COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

The Subject of the Pacific Cable Debated.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.)

OTTAWA, July 2.—The Colonial Conference met again to-day, Sir Adolphe Caron presiding. The subject of the Pacific cable was introduced by Mr. Sanford Fleming, the promoter, reading a paper, after which there was a discussion. Nearly all the Australian delegates and the New Zealand delegate, Mr. Lee Smith, were strongly in favor of subscribing for the scheme, but the attitude of the Canadian and Cape Colony delegates was a cautious one.

A cablegram was received from Lord Rosebery addressed to Mr. Bowell as follows: "I am anxious to explain to you, as its president, the sympathy and interest with which I am watching the proceedings of the conference which should be fraught with such happy augury for the future of the empire." The cablegram was dated at Epsom.

Mr. Bowell returned from Belleville this morning and will resume the chair to-morrow.

Sir Adolphe Caron will have more important matters to look after to-morrow personal to himself.

THE LANGLEY CASE.

Lansing People Hear of His Illness and Subsequent Cure While in London, Ont.—Much Pleasure Manifested Over the News.

LANSING, Mich., July 2.—A friend of William Langley, formerly of this city, now of London, Ont., received a letter a few months ago stating that Mr. Langley had Bright's disease. Of course no hope of his recovery could be held out. Within a month, the same friend has received a letter from Mr. Langley stating that he is completely cured of the supposed fatal disorder. Mr. Langley says no medicine did him any good until he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. These helped him from the first and in the end restored him to perfect health.

Joining New York to New Jersey.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The New York and New Jersey Bridge Company will begin the work of boring for a suitable site for the proposed North River suspended highway this morning.

The Union Jack.

The "Hoisting" of the Flag a Great Success.

Over Five Thousand School Children March to Queen's Park,

And Spend the Day—It Was a Pretty Procession—The Races and Who Won Them—Fancy Drill—Simcoe Street School Wins the Banner.

Had the Board of Education's energetic demonstration committee and the parents of the school children of London endeavored to make the affair of yesterday a greater success than it was they would doubtless have failed. For the past two months the committee, under Mr. Joseph Sanders, had been working industriously to make the "Hoisting of the Flag" a notable event, and now every member can rest assured that their labors were successful. The hearty co-operation of the parents was given, the children were overjoyed at the thought of the day's enjoyment promised them, and so it ended with all being satisfied.

One person who lent a valuable assistance, but who very seldom receives recognition, is Dame Nature. She lent a helping hand by furnishing fair weather. An early hour saw her messenger "Old Sol" peeping above the eastern horizon, and as he gradually came nearer the promise of a bright day was realized.

THE PROCESSION.

With the break of day many of the children were on the move, eager to be arrayed in their pretty costumes and on the scene of action on time. Assemblies were first made at the different schools, where the juveniles were given their respective places by the principals. Headway was then made to the central gathering point—Queen's avenue, from Maitland street west—where the trustees were in waiting to give each school its allotted place. Sharp at 10 o'clock the procession was on the move, in the following order:

Drum major, J. Beale, Cavalry Band.
Three decorated bicycles ridden by high school boys.
Male pupils of the Collegiate Institute.
Principal Merchant and staff of the Collegiate.
Park street school, Mr. S. Baker, principal.
Principal Althouse and pupils, of Rectory street school.
Chairman McRobert, of the School Board.
Lorne avenue school, Mr. W. D. Eckert, principal.
St. George's school, under Principal Edwards.
Waterloo street school.
Aberdeen school.
Colborne street school, preceded by 25 boys and girls on decorated tricycles.
Roman Catholic separate school, under Principal Brown and Rev. Father Tiernan.
Seventh Band, with Corporal Cockburn, of Wolseley Barracks, as drum major.
Simcoe street school, under Principal Graham and teachers.
Princess avenue school, Principal Woodburne.
Maple avenue school.
Talbot street school.
King street school.
Sons of England Band, Mr. Chas. Channers, leader.
Askin street school.
Kindergarten, children in street cars.
Board of Education and city officials.

The procession was without doubt the most imposing ever witnessed in London, and the thousands of interested spectators heartily applauded as each school passed along. It was applause well merited, and the children knew it and appreciated it, too.

FEATURES OF THE DISPLAY.

To give a full description of the appearance of every school would be almost impossible, but mention of some of the most prominent may be made.

The Collegiate Institute boys did not go to any great expense as regards uniforms, but they marched well and made a very pleasing appearance.

Park street school chose as its queen Helen Tufts, a pretty little girl of about 10 summers, who was accompanied by six little maids of honor—Lottie Proctor, Annie Dunn, Ethel Fox, Cora Slade, Annie Johnston and Mary Homister. The pupils turned out in large numbers and were a credit to their principal. The girls wore cream dresses and blue college hats, while the boys were arrayed in white blouses, with blue cuffs and similar headgear to that of the girls.

The pupils of Rectory street school numbered over 210, and were led by their queen, Miss Millie Short, who was very becomingly attired and rode in a handsomely equipped tandem turnout. She was attended by maids of honor, and coachman and footman in livery, and escorted by a bodyguard of six boys on horseback. The children were uniformed very neatly in the national colors, the girls wearing Empire gowns of white, with red and blue trimmings, and hats to match, while the boys wore white blouses, with blue collars and cuffs and red belts. The step was kept by School Drummer Frank Jackson, and a harmonica band under the baton of Master Chester Chadwick.

May Scott was the queen of Lorne avenue, and was seated in a coupe drawn by four horses. The boys carried flags and streamers.

Irene Gray, the Queen of St. George's, was drawn in a little dog-cart, and escorted by six pretty maids of honor. The pony was led by two boys wearing silk hats.

Aberdeen school attracted the eye of the good old Scotch folks along the route. The school stood true to its name and was led by two pipers, who played Scottish airs. Mabel Graham was the queen. The boys wore white blouses and plaid sashes over their left shoulders and tam o' shanter hats with feathers. The girls were also neatly attired.

Twenty-five boys and girls on decorated and tricycles led the way for the Colborne street school.

The Roman Catholic separate school children created a very favorable impression, and doubtless had an eye on the banner, presented by Manager S. R. Break, of the street railway. Two little queens, Josie Loughlin and Irene Hanavan, were seated in [illegible] age drawn by four white ho[illegible]re accompanied by several [illegible] and two pages, the latter in[illegible] The male pupils wore wh[illegible] and blouses, with red sashe[illegible]sses, blue sashes and red fan[illegible]retty outfit for the girls.

Simco[illegible] turned out en masse, and had [illegible]eign May Noble. A drill cor[illegible]oys performed some fancy me[illegible]r Capt. John Brown. The boy[illegible] pink trimmings to their clo[illegible]re mortar-boards of the same[illegible]

The [illegible]oceeded by way of Queen's [illegible]illiam and Dundas streets [illegible] At Dundas street it was join[illegible]indergarten pupils in open str[illegible]

[illegible] PARK.

On a[illegible]e park the children were sea[illegible]nd stands, and under the dir[illegible] Barron opened their part of [illegible]e with "Rule Britannia." [illegible] this concluded than the Uni[illegible]s hoisted on the flag staff di[illegible]t of the open stand. As the [illegible]in was unfurled the cheerin[illegible]dous, coupled with the playing [illegible]sh Grenadiers" by the Seventh [illegible]veral patriotic songs followed[illegible]ded with the National Anthem.

[illegible]E BANNER.

The d[illegible]g which school was entitled [illegible] banner was not very easy. [illegible] largest percentage in line to t[illegible]n roll, and for the best deportm[illegible]line of march. Simcoe street [illegible] successful, securing 94 points, [illegible]oming second with 91. The pr[illegible] was made by Judge Edward[illegible]e judges were Sheriff Cameron[illegible]s. Robson and Judge Elliott.

[illegible]ND SPORTS.

The r[illegible] the headquarters for the am[illegible] the afternoon. The program[illegible]s and games passed off without [illegible]y kind, except for a few min[illegible]a light shower.
