation.

Except to the hidebound partisan the present wasted condition of the Federal Opposition is not a cause for rejoicing. That the members of the party at Ottawa, but more especially its leaders, deserve the condign punishment they are enduring we infeignedly believe, but so important for the country is a respected and influential Opposition that it is a matter for regret that the sins and blunders of the Liberals have robbed them of both respect and influence. A strong and well-officered opposition is scarcely less useful to the country than a strong and efficient government. The proposition that the leader of the opposition in Parliament should be paid has much to commend it, for if he is actuated by proper motives he is an incalculable force for good in the state. The present Opposition, however, with an ostensible leader personally pure and personably lovable, is dominated by political cynics whose time is chiefly taken up in sneering at the country and its institutions. Human nature in the aggregate is hopeful and cheerful and cannot be led by hypochondriacs and pessimists. It may be a vulgar and unphilosophic sentiment to love one's country better than any other country, but nevertheless it is a very natural thing for people of common clay like the most of us are to love the land that gave us birth and gives us bread. Those higher altruistic souls that must go abroad for subjects of affection and admiration will never gain the confidence of people as at present constituted. We do not believe the Liberal party as a whole is composed of this class of men. Such a supposition would be absurd, but it is nevertheless suffering from its connection with them, and it will never get over its present debilitated condition until it spews them forth and enters on the road to health and strength again. All true Canadians may well wish an early arrival of that day.

The Conservative party is strong, largely through the blunders of its opponents. It has had the advantage of being led by a man who, whatever his faults, was accurately acquainted with his fellowmen. He has been succeeded by men of his own choosing, of excellent capacity and of robustly Canadian sentiment. Under the guidance of these two captains the Conservative bark, which at the end of last session showed the effects of the storm, is now trim and steady with a full crew and sailing in summer seas. But success has its dangers as failure sometimes has its lessons. When winds are low it is a good policy to prepare for the gale, and the duty of the hour for the Conservative party is to strengthen itself in every legitimate way. The country needs many years of the sway of men who believe in it, who will not yield a jot of its independence, self-respect or rights, and the way to assure that continuance is to bring under the standard not alone patriotic Canadians, but able and upright Canadians, the ablest and most upright that can be found throughout the length and breadth of the land. Nor this alone, there should be a response on the part of such men to their country's summons.

We Canadians must be terrible fellows. The Americans fear if we were allowed one season's chance at the seals in Behring Sea that the genus phoca would become forthwith extinct. The sealeries that have largely supplied the world with the beautiful soft fur in such favor among the ladies, that have experienced the barbarous depletions of the Russians for a hundred years and the ruthless cupidity of the Americans for half a generation would melt away in one season's hunting by Canadians. Remember, too, that the Canadian vessels would have to do all their chasing on the high seas, being debarred from approaching nearer than three miles to the land. Verily these Americans are great humorists.

THE LAKE AND STRAITS YACHT ASSOCIATION.

Formation of The New Organization Completed Yesterday—Rules of The L.Y.R.A. Adopted—Prospect Park Curlers Easily Defeat The Caledonians—Local Turf Topics—'Varsity's Baseballists Begin Practice.

BUFFALO, March 21.—A meeting of Lake and Straits Yacht Association was held in the Iroquois Hotel this afternoon. There were present Commodore George W. Gardner, Cleveland Yacht Club; Commodore George W. Bills, Ohio Yacht Club of Toledo and Commodore Frank B. Hower, L. G. Northrup and F. L. Bennett, Buffalo Yacht Club. Mr. Hower represented the Citizens' Yacht Club of Detroit by proxy. The Michigan Yacht Club of Detroit and Toledo Yacht Club were not represented. In the Detroit organization there is a factional disruption and no delegates were appointed.

At the Detroit session some time ago the association was temporarily organized and to-day's meeting was held to perfect a permanent organization.

Commodore Hower made a motion and it was approved that the constitution, bylaws and sailing regulations of the Lake Yacht Racing Association be adopted with a few necessary amendments. The Ontario yachtsmen requested that their rules be adopted verbatim, so that they could come over here and participate in the Lake Erie races. The rules of the association call for an assessment of $25 on each club.

Gardner of Cleveland was elected president and Commodore. G. W. Bills, Toledo, vice-commodore, E. A. Davis of Citizens' Y.C., Detroit, acting-commodore; E. D. Miller of Michigan Y.C., Detroit, secretary; O. W. Burgess of Toledo Y.C., treasurer. Three delegates from each club constitute a Board of Management.

The first regatta will probably be held at Cleveland in August, the date and place, however, to be finally fixed by the Board of Managers.

The N.A.R.A. Regatta at Washington.

SARATOGA, N.Y., March 21.—At a meeting of leading citizens this afternoon under the auspices of the Saratoga Athletic Association, it was voted to accept the propositions made by President Garfield of the National Amateur Rowing Association regarding its holding its next annual regatta on Saratoga Lake in July next.

'Varsity's Ball-Tossers Have Their First Outing—Practice on the Lawn.

'Varsity's baseballists began their season's practice yesterday afternoon on the lawn. There was a good turn-out of candidates, including Moore, Sampson, Cameron, Gilmour and several promising freshmen. Capt. McIntosh was also on the campus and directed the players. Practice will be continued each afternoon, weather permitting, until the men are in proper trim to meet their first opponents. A new twirler has appeared. He is Brennan, who possessed all the curves and plenty of speed two years ago in Hamilton, but has not pitched since. He will be given a trial.

ICE SAILING ON THE BAY

Last Yacht Race of the Season—Akroyd's Swift Reindeer.

Referee—E. Hanlan.
Starter—G. S. Ewart.

The ice sailers closed a successful season yesterday by a race over their triangular course, starting at the foot of York-street. The distance was 30 miles, being 3 times around the 10-mile triangle.

G. Akroyd's Reindeer won the race handily and sustained her reputation as the fastest yacht in Toronto. The complete result was as follows:

G. Akroyd's Reindeer 1, Joe Gooding's J.G. 2, John Hanlan's Island Queen 3, M. Akroyd's Flyer 4, Sol Solomon's Dollie 5, T. Lundy's Volunteer 6. W. Ward's new boat did not finish.

The purse of $50 donated by W. O'Connor was divided into 1st, 2nd and 3rd, $25, $15 and $10. There was a big crowd present. The ice was the best of the season and the wind was suitable.

THE RUNNING TURF.

Some Local Pointers—About Mr. Seagram's String—Those Stalls.

Mr. Joseph Seagram was in the city yesterday. His lot of racers have wintered exceptionally well and he modestly hopes to repeat the Terror colt's last season's victory. Mr. Seagram has been unable to secure one of the O.J.C.'s new stalls, which he fully expected to occupy. A little favor instead of harsh treatment is certainly due the Waterloo turfman.

Denny Higgins Arrives.

D. Higgins arrived in the city yesterday from Prescott with Logan and Myfellow. Logan is a well-bred 4-year-old b. c., being by Voltigeur out of Plot. He was not raced last year and is expected to capture some good purses here in May. Myfellow will try to repeat his brilliant performance of last season.

A Promising Colt Dies.

MOBILE, March 21.—Ed Corrigan has lost out of his string of racers one of the most promising of the bunch. It is the colt Thrifty, out of Spendthrift, by dam Modesty. He was entered in numerous races, including the Fall and the Three-Year-Old World's Fair at Chicago next year, where the stake reaches $60,000.

He challenges anyone in Canada at 120 lbs.

Sixty-Two Years' Experience

Mr. Thomas Edwards of Birmingham, Eng., was for a number of years a great sufferer from rheumatic gout, sometimes being bed-ridden for six months at a time. He had tried various doctors and had used many so-called remedies in his effort to obtain relief, without avail. Finally, Mr. George Bellhouse, Chief of the Birmingham Fire Brigade, gave him a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, and from the first application he obtained relief from pain. Mr. Edwards is 62 years of age, and says he never found anything to equal it.

The Young Liberals.

The Young Liberals met last evening in Richmond Hall. Two motions, "That the Y.M.L. Club should advocate reciprocity with all countries" and "That the exigencies of the political situation demand that our tariff should be revised in such a manner as will secure for this country a full and free outlet for its productions of the mine, the farm and the forest." Much debating was done over these two motions and an excellent evening was passed.

Mr. J. L. Robertson will read his essay on the "Canadian Settler" before Beaver Lodge, Sons of Canada, in Temperance Hall, up stairs, Tuesday evening. This is an open meeting and the public are cordially welcome.

A general meeting of the Board of Trade will be held on Thursday, the 24th inst., at 3.30 p.m. for the purpose of discussing "whether an insolvency bill is advisable in the interests of the trade and commerce of the country."

A gospel temperance meeting was held in Broadway Hall last evening, addressed by Mrs. Owen Hitchcock of Paris. The licensing system came in for a vigorous attack. The meeting was largely attended and a number signed the pledge. The meetings continue for the rest of the week.

The monthly assembly of the Germania Society was held in their parlors in Wellington-street last night. A comedy entitled "One Must Marry" was produced in a very clever way by a dozen members of the society. After this came dancing, which was continued for several hours. About 100 couples enjoyed themselves and the whole affair was an entire success.

Colin J. Atkinson, the Hamilton lawyer who embezzled $25 from W. J. Hammond, was reported to have made restitution, and in consequence of the restitution the Magistrate committed him to jail for 10 days only. Yesterday morning the chief constable received a telegram from Chief McKinnon asking for the arrest of Atkinson on a charge of forgery, for which they held a warrant. He will be re-arrested after completing his term in jail.

The World young man yesterday visited the capacious warehouse of Hickson, Duncan & Co., 25 Front-street west, and found them busy selling bargains in fancy goods of all kinds. The trade will do well to take advantage of their liberal offer of 15 to 50 per cent. below usual values. This is a genuine dissolution sale and should not be missed. Their stock is right, consisting of druggists' and tobacconists sundries, musical instruments, toys, etc. Give them a call.

THE AMUSEMENT WORLD.

Helen Barry at the Academy.

Miss Helen Barry drew a good house at the Academy last night, when she appeared in the dual role of Lady Betty and the French chasseur in "A Night's Frolic." A synopsis of the play having already appeared in these columns, it is not necessary to describe it further than that it is a comedy of the ephemeral sort, which is likely to prove catchy. Miss Barry's parts, those of the world-knowing widow, Lady Betty, and the young French chasseur, she took with considerable skill. She created no end of fun in the third act in her frantic attempts to get out of an awkward dilemma. Miss Mary Shaw took the part of Mrs. Sophy Sedley, a jealous young wife, with credit, and Mr. Owen Westford appeared as Oakly Sedly, "married and settled, though not above a drive in the park," taking the part acceptably. Mr. Albert Fisher as Commodore Stanton, was an ideal, irascible old tar. The rest of the support was fair. The play will run for the week, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

"Wang" at the Grand.

The big elephant that plays such an important part in "Wang," DeWolf Hopper's successful opera, which will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House next Thursday, was the subject of much discussion by many who witnessed his life-like movements and lively antics during Hopper's long and brilliant engagement in the Metropolis. So much so that the management were in constant receipt of communications, in which the writers requested information relative to the pachydermatous quadruped that drinks beer with the evident ease and gusto of an old toper, and that reels and staggers about the stage with the precision of an old drunkard; while others desired information in order to decide bets, which the wonderful evolutions of Hopper's elephant had brought about. Another wrote: A gentleman resident of Boston and myself visited the Broadway Theatre last evening and witnessed the performance of "Wang." He declares that the elephant is a live one, and that it belongs to Forepaugh's circus. A wager is the result of a spirited controversy. Will you kindly answer, and in doing so, decide which is right? Mr. Hopper and his managers indulged in a hearty laugh at the contents of a letter received from a suburban brewer, in which he offered to furnish the elephant all the beer that he could drink, provided his brand would have a line on the house bill.

It can be truthfully said that the elephant is one of the biggest features in Goodwin & Morse's picturesque burletta, which has during the present season crowded the largest theatres in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other large cities. The sale of seats for the engagement begins this morning.

Manager Frank Kirchmer's benefit takes place a week from to-night. Mattie Vickers will be the attraction. It is said Mr. Kirchmer will play the hero in the piece.

Jacobs & Sparrows.

One of Steele Mackaye's pieces, "Money Mad," opened at this popular house last night to a large audience. The play was seen here last season at the Academy and made quite a hit. Although billed as a sensational drama it is not one of those blood and thunder gory plays. It contains most of the elements that go to make up the average melodrama. There is robbery, disguises, a counterfeiter's den and so on, but these scenes are well led up to and do not send a frosty chill through the audience. The scenes are all laid in Chicago and portray life among the "upper ten and lower five." In the fifth act (the principal one of the piece) is a representation of the Clark-street draw-bridge.

The company is headed by Miss Rhosa McAllister, whose name is familiar to play-goers. There are a number of well-known people in the cast. There will be a matinee this afternoon.

Moore's Musee.

The usual large crowd visited the Musee yesterday afternoon. In the lecture hall Clint Williams gives an exhibition with his performing bear. Texas Jack, the one-armed whittler, is a wonder. He carves all kinds of articles out of wood and displays great skill in his work. W. C. Hurd, the skeleton midget, is what might fittingly be called "nothing."

The show in the theatre is decidedly one of the best of the season. Sam Lang and Dolle Sharpe make a great sketch team and introduce many witty sayings and much unadulterated fun. The Gloss Brothers give a splendid reproduction of Greek and modern statuary. Dan Reagan in his negro comedy sketch makes a hit with the audience before he opens his mouth. He is armed with the ever-present banjo and creates any amount of fun. Alexander Wilson, the clever ventriloquist who delighted the Musee patrons last week, appears again and introduces many new jokes and laughable situations with the assistance of his unhappy family of stuffed dolls. Basco and Roberts appear last on the program and send the audience away convulsed with laughter. They are what are called elastic mid-air comiques and they lay introduce more jollity into their exhibition than any two men who have ever appeared in the Musee.

A REDUCTION IN WATER RATES.

The Mayor Knocked Out on the 15-Cent-an Hour Clause.

The time of the Waterworks Committee was taken up yesterday by a number of communications.

One of the discharged employes was, on Ald. McMurrich's motion, allowed a week's salary.

The Massey Manufacturing Company wrote asking for a reduction in the price of water by meter.

On motion of the Mayor the rate to manufacturers was reduced from 12½ cents to 10 cents per 1000 gallons.

Fifteen Cents an Hour.

In the tenders to be asked for coal the Mayor wanted a clause inserted compelling the contractor to pay the longshoremen 15 cents an hour.

Chairman Gowanlock, Ald. Leslie and McMurrich strongly objected.

Ald. McMurrich said it looked as if the mayor was sent to the council to look after the interests of one class of people.

Ald. Leslie thought the principle was wrong to interfere in any way with the wages paid by contractors.

Ald. McMurrich was beginning to think the Mayor was courting popularity.

Ald. Leslie said the 15-cent bylaw carried through the council was an injustice and did not give the older men a chance.

The Mayor had no objection to the alderman discussing any motion he brought up, but he did not want anyone to impute improper motives to him. There are a thousand people who are working in Toronto for wages that are not enough to keep them.

It is a Big Mistake.

Ald. Crawford did not think the 15-cent bylaw was sound legislation, and was against the direct interest of those it was intended to benefit.

The motion was lost, the Mayor and Ald. Carlyle voting for it.

St Alban's Pumping Station.

Ald. Atkinson addressed the committee and asked to have the station maintained and protested against the city parting with it as it was breaking faith with Parkdale.

The Mechanics' Lien Law.

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the office of Mr. G. M. Gardner to consider what amendments to the Mechanics' Lien Law ought to be made in the interests of the workingmen. Messrs. Yokes, Hill, O'Donoghue were appointed a committee to act with Mr. Gardner to draft the proposed new bill.

As Parmelee's Vegetable Pills contain Mandrake and Dandelion, they cure Liver and Kidney Complaints with unerring certainty. They also contain Roots and Herbs which have specific virtues truly wonderful in their action on the stomach and bowels. Mr. E. A. Cairncross, Shakespeare, writes: "I consider Parmelee's Pills an excellent remedy for Biliousness and Derangement of the Liver, having used them myself for some time."

Ontario Jockey Club Races.

The Ontario Jockey Club races will this season surpass all others. Lord Stanley and suite will be present, and will make his headquarters at the "Queen's Hotel." Gold Lac Sec, the finest brand of champagne in the world, will be on ice at all the leading hotels. ed

THE ASSIZES OPENED.

Names of the Grand Jury—List of the Prisoners.

The Criminal Assize Court was opened yesterday before Justice Falconbridge. Mr. W. R. Riddell of Cobourg was on hand to act as prosecuting attorney.

The foreman of the grand jury is Mr. Henry Duncan of York Township. The other jurymen are William McClure, Peter McNaughton, F. B. Philpot, Joseph P. Rogers, D. A. Rose and Thomas Selby from the city; and William Armstrong, A. G. Brown, B. E. Brown, William Cole, J. B. Elliott, W. H. Glass, Thomas Hool, George Johnston, A. E. Keffer, Samuel Lawrence, John Merrett and David Ratcliffe from the county.

Only five cases will engage the attention of the court this session. They are those of Thomas Jones, charged with rape; Catharine Rhodes, forgery; Smiley, Pirie and Orpen, keeping poolroom; John Thain and others, malicious injury to religious on the Vaughan-road.

The grand jury retired after the judge's charge to examine the bills placed before them by the Crown. This morning, if any true bills are ready, the court will proceed.

"Godesberger."

A natural sparkling Mineral Water that has gained a place in Her Majesty's household has lately been brought under our notice. "Godesberger" is its name, and the spring from which it flows is situated near the old Castle of "Godesberg," opposite the Seven Mountains of the Rhine, and is one of the oldest and most celebrated springs in Germany. This natural sparkling mineral water has been very favorably reported upon by several eminent analysts, who have testified to its beneficial properties, after having submitted to the exhaustive tests. We can only say that we have had an opportunity of tasting "Godesberger," and it is certainly the most pleasant mineral water that we have tried. It should certainly prove useful as a pick-me-up, and it blends well with wines and spirits, whilst to those suffering from nervous disorders, indigestion, gout and rheumatism, it is highly recommended. "Godesberger" has been regularly supplied to her Majesty the Queen of England for many years, and it is, we believe, the only natural mineral water for which a royal warrant of appointment has been granted. One of the advantages claimed for it is, that it is absolutely pure, it being entirely free from organic substances, as proved by the analysis of Dr. Redwood, which has been fully confirmed by Prof. Wanklyn, who says that "its saline ingredients are just those required to form an ideal table water." Dr. Redwood says: "It is in my opinion superior to any other table water at present known to me." With these high recommendations to assist it, a world-wide reputation, and an increasing sale in England, it will surprise those who have had an opportunity of testing the latest competitor with existing table waters, if in a short time the name of "Godesberger" is not as familiar in the mouths of millions as that of any other. "BULLIONIST."

London, Eng., Feb. 27, 1892.

I have tried, and like immensely, a table mineral water called "Godes-berger," which is bottled at the spring of the Rhine, opposite the dear cockney Drachenfels. It is a water that has been analysed and approved by Professors Redwood, Wanklyn and others, and is particularly good for people whose digestions are not in first-rate order, or sufferers from gouty tendencies and nervous disorders, because it contains soda in carbonate, sulphate, and chloride, forms traces of carbonate of iron, carbonic acid gas, and other alleviating and beneficial elements. It is equally pleasant to take alone, or mixed with spirits, champagne or wine, and so much does the Queen like it that she habitually has it on her table. THE OWEN ELECTRIC BELT AND APPLIANCE CO. POSITIVELY CURES THE FOLLOWING: Rheumatism, Sciatica, General Debility, Lumbago, Nervous Diseases, Dyspepsia, Varicocele, Sexual Weakness, Female Complaints, Impotency, Kidney Diseases, Liver Complaint, Lame Back, Urinary Diseases. Electricity, as applied by the Owen Electric Belt is now recognized as the greatest boon offered to suffering humanity. It is fast taking the place of drugs in all nervous, rheumatic and urinary troubles, and will effect cures in seemingly hopeless cases where every other known means has failed.

It is Nature's Remedy. The master triumph of this great science which we offer to the ailing and afflicted is the Owen Electric Body Battery, invented and patented by Dr. A. Owen of Chicago, who is recognized as one of the ablest electricians on the continent, and whose Electric Belt has no equal in this or any other country. It gives a continuous current of electricity which can be regulated both in quantity and intensity, and applied to any part of the body. It can be worn at any time, during working hours or sleep. Any person of ordinary intelligence can, with this body battery, successfully treat all chronic and many acute complaints. Any sluggish organ may by this means be roused to a healthy activity, thus checking disease before it gains a firm hold on the system.

Beware of Imitations. Our trade mark is the portrait of Dr. Owen, embossed on every gold medal Battery Belt and Appliance. Send for Illustrated Catalogue. Free. THE OWEN ELECTRIC BELT COMPANY, 49 King-St. W., Toronto, Ont. Mention this paper.

THE ENLARGING OF CEMETERIES!

Agents That Render This Necessary—An Agent That Fights Against the Work.

The following paragraphs, intended to have been printed separately in a Paris evening paper, were by some blunder so arranged that they read consecutively:

"Dr. X. has been appointed head physician to the Hospital de la Charite. Orders have been issued by the authorities for the immediate extension of the Cemetery of Mount Parnasse. The works are being executed with the utmost despatch."

In the following we can assure every reader of this paper that there is no typographical blunder. Owing to the introduction of worthless pills of all colors, and the great variety of liquid medicines and remedies so deleterious and injurious in their effects, it is an undoubted fact that our cemeteries in Canada are fast filling up with the victims of these common preparations. These so-called cures are a danger to the nation. They are made to sell, and the curing of disease is a remote consideration with the manufacturers.

We have, however, in our land an agency that works to snatch sufferers from the grave, and this mission is always faithfully and surely carried out. This wonder of science, known as Paine's Celery Compound, is actually taking up those whom physicians have put aside as incurable. It grasps such sufferers and renews the lives so nearly lost. It plucks from the burnings of disease and misery all those who are willing to live and quickly places them on secure and solid ground—even the rock of health.

No other medicine in the world has attained such a degree of eminence and no other can give such solid honest proofs of cures. It marches along to conquer and leaves blessings in its path instead of misery, devastation and death.

Paine's Celery Compound gives to every sufferer the promise of a sure cure and long life. It takes an honest and noble agent to effect honest and quick cures; this is done when Paine's Celery Compound is used.

MINISTERS AND TEMPERANCE.

They Will Not as a Body Take Action—Industrial Co-Operation.

The Ministerial Association met yesterday morning in the Y.M.C.A. library, Rev. J. Grant in the chair. The request of the W.C.T.U. regarding the more extensive teaching of temperance in the Sunday schools came up for discussion. It was decided to leave the matter for the various church courts and Sunday schools to deal with.

Rev. W. A. Hunter read a paper on "Industrial Co-operation," a sketch of the history of the movement from its inception in 1828, together with a consideration of its features. Under certain limitations, Mr. Hunter considered it to be the means by which the industrial reformation of the world will be effected.

There was some discussion, Rev. P. C. Parker giving an interesting account of the work in Rochdale, Eng., which had fallen under his personal observation.

Just as the meeting was about to adjourn, a young man unknown to the majority of those present tried to address the meeting. His proceedings were out of order, however, and the clergy sniffed the approach of a crank's address and he was quickly ruled out, whereupon he left in a huff.

At the next meeting Rev. Mr. Milligan will read a paper on "The Culture of the Imagination with regard to the Pulpit."

THE EMPLOYING PRINTERS.

Annual Meeting And Election of Officers—Satisfactory Reports.

At the annual meeting of the above association held in the Rossin House Friday evening, March 18, the following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

President—C. Blackett Robinson.
Vice-President—A. F. Rutter.
Secretary—H. Bruce Brough.
Treasurer—Daniel Ross.
Executive Committee: James Murray, chairman; Thomas Moore, secretary; W. F. Maclean, W. A. Shepard, Charles Taylor, J. Ross Robertson, James Dudley, S. F. Wilson, R. G. McLean, Thomas Todd, D. A. Rose, A. W. Croil, A. Apted.

Reports were presented by the secretary, treasurer and executive, dealing with the work of the past year and showed the association to be in a very prosperous condition. A number of firms were proposed for membership, also a striking committee to strike the various committees in connection with the holding of the convention of the United Typothetæ of America in Toronto the coming summer.

Baking Powder.

Why is it so much fuss is made over such a small matter as, for instance, confiscating a farmer's butter because the 1 lb. rolls are say ¼ of an ounce short weight, and matters of far more importance to the public are left unnoticed. As actual facts are at all times more convincing than mere ideas, a quotation is given from the Government analyst's report on Baking Powder: Bulletin No. 10, which says: "After careful analysis of alum phosphate powders the alum present, if not over-burnt, represents 7.95 per cent. of sulphuric acid. The excess of acid is combined with lime as terra alba." Any man or woman knows that a few grains only of sulphuric acid, taken in a little water, will speedily put an end to the pleasures and trials of an adult. "Terra Alba" is a solid, hard white clay, perfectly insoluble and indigestible, and when once taken into the stomach is likely to remain there.

Now, the Government knowing that a very large quantity of this miserable stuff is being fraudulently sold to the public as pure cream of tartar baking powder should make it compulsory to label the packets as follows:

"This is sold as a pure cream of tartar baking powder and warranted not to contain any alum, alum phosphate or anything injurious;" and "This is sold as an alum baking powder and warranted to contain sulphuric acid."

Packages so labeled would be all the protection against fraud necessary. All should use the "Borwicke" or "Princina" Baking Powder, both of which are absolutely pure cream of tartar powders. The "Borwicke" has the largest sale of all the powders sold in Toronto.

A Prize Puzzle.

If a frog is at the bottom of a well, ten feet deep, how many days will it take him to get to the top if he climbs up one foot each day, and slides back six inches each night?

One hundred dollars in cash will be paid to the person who sends the first correct answer to the above prize puzzle, an elegant pair of Diamond ear-rings in solid gold settings given to the one sending second correct answer. A complete education at business college given for fourth correct answer. An imported Music Box (playing six pieces) given for fifth correct answer. A silk dress pattern for each of the next five correct answers. A handsome parlor lamp to each of the next ten. AND A SOLID GOLD WATCH FOR THE FIRST CORRECT ANSWER FROM EACH PROVINCE. Every person answering must enclose four three cent stamps for two sample copies of the finest illustrated publication on this continent. We give these prizes simply to introduce it. Address, LADIES' PICTORIAL WEEKLY (22) Toronto, Can.

Service of Song and Readings.

The choir of Carlton-street Methodist Church will give another service of song and readings on Thursday evening next. Mr. Herbert L. Clarke will play several cornet solos and obligatos. Mr. S. H. Clark will read four selections. The choir will sing "The Heavens Are Telling," from the "Creation"; "Unfold Ye Portals," from the "Redemption," and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the "Messiah," and solos will be sung by Mrs. Scrimger-Massie, Mrs. Fred G. Cox, Mrs. D. E. Cameron, Master Theo. F. Gibson and others. Silver collection of 10 cents and upwards.

Millinery Opening.

Messrs. D. Grant & Co., 206 and 208 Yonge-street, will have their millinery opening to-day, to-morrow and Thursday. Mr. Grant's new stock is a fine one, comprising the contents of one hundred and fifty cases of millinery, mantles and dress goods.

THE RED-HAIRED FRAUD.

Dr. Wild Exposes Another Anti-Christ—He Also Talks About Dreams and Their Causes.

Dr. Wild took for Sunday morning's discourse the subject of "Dreams and Impressions of the Mind," and chose for a text Job xxxiii, 14-16.

The Doctor asserted that God does at times communicate with man through the agency of dreams, but as a general rule they might be traced to natural sources. He considered that in the science of psychology a great, and as yet little known, power was being brought to the light of intelligence, and that often imperceptibly the mind of one person influenced that of another. This perhaps was the case with the followers of Prince Michael, the Detroit fraud. Frequently, Dr. Wild said, interchange of thought and impressions of the mind had so controlled individuals, that they had mistaken such impressions for the prompting of the Holy Spirit and thus the divers religious beliefs had been instituted as emanating from God, when as a matter of fact they were a creation of the deluded individuals who first propagated them.

Some crimes, continued the doctor, might be traced to the secret yet potent agency of uncontrolable impressions, giving as instance, that of Mrs. Osborne in the late English jewelry case, with regard to whom, the medical testimony showed, she was more or less governed by this undiscovered influence.

The Red-Haired Fraud.

In the evening the aisles and pews were thronged to hear the doctor tackle "The Red-haired man of Rockford, Illinois." The speaker began by placing before the minds of his audience a vivid description of the humbug who had startled the quietness of Rockford, Ill., by his assertions of Messiahship. George Swainforth, which was the work-day name of the sanguine-haired fraud, wore usually a stand-up collar, a tremendous expanse of shirt front ornamented with diamonds, a belt with silver buckle attached about the waist and patent leather shoes.

This false Christ had a splendid residence ornamented with lawns and other modern conveniences, and in place of 12 apostles kept 12 young girls attired in white constantly about him. The recapitulation of these facts evidently aroused the wrath of the pastor, for he launched into invective against the law which would permit such a state of things, asserting that ere now children had been born into the world from these sinks of vice.

In other points the pastor's remarks were similar to last Sunday's discourse with regard to those who follow such Anti-Christs, and he wound up by speaking of persons who had thanked him for the influence that the former Sunday's sermon had had in preventing them from joining the Detroit camp of Prince Michael.

QUADRUPLETS A DAY APART.

Each of the Little Ones Will Have a Different Birthday.

DIGBY, N.S., March 21.—Mrs. Joseph Niler of North Range has given birth to four children during a period of four days. The first was born on Tuesday at noon, the second Wednesday evening, the third Thursday morning and the fourth Friday.

Together the quadruplets weigh 23 pounds and 4 ounces. All can kick vigorously and the mother is doing splendidly.

Worn and Wan and Weak and Weary.

Ho! ye women, worn and weary, with wan faces and so indescribably weak. Those distressing, dragging-down pains, and that constant weakness and wornness and weariness can be cured. For all such sufferers Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a panacea of inestimable value. As an invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system. For "overworked," "worn out," debilitated teachers, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic. As a soothing and strengthening nervine, Favorite Prescription is unequaled and invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms, commonly attendant upon functional and organic diseases. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Young Men's Liberal Club.

Mr. N. McCrimmon last night gave notice of the following motion: Resolved, That the cost federally and provincially of government in Canada is largely in excess of what it reasonably should be, and that among other means of reducing said expenditure the Senate should be abolished and a legislative union of some of the provinces should be had.

BUSINESS AT OSGOODE HALL.

Action for Seduction—Recalls the Fenian Raid—Requests Void to Societies—McKeown's Mortgages.

Acting-Master Winchester yesterday dismissed without costs, on consent of parties, the action of the Metropolitan Manufacturing Company against Rev. Doctor Wad-el-Ward to recover certain costs.

In the seduction action of James Chandler against William Lloyd a motion was made to dismiss the action for want of prosecution, but was refused. The plaintiff was, however, directed to proceed to trial at the next Toronto Assizes. The plaintiff asks $3000 damages for the seduction of his daughter.

In the action of John Gray against William Fahey, the plaintiff recovered judgment in February last for $418.72 and costs. Fahey is in receipt of $200 per annum from the Dominion Government for services rendered during the Fenian Raid, and this pension it is sought to attach to answer the above judgment. The garnishing summons was granted yesterday, and the question as to whether a pension is so attachable will be argued on the 28th inst.

Judgment was given by Mr. Winchester unseating Allen McDougall from the office of councillor of the township of Neebing, on the ground that at the time of his election he had a contract with the corporation. McDougall will have to pay the costs of the proceedings.

An order was made by the acting master in chambers allowing the Knights of the Maccabees of the World to pay half of the amount of a benefit certificate into court and discharging the order. The certificate was on the life of Fritz Biederman of Toronto, watch case maker, and was for $3000. This was to be divided between the two sons of the deceased, and one of them being under age and without a guardian the order was made for payment into court to his credit of $1000.

Judgment was given in the action of Kastner v. The Townships of Downey and Ellice on the motion that the defendants be ordered to pay the cost of the plaintiff's solicitor, the action having been settled without the knowledge of such solicitor. The motion was dismissed with costs to the defendants.

In the action of John Edman against the town of Walkerton the plaintiff sues for damages caused to him by a fall. The plaintiff is lying at the point of death and was examined a few days ago de bene esse. A motion was made yesterday to the master in chambers for an order for leave to amend the writ of summons and to have it declared that the examination of Edman may be given in evidence in any action brought by his family against the defendants in care of Edman's death before the trial of his action. In England the practice of perpetuating evidence is followed, but in Ontario is not in force. The result of the motion will be watched with interest. Judgment was reserved.

John Macdonald & Co. were added as defendants in the action of Gault Bros. to set aside the chattel mortgages given by McKeown & Co. just before assignment.

Chief Justice Galt yesterday gave judgment on the motion for construction of the will of the late Richard Senior of the village of Ayr. The testator gave certain bequests to his wife and relations and then directed that the residue of his estate, real and personal, be converted into cash and distributed equally among three societies, viz: The Methodist Missionary Society, the Presbyterian Missionary Society and the Upper Canada Bible Society. His Lordship holds that these three bequests are void so far as the realty or the proceeds thereof is concerned, and directs that all money so derived be distributed among the next of kin.

Before Chancellor Boyd a motion was made for leave to advertise for a lost legatee and leave was given on payment of the money ($600) to which he is entitled into court. Thomas Murphy attended Toronto University in 1884, but about that time went west and was not heard of after reaching Fort Arthur. If Murphy is not so found the money to which he is entitled may be distributed among his next of kin.

A DULL DAY AT THE LOCAL HOUSE.

Protection of Young People—Upper Canada College Returns—Medical Act Proposed Amendments.

Yesterday was blue Monday at the Local House with a vengeance. Very little business was done, and the little that was transacted was despatched with celerity.

Mr. Waters' bill for the protection of persons employed in places of business other than factories was read a second time and referred to a select committee.

Two of Mr. Gilmour's bills were read a second time. The first was to amend the Street Railway Act and the second provides for several amendments to the Municipal Act. The father of these pieces of legislation was disposed to allow them to pass without comment, but his complacency was confronted with loud cries of, "Explain, explain," from both sides of the House. Complying, he made several short explanations.

Mr. Meredith wished to know when the remaining returns in connection with the Upper Canada College matter would be laid before the House.

Mr. Ross: I understood that they had been all brought down.

Mr. Meredith: No. There is an order-in-council, approved by the House in March last, which was not contained in the return presented.

Mr. Ross: I instructed the clerk to submit all the orders in question, and supposed that my wish was complied with. I shall have to investigate the omission.

Notes from the House.

A largely signed petition was presented to the Legislature yesterday afternoon from the practising physicians in Ottawa, Gananoque, Pembroke, Almonte, Renfrew, Westport and Metcalfe, praying that no alteration would be made to the Medical Act. The reasons for such a wish were specified at great length.

James Cullen, Pool's Island, N.F., writes: "I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its introduction to this place, and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of nose; while not a few of my rheumatic neighbors (one old lady in particular) pronounce it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a sponsor, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child."

The Marsh Once More.

The Executive Committee yesterday listened to J. K. Kerr, Q.C., who appeared for the Mimico Electric Railway Company, who have a bill before the House asking the right to expropriate two small parcels of land to enable them to enter the city by overhead bridges. Some of the members were in favor of trying to effect some sort of a compromise with the company. However, a motion went through instructing the City Solicitor to oppose the clauses in the bill which affected the city's interest.

The Mayor brought up the Ashbridge's Bay matter again by moving "that the solicitor be instructed to appear before the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature and have the clause in the agreement or bill, which proposed to give the Colonel Alexander syndicate the right to purchase the lots of Ashbridge's Bay, struck out."

Ald. Leslie wanted the Mayor to add the words: "That the case of the fee simple be left to a vote of the people."

The Mayor said he had no objection to it going to the people, but thought it was spending $3000 or $4000 for nothing.

Ald. Crawford agreed with him.

The motion carried.

Bringing Them Back.

In 1890, when the Barings failed and during the financial crisis which followed, the city needed money but was unable to place its bonds on the London market. Bonds to the amount of £900,000 were hypothecated with the National Bank of Scotland as security for a loan of about half a million dollars. The City Treasurer has made arrangements for redeeming these bonds. They will be returned to Toronto and held as an investment of sinking fund money, which will be collected with this year's taxation.

r. John McCarthy, Toronto, writes: "I can ntatingly say that Northrop & Lyman's able Discovery is the best medicine in the It cured me of Heartburn that troubled over thirty years. During that time I rrow many different medicines, but this ll medicine was the only one that took l rooted out the disease."

Gossip From Chicago.

Estimated hogs to-morrow 26,000.

Estimated cars to-morrow: Wheat 280, corn 1000, oats 315.

Kennett, Hopkins & Co. to R. Cochran: Wheat opened easier on the fine blanket of snow over the growing crop and milder temperature. The expectation that visible would decrease upwards of 200,000 bushels held the market steady for a time, but prices gave way when it became evident that there would be an increase. Partridge is supposed to have bought near 200,000 bushels, covering the line he sold Saturday and Friday. Closing cables are indifferent. Clearances light, new export slack, and it is hard to see anything to advance Chicago, while Duluth has such immense stocks and continues to undersell us. Their wheat is not only better but is deliverable on New York contracts, while our grades are not. It is expected the amount on ocean passage will show a good decrease, as the world's shipments have fallen off 1,200,000 for the week, as compared with the previous week. Corn and oats trade light and featureless. The small changes in visible helped to sustain prices. The export demand for corn seems to be falling off, while receipts are increasing. Provisions have been heavy all day and close weak, but on their merits they ought to be a purchase. There is no speculation and no outside support.

Henry Allen to John J. Dixon & Co.: The stock market continues dull. Nowhere is there any live interest in any part of it. One or two cliques make an occasional spurt and try to mark up quotations, but they do not effect much. The public is just as shy as it has been at any time during the last year. Half a dozen unpleasant factors are in the situation, any one of which might cause more or less consequential decline. All the strong interests of the street are, however, undoubtedly allied with bull interests. Most of the important banking houses still have large jags of bonds to sell. They are playing a waiting game. They see no opportunity to put prices up in any such way as to enable them to unload, and consequently they are directing all their energies to the maintenance of current prices. The general manager of one of the most important systems in the Northwest writes: "I presume you have noticed by the papers that the Santa Fe, on account of the alleged action of the Alton, is attempting to reduce the rate between Chicago and St. Louis. If the reported reduction is made I am afraid it will include Chicago to Kansas City and ultimately Chicago to Omaha and possibly Chicago to St. Paul. I regard the present controversy as being very serious."
