Chicago Gossip.

J. P. Bickell & Co. had the following at the close: Wheat—Clear weather southwest, favorable weather northwest and in Europe and lower foreign markets have aroused a widespread bearish sentiment to-day. Prices have weakened materially under the pressure, as the market has again been narrow and of limited absorptive capacity. The slow cash trade, domestic and export, has counted against values, but there are indications that the declines have started a little business in this direction. Export sales aggregating 16 loads were reported to-day, of which 8 were from here, the latter of old hard winter at about 9c over July delivery, f.o.b. Chicago. Sales of a smaller quantity of No. 2 red winter also made here for shipment at 5c to 5 1-2c over July. New wheat is moving in small quantities to the Baltimore market and to some of the interior markets in Kansas. Many of the advices from the southwest indicated that damage from recent wet weather was not as large as had been anticipated, also that there was much offsetting benefit on uplands where yields were good. Liverpool prices were relatively weaker than here. Cables reported beneficial rains in Australia and in drought section of Southeast Russia.

Corn—Was higher early on some little outside buying of distant futures, but it reacted later in sympathy with wheat and on realizing sales by scattered longs. Buying has been somewhat overdone in the last few days and profit-taking was natural. Crop reports were as mixed as heretofore, probably more favorable reports than on recent days. Cash demand slack at the advanced prices. General speculative trade light.

Oats—Advanced sharply at the outset on an unexpected rush of buying orders from local speculators and from miscellaneous commission houses. The top figures were not maintained, as the wheat slump finally led to attempts on the part of the early local speculative buyers to unload. Crop reports were more unfavorable than heretofore, but the buying orders did not keep up all day.

DEAF MUTES GATHER TO HOLD CONVENTION

Mayor Oliver Extends a Civic Welcome to a Truly Unique Gathering at Convocation Hall.

A deaf mute giving a presidential address to the eleventh biennial convention of a large and highly intelligent association was the novel feature of the gathering at convocation hall on Saturday night. The meeting was the first of a series to continue thru the week, for which an elaborate program is outlined. Each morning at 8 o'clock except Sunday a committee will meet and prepare the special program of the day.

The convention opened on Saturday evening with prayer, a recitation of "The Maple Leaf," an address by Mayor Oliver and a reply thereto and the president's address.

The president, George R. Reeve of Toronto, who has been trained to speak vocally, had prepared a most interesting account of the work of the association, and of its members, touching feelingly on those who had passed away.

The object of the association is to bring together all deaf-mutes of suitable age and intelligence at appointed meetings to afford opportunities for consultation on all matters of interest to them, and otherwise endeavor to devise means for the promotion of the moral and intellectual well-being of those concerned.

Mr. Reeve pointed out that the meeting was the fiftieth anniversary of the first school having been opened for the deaf in Ontario. This was in a small building on Spadina-avenue.

References were made to services rendered by John T. Shilton, Byron E. Walker, Robert Matnison, Dr. C. B. Coughlin and Paul Denys, the latter having labored for 33 years in this field.

John T. Shilton, who is the only deaf person going to the university, has successfully passed his third year's examination at Victoria, and he was congratulated by the conference on his preseverance and ability. He expects to take the B. A. degree next term.

The president recommended that the name of the Ontario Institute for the Deaf and Dumb be changed to that of Ontario School for the Deaf.

The employment of deaf mutes by the federal postoffice department has proved to be a very successful undertaking, and this opening for work for those limited in other ways is much appreciated.

A street car ride has been arranged for Monday by the city, when the delegates will tour around Toronto. They will also be entertained to luncheon at High Park.

On Thursday a moving picture exhibition will be given them at the Conservatory of Music.

About 300 delegates are expected from the United States and Canada. Five have come from New Brunswick and a number of others from the Maritime Provinces.

DULNESS IS WELCOMED FOR FUTURE ACTIVITY

Markets For Cobalts Are Firm, But Dealings Show Signs of Falling Off.

World Office,
Saturday Evening, June 20.

The action of the mining securities at the two Toronto markets the past few days would lead to the impression that a period of less activity might be in sight for the next few weeks. In some parts of the market it is thought that this would be welcomed because it would provide a surer foundation for a big strengthening in quotations with the revival which is universally looked for in the fall. It is not expected that a toning down of the transactions would have any harmful effects upon prices, owing to the small amount of the various securities now held by speculators pure and simple. On the whole prices have made steady progress toward betterment during the week. Foster is the most prominent feature of the opposite. The rumors which were circulated regarding this company several weeks ago are still having their influence, and confidence in the stock will not be thoroly restored again until the company can give a definite and satisfactory statement of the intrinsic value of the property. The declaration of a second dividend on Temiskaming and McKinley—Darragh stocks has served to give the market a basis of investment which has hitherto been lacking, and every fresh addition to the dividend list will help further in this direction. It was stated at the end of the week that within a short time blocks of the leading issues in the market will find their way to the London Exchange. Particular reference in this regard is made in LaRose. Plans for the transference to the London market of a large part of the issue have already, it is stated, been completed. The discovery of an important vein on Nipissing accounted for another small movement in these shares during the week, but it is still contended by those who are in close contact with the market that the strongest kind of opposition is being put in the way of allowing these shares to advance. The expected issue of Chambers-Ferland stock was not able to be made during this week as expected, but it is now understood that a few days will see these shares on the market. The favorable opinion pre-conceived of this property has kept many from purchasing other securities, and it appears certain that a big demand will eventuate for the stock as soon as transactions can be made regularly in the market.

New York Curb.

R. R. Bongard (Chas. Head & Co.) reports the following transactions in Cobalt stocks on the New York curb:

EVERYTHING NOW POINTS TO A GREATER ACTIVITY

La Rose and Chambers-Ferland Flotations Have Provided the Needed Impetus.

COBALT, June 19.—(From the Man on the Spot.)—Two Pullman cars are now needed to accommodate the people coming into camp and everything points to great activity in Cobalt.

The La Rose and the Chambers-Ferland flotations have given the needed impetus and these, backed by heavy shipments and big dividends, which the La Rose will assuredly make, and the other will follow suit, mean a great Cobalt revival.

New dividends are appearing. The World to-day publishes dividend notices from Buffalo, McKinley-Darragh, Crown Reserve and City of Cobalt. The last two are new payers of divends. The former has declared an initial dividend of 2 per cent., while the latter pays what is intended to be a regular 3 per cent. and 2 per cent. of a bonus.

The other dominant feature and one of the greatest importance to the camp is the daily increasing evidences of values at depth and the proof of great faulting planes stretching across the Nipissing into Peterson Lake over into to King Edward and other similar massive veins which make the rich veins in different sections of the camp.

One eminent engineer in making his report on the Chambers-Ferland property says of it: "It surrounds the La Rose and is in turn surrounded by Nipissing and O'Brien—three of the greatest silver mines in the world." No greater testimony could be given to the doubter of La Rose's weal.

To-day at the Silver Cliff, over on the shore of Cross Lake, another great discovery has been made and another proof given of the extension of the great Nipissing vein. Messrs. Barnett & Rinaldo MacConnell have been working this property in a mild way. Six to eight men have been employed. The work has been altogether by hand. A tunnel was run into the bluff from the shore of the lake for 75 feet, when a narrow vein was encountered. This vein tho narrow had good values and drifting has been done on it for 200 ft. Yesterday the vein widened to between four and five feet and is heavily mineralized with leaf and ruby silver.

Supt. Allen Fraser and Chas. Johnston are in charge of the work and a first-class plant will be installed.

Cross Lake Section, it is now evident, will make good. This is another proof that the old miner's statement that "silver is where you find" is a good one.

The Silver Cliff has already shipped 20 tons this year and another shipment will shortly be made.

The property consists of nearly 40 acres north of the King Edward and on the shore of Cross Lake.

This discovery is very encouraging for the Cross Lake Mining Company. The members of this syndicate include two well-known Cobalters and good development has been done by them for over a year. Steady and persistent efforts in Cobalt as a rule are rewarded. Messrs. R. F. Kellock, Carl Reinhardt and Alf Morris of Montreal are the largest shareholders in this company and have located 15 veins, which will now be worked with greater energy than ever. Their property has been greatly increased in value by recent discoveries.

The output of the camp steadily increases and not only is the tonnage higher, but the values and shipments are higher.

During the first five months of 1908 over 7500 tons of ore have been rent from Cobalt mines to the smelters. This is an increase of 3000 tons over the output for the corresponding months of 1907.

La Rose leads with a total tonnage of over 1500 tons. The first five shippers in that period are La Rose, O'Brien, Nipissing and Tretheway. A table is being prepared that has been carefully checked showing the output of each Cobalt mines to June 1, 1908.
