LIVE STOCK MEN AND RAILWAYS CANNOT MAKE AGREEMENT

Railway Commission Board Will Have to Step in to Decide in the Dispute About Equitable Freight Rates for Live Stock.

RAILWAY BOARD LIKELY TO ORDER REDUCTIONS

But May Also Order Increase in Freight Rates in Eastern Canada; Both Questions Coming up for Consideration at Next Meeting of Board.

Ottawa, June 11.—After two years of unsuccessful negotiations between live stock men and the railways the question of live stock transportation contracts will come up before the railway commission June 18 for final decision. After the matter was last up before the board it was placed in the hands of the committee of shippers and railway men who have been discussing it ever since.

As far as can be learned, however, no agreement has yet been come to and the board will probably have to do the deciding. A number of questions besides the mere matter of rates will be discussed, regarding the delivery of cars and other such matters.

The live stock matter will come up following the Western rates case, which is also down for June 18. The latter will probably last a week or more and it is considered probable that it will be finished at this session. The opposition has been hammering at the government during the last session for the length of time the question has already been taking since it was first brought up two years ago, and it will therefore, if possible, be concluded.

It is considered as possible that the board will, in spite of the railway's contention that increased cost of operation in the west justifies a higher rate, order some measure of reduction. It is possible also the eastern rates may at the same time be raised to remove the discrimination alleged to exist. The final decision of the board is not likely to be given for some time, however, as an immense amount of new evidence will be submitted next week.

ARE CHINESE MORAL IN CANADA; DOMINION PARLIAMENT TO BLAME

Doubtful of Cock Fighting

His lordship then gives his opinion that the only games which in this jurisdiction are unlawful per se, that is, irrespective of whether they are played in a common gaming house or not, are cock fighting (perhaps though he doubts it) and lotteries and some cognate offences defined by the criminal code.

Fan-tan, declares the judge, is a game of chance or of chance united with skill. The bank, it appears, is not for one group of players exclusively and there was no evidence that the chances of all players, including the banker, were not equal, unless for the temporary chance of being banker constituted in itself an inequality of chances.

Fan-Tan Is Lawful

If the bank was not held exclusively for one player or one set of players the game was not per se offensive. If the bank went by rotation there was a constant moving of the banker chances. The section 985 of the criminal code mentioned certain games that were unlawful no matter where played. Fan-tan was not unlawful in that way.

As to the matter of the police search of the house the judge held that the entry was not proved to have been made on a warrant. There had been no obstruction shown by the persons in the house and the authority to enter was not shown. If there had been any costs allowed in the action he would have given them to the defendants as the police broke the furniture in the house without cause.

Concluding, says the judge, "The learned police magistrate concludes his written reasons for his decision by some remarks which suggest an abnormal amount of immorality among the Chinese in this country and attributes this to the fact that 'these people are here without their women.' No doubt he is voicing a common view, as to the fact and its cause. But who is responsible for the cause? How many of the Chinamen, who come to this country can afford either to return to marry or arrange for the coming of a prospective wife when the head tax on the woman is $500. The blame for the cause of the alleged abnormal amount of immorality, it seems to me, lies with the Dominion parliament."

Joseph Shaw appeared for the crown in the appeal and A. A. McGillivray for the defendant.

JAPANESE ARREST YACHT OF AMERICAN CITIZEN

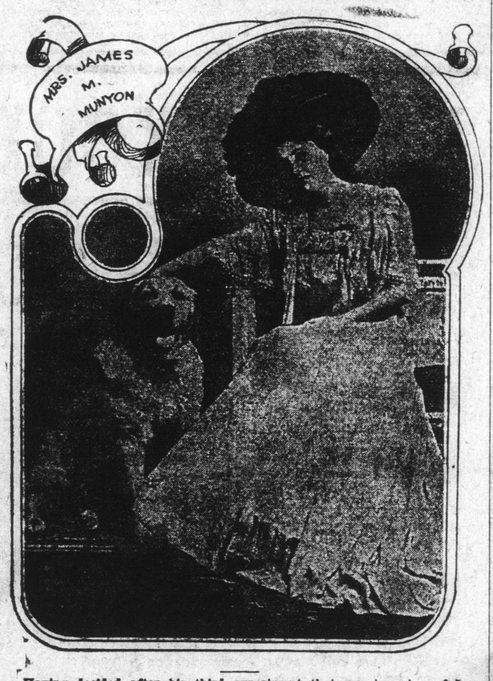
But Nothing Will Come of It and Action Is Not Unusual One In Any Country

Tokio, June 11—The American yacht Columbia was arrested today when she put in at Wakayama for repairs. Wakayama is not an open port. She was on a voyage from Nagasaki to Yokohama.

The yacht Columbia, which belongs to James Ladew, of the New York Yacht club, left for a cruise in Oriental waters in November, 1912, is believed to be the vessel whose "arrest" at Wakayama, Japan, is reported in a cable dispatch.

The detention of the vessel, it is thought in yachting circles, was probably brought about by her entering a port where there was no customs house. A similar course is taken by the authorities of any country under similar circumstances.

DR. JAMES M. MUNYON SEEKS TO BE FREE FROM HIS ACTRESS WIFE



Having decided after his third experiment that marriage is a failure, James M. Munyon, a manufacturer of patent medicines, filed an action for divorce against the actress to whom he was married in 1908, when he was sixty-two years old and she only twenty-four. The third Mrs. Munyon before her marriage was Pauline Neff Metzgar.

Mr. Munyon's first wife was named Clayton. She conducted an employment agency in Philadelphia. A divorce decree ended that romance.

The second Mrs. Munyon was Miss Dora Harvey, sister of Dr. Charles M. Harvey, a Philadelphia physician. She obtained a divorce several years after the marriage.

The third Mrs. Munyon originally appeared in vaudeville as Pauline Neff. She went to Santa Fé, N. M., and was married there to Carl Metzgar, a young engineer. After she obtained a divorce from him she returned to her father's home in Altoona, Pa., but soon went back to the stage. Mr. Munyon met her in 1907, and a year later they were married one night in Jersey City, N. J.

SCHOOL POPULATION OF MEDICINE HAT GROWS APACE

Contract for Two New Cottage Schools Let; New Connaught School to Open in Fall

Medicine Hat, June 11—In a rapidly growing city like Medicine Hat, the managers of the several institutions find themselves often confronted with pressing need for enlargement and expansion. This place at this time is no exception. At a regular meeting of the local school board held last evening, in order to relieve the congestion in the schools, it was decided to erect two cottage schools at once on the north side of the river, the contract being awarded to Percy Taylor for $8,150, the location being in Riverside subdivision. These will be the first schools on that side of the river, but it is expected that one will be required on the north hill at no distant date.

The school building inspector reported that the new Connaught school, the corner stone of which was laid by the Duke of Connaught last October, will be far enough advanced to be occupied by the opening of the fall term next September—which will also tend to relieve the crowding the other schools. This structure, modern in every detail, will cost $110,000, and will be a fine addition to the present list of school structures in Medicine Hat. Besides this, it is the intention of the school board to proceed with the plans of the new and up-to-date high school, the site of which has already been secured on Ottawa, Fifth and Braemer streets. This building when completed and occupied will cost in the neighborhood of $300,000 and will allow of the present Alexandra high school being used as a grade school. An eight room addition will also be made to the Elm street school, which with its eleven rooms, was only opened last January, and is now overcrowded.

The board of the Medicine Hat General hospital also is feeling the need of larger quarters with the growth of the city, and a splendid building site has been secured well up on the hill, not far from the Connaught school. The present hospital, which is excellently equipped and managed, together with a fine nurses' home, is getting hemmed in without chance for further enlargement. It is one of the oldest hospitals in this part of the west, having been in use for some 20 years, but the trustees feel that the city will soon absolutely demand larger and better buildings. Consequently, at a meeting yesterday a committee was appointed to take up the matter of increased hospital facilities. Dr. C. E. Smyth, who has been in charge of the hospital for many years, has found it necessary to resign, and it is likely that a superintendent will be appointed who will devote his entire time to the institution which has been such a boon to Medicine Hat and this district for a score of years.

BIG CLAIM MADE FOR RESERVE SALE

Vancouver, June 11—One hundred thousand dollars is the amount alleged to have been paid in commission over the sale of the Kitsilano Indian reserve in this city, and of this amount $20,000 are claimed by Joe Cole, who filed his statement of claim today. Cole's contention is that he was instrumental in having the transaction carried through. The action will be heard at the end of the summer vacation.

CROP PROSPECTS ARE BEST FOR LAST TEN YEARS IN SOUTH

Rain of Last Two Days Has Done Untold Good and Cutworm Trouble Removed

The rain of the last two days has done more than can be readily estimated for the crops of Alberta. In the south there was nothing so needed as rain and it came just in the nick of time. Such a timely blessing has seldom, if ever, been experienced by the farmers of the province and they are one and all wearing a big broad are in for their usual good fortune.

To the north there was scarcely so much need of rain as the week before last there was all that was needed in that way and crops were there hardly on the way to suffer from drought that was feared around Calgary and Lethbridge. However, the rain there had not been nearly so heavy these last days as in the south and the prospect there for a bumper crop is equally as good.

In the neighborhood of Parkland and Stavely there was six hours' rain a week ago which did much good but it was mostly local and with the recurring rain of the night before last which extended all over the district the prospects are brighter than at any time during the last ten years. There was some reports of cut worm damage in some of the districts and as that does not stand the moisture it has been almost entirely removed.

SILVER WEDDING TO MARK FIRST GERMAN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Mielecke Tonight Celebrate Their Twenty-fifth Anniversary

A silver wedding of more than usual interest, as it marks the 25th anniversary of the first German wedding in Calgary or Alberta, will be celebrated this evening in Calgary. The same persons will attend the function as were present on that occasion a quarter of a century ago, with the addition of those who have come to see the light since then.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Mielecke, as they now are, were, 25 years ago, A. Mielecke and Miss Quittenbaum, and were married by Rev. Mr. Petereit, the German pastor of Winnipeg, in Calgary. The wedding was conducted after the German custom, the bride taking her position to the right of the groom, and having the ring placed on the third finger of the right hand. The church was nicely decorated with flowers, and the choir was present and rendered suitable music. After the ceremony was over a number of friends joined in supper.

The celebration will this evening be held at the home of the couple, and the same persons who were at the wedding will be present. There are Mr. and Mrs. Emil Griesbach, of Gleichen, and Mr. and Mrs. Bessheimon. The couple also have five children, some of whom will be present. The oldest is a girl, Elsie, and she is now in London, England. The second, Stanislas, represents the Federal Land company of Calgary in Toronto, while the other three, Hannah, Alexander and Carl, are at home and attending school.

BAPTISTS DELIBERATE IN THREE PLACES AT RED DEER

General Convention, Ministerial Association and Women's Convention Meet in Different Places; Women Will Publish a Monthly Bulletin.

240 BAPTISMS DURING YEAR; 80 IN CALGARY

While 582 Were Received By Letter During Same Period; Total Membership Is 3,171 and Are 30 Sunday Schools With 230 Scholars.

Red Deer, June 11.—The Baptist convention continued this morning, with three simultaneous meetings. The ministerial session was held in the Presbyterian church, with the Rev. C. C. McLaurin in the chair. The duties and responsibilities of the deacon, of the clerk and church finances were among the subjects discussed.

The new officers and board of women's convention met in the Baptist church. Among other things, they decided to publish a monthly missionary bulletin.

The general convention was opened at two o'clock, the Hon. A. C. Rutherford being in the chair. The summary of church reports presented by Mr. McLaurin showed 46 churches in all, $22,048 paid for pastoral support, $20,044 for general expenses, $2,810 for building fund, and $16,191 for missions. There have been 240 baptisms, 80 being at one Calgary church and 582 received by letter. The total membership is 3,171, with 30 Sunday schools and 230 scholars.

There was some lively discussion, one question of having the Western Union year and the convention year end at the same time. A motion was carried endorsing this. Informal reports were presented from some of the churches by their representatives present.

New Pastors Introduced.

The introduction of the following new pastors followed, and their speeches provoked both laughter and applause: Deirson, of Olds; Green, of Lethbridge; Ritchie, of Innisfree; W. Miller, of High River; Cuddiford, of Vegreville; F. R. Julian, of Cairns; Brough, of Heath Church, Calgary; Johnson, of Rich Valley; Jordan, of Emmanuel Church, Calgary; Blundell, of Medicine Hat; and Sunstrom, superintendent of Scandinavian work.

One of these men had walked forty miles in order to attend the convention.

The Rev. W. R. McGill, B. A., of Calgary, preached in the annual convention sermon on spiritual growth and its relation tot growth and progress in general.

In the evening addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Galbraith, of the city of Red Deer; the Rev. W. G. Brown, of the Presbyterian church; and the Rev. C. H. Huestis, secretary of the Lord's Day alliance, on behalf of the Methodist Church.

The Hon. A. C. Rutherford replied, and in his address spoke of the Baptist church as a great pioneer missionary church. He advocated more attention to home mission effort, especially among foreign immigrants. The Rev. J. C. Stillwell, home on furlough from India, spoke for an hour on missionary work in the Telugu field, winding up with a strong appeal for help for the native missionary work.

ESTIMATES HELD UP AWAITING REPORT OF AUDITOR

Accountant Also Working On Needs of Departmentsi and Plan Show Improvements

The estimates for 1913, supposed to have been made public yesterday, were held up for the time being because of the commissioners and their assistants not being able as yet to properly tabulate the amounts needed and assigned to the various departments.

It was announced that the estimates would not be forthcoming until after the auditor's report for last year had been received, the differences between the amounts spent last year and those needed for the current fiscal year representing the amounts, in part, to be spent on improvements in the various parts and departments of the city for the present year.

An accountant is also working on the estimates for the coming year, and within a few days will be able to submit to the mayor and Commissioners Samis and Graves the exact amount needed by each city department.

No definite time has been set for the announcement of the estimates, although the commissioners and their accountant, Mr. Courday, believe that by the middle of next week the exact figures will be made public.

SASK. FORESTERS MEET

Woodman, Regina, and he will also represent the court at Toronto this year; high treasurer, R. Bogue, Moose Jaw; high physician, Dr. J. M. Shaw, Regina; high counsellor, F. H. McGuire, Prince Albert; auditors, F. J. Vollmer, of Moose Jaw, and F. E. Parker, of Prince Albert.

Shortly before the conclusion of the ceremony marking the close, a resolution was passed that the high standing committee recognize the work of the retiring chief ranger, P. McAra, of Regina, by presenting him with a Forester's jewel churches to continue the negotiations in the hope that the union may be consummated without delay.

CHURCH UNION COMES IN 1915 DCLARES PRESBYT'N CONVENTION

"2—That the union committee be continued and that for the fullest and fairest consideration of every aspect of the question, further amendments to the present basis if union and alternative proposals be invited from Presbyterians and from sessions, congregations and individuals through presbyteries and referred to this committee, in order that after considering them it may enter into conference with the committees of other negotiating churches with a view of setting before our people a final presentation of the question for their judgment.

"4—That in order to secure the findings of the joint committee of the negotiating churches on all such proposals be sent to presbyteries, sessions and congregations, with the details of the vote already taken and all other relevant information."

One Amendment Made.

These paragraphs are to a large extent just as they were when they were submitted to the assembly by the majarity of the union committee. The only alteration which was regarded as an important one was one suggested by the Rev. David Christie, of Winnipeg. Mr. Christie moved that the words "in the hope that union may be consummated with no unnecessary delay" be inserted, instead of the phrase which was in this place when the report of the union committee was brought in. He thought it desirable that the expression should be made much stronger, and the assembly agreed with him.

Later on in the business of the afternoon, November 30 of the present year was fixed as the last day on which any suggestions would be received with reference to changes in the basis of union.

Procedure for Union.

The procedure of the church in the future in the matter of securing actual union, as explained by Rev. D. M. B. Ramsay, of Ottawa, will be as follows:

"Up to the end of November clerks of Presbyteries throughout the Dominion will receive any suggestions with reference to changes in the basis of union. In December the union committee will meet in Toronto, and after full consideration of all the proposed changes in the basis of union, a joint meeting will be held of the three union committees. These will agree on a basis and the matter will then be ready for submission to the general assembly in 1914.

That assembly will send the matter to the members of the church, if this is deemed desirable, for a vote, and to the presbyteries of the church under the barrier act. If the majority of the presbyteries take favorable action, the union will be consummated in 1915. As the mind of the church on the question is now fully known, it does not appear that there will be any failure in this program.

Before the final motion was carried today, a number of amendments were withdrawn or voted down.

Amendments Voted Down.

Dr. Clay, of Victoria, suggested a compromise which did not secure any support. Mr. Goodwin offered a substitute motion, but withdraw it chiefly on the advice of Rev. Dr. Ramsay, of Ottawa, the leader of the union element since the departure of Rev. Dr. W. J. Clark, of Montreal, who was called home.

Rev. Dr. A. S. Grant, general superintendent of home missions, at the last moment, moved that the whole matter be deferred and no action taken until next year. This was defeated by a very large majority. The motion of the minority union committee was defeated by a very large majority yesterday. The amendment offered by Dr. Christie was carried by an equally large majority, and the amended report of the majority in the union committee was then carried by the vote of 178 to 54.

Opposition in Session.

As soon as the decision was reported, Rev. Dr. E. Scott, of Montreal, announced that a meeting of those opposed to union would be held tonight in St. Andrew's church. A number of those who were active in opposing union in the meetings of the assembly were present.

A meeting of the full union committee will be held tomorrow, and there may be further developments. The best informed in the assembly anticipate that the union will be consummated in 1915. There will be some loss to the Presbyterian church. This is estimated at five to fifteen per cent. The balance of the denomination will enter on the union. The minority are said to expect that the courts will give it a large proportion of the property of the church, as the privy council in England did in the case of the Wee Frees of the old land. The highest legal counsel in Canada has, however, assured the unionists that they can be fully protected against contingencies of this kind in Canada.

TWO VACANCIES TO BE FILLED IN OTTAWA SOON

Deputy Ministers to Be Appointed in Departments of Inland Revenue and Mines

Ottawa, June 11.—The filling of two deputy ministerial vacancies, that of inland revenue and that of mines, is expected at an early date.

The position of deputy minister of inland revenue has been vacant for over a year and it is said that Wm. Hamsworth, acting deputy minister, will be promoted to the position temporarily at least. Mr. Hamsworth, however, is now 68 years of age and is expected to retire shortly.

J. L. Laflamme, secretary to Hon. W. B. Nantel and a well-known journalist, is mentioned for the position. A further aspirant is J. U. Vincent K. C., defeated Conservative candidate for Russel county in the last election.

The name of Prof. W. R. Brock, director of the geological survey, is mentioned in connection with the vacancy in the mines department created by the superannuation of Dr. A. H. Low.

CAPTAIN OF EMPRESS TALKS OF CHINESE OPPORTUNITY

Holder of Steaming Record Across Atlantic Makes Interesting Talk

Vancouver, June 11.—Greater activity by Canada in securing the great trade of China, great and growing with the development of that country, was urged by Captain Beetham, of the new C.P.R. steamer Empress of Russia at a luncheon given in his honor and that of his officers by the Progress club yesterday afternoon. There was a record attendance of members, every seat being occupied and over a hundred being turned away. Mr. R. W. Holtand presided and read letters of regret from Mr. Richard Marpole, executive assistant of the C.P.R. in British Columbia, and from others. Mr. Holtand described the arrival of the vessel as an epoch marking event, and as tangible proof the greatest transportation system in the world had faith in the future of Vancouver.

The following telegram was sent to the president of the C.P.R. at Montreal:

"Sir Thos. Shaughnessy, Montreal—Progress club assembled at luncheon celebrating arrival Empress Russia extends to you hearty congratulations upon occurrence of this epoch-making event in development Pacific service of your great and progressive company. Vancouver proud of new distinction thus conferred as home port of largest and finest ship in Canadian trade, and recognizes great significance of fact that in your judgment its business will require the service of such magnificent fleet. This club pledges best efforts to justify your estimate of Vancouver's progress."

To which Sir Thomas Shaughnessy replied:

"Elliott S. Rowe, Vancouver,—Many thanks for your kind telegram. The step in size and speed from the first Pacific Empress to the new ones is very great indeed, but we hope that the future will justify the action of the company in taking it. We hope also that during the next twenty-three years Vancouver, Victoria and other Canadian Pacific coast cities will experience even greater progress than they have made since the Empress of India made her first call at aVncouver. (Signed) T. G. SHAUGHNESSY."

FAMOUS PUBLICIST IS COMING TO SEE FOR HIMSELF

De Putron Glidden Will Write of Calgary's Development for Exclusive Magazine

De Putron Glidden, publicist, southedn editor of the World Traveler de Luxe, and istinguished author, is due to arrive in Calgary in the course of a few days. He comes here to write stories of the development and possibilites of Calgary and Alberta, for his magazine, which enjoys a wide circulation among a most exclusive class.

Mr. Joseph Ruse, of the Canadian Estates, Limited, is responsible for the coming of Mr. Glidden into the Canadian west. Mr. Ruse met the publicist in Los Angeles last winter, and he was so interested in some of the narratives of the Calgarian, who is always exploiting his home town when away, that he promised Mr. Ruse that, like the Queen of Shebah, he would come and see if the half had been told him.

Mr. Ruse aws advised a few days ago that he could expect Mr. Glidden shortly, and it is probable that a dinner will be arranged in Mr. Glidden's honor, in order to give him an easy opportunity of meeting some of the men who have made Calgary grow as no other town in the world has ever grown before.

SUFFRAGETTES TURN UPON ONE OF THEIR FRIENDS

Make a Hostile Demonstration At Meeting Addressed By Will Crooks

London, June 11.—Will Crooks, labor member of the house of commons for Woolwich, who is a staunch advocate of woman suffrage, was prevented from speaking at a labor meeting in Caxton hall tonight by suffragettes, supported by male champions. Several fights occurred, in which the latter were badly mauled, and flung out of the hall, and Mr. Crooks abandoned his speech in order to prevent further violence.

WEST INDIES CLAIM BREACH OF FAITH BY G. E. FOSTER

Man Who Signed the Reciprocity Agreement Says He Is Utterly Disgusted as Steamship Arrangements Have Been Broken Off.

BETTER HAVE BEEN WITHOUT THE PACT

Meeting of Protest Held In Trinidad This Week; Foster Undertook to Give Guarantee for Fast Steamship Service From Canadian Ports.

That considerable dissatisfaction exists in the West Indies over the way in which the reciprocity treaty is being worked out is the statement of Mr. E. P. Mousir, of Montreal, the secretary of the Canadian West Indian league.

Mr. Mousir said today that many of the West Indian colonies were giving to Canada far more than Canada was giving in return under this reciprocity agreement, and they expected that the difference would be made up by the provision by Canada of an adequate steamship service.

This, in fact, has definitely promised by Mr. Foster and other responsible ministers. All the West Indian delegates has instituted that an essential feature of a working reciprocity agreement must be more frequent communication between Canada and the West Indies. The imperial commission which paved the way for the agreement also strongly recommended this. After a most exhaustive inquiry they recommended a weekly service to the larger colonies, and a fortnightly one to the smaller islands.

Instead of this having been given, the steamship contract made by the Canadian government only provided for the same communication as existed before reciprocity was talked of. This was simply a sailing to three colonies once every 12 days, and to the six others which are parties to the agreement every 24 days.

Some of these colonies are now practically in revolt against what they contend is the bad faith of the Canadian government. In a petition drawn up in Antigua one of the most important of the colonies, which petition has been signed by practically all the leading merchants and planters and which has been sent to the governor of the Leeward Islands, it is stated that the petitioners view Canada's steamship arrangements with dismay. They outline the service which they had been led by the Canadian ministers to expect, and they say:

"We feel that unless a service as indicated be arranged for, no benefit will come to these islands from the reciprocity agreement, and we are of opinion that Antigua, under present conditions, would be better off without the agreement."

A similar feeling to this, Mr. Mousir said, has been evinced in practically all the Leeward and Windward islands. For instance, one of the delegates fro manother colony who signed the agreement at Ottawa, had written to the league, saying:

"We are all disgusted with your government over the steamship subsidy. We have been badly blanketed. A conference was held at Trinidad on the 10th of June to consider this and other questions.

Some of these colonies had great hopes of building up a fruit trade with Canada. Particularly was this the case with Dominica and Monteserat. The idea of keeping fruit for 24 days awaiting a Canadian steamer was altogether too ludicrous to think of.

A conference of the whole of the West Indian colonies is now being held in Trinidad, and interesting developments might be expected relative to the disappointment Canada has caused.

TRAVELLER SUES C.N.R. FOR $69,000

Saskatoon, June 11—The case of A. E. Ashby was concluded today but judgment was reserved.
