Judge's Chambers.

Before Middleton, J.:

Rex v. Abrams—W. D. M. Shorey, for Philip Abrams, moved to quash conviction and fine of $200 by Magistrate Denison on charge of manufacturing liquor contrary to section 2 of the Dominion order-in-council of March 16, 1918. The accused had added cherries and sugar to high wines for cherry wine to be used in a Jewish festival. One bottle was 25 per cent. proof spirits, and the other 44 per cent. Judgment: "What defendant sought to do was to make a beverage that manifestly was intoxicating. The resultant cherry brandy was made by him. In each case it is a question of fact for the magistrate whether what was done amounts to making or manufacturing. Here there was in my view ample evidence to support his finding. Motion dismissed with costs.

Heisten v. Polson—J. H. Moss for defendant, on motion to stay proceedings in action on ground that agreement provided for references of points in dispute to arbitration; A. C. McMaster for plaintiff. Judgment: The objection is taken that the motion cannot be now made, because defendant has taken a "step in the proceedings" by issuing and serving an order for security for costs. I think this is fatal. Motion dismissed; costs to plaintiff in any event.

Meaford Manufacturing Co.—A. C. McMaster for petitioner on motion to wind up company; R. S. Robertson for company. Judgment: I think petitioner must be left to establish his claim in the ordinary way in an action against the company, and that in the meantime this petition must be dismissed without prejudice to his right to present a new petition if his claim should eventually be established. Motion dismissed with costs.

Re Chatham Packing Co.—J. W. Bain, K.C., for petitioning creditor, obtained order winding up company. G. T. Clarkson named interim liquidator with a reference to J. A. C. Cameron.

Weekly Court

Before Mulock, C. J. Ex.

Auto Strop v. Kelly & McKenzie: W. R. Wadsworth for defendants moved for injunction restraining plaintiffs from slandering defendant's title to certain razors; J. I. Grover for plaintiffs. Judgment: Defendants having obtained injunction in new action it becomes unnecessary to deal with the motion for injunction in this case. Costs left to trial judge.

Before Sutherland, J.

Gibson v. McDougall—G. H. Kilmer, K. C., for defendant on motion to strike out statement of claim; W. K. Fraser for plaintiff. Judgment: While it may be that the alleged conspiracy, if special damage were alleged, might be actionable, I do not think it is in absence of such allegation. Leave to plaintiff to amend statement of claim by setting up claim by way of special damage within one week. Defendants to have costs of present motion in any event in case amendment is made within the time mentioned. If not, the statement of claim will be set aside with costs.

Re Michael Goodwin Estate—W. Lawr for Toronto General Trusts on motion to construe will; E. W. J. Owens, K. C., for Kate Goodwin; W. D. Gregory for Mabel Goodwin; F. W. Harcourt, K. C., for infants. To an earlier judgment in this case, to assist in settling the order, is added that the annuity of $800, payable to the widow under clause eight of the will till the youngest surviving child attains the age of 21 years, is "payable out of the income from the whole estate until that time, and in case of deficiency out of the corpus of the estate, and thereafter out of the income of one-third of the estate remaining after the realization and division of the two-thirds of the securities in the executor's hands belonging to the estate referred to in clause 11 of the will."

Before Middleton, J.

Deeble v. Slater—J. L. Duggan for plaintiff, obtains interim injunction till Nov. 13, restraining defendant Slater from disposing of certain shares in Nukoi Fuel Co. Ltd.

At Trial

Before Falconbridge, C. J. K. B.

FARM PRODUCE.

The attendance was larger than usual at the North Toronto Market Saturday, and trade was brisk on all the offerings, excepting chickens, while at the St. Lawrence the buyers did not attend in such large numbers as usual, causing trade to be rather draggy.

Eggs—New-laid eggs reached a new high level at the St. Lawrence, when a few were sold at $1.25 per dozen; a good many at $1.20 and $1.10 per dozen; a few at $1 and 90c per dozen, and some small ones as low as 80c per dozen, the North Toronto price being $1 per dozen generally; duck eggs bringing $1.20 and $1.40 per dozen.

Butter was again rather a slow sale, ranging from 60c to 70c per pound.

Poultry—Chickens were brought in in especially large numbers, and trade was slow at lower prices; the bulk selling at 30c to 35c per lb.; ducks were not very plentiful but were also rather a slow trade at 35c to 40c per lb.; geese bringing 28c to 33c per lb., and boiling fowl from 25c to 30c per lb.

Vegetables—Potatoes showed a firming tendency in some places, remaining stationary in others, selling at 35c to 40c per peck, and $2.25 to $2.50 per bag; tomatoes were brought in lightly and sold at 75c to 80c per six-quart and $1 to $1.25 per 11-quart.

Fruits—Apples continued to sell at unchanged prices, ranging from $4 to $6.50 per bbl., according to quality and variety. There were a few pears brought in, mostly selling at 40c to 50c per six-quart basket.
