

Contents

CHAPTER 4: Conflict-resilient cities	61
Conflict resilience in Bosnia: The City of Tuzla Katherine Januszewska	64
Realizing the cosmopolitan ideal Timothy D. Sisk	66
Urban democracy helps defuse conflict in Durban, South Africa Jo Beall	68
Social capital interventions in Cali, Colombia Simon Snoxell	70
Upgrading slums, building human security Juma Assiago	72
Learning from experience in urban settings: The peacebuilding impact of conventional service delivery Kenneth Bush	76
The built environment, urban peacebuilding and conflict resilience Scott Bollens	78
Human security and the media in cities Ross Howard	80
Potential indicators of urban fragility Lindsey Weber and Kevin Wyjad	82
<hr/>
CHAPTER 5: Safer cities for an Urban Century	85
Canadian International Development Agency: Protecting children in cities Sophie Lam	86
The International Development Research Centre: Urban initiatives Gerd Schönwälder and Ann Thomas	88
Sida's programming activities: Advancing human security in urban environments Agneta Danielsson	90
Increasing stability by improving urban security: USAID's Haiti Transition Initiative in Port-au-Prince Katherine Donohue	92
Improving human security by rebuilding urban communities in Kabul Hoshina Hideaki	94
Security system reform in urban spaces Alice Hills	96
Community policing through police panchayats in Mumbai Sheela Patel	98
Disarmament, demobilization and reintegration of paramilitaries in Colombia:	100
Implications for urban security in Medellín Brodie Ferguson
Canadian best practices in building local governance for peacebuilding Wafa Saad	102
Local governments work together to build peace in the Middle East Peter Knip	104
<hr/>
Endnotes	108