In the Dining-Room.

SATURDAY, JUNE 19.

BREAKFAST—Stewed gooseberries. Wheatina. Codfish balls. White-corn cakes. Coffee.

LUNCHEON—Melton veal. Rice croquettes. Radishes. Entire-wheat buns. Cocoa.

DINNER—Savory soup. Chicken stew. Potato puff. Cucumbers. Sago cream with strawberry sauce. Tea.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrap-book.

Melton Veal—Take one pound of any cold veal, chop it fine and season with one-half saltspoon of salt, one saltspoon of pepper and a teaspoonful of lemon juice. Add two or three tablespoonfuls of cracker crumbs and moisten with soup stock or hot water. Take one-third as much finely-chopped ham as of veal, season with mustard and cayenne, add one tablespoonful of cracker crumbs and moisten wth hot stock or water. Butter a mold and line it with slices of hard-boiled egg. Put in the two mixtures irregularly, so that when cut it will have a mottled appearance; press in closely and steam three-quarters of an hour. Set away to cool. Remove from the mold and slice before serving. This is a convenient way of serving pieces of veal that would not otherwise be utilized.

Rice Croquettes—One pint of cold boiled rice warmed in a double boiler with two or three tablespoonfuls of milk. When soft add one egg, well beaten, one tablespoonful of butter, half a teaspoonful of salt, a little pepper and one heaping tablespoonful of fine chopped parsley. Shape, roll in fine dry crumbs, then in beaten eggs and again in crumbs, and fry in smoking-hot fat, the same as for fishballs.

Entire-Wheat Buns—Scald one large cupful of milk. Pour it hot over one-half cup of sugar and one-half teaspoonful salt. Add one-quarter cup of melted butter. When lukewarm add one-half cake compressed yeast dissolved in a cup lukewarm water. Stir in about three cups and a half of entire-wheat flour, adding a well-beaten egg and one-half cup dried currants. Let it rise until light. If too soft to handle, add a little white flour. Knead a few minutes, roll out, cut into biscuits, and let them rise again until very light. Bake about twenty minutes in an oven not so hot as for white biscuits.

Potato Puff—Prepare one pint of hot mashed potatoes seasoned with one-half teaspoon salt, one-quarter saltspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon celery salt, and butter size of walnut, making it quite moist with hot milk. Beat the yolks and whites of two eggs separately, and stir them into the potatoes when slightly cooled, turn into a shallow baking-dish, pile it in a rocky form and bake until it is puffed and browned.

Sago Cream—Cook one-half cup of sago in one pint of milk until clear, add a pinch of salt and three tablespoons of sugar. Beat the whites of three eggs, add to it the mixture, and cook two minutes. Flavor with lemon when a little cool, and fold in lightly one cup of whipped cream. Pour into a mold and set on ice.

Strawberry Sauce—Crush a pint of berries, add half a cup of sugar and let them stand an hour or two. Serve on each dish of the sago cream.

FAGGED OUT.—None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength is gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however is a cure—one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entering into the composition of Parmelee's Pills.

A Local Budget

—Mrs. Wm. Murdock, city, is visiting friends in Strathroy.

—Perspiring pessimists are already sighing for those days of phenomenal coolness.

—It is understood that Dr. Belton, city, has been appointed surgeon at Wolseley Barracks.

—June is now warming up in a very satisfactory way. The man who can't keep warm now is in a pretty bad way.

—Baggageman Wheatcroft, of the G. T. R., who was injured in a runaway accident recently, continues to improve.

—If you want a supply of letterheads, send to The Advertiser Job Department. We can fill your order on shortest notice.

—Little Susie McGill, the clever and talented dancer and singer, of this city, has been engaged to take part in the jubilee concert in Ingersoll on June 22nd.

—St. Peter's Cathedral exterior is undergoing improvements to the value of between $2,000 and $3,000. The whole of the stonework is to be pointed, which will greatly enhance the appearance of the building.

—Major Wicksteed, of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, Ottawa, is staying at the residence of P. E. Bucke, 571 Queen's avenue. Before leaving town he will visit the camp and other prominent features of the city.

—Mr. D. McMurphy, wife and son, have returned to their home in Rat Portage, after spending a month visiting Mr. McMurphy's sisters, Mrs. T. S. Edwards and Mrs. J. W. Edwards, city, and Mrs. J. Campbell, of London West.

—The C. P. R. will on Monday next convey the Guelph battery to London, where they will go into camp. There will be 116 men in all. The Twenty-ninth Battalion will also be conveyed from Galt to London on Monday, the 28th, by regular train.

—The county meeting of the Middlesex Royal Black Knights of Ireland will be held here today, when Col. Scott, grand master of Ontario West, will be present. A number of sir knights from King Hiram Preceptory, St. Thomas, will attend.

—The Toronto Star says: "Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Rev. J. A. Jackson to Miss Hook, daughter of Mr. Thomas Hook, Parkdale (formerly of London). The marriage will take place on Thursday, June 24, at 12 o'clock, in Dunn Avenue Methodist Church."

—Mr. John Waters, of the Middlesex registry office, was in East Williams Wednesday attending the funeral of his father-in-law, Mr. Daniel McCubbin, who died at the age of 85 years. Mr. McCubbin was one of the oldest residents of the township, and was well known and highly respected. The burial was at Nairn.

—Mrs. Henry Davis, 418 King street, celebrated her 78th birthday yesterday, and was the recipient of many well-wishes from her numerous friends in the city. Although an invalid for several years, nothing affords her greater pleasure than to see her friends, who are many. Mrs. Davis is one of our oldest residents, having lived here for over 60 years.

—Mr. B. Gidley, of Bruce street, who has been dangerously ill for fifteen weeks with erysipelas, was removed to the city hospital this week and an operation performed. A muscle extending from the thigh to the knee of one leg was cut out, having become diseased. The operation was successful, but it will be two or three weeks before Mr. Gidley will be able to leave the hospital.

—Last night the St. Andrew's Society met, President (Dr.) McLaren in the chair. The annual demonstration was the principal subject of discussion. Three places are bidding for the society, which generally has a picnic attended by between 3,500 and 5,000 persons. Sarnia, Port Stanley and Springbank are still talked of, but a special committee will report on railway terms, etc., before the society reaches a final decision.

—The mission entertainment given in the Dundas Street Methodist Church last night by the Young Ladies' Mission Circle was well attended. The programme was furnished by 65 young girls of the Sunday school, and was as follows: Opening hymn, "God Save the Queen"; prayer; chorus, "Send the Light"; dialogue, "My Flossie," by the girls of Mrs. Kirk's class; chorus, "The Pansy"; "Curious Cradles of Different Lands," by Misses Burnip, Lanceley, Ashplant, and Charte; chorus, "Rockababy"; recitation, "The New Arithmetic"; solo and chorus, chorus by the senior geography class, Miss L. Golding, teacher; chorus, "Pleading Voices"; recitation, "The Twins"; chorus, "The Fairies"; recitation, "Mother Goose." The entertainment closed with the National Anthem, Master P. Page occupied the chair.

SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFICERS.

The officers and teachers of King Street Methodist Sunday school held their yearly meetings for the election of officers last evening in the lecture room of the church. In the absence of Pastor Middleton, the superintendent, Mr. Thomas Spettigue, occupied the chair. The election of officers resulted as follows: Superintendent, Thos. Spettigue (re-elected); secretary, H. Sutherland; assistant secretary, John Parkes; librarian, Z. Penny; assistant librarian, J. Scott; treasurer, Mrs. Darville; organist, Miss Fanny Miller; musical director, Miss R. Penny. The teachers of last year were all re-elected. The meeting then adjourned for two weeks from Wednesday night, when the annual reports will be presented.

IRISH BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

The Irish Benevolent Society met on Thursday night, with a large attendance of members, President Mulkern in the chair. The principal business was the election of a secretary to succeed W. E. Mullins, whose removal from the city was much regretted by the members of the society, who lost a most valuable worker. Messrs. A. D. Huff and John O. Dromgole were nominated for the office. Mr. Dromgole requested that his name be withdrawn and Mr. Huff elected by acclamation, which was done. Mr. Huff accepted, and stated he would try and perform the duties to the best of his ability. A committee consisting of President Mulkern, Messrs. Boyle, J. W. Pocock, P. McPhillips, J. L. Fitzgerald, Dr. Geo. C. Davis and J. M. Daly was named to make arrangements for the annual picnic. It was decided to be represented at the jubilee procession.

ENGINEERS ELECT OFFICERS.

The Canadian Association of Stationary Engineers met last night in Sherwood Hall. The annual election of officers took place, and resulted as follows: D. G. Campbell, president; B. Bright, vice-president; W. Meaden, treasurer; W. Blythe, secretary; W. Burkholder, conductor; R. Evans, doorkeeper. The officers were duly installed by the retiring president, Mr. G. Risler, who was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for his able efforts in making the association a useful and advantageous organization. The subject, "The gain in power due to the expansion of steam in a cylinder," was discussed and illustrated by the members. The late president is preparing a number of engineering questions, and the member who furnishes the best solution and the neatest work on drawings will be awarded a handsome prize. The questions will be published in the near future for competition.

Among the Volunteers

The Twenty Sixth Battalion at Rifle Butts.

Six Thousands Rounds of Ammunition—Night Scenes Around the Camp—The Gospel Tent.

That this is the most orderly and quiet military camp ever held in this district, there can be little doubt. No drunkenness is seen and no foul language heard. The men are not only well behaved, but present a good appearance. The three battalions are all noteworthy in this respect, but there is one fact lost sight of by many who know, while the majority do not know it at all, namely that the Twenty-Sixth Battalion is the only one which is not subsidized by the municipality which it represents. Both the Thirty-second and the Twenty-seventh are granted 25 cents a day per man by the county, besides the 50 cents allowed by the government. This brings the pay of the men in these battalions up to $9, while the men in the Twenty-sixth only receive $6 for the work.

The Twenty-sixth may also claim the palm for enterprising officers, for most of the young captains have qualified at their own expense, and saved for the government the $30 per month for three months. By this means, the Twenty-seventh and Thirty-second should be able to secure better men than the Twenty-sixth, but the latter battalion, even at the rate of 50 cents per day, has a class of men who compare favorably with those of any other battalion in the Dominion.

Last night the volunteers amused themselves in various ways. No. 3 Company, Glencoe (Twenty-sixth), under Capt. Macbeth, had a side show, and an elephant on parade—a sight that caused much laughter.

Corporal John Mackenzie, of the Teeswater company, Thirty-second, was the life of the camp last night. To an assemblage of about 300, he repeated Premier Laurier's speech, delivered at Massey Hall, Toronto. He was cheered lustily, and was repeatedly encored on rendering his comical vocal selections. Capt. Waldo was congratulated on having a comedian under his command. Corp. Mackenzie headed a company kilted with blankets, and marched all over the camp grounds to the great amusement of the Scotch contingent.

At seven o'clock this morning the Twenty-sixth paraded on the barracks square, before leaving for the butts, and drew six thousand rounds of ammunition for use in the new rifles.

The Gospel tent meetings are being well attended. On Wednesday night Mr. Daley led the meeting. Last evening Mr. Sam. Grigg took charge, and Rev. E. B. Lanceley will officiate this evening.

Over 500 letters have been posted at the Y. M. C. A. tent at camp during the last four days.

Sergt. Pratt has many assistants who take a delight in helping to fire the big gun. Among these are Miss Vincent, Mrs. Wallace and Miss Woonton.

Major Hegler and a number of officers have left for Ingersoll to attend an "at home" to be given by Mrs. Hegler.

Invitations are being circulated among the elite of the city to luncheon to be served in the Women's Christion Temperance building at the exhibition grounds on June 23, to meet the officers of the different battalions encamped on the heights.

ORDERS FOR THE DAY.

The orders for the day are as follows: Lieut.-Col. Smith commanding.

Field officer for the day, Major Kenward, St. Clair Borderers; next for duty, Major Weir, Thirty-second Bruce Battalion.

Sanitary officer, Surgeon-Major Piper, Seventh Fusiliers; next for duty, Surgeon-Major Hayes, St. Clair Borderers.

Medical range officer, Surgeon-Major Martin, Bruce Battalion; next for duty, Surgeon-Major Piper, Seventh Fusiliers.

The St. Clair Borderers will furnish the duty band and brigade guard instead of the Middlesex Light Infantry.

The Bruce Battalion will furnish the brigade guard and duty band tomorrow; next for these duties, the Middlesex Light Infantry.

Dug Up Alive.

Can Live in a Coffin Without Being Hypnotized.

The Exhibition of a Fakir Exposed by the Ohio Liberty League.

Cincinnati, June 18.—After being in a coffin for 60 hours, six feet under earth, without touching food or drink, William Lloyd has been exhumed. Miss Angie May, a rather pretty Columbus girl, who had been in a coffin beside Lloyd's for 24 hours, was also exhumed.

Lloyd and Miss May were employed by the Ohio Liberty League to expose the exhibition of Hypnotist Boone, who has created quite a furore by having people buried alive, after having, as he claimed, hypnotized them. The coffins are of the regulation make, and a tube ten inches in diameter leads up to the surface, through which the face of the buried subject can be seen.

The police sought to interfere with the burial of Lloyd, but he was put under the ground in the night, and the officers did not dare dig him up for fear that they would disarrange the pipes which led to his living tomb and kill him.

Through the tube he talked to the people about his grave experience, gave an occasional dissertation about bugs, etc., and smoked a cigarette now and then. He said that it was cool down in his grave, and that he advised anyone who wished to get rid of a hard cold to be buried for three or four days. He said that it was simply a test of will power. He felt pretty hungry the first day, but soon got over it.

He was hungry when he was taken out of his grave, and husky from not drinking water, but was soon all right, and said he could live in a grave for a week.

Miss May, after she had been exhumed, said she had lain right still and made up her mind that she would stand the ordeal, and had got through it pretty well. She also talked freely with people through the tube. She was dressed in a regulation white burial robe.

It was a strange sight when the grave-diggers began to dig up the couple before a crowd of several hundred curious people. The earth was carefully removed at first, and then the men worked faster, and finally the coffins were exposed and raised from the grave. The lids were then unscrewed, and the man and woman raised themselves up in their coffins and hopped out. Lloyd shook hands with many people, but Miss May tripped off at a lively gait without salutations.
