MANY CASES IN THE COURTS

MORE THAN USUAL INTEREST AT OSGOODE HALL.

Seduction Case—Alleged Libel—Central Bank Books—New Trial Against the City—Value of Crops—And of an Arm—A Turf Case—Pink Pills for Pale People—Action for Slander.

In the seduction action of Margaret Longton against Arthur Sullivan an order was made yesterday changing the place of trial from Chatham to Sandwich. The parties reside at the village of Staples, the defendant being at present under arrest to prevent his leaving the country before the trial. The plaintiff asks damages for the seduction of her daughter Angeline. The defendant was station agent at Staples and the plaintiff a boarding house keeper at the same place.

The Bruce Herald of Walkerton published an article on Jan. 14 last accusing "Mr. Jim Murray, the bruiser of North Brant, and his worthy stepson, Mr. Jim Bowe," of passing bogus checks. The article also went on to state that the said parties after having worked for years to secure the blessings of unrestricted reciprocity for their party, gave up in despair after the election last spring and went in for free trade on their own behalf, and after purchasing largely on credit and borrowing money "moved off to the sixty million market across the lines." Mr. Murray, who is a farmer of the Township of Brant, feels aggrieved by the publication of the above article and has brought action against the paper to recover $1000 damages for libel. The master at Walkerton ordered the plaintiff to furnish security for costs, and the plaintiff yesterday appealed from this order to Mr. Justice Meredith. Judgment was reserved.

In the matter of the Central Bank a motion was made to Mr. Justice Meredith, on behalf of G. R. Hogaboom, the purchaser of the assets of the bank, for possession of the books. Mr. Meredith, Q.C., on behalf of Mr. Lye, opposed the application and judgment was reserved.

Mr. Justice Meredith made an order continuing till the trial the injunction got by James Bannon of 132 York-street to prevent the police from interfering with his business. Bannon keeps a licensed eating house and the city wishes to cancel his license.

The Chancery Divisional Court yesterday delivered judgment in some cases reserved from the last sitting of that court, among which are the following of general interest: In Forwood v. the City of Toronto, the plaintiff sued the city for damages for the loss of two toes, caused by a street car passing over his foot during the period that the road was operated by the city. At the trial the action was dismissed and the plaintiff appealed to the Divisional Court. The judgment directs that a new trial be granted the plaintiff. Costs to abide the result.

The defendants appealed from judgment for the plaintiff in the action of Langstaff v. McRae for $1000 damages for the plaintiff's crops, caused by a boom thrown across the Sydenham River by the defendant. The plaintiff's farm is on the banks of this river and the crops were damaged by an overflow of the river. The Divisional Court held that the placing of the boom across the river was lawful, in fact authorized by statute, and that the overflow was approximately caused by heavy rains and by circumstances beyond the defendant's control, and that the defendant should not be held liable. The verdict of the court below was set aside and directed judgment to be entered for the defendant.

Thompson v. Wright was an action tried at Hamilton and in which judgment was given for the plaintiff. The action was to recover damages for the loss of an arm suffered by the plaintiff, a mere lad, while employed in cleaning machinery in the defendant's factory at Hamilton. The plaintiff's hand was caught between cogwheels and his arm had to be amputated. The accident, it is alleged, was caused by his having to use for the purpose of cleaning the machinery a cloth instead of cotton waste, which he had asked for, but been refused on the ground that it was too expensive. The court dismissed, the appeal to set aside the verdict. The defendant's counsel applied for a new trial and judgment was reserved.

In the action of Hasson v. Wood, the defendant appealed from a verdict awarding the plaintiff $300 damages for injuries sustained by the plaintiff on the defendant's premises. The defendant is the proprietor of the Red Lion Hotel in Kingstreet, opposite the Academy of Music, and the plaintiff a customer of his. One day the plaintiff, after visiting the bar, had occasion to go out to the back of the hotel, and in so doing fell down a cellarway, open for the purpose of receiving liquors into the cellar. The Divisional Court dismissed the appeal, holding that the defendant was bound to take precaution for the safety of his customers.

Before the Court of Appeal argument in the case of Johnston v. The London Turf Club was heard yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff, at the club races in 1890, had run his horse and won three prizes of $140, $37 and $30, but the club refused to pay over these prizes, on the ground that the horse run was not the horse he was represented to be, but was another horse run under that name. The County Court judge gave judgment for the plaintiff for his claim, finding that there was no misrepresentation, and the Turf Club appeals from his judgment. Reserved.

Mr. Justice Street yesterday granted, on consent of parties, an injunction in the action of George Taylor Fulford against S. L. and W. A. Howe, restraining the defendants from using the trade mark or name of "Dr. William's Pink Pills for Pale People," or from selling as such pills not manufactured by the plaintiff. The plaintiff, a druggist of Brockville, manufactures the pills under the name of the Dr. Williams Medical Company. The defendants received a letter from a young lady of Grey County for a box of the above pills, and, it is alleged, supplied her with a different article under the same name, and she knowing the pills communicated with the Dr. Williams Medical Company and so the fraud was discovered. The plaintiff says his advertising of these pills costs him about $70,000 a year.

George and Joseph Williams are suing Silas Toole for $2000 damages for slander.

In the office of the master in ordinary yesterday the bond given by the liquidator was approved and the list of contributories filed in the matter of the winding up of the Ontario Express Company.

Storage Battery Cars in Australia.

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 30, 1892.

Mr. Arthur W. Jones, Thomson-Houston Int. Electric Company, Boston, Mass., U.S.A.:

DEAR SIR,—In reference to your request for information concerning the progress of electric traction with storage batteries in Australia I would say that we have no cars propelled by this method. About four years ago a car equipped with storage batteries was given a trial on the Government tramways in Sydney, N.S.W. This trial, which was made under the supervision of a Mr. Pritchard, who had imported the car from England, was anything but a success, and the Government would have nothing to do with it. In Sandhurst, Victoria, a six-car road was also equipped with storage battery cars. This road was a failure from the start, although it was supposed to have the finest equipment that could be procured in England, Mr. Ellson of the firm of Booth & Ellson, electrical engineers in Melbourne, Vic., having been sent there by the Sandhurst company for this purpose. The road was sold to another company at a great loss to the original stockholders and has since been changed to a steam road. These trials have tended to make the Australian public lose all confidence in traction by this method and to resort to the trolley system. Two roads so equipped are giving very good satisfaction. JAMES J. MAHONEY.

THE ICE COMBINE.

This Year Is the Last in Which Bay Ice Will Be Cut.

The great ice combine has been consummated. All the local dealers, including Ald. William Burns, Charles A. Burns, J. Fairhead, S. Greenwood, J. C. Cullerton, J. C. Graham, the Grenadier Ice Co., are members of the syndicate. Ald. William Burns is the president. The formation of this organization marks the abandonment of the bay as a field for ice harvesting. Frenchman's Bay and Lake Simcoe will be the future fields of operation. On the former bay and at Jackson's Point on Lake Simcoe two mammoth ice houses will be built, each capable of storing 60,000 tons of ice. The fact of the matter is, public opinion was too strong to allow of the free use of bay ice. It has been discovered that even the butchers are loth to allow the whited sepulchre containing ice "unfit for family use" to draw up and dump congealed sewage in front of their doors. The new company will be called The Toronto Ice and Cold Storage Co.

THE CATTLE MARKET.

The market was not so active to-day, while receipts were heavier, there being 23 loads, included in which were about 600 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 400 hogs and 60 calves.

Cattle—The market was heavy and prices were off from $3 to $4 a head. About a dozen loads were taken through to Montreal, probably half of which were unsold. The highest price paid for choice picked lots was 4¼c a pound. Choice loads sold up to 4c. Among some of the sales are these: 23 mixed, 1088 lbs., at $3.60 a cwt; 16 cows, 980 lbs. at $33.50; 21, 1200 lbs., at $46; 19, 1080 lbs., at $40; 20, 1050 lbs. at 4c; 10, 1300 lbs. at 4¼c; 19, 1100 lbs. at $40 each; 4 steers, 1350 lbs. at 4c a lb.; 3, 950 lbs. at $38; 16, 900 lbs. 3¾c a lb.; 6, 1120 lbs. at $3.70.

Hogs—Demand good and prices firmer. A couple of lots, averaging 180 lbs., sold at 5¼c off the cars. This was the highest price paid. Stores sold at 4½c to 4¾c a pound. Quality was not extra good, there being too many small hogs, but they were all wanted at quotations.

Stockers—Demand was good, but there were not many in. One lot of 41, averaging about 950 lbs., sold at 3¾c a pound. Prices ranged from 3½c to 4c. Bulls sold at 2½c to 3¼c. The outside price was paid for one weighing 1370 lbs.

Springers—Not many offered and demand was poor at $30 to $45.

Sheep and Lambs—Quality was on the whole poor and of a character for which there was not much demand. A mixed lot of 45 sheep and lambs sold at $3.40 a head and 10 lambs averaging about 130 lbs. changed hands at $5.50 a head. Good grain-fed yearlings were wanted and 6c a pound would have been paid.

Calves—Sold all the way from $2 to $8 a head, but the ruling prices were from $6.50 to $7 a head; 19 weighing about 145 pounds sold at $7, and 26 averaging 140 lbs sold at $6.75.

At the call board No. 1 hard was wanted at $1.06, North Bay, and $1.05½ was bid for same grade at Sarnia, grinding in transit privileges, or to arrive within two weeks at North Bay.

Barley—Much about the same; 1500 bushels of cut No. 1 changed hands west at 50c, freight as Toronto. No. 3 offered on spot at 50c.

Oats—Dull and easy; mixed on track at 31½c, and 32c to 32½c was asked for mixed and white west.

Buckwheat—Unchanged; 50c was asked east, and it would have been taken at that price, provided seller held it till opening of navigation.

Peas—Inactive and weak. A sale was reported at the west, but this was a high figure, as more could have been obtained in same direction at 59c.

Gossip From Chicago.

Estimated cars to-morrow: Wheat 140, corn 260, oats 140.

Walker wires that he understands that France will renew 27¼c on wheat, of which half was taken off.

Kennett, Hopkins & Co. to R. Cochran: The sold out condition of market left in shape to rally on the unexpected decrease of 1,300,000 bushels on ocean passage. But there was renewed and general selling at this top, which the market was too narrow to take and maintain prices. It sold off from 80c to 79¼c, but a more confident tone prevailed and investors took hold more freely. The price is attractive and for the present it looks safest to buy on soft spots. Not much doing and the manipulation will hold May corn, while later months and lower grades are relatively weak, and outside markets fail to respond materially to the advance here. The clique are counting on light receipts first half of April to help them out. Foreign markets have been declining since the bull movement here began, but exports are fair and new engagements encouraging. Oats show no snap. With good weather for putting in the next crop we shall probably see lower prices. Provisions have scored a further moderate advance, which is considered encouraging in view of the lack of outside business.

Guff from Gotham.

Henry Allen to John J. Dixon & Co.: This has been a rather unhappy day for the bull contingent. The bull leaders made two or three valiant spurges early in the day, but they accomplished little. Stock came out of strong boxes by wholesale. The settlement of the Behring Sea row and the decease of silver bill failed to give any new life to the market, and the quotations sank of their own weight. N.E. ran off easily, and even Erie, about which it is so often boasted that 10,000 can be sold without changing its quotations, dropped like lead. The fact is Wall-street is tired. There is no market except such as the room trade and eighth chasers make. As to rallying power it is displayed only when the traders create a sudden short interest, and then bid prices upon themselves. Money is cheap, and nothing is to be feared in that particular, but the public is shy, and so long as commission houses are empty prices are not likely to do much boosting. Sales on rallies offer the best prospects for profits.
