was seen to enter a back building of the Bowery Theatre a few days since, at about noon, and that the mother on going to the theatre was told that her child was not there. The police went to the place and found the child dead in a large pine box. The inmates of the house were then conveyed to the station house. It is surmised that the child had been killed for the purpose of being sold to the doctors.

Papers from New Orleans inform us that a battle took place between the Texian Troops and the Indians, on the 15th July, in which the former claims the victory, having two killed and several wounded. The official account states that the battle commenced near sunset, which prevented the troops pursuing the Indians.

HAY'S LINIMENT.

Mr. Truro.—I was induced to procure a bottle of "Hay's Liniment," advertised by you as a certain cure for a complaint (the Piles) that I had been unceasingly afflicted with for more than twenty-six years. Mine may be considered to have been an aggravated case; from the length of time it had been upon me, my strength was failing and my sufferings not to be described.

For the benefit of those in like manner afflicted, I with much satisfaction add my testimony to the evidences already in your possession, and say, that a second bottle has not been entirely used, and I consider myself perfectly cured. I am in a manner doubly happy in making this declaration, because years since, medical men have told me that mine was a case without remedy or relief.

I withhold my name from the Public, but let it suffice that I have full faith in the application, and have no doubt that with the first bottle my cure would have been complete, had I adhered strictly to the directions, and "confined the contents of the bottle" to my own use.

In justice to your recommendation of the article, I must acknowledge that I almost immediately felt the salutary effects I desired, and I confess shared the use of the first bottle with a friend who I knew was afflicted, and I have the satisfaction to say was relieved perfectly from the complaint by that means.

You may with confidence assure any enquirer that the preceding are facts to be relied on, and for which purpose I send you my name for reference, that any person who calls upon you may be perfectly satisfied. Your's, &c.
