FROM ALL OVER THE MARITIME PROVINCES

Saturday, July 1.

This week weddings have been the all absorbing topic. Those which took place in the city and adjoining counties were interesting from a social point of view and to relatives, friends and acquaintances at large. As a rule invitations to these functions were limited in number, owing to various causes. In some cases it was because of mourning in the family. Others preferred a quiet wedding because of the early hour at which it was necessary to have the ceremony performed in order to catch a particular train or boat; again others wished to go forth into the new life from the bosom of their own immediate family circles. Suffice it to say that whatever the reason each fair bride having been duly consulted, her wishes were carried out with happiest results.

Notable among the fashionable June weddings was that which took place in Germain street church at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Annie Alexander Barnaby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hazen Barnaby, Princess street, and Mr. Thomas Escott Ryder, manager at St. John for the Canadian Fairbanks Company, were married by the Rev. F. S. Porter, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large number of invited guests and other friends, in the body of the church. The sacred edifice had been beautifully decorated for the occasion. Across the platform on which the pulpit stood a screen of palms was placed. At the base of these were hundreds of white marguerites, the pure white of the flowers mingling beautifully with the dark tropical foliage of the palms. White linen had been stretched from the door up to the prie-dieu which was covered with white satin. Here the bridal couple stood during the solemn marriage service. The full choir was present and assisted with the music, rendering The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden as the bridal party entered the church and O Perfect Love during the ceremony. The bride's costume was unusually lovely, consisting of white duchesse satin, the bodice of duchesse lace in surplice effect, panel of lace down the front to the hem of the skirt; also one extending down the back and into the long train. Between the panels was tucked maline. The sleeves were of satin covered with rich lace and undersleeves of maline edged with pearls. The bridal veil was caught with a coronet of orange blossoms and a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern was carried. The only jewelry worn was a very elegant diamond and pearl necklace, the gift of the bride's mother. Miss Marjorie Barnaby, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore an exquisite Paris gown of pink satin veiled with pale blue ninon and trimmed with Irish lace. She wore an Irish lace coat and Dutch hat of Irish lace over blue and having bandeau of pink rosebuds. Outside, at the left of this dainty creation, was a cluster of white plumes. She carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. Very charming were the little flower girls, Miss Betty Harrison and Miss Ruth Thomson, cousins of the bride. Both wore white French muslin and lace frocks and picturesque little bonnets with under wreaths of forget-me-nots and pink rosebuds, each carrying baskets of the same delicate flowers.

Mrs. Barnaby wore a particularly handsome gown of black and white ninon over purple satin, trimmed on bodice and skirt with beautiful black Spanish lace, hat of purple and white lace trimmed with white ostrich feathers. The ornaments were diamonds. The groomsman was Mr. F. C. Gates, and Mr. Howard P. Robinson, Mr. S. Allen Thomas, Mr. John Sayre and Mr. H. O. Barnaby were ushers. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents. The floral decorations were on a most elaborate scale throughout the entire house, consisting principally of bride roses, carnations, southern smilax and sweet peas. In the drawing rooms and dining room the mantles were banked with fragrant flowers, the bride's table having quantities of bride roses as decorations, had as centre piece a beautifully ornamented wedding cake. Senator Ellis proposed the bride's health, to which the groom responded. Judge Forbes toasted the host and hostess, Mr. Barnaby responding. The bridesmaid's health was responded to by Mr. Gates. Many and beautiful gifts were received by the bride and bridegroom, the groom's gift to the bride being a handsome diamond and pearl ring. When it was time to depart the bride, wearing a light fawn tailored suit with hat to match, stepped into the automobile followed by the groom and amidst cheers and confetti the happy couple sped away to Coldbrook, where they caught the train to Montreal, thus auspiciously beginning the long and happy life which their numerous friends hope is in store for them. Among those at the wedding reception were Mrs. John Thomson, aunt of the bride, in handsome black lace over white satin, black toque with white osprey; Mrs. Alexander Thompson, also the bride's aunt, black satin with handsome lace and jet trimmings, violet hat; Mrs. Walter Harrison, cousin of the bride, white lingerie gown over pink, white hat with pink rosebuds; Mrs. James F. Robertson, black and white chiffon with touches of coral velvet, handsome black hat with roses and coral trimmings; Mr. and Mrs. James Manchester, Senator and Mrs. Ellis, Dr. and Mrs. Inches, Judge Forbes and Miss Homer, Mrs. Harvey Morton (Trinidad), Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rankine, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rankine, Mr. and Mrs. R. Keltie Jones, Mrs. Fen Fraser, Mrs. Norman Guthrie (Ottawa), Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schofield, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. F. Caverhill Jones, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Sancton, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Pauley, Mr. and Mrs. George Hegan, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Puddington, Mr. and Mrs. John Magee, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence deForest, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Schofield, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barker, Mr. and Mrs. James Seeley, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Fowler, Mrs. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harding, Mrs. Kent Scovil, Mr. and Mrs. Willian Vassie, Miss Curtis, Miss McMillan, Miss Laura Hazen, Miss Lou Girvan, the Misses Hegan, Miss Clara Schofield, Miss Ethel Emmerson, Miss Edith Skinner, Miss Ena MacLaren, Miss Alice L. Fairweather, Miss Ethel McAvity, Miss Janie Stone, Miss Jennie Robertson, Miss Ethel Robertson, Mr. James F. Robertson, Mr. Alex. Thompson, Mr. E. Peters, Mr. Fred Peters, Mr. Louis Simms, Mr. Ronald McAvity.

Other weddings of interest to friends in St. John were that of Miss Edith Cleveland Carter, only daughter of Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education, and Mr. Wilfred Hanbury, of Bandon (Man.), son of Mr. John Hanbury, of Vancouver (B. C.), which took place in the Cathedral at Fredericton, June 28. On the same day at Newcastle the marriage was celebrated of Miss Bessie Ferguson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, and Mr. Harry Dean, formerly of Yorkshire, England, now director of the Halifax Conservatory of Music, Halifax. In St. Luke's church, Woodstock, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Elizabeth Honard Neales, youngest daughter of Mrs. Thomas Neales and the late Ven. Archdeacon Neales, and Rev. Douglas Haviland, rector of Grand Falls and Edmundston Episcopal churches. The ceremony took place on June 28.

St. John friends were interested in the marriage of Miss Louise Murray, daughter of Capt. E. S. R. Murray, and Mr. Samuel B. Hatheway, of Fredericton, which took place on Wednesday morning at an early hour in St. Luke's church, Maine street. The guests included only the very near relatives of the bride and groom. The bride was gowned in a tailor-made costume of light fawn broadcloth with hat to match. Many handsome gifts were received in evidence of the popularity of both bride and groom. After a honeymoon trip through Nova Scotia Mr. and Mrs. Hatheway will reside in a beautiful home just above Fredericton.

The High school closings at St. Vincent Convent and at the High school on Union street were as attractive as usual. Mr. Frederick Manning was the valedictorian at the High school on Thursday morning. At St. Vincent's this year the valedictory address was omitted, a farewell chorus taking its place. On Thursday evening the Alumni association of the High school and St. Vincent's Alumnae association gave receptions. At the High school auditorium an informal dance was enjoyed, the innovation proving a most popular one. Several old students were present, nearly every class graduated since its establishment being represented. The school orchestra was present. Refreshments were served. The reception committee was composed of Mrs. J. V. Ellis, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. H. S. Bridges and Miss Jessie Lawson. Dr. D. Malcolm acted as floor manager.
