J. J. Dixon & Co. received the following from Counselman & Day of Chicago: Grain opened excited and July wheat a cent higher, with demand from scattered shorts influenced by a statement that shippers were liberal borrowers of money at the banks and reports of 880,000 bushels decrease on passage. Cables quoted wheat dull and depressed and millers seemingly well supplied, while local clearances were very small owing to labor troubles. Weather was everywhere favorable for crops and commission houses had liberal selling orders from southwest which satisfied opening demand and prices began to sag off. A midday rally occurred when very light estimated receipts were announced for to-morrow, but were followed quickly by very weak closing cables. Early buyers resold freely and bears put out new lines of new crop futures. Provisions were active and firm with large general buying.

John J. Dixon & Co. received the following despatch over their private wire from Henry Allen & Co. of New York: This has been a dull day, without a single feature to encourage the raiding traders. Not only has there been a strong undertone, but there has appeared quite an impressive buying movement. Mr. Gould is out with an interview in which he says that we have already suffered the most that can happen, but he also says a bull movement is probably not right at hand. Many wise people to-day did no waiting and to-night are happy over their purchases and profess to believe that Mr. Gould has been quietly picking up bargains. Bull points to-night are plentiful; many of the bears who were forced to cover to-day have been converted and are now talking about the wonderful crops, better earnings and necessarily higher prices for railroad stocks. "One swallow, however, does not make a summer," and as there has been really no change in the situation, we are not hopeful of any permanent boom in speculation. There has been some change, however, in the money market and funds for the balance of the year are offered on easier terms than heretofore. The Chicago Gas crowd were encouraged by the general strength and to-day really bought some stocks. They say all the late bad rumors are now back numbers and they do not intend to be any longer terrorized by played-out tricks and bluffs.

Drummond & Brown received the following over their private wire from Lamontagne, Clarke & Co., New York: Market opened active and higher with good buying orders from west in grangers and from commission houses, also with buying for London in St. Paul, N.P. prfd. and L.N., all of which showed up well. The speculation is much more active here and London has more buying orders than for some time and there has been a brisk demand to cover shorts. The bond market looks better. Exchange market is weak on a falling off in demand for bills. For time being would advise you not to load up too heavily as prices have advanced very rapidly. Consider such stocks as Chicago Gas a sale on all bulges, but still advise purchases of better class on all weak spots.

R. Cochran received the following from Kennett, Hopkins & Co. of New York: We have had another comparatively active day, and the market has worn a brighter face than for some time, an improvement throughout list with some stocks making sharp advances. Stocks of western roads have made the most advances. Market has been aided by unexpected weakening of rates of sterling exchange, which seem to preclude the probability of further gold shipments this week. Immediate cause of weakening in exchange was purchase by prominent banking houses of a large line of long bills against which they sold demand. Traders have been confident that large amounts of gold would go this week and sold market short. This class of buyers covered freely to-day and it is their buying that caused advance, but their purchases show there are few long stocks pressing and it is easier to sell than to buy. Foreign advices are of a more hopeful character, they indicate there is less anxiety as to future of money market and probability of financial disaster, and London bought some stocks to-day. Money very easy, although as high as 8 per cent. was paid for it on call.

R. Cochran received the following from Kennett, Hopkins & Co., Chicago: The disposition to cover short stuff, which manifested itself yesterday, was even more urgent in the early part of to-day's trading. There was not much for sale until market advanced to 88⅞ for December and then the bears, who have been quite free buying on breaks for several days past supplied the demand. Prices were fairly well maintained until closing calles were received. These were so very weak and contrasted so sharply and strangely with the extravagant crop damage reports from Russia that traders were disposed to regard the latter as wholly unreliable. It was argued that London, Liverpool and Paris must be better informed with regard to Russia than are Americans. If they can see nothing on which to hull whest the existence of the alleged damage may well be doubted. The July option continues to show special weakness here and elsewhere. It is subject to frequent flurries, but the general tendency is downward and it is expected to sell as low or lower than December with an early movement of new wheat. It is noteworthy that foreign houses which cable over damage reports have been liberal sellers of wheat to-day.

TAXES, 1891.

FRIDAY, 10TH JULY,
THURSDAY, 10TH SEPTEMBER,
SATURDAY, 10TH OCTOBER.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to a bylaw, No. 2904, passed on the 26TH DAY OF MAY, that provision is therein made for the payment of taxes for the current year in manner following, that is to say:

(1) The taxes for the year 1891 shall be payable from and after the day of the passing thereof, subject nevertheless to extension of time being given in the interest and convenience of the citizens for the collection of the same by instalments or otherwise, and on the days and times hereinafter mentioned.

(2) Items of taxation under six dollars, and rates or assessments under the head of Local Improvements, or for Statute Labor, shall not be liable to subdivision, and shall be payable on the 10th day of July, viz., the day named for the collection of the first instalment of divisible taxation.

(3) The payment of all other taxes for 1891, save and except items thereof under six dollars, and rates or assessments under the head of Local Improvements, or for Statute Labor, as in the preceding section mentioned, may be deferred and collected by instalments in manner following, that is to say: The amount of each item of taxation shall be subdivided into three instalments, and on the punctual payment of the first of such instalments, on or before Friday, the 10th day of July, but not otherwise, an extension of time may be given for the payment of the second instalment to Thursday, the 10th day of September, and the punctual payment of the said second instalment on or before Thursday, the 10th day of September, but not otherwise, a further extension of time may be given for the payment of the third instalment to Saturday, the 10th day of October, 1891.

(4) The payment of taxes, under the second section of this bylaw, may be made to the collectors of the several wards of the said city, at the several places named hereunder, at any time before the said 10th day of July, without any addition thereto; and payment of taxes under the third section of this byla
