KAISER TO SEND UP ANOTHER PEACE KITE DURING NEXT MONTH

King of Spain Unresponsive to Recent Overtures.

WILSON MAY BE SOUGHT

Allies Would Resent Any Attempt at Interference From Washington.

By Ed. L. Keen.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

London, Eng., Sept. 22.—Germany will set another peace kite flying about the middle of October, British officialdom both military and civil confidently expects.

Recent apparently well-authenticated rumors have reached London that Germany, suffering huge losses because of the recent allied offensive, is endeavoring to suggest an armistice through Spain or the United States.

It is understood on reliable authority that King Alfonso so far is unresponsive and is unlikely to act. The Germans, it is believed here, hope to tempt President Wilson to start negotiations at a time when any attendant success would be likely to affect favorably his chances of re-election.

Resented By Allies.

Americans conversant with inside British sentiment feel that any such move on part of Washington would not only be foredoomed to failure, but would arouse the most bitter resentment of the Allies, and also permanently eliminate Washington as a possible mediator. Every indication points not only to the oneness of purpose of all the Allies to continue the war until a decisive peace is obtainable, but to the fact that the army, navy and political leaders are thoroughly united in the determination to assume responsibility if necessary, for the war's continuation after Germany is willing to quit. It is noticed that the Anglo-French are prepared both in numbers and munitions to continue the present offensive indefinitely regardless of winter weather.

All Going Allies' Way.

Proposals from Germany on a basis merely of abandonment of occupied territory might have been considered a year ago sympathetically by military authorities in view of the real precariousness of the situation, but they feel now that everything favors the Allies, and that such an abandonment of occupied territory would only be to Germany's advantage, enabling her to shorten and strengthen her lines. The British soldiers' only worry now is possible overoptimism of civilians because of their recent successes, and those confidently expected in the future. They realize that the Germans are not yet beaten, and that long and arduous tasks still confront them.

lordship, in substance accusing you of graft, that I was utterly unable to deal with the matter at that time."

used and made a personal attack on your

Mr. Phillips thought it his duty to resent Mr. Rogers' statement, and he said that on behalf of the crown he repudiated any suggestion that there had been "wrong doing or graft." Counsel spoke of the high respect he had for the commissioner and for all the other judges of the Manitoba courts.

Unjustified and Groundless.

Mr. Hoskin said he wished to indorse what Mr. Phillips had said. "I was very sorry," he said, "to be present before any public investigation in this province and hear any charge made in any way reflecting on any of our judges. The charge was entirely unjustified and without foundation.

Commissioner Galt thanked counsel for their opinions in regard to "the most regrettable incident which occupied yesterday, when Mr. Rogers so far forgot himself as to suggest that when a judge accepts a gratuity from the lieutenant-governor-in-council for special work, he is guilty of any such outrageous charge as graft.

"I can't help thinking," continued the commissioner, "that Mr. Rogers was in complete ignorance of the character of the tribunal before which he appeared, and he was in a somewhat awkward position owing to the very serious charges which had come up, and in which he was certainly implicated."

The commissioner quoted the statutes which he said confirmed the authority of the provincial government to appoint judges to conduct such royal commissions. "I am endowed with judicial authority."
