JUDGMENT DAY.

Numerous Deliverances at Osgoode Hall by Learned Judges on Interesting and Intricate Cases.

The Court of Appeal delivered judgments yesterday in the following cases:

Enterprise Manufacturing Company v. Trees.—This was an appeal from the judgment of Judge Macdougall, in term, on a motion by the defendants for judgment for $300 on their counter-claim in the action or for a new trial. The action was brought to recover $360.32 for goods sold and delivered to the defendants, and the latter counter-claimed for $300 paid by them in respect of an agreement under which, as they claimed, the plaintiffs were to assign them certain patents. It appeared that the patents in question had been applied for by the plaintiffs, but had not actually been granted to them, and for this reason the defendants assumed to rescind the contract. At the trial judgment was given for the plaintiffs in the main action and the counter-claim was dismissed with costs. On motion to the judge, in term, to set aside this judgment as to the counter-claim the defendants succeeded. The court allowed the appeal and directed judgment to be entered for the plaintiffs.

Devins v. Royal Templars of Temperance.—An appeal by the plaintiff from the judgment of the Chancery Divisional Court affirming the judgment of Mr. Justice Street at the trial dismissing the action with costs. Action by Lilly Devins, widow of the late Nathan C. Devins, against the Dominion Council of Canada and Newfoundland Royal Templars of Temperance, to recover $2000, the amount for which the deceased was insured in the defendants' society, and for which he held a certificate at the time of his death. The trial judge and one of the judges in the Divisional Court held that it was a condition precedent to the right of the deceased to hold the certificate beneficially that he should have conferred upon him the select or beneficiary degree of the defendants' order, and that he not having been raised to that degree before he died the plaintiff could not recover. The appeal was dismissed without costs.

The Chancery Divisional Court sat at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and delivered judgment in a number of cases heard at the last sitting of the court. The first case was that of Miller v. Dr. Ryerson, in which the late J. G. Holmes for the plaintiff moved to set aside a non-suit entered by Chief Justice Galt at the Toronto Spring Assizes in an action against a physician for damages for malpractice. The plaintiff is an infant, suing by her father as next friend. She alleges that the defendant in treating her for blindness made her deaf and dumb. The non-suit was entered because the action was not brought within a year, as required by the Physicians' and Surgeons' Act, R.S.O., ch. 148, sec. 40. The plaintiff was 6 years old when treated by the defendant, and is now eight or nine. The plaintiff contends that the action was brought within a year after the fact of permanent loss of hearing and speech was discovered, and also that, the plaintiff being an infant, is not bound by the limitation of the statute. The court dismissed the motion with costs and affirmed the judgment of the trial judge.

Innes v. Ferguson.—An appeal by the plaintiffs, the rector and churchwardens of St. Paul's Church, London, Ont., from the judgment of Mr. Justice MacMahon, the trial judge, in so far as it is in favor of the defendants in an action of ejectment as to 15 feet of land in Dufferin-avenue, London, left unsold by the church, over which the defendants claim a right of way by virtue of the statute of limitations. The trial judge held the defendants entitled to a right of way, but ordered them to remove such buildings. The defendants supported the judgment of the trial judge as to the right of way and appealed from it as to the encroachment. The questions of law raised are as to what constitutes an interruption under the statute and whether it can be made by the party claiming the right of way or must be made by a third party. Order made varying the judgment. The defendants are to remove the steps of the verandah to the extent of 21 inches and to remove the obstruction in the part of lane in the street. No costs.

Hett v. Janson.—An appeal from the judgment of Chief Justice Armour at the trial. The action was brought to recover damages occasioned to the plaintiff by reason of her foot having slipped through a broken grating in front of the defendant's store in the town of Berlin. The defendant was the landlord of the premises in question, but the defect in the grating existed at the time the current lease commenced. Appeal dismissed with costs.

Austin v. City of Toronto.—A motion on behalf of the plaintiff to increase the damages from $400 to $1146.60 in an action for damages for negligence, tried before Mr. Justice Falconbridge without a jury, at Toronto, or for a new trial. The alleged damages were caused by a fall sustained by the plaintiff owing to ice on a sidewalk, the result of which was that the plaintiff's right arm was badly sprained. The plaintiff, a professional nurse, fell in Crawford-street, in the city of Toronto, on Feb. 1 last. The snow-clearing in Crawford-street was done by the city corporation, not by the property-owners individually. The plaintiff moves on the ground that the amount for which the deceased was insured in the defendants' society, and for which he held a certificate at the time of his death. The trial judge and one of the judges in the Divisional Court held that it was a condition precedent to the right of the deceased to hold the certificate beneficially that he should have conferred upon him the select or beneficiary degree of the defendants' order, and that he not having been raised to that degree before he died the plaintiff could not recover. The appeal was dismissed without costs.

The defendant was the landlord of the premises in question, but the defect in the grating existed at the time the current lease commenced. Appeal dismissed with costs.

Austin v. City of Toronto.—A motion on behalf of the plaintiff to increase the damages from $400 to $1146.60 in an action for damages for negligence, tried before Mr. Justice Falconbridge without a jury, at Toronto, or for a new trial. The alleged damages were caused by a fall sustained by the plaintiff owing to ice on a sidewalk, the result of which was that the plaintiff's right arm was badly sprained. The plaintiff, a professional nurse, fell in Crawford-street, in the city of Toronto, on Feb. 1 last. The snow-clearing in Crawford-street was done by the city corporation, not by the property-owners individually. The plaintiff moves on the ground that the damages are altogether inadequate to compensate the plaintiff for the medical expenses of her illness, her loss of business, etc., without considering her pain and suffering. The court increased the damages to $600. Costs to the plaintiff.

Deroche v. Town of Cornwall.—An appeal by the defendants from the judgment of Mr. Justice MacMahon at the trial in March last. The action was brought to recover damages for injuries sustained by the plaintiff falling on the sidewalk, owing, as alleged, to an accumulation of ice and snow, for which the defendants were responsible. Counsel for the defendants contended that on the evidence a non-suit should have been entered, and that the verdict was contrary to the evidence. Order made for a new trial. Costs to abide the result.

Overend v. Moran.—An appeal by the plaintiff in an interpleader issue from the judgment of Mr. Justice Rose. The plaintiff is an innkeeper and claimed a lien on a stallion for its keep by virtue of his common law right as an innkeeper, and also as to part of the time by virtue of an express agreement between himself and the owner of the horse. The defendant claimed to be entitled to be a mortgagee of the horse under a chattel mortgage, and claimed also as an execution creditor of the owner, and it was contended that the lien never arose and that, if it arose, it was lost by reason of the horse having been given up to its owner and removed from the plaintiff's possession. So far as the express agreement was concerned it was urged that it could not prevail against the defendant's mortgage. Appeal refused and judgment of the trial judge affirmed with costs.

Barney v. Silcox.—An appeal by the plaintiff from the judgment of Mr. Justice Rose at the trial, dismissing the action with costs, and he also moved for a new trial on the ground of the discovery of new evidence. The action was brought by the plaintiff as assignee of Polly Eliza Scragam to recover moneys claimed to be due to her for boarding certain workmen employed in the construction of the Murray Canal. These workmen had been in the employ of the firm of Stewart & Quinlan, and it was claimed by the plaintiff that they had paid the defendants the amount payable for their board, to the benefit of which payment the plaintiff claimed to be entitled. The firm of Stewart & Quinlan had been unable to complete their contract and the plaintiff had discovered since the trial that the defendants had expressly agreed to pay the amount due to Mrs. Scragam for board. For the defendants it was contended that there was no priority of contract and no consideration for the alleged agreement to pay the claim in question. The court dismissed the appeal with costs.

Fordham v. Huber.—An appeal by the plaintiff from the judgment of the trial judge whereby a non-suit was entered. The action is brought on behalf of a 14-year-old lad, who lost his arm in machinery on the defendant's premises, for damages on the ground of negligence. The court ordered a new trial. Costs to be paid by the defendant.

Mr. Justice Robertson will be the vacation judge on the chancery side until further notice. He will sit on Friday of each week commencing with the 8th of July. All papers for motions must be sent to the registrar with sufficient postage for transmission to Hamilton a reasonable time before the motion is to come on. The rules are posted and are to be strictly enforced. The motions for injunctions against the city in respect of Ashbridge's Bay nuisance came up before Mr. Justice MacMahon, but were enlarged till after vacation.

Requests of the Wealthy.

The will of the late Thomas Webb, of St. Clare avenue, filed for probate yesterday disposes of an estate valued at $134,427, of which $4683 is in cash, $39,449 in real estate, $49,358 in mortgages, $21,957 in stocks and $17,597 in book debts and notes. The bulk of the estate is divided into four equal shares, one each going to his children, Thomas, Harry (the confectioner), Sarah (Mrs. Wightman), and Edward's children on attaining their majority. Mrs. Wightman dying subsequent to the making of this will her share is left in trust by a codicil for her children. There were numerous other small bequests.

Christian Heisey of York Township by will leaves $11,850 between his wife and children.

William Mackenzie of Moray, Scotland, was allowed to administer the estate of his uncle, the late William Mackenzie of Toronto who left $4500 when he died, by Justice Robertson yesterday.

Dogs.

Editor World: I wish to call the attention of the Ferry Company to a nuisance which is growing year by year. Fly young men, in other words dudes, imagine that the "get up" is not complete without being accompanied by an overgrown dog. No doubt some of these natives of Newfoundland are harmless, but that mitigating circumstance cannot for a moment be entertained, especially in hot weather when that frightful disease hydrophobia is more or less prevalent. On Sunday evening at the Island a savage attack was made on a lady and child by a ferocious brute, and it required considerable exertion on the part of the bystanders to drive him away. There should be no sentiment or parleying in this matter, as one drop of human blood is infinitely more precious than all the dogs in the world. These pets give much annoyance at the wharves when boats are coming in or going out. A CITIZEN.

"German Syrup"

G. Gloger, Druggist, Watertown, Wis. This is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what true merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschee's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called at my store, who was suffering from a very severe cold. She could hardly talk, and I told her about German Syrup and that a few doses would give relief; but she had no confidence in patent medicines. I told her to take a bottle, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few days after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief."

FEEL BUOYANT

"Am happy to say that results so far are as satisfactory as I could expect, indeed much more so than I dit expect. I am enjoying excellent health, appetite good, sleep sweet and refreshing, gaining flesh; am less nervous than I have been for years; feel bright and buoyant * * It is almost miraculous, making a young man out of one of seventy, for that is just what your treatment is doing for me. I wish the community to know in as modest a way as we can get at it."

Gossip from Chicago.

Kennett, Hopkins & Co. to R. Cochran: Wheat was advanced early by strength in other markets, but became heavy and began to slump off as soon as local shorts had covered. An improbable report from Beerbohm that the India crop will be 64,000,000 bushels short of last year had some effect. The very large exports from that country since April 1, exceeding those of same period last year, was evidence that a good crop was raised. Dornbusch estimated the French crop at about 300,000,000 bushels this year and 232,000,000 last year. Cables were weak, but crop news was favorable. Corn and Oats—The Illinois State report on corn was the bull factor to-day; the acreage is claimed to be about 85 per cent. of last year and the condition from 60 to 75. The Illinois corn lands probably suffered more than those of any other state from the May floods, and if the acreage is but short 15 per cent it suggests a total acreage of 90 to 95 per cent. for the whole country. The condition is low because of the backwardness of the season, but favorable weather will greatly improve it in this respect and possibly make it equal to last year. Oats strong, in sympathy with corn and gaining friends daily. Provisions—The bull clique have made it quite interesting for shorts to-day. Hogs were 10c higher, and the bulls thought it about time to put in another turn for shorts to-day. Hogs were started quite a respectable procession of shorts fell into line and bought freely at top prices.

Walker & Co. to John J. Dixon & Co.: Wheat early was dull but firm. The buying of July by Pardridge caused an uneasy feeling among the shorts, and the market sold up a cent. When prices were strong he turned round and sold September and prices sagged off, closing a little above opening prices. The crowd have been bearish right along, and when they see any concentration of buying they rush to get in as they did to-day. The receipts at the primary markets were light, amount on passage shows good decrease. English visible decreases 1 India crop reported 64,000,000 bushels short, but it is so big a shortage that it looks like an error. Shipments from there big this week. The cabled news dull and lower, the weather showery throughout the wheat belt. Corn has been higher. The receipts were large, but grading was light. Outside trade has been larger and on the buying side. The crowd have been bearish and fighting the advance. The receipts of hogs were lighter than was estimated and prices were 10c higher. Provisions opened higher, and under urgent buying by the shorts and outside bulls the prices advanced to $11.70 for September pork. There has been heavy realizing all day by some of the first bulls, which caused a good healthy reaction to-day and five brick stores.

NOT SO

We find that there is an impression abroad to the effect that no one can purchase from us unless a member of the Grange Society. NOT SO. We sell Butter, Eggs, Provisions, Groceries, etc., to city people without distinction. We deal with thousands of farmers all through the country. We sell to them and get produce from them to sell. Therefore, coming direct to us, the articles are fresher and prices lower than if they passed through two or three hands, as is usually the case. We want city people to know that they can buy all kinds of Provisions and Produce from us cheaper than they can elsewhere, and also that they can buy Groceries and Household Goods Retail at Wholesale Prices.
