LISTOWEL STANDARD.

FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1879.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

New styles in Hats, just opened, at Bean & Gee's.

MONDAY next, "17th of ould Ireland." Trot out yer shamrocks and green ribbons.

COUNCIL.—An adjourned meeting of the town Council will be held on Monday evening.

CHEAPEST TEAS in town at Alex. Morrow's. Quantities of 5 lbs and upwards selling at greatly reduced prices. Call and secure a bargain.

AUCTION SALE.—An auction sale of farm stock, etc., will take place on the farm of Mr. Richard R. Ross, lot 50, 1st con. township of Grey, on Thursday next, 20th inst. T. E. Hay, auctineer.

ANOTHER CHANGE. — We understand that Mr R W Bass has disposed of his property and grocery store on Wallace street to Mr. J. J. Moore, son of Mr. R. Moore of Elma. The new proprietor takes possession on the 1st of April.

GONE WEST.—On Tuesday morning last Mr. August Hess, of this town, left by the Port Dover and Canada Southern Rys. for the Western States. We understand that it is his intention to join his brother who is in business in a flourishing town in Illinois.

Gentlemen of Listowel, why send your orders outside for your Shirts when you can get them made as well and cheaper at home? Bean & Gee guarantee a perfect fit. Give them a trial and be convinced.

PROF. HILLYER.—Owing to the recent snow blockade on the P. D. & L. H. Ry., Prof. Hillyer failed to reach here, consequently his performance did not take place as advertised. The Prof. is now billed to appear at the Osborne hall on Monday evening next, when he will give a "magical, musical and mirthful" exhibition. Admission only 15 cents.

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEES.— The last issue of the Canada Gazette contains notices of the appointment of twenty-nine new assignees, among whom are Robert Martin and W. R. Clayton of Listowel, Boyd Rutherford of Millbank, and Peter Robinson Jarvis, Alfred Burnham and Robert Rutherford of Stratford, all for the county of Perth.

BANKRUPT STOCK.—Messrs. Burrell & Boulton, of Walkerton, were the purchasers of the general dry goods stock of Mr. D. McFarlane, insolvent, which was sold by the assignee on Saturday. These gentlemen secured it at 46 cents on the dollar, and as will be seen by advertisement, elsewhere, they have decided to give the people of this section an opportunity to obtain cheap goods for one month.

CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—Our townspeople will please bear in mind the grand charity concert that is to be given in the Osborne hall this evening. The programme is an excellent one, including the names of Mrs. Barnes, Mr. Sarvis, and all the best musical talent in town. The admission is only 15 cents (more will be accepted if offered,) and the object is one which is deserving of a most hearty support, therefore we say, let there be a bumper house.

MR. D. D. HAY has returned from Toronto and is now engaging his attention with the ordinary occupations of his farm and Division Court affairs, and rumor says that he seriously contemplates resigning his claims to the representation of North Perth in the next Parliament of Ontario. We trust for Mr. Hay's sake that rumor in this case will prove correct, and that some other person ambitious of honor will be premitted to court the certain defeat which awaits him.

CATTLE FAIR.—The March cattle fair was attended by an unusually large number of farmers and buyers. About two hundred head of cattle were brought in. A few fat beasts, several milch cows, two or three yoke of steers and a large number of young cattle, principally of the "common" order, made up the lot. Notwithstanding the presence of so many buyers, the number of sales effected was not large. Prices ruled from 2½ to 3½ cts. per lb. The price per head was about $25 for milch cows, from $18 to $25 for two and three year olds, and from $25 to $35 for feeding and fat beasts.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES.—From the report of the Commissioner of Agriculture and Arts, for 1878, we learn that the money awarded in prizes at the various local shows in Perth was as follows: North Perth, $1,016.75; South Perth, $884.75; Elma, $197; Logan, $85; Mornington, $234; Wallace and Elma, $308.25; Blanshard, $210; Fullarton, $181.25; Hibbert, $147.90; Mitchell, horticultural, $183.50. North Perth received the Legislative grant of $700, and municipal grant, $150, and paid $510 to township societies. South Perth received $700 from the Government and $187 from municipalities, and paid $419.99 to township societies.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL.—The plans for the new High School have been received from Mr. Sheard, the architect, of Toronto. They are now on exhibition at the residence of Mr Draper, chairman of the High School Board. Owing to the pressure of matter on our columns we are compelled to defer a description of the contemplated building, but we are pleased to say that they have been approved of by all the prominent men in town who have examind them. When a building is erected in accordence with these plans and specifications, Listowel will have a High School that will furnish the requisite accomodiation and reflect the desire of her inhabitants to take a forward rank in educational matters. As will be seen elsewhere, tenders for the erection of the new building will be received up to the 25th inst.

FAIR DAY.—Friday was a lively day in Listowel. At an early hour in the morning Wallace street presented a scene of activity quite astonishing to those who witnessed it. A procession of teams, which kept the Campbell hill perfectly black for sometime, was to be seen approaching, while the other entries to the town were also contributing to the influx of people from the country. No doubt the heart of the merchant man rejoiced as he beheld the countenances of so many of his old patrons; but, truth to tell, times are changed, cash is scarce, and there's the rub. "There were never so many people in town with so little money," was the opinion given expression to by a prominent business man on Friday evening, and he was not very wide of the mark, we are sorry to say. It is no wonder that the advent of an ameliorating governmental policy is so anxiously looked for by all classes, farmer as well as merchant and tradesman.

SOLD OUT.—Mr. D. D. Campbell, who has been identified with the mercantile business of this town ever since the place acquired a mercantile business to boast of, has at last retired from that branch of industry, having sold out his general dry goods store to Messrs. R. McMillan & Co. The members of the new firm are Mr. Robert McMillan and Mr. J. K. Bricker. With Mr. McMillan everyone in the neighborhood must be almost as well acquainted as with Mr. Campbell himself, having been for twenty-two years in the business, during which time he has occupied the positions successively of clerk, partner and manager in the establishment. His partner, Mr. J. K. Bricker, is a young gentleman from Berlin, who has also had experience in the dry goods business. Inheriting a trade established by years of progressive management, and being gentlemen deserving of public confidence, the successors to Mr. Campbell launch out under favorable auspices. We wish them a successful career.

KNOX CHURCH SOIREE.—The annual festival of Knox Church took place on Tuesday evening last, and as might be expected was a very pleasant affair. The attendance was very good, considering the state of the roads, which prevented many parties in the country from being present. An abundance of "good things" had been provided by the ladies of the congregation, which all present seemed to enjoy most heartily. After tea had been served, Mr. Jas. Crozier, head master in the High School, was appointed chairman, and a programme consisting of music, addresses and readings, was announced. The church choir provided the music, which was appropriate and well rendered. The speakers were Revds. Norris, Cooper and McGregor, D. B. Dingman, Esq., and Dr. Philip, each of whom delivered addresses which had the merit of being brief and sociable. Select readings were given by Misses Foote, Beith and Draper, and Rev. Mr. Bell. The pleasant gathering was dispersed with a benediction pronounced by Rev. Mr. McGregor. On the following evening the Sabbath school children's entertainment was held in the Church.

S. & H. R. EXTENSION.—The Harriston Tribune says: S. S. Fuller, President of the above road, was in town on Monday last for the purpose of waiting upon our Council and completing the agreements necessary, according to the by-law, previous to the handing over of the debentures to the trustees. The business we believe was all satisfactorily settled, and the debentures will be handed over at once. In conversation with Mr. Fuller we learned that it is the intention of the company to at once proceed to secure the balance of the bonuses, so as to have all arrangements complete by spring, and then to at once commence the location of the line, purchase right of way, &c. This part of the work, which is said to be most tedious, will be acomplished during the coming season, ready for grading. The company feels quite sanguine on securing the Government aid—perhaps, not this session, but certainly the next. Should no unforeseen circumstance arise we would not be surprised to see the engine of the Stratford & Lake Huron Railway reach Harriston before the beginning of 1880. We trust our Northern friends who have yet to assist this line will set to work as early as possible.

AN EXTENSIVE PURCHASE.—Our enterprising townsman, Mr. D. D. Campbell, has recently made a most extensive addition to the property already owned by him in this town, his latest purchase being the entire Shields' estate. In this estate are included the "Empress Flouring Mills," which are reported to be the finest mill property in Western Canada. The mill is an immense brick building, between four and five stories high, contains six run of stones, and is fitted up with the most modern milling machinery, the latter being driven by steam power. Mr. Campbell's purchase also includes the large 2½ story brick residence on the corner of Victoria and Elma streets, erected by Mr. Shields last summer; the mill offices and the land in connection, about six acres. We understand that $22,000 was the price paid for the whole property. Mr. Campbell has hitherto had the credit of being an enterprising business man, and has done much towards bringing Listowel into its present advanced stage of progress. In his assuming the proprietorship of these mills, we are sure that both the people of the town and the agricultural community have reason for congratulation, their successful management being placed beyond peradventure if energy and capital will accomplish it. Until the grain season opens next fall, Mr. Campbell intends running the mills chiefly for gristing purposes. He is now prepared to accommodate his rural friends in that line.

ONTARIO FORESTERS.—The High Court of Ontario Independent Order of Foresters met in session at London on Tuesday of last week. Delegates from 29 subordinate courts were in attendance, Court Royal Oak No. 26, Listowel, being represented by Bro E C Clarke, R W C R. The object of calling this special session was to consider the advisability of severing the connection between the Courts of Canada and those of the United States with regard to the "endowment" fund. The number of death calls from Courts in the United States being greatly in excess of the proportionate death rate in Ontario, together with the defalcation of the late R W H Treasurer, have created a desire upon the part of members of the order in Ontario to have sole control their funds. The following resolution was almost unanimously concurred in: "On motion of Bro. A. McClenaghan, H V C R, seconded by W. J. Scarle, it was resolved, that in the interests of Forestry in Canada, it is desirable that the connexion (so far as endowments are concerned) with the order in the United States, should be brought to as speedy a termination as possible, and that the Order in this country will suffer no diminution of the endowment, but that we will assess ourselves for a sufficient sum to make good and secure $1,000 to the representative of each deceased brother."

A SUGGESTION.—The citizens of Palmerston having entered into a satisfactory agreement with the West Wellington Agricultural Society, it has been decided to hold the Society's Fall Show in that town. It has been suggested to us that the time of holding the Elma & Wallace Exhibition be so arranged as to take place immediately before or immediately after the West Wellington show, in order to give exhibitors at each an opportunity of attending the other without being under the necessity of taking their exhibits home during the interval that would otherwise occur. This is a matter of material consideration with the owners of stock, especially in the more distant parts of Maryborough and Peel. We understand that should an arrangement be effected—and we can see no reason why it should not be done, as neither Society has as yet fixed the date for holding their fall show—Mr. Archibald Park, whose fine herd of Ayrshires would be a desirable acquisition to any exhibition, and a number of other gentlemen in the same locality who also own good stock, will be exhibitors at the exhibition in Listowel next fall. The distance and extra expense may otherwise preclude them from coming. This is a matter for the Directors of both Societies to consider. Another matter which should engage the attention of the Elma & Wallace board of directors is the desirability of limiting their fall exhibition to two days. We have previously expressed our opinion in this regard, and we have since ascertained that many of the exhibitors entertain the same views. By confining the show to two days, specifying the hour up to which entries in each department shall be received, facilitating the taking of entries and the placement of exhibits as much as possible, and abiding faithfully to the printed rules of the Society, the success of the exhibition will be easier attained and greater satisfaction will be given to all.

"FOOLS."—This was the subject upon which Rev. J. E. Lancely, of London, lectured at the C. M. Church on Monday There was a fair audience present ev'g. Mayor Scott consented to occupy the chair, and after the Church choir had rendered two or three sacred selections very approvingly, the lecturer was introduced, who engaged the attention of all present for upwards of an hour in listening to his decidedly interesting lecture on the somewhat novel subject of "Feols." The lecture was logical and instructive, and spiced with a slight vein of humor, which made it all the more appreciable. The faculty of reasoning, the lecturer maintained, was the gift which God had endowed man with to distinguish him from the inferior animals, and he who did not use this higher gift was a fool. The "instinct" possessed by creatures of the animal world was attributed to He who careth for the ravens also reasoning for them, and was designed to teach man lessons for his guidance. Progressive reasoning was essential to the development of the mind. The lecturer thought it a mistake to teach young people that they were liable to die at any moment; he considered that they should be taught how to live, as a better preparation for death. The measure of a man's usefulness in this world was humorously illustrated by the lecturer, who compared him to a town pump, the value of which depended altogether upon what could be got out of it. A class of individuals whom the lecturer thought should come under the category of "fools," were those "nice fellows" with too little ambition to become intelligent men, persons who could "waltz for an hour because they had no brains to confuse." Appetite, he held to be one of the greatest dethroners of reason, and its slavish influences should be scorned as a thief who was stealing from man what his Maker had given him to make superior to the brute. The lecturer breathed a word of counsel to the ladies also, whom he desired not to imitate those giddy senseless butterflies of female creation. A safe maxim for a lady's guidance was: never do to please another what would lower one's self-esteem. Parents should teach their children not to allow their minds to be impaired by the vanities of display. He thought all should value the wealth which their Maker had given them, but its value was wrongly interpreted when the cultivation of the mind was neglected. Sensibility was the best richess. The Rev. lecturer also referred to "the other life we have to live, of which this is but the key." From the Book of Inspiration we learn the origin of our being. The "fool" says "there is no God," but the aspiring soul of man disclaims this atheistic dogma. Among other Scriptural "fools," the quarreler, the wiseacre, the merry-mocker and the miser were brought under the lash of the lecturer, being dealt with in a style which, while warning and impressive, did not detract from the entertaining merits of the lecture. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Rev. Mr. Lancely at the conclusion, also to the chairman and the choir.

Newest styles in Oxford and Regatta Shirtings, at Bean & Gee's.

MORNINGTON.

The directors of the Mornington Agricultural Society have resolved to hold a reaping and mowing match during next harvest. As the match is open to the Dominion, there will no doubt be a large representation of the best machines manufactured. This will afford farmers a capital opportunity of ascertaining which machine should be given the preference.

WALLACE.

Edmund Brand lost a very valuable colt by getting its head entangled in the halter. Mr. Brand is very unfortunate with horses, this being the second one he has lost this winter.

John Cairns, a young man in the employ of John Robinson, was severely hurt in Orangeville, while on his way with a load of furniture for Mr. Long. It appears he went to the hayloft in the morning to throw down some hay, and accidentally fell through on to the floor, breaking his colar bone and otherwise injuring himself.

There is to be a cheese meeting in the school house, No. 6, on Friday evening, for the purpose of appointing a committee and other business in connection with the factory.

NEWRY.

SOLD OUT.—Mr. Arthur Wynn, proprietor of the Newry hotel, has sold out his place of business to Mr. Henry Cook, of the township of Hay, for $1,800. As this is one of the best stands in this part of the country Mr. Cook has good prospects of doing a good business, as has been done heretofore.

The roads in this vicinity are getting very bad; sleighing is almost done, and in consequence a great deal of work that would have been preformed this month must remain undone. It will not be so bad if the fall wheat, which looks very healthy, wherever it is bare does not suffer.

Some disappointed office seeker, who signs himself "Ratepayer," wants to make himself conspicuous by attacking the council of Elma.—COM.

ELMA.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Another old pioneer of Elma passed away on Friday of last week, in the person of Mr. Geo. Forrest, of the 14th con. He was in his usual health, and partook of a hearty dinner, and while his wife was discharging her customary household duties, she discovered her husband dead. The deceased was one of the first settlers of this part of the township, and was much respected by those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He was 72 years of age, and a native of Perthshire, Scotland.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On the 6th inst., as two sons of Mr. Thomas Melrose, of the 6th con., were hauling cedar out of the swamp, each one with a single horse, the youngest, a lad of about 13 years, had hitched to a large cedar log and got nicely started when it struck against a stump, breaking one of the traces, which caused the end of the whippletree to fly back, striking him in the mouth, breaking out several of his teeth and jamming others in flat on his tongue, also splitting his lips in a frightful manner, the pain being so great that he can scarcely swallow.

The hard times does not seem to affect the grangers in this vicinity, as Mr John Dick and Mr. James Hammond have the stuff on the ground for two very large bank barns. W. Coughlin has the contract for both. Mr. Wm. Keith intends erecting a handsome gravel house this spring. Messrs. Aitcheson and Saunderson are rapidly pushing ahead their cheese factory business; they are getting up twelve wagons on a new principle for milk hauling, under the superintendence of Saunderson & Barnes. Blacksmith Gray is to be found at his anvil from early till late at all kinds of iron work, but especially iron harrows, for the Prairie Province.

New kinds of cross-cut saws seem to be the rage around here. Two of the McCaulay boys cut three cords of stove wood in two hours with the Diamond Point Saw. Beat this who can.—COM.

LINES ON THE DEATH OF LITTLE MARY.

Little Mary is ta'en from our embrace,
The one that we loved so well;
A gentle voice has called her,
Home with her Saviour to dwell.

I stood o'er her cradle while dying,
Her mother with tears watched her so;
But her spirit soared up into glory
And left us to mourn her below.

There is a fresh little mound in the graveyard,
While at it her mother did weep;
The thought of the now vacant pillow,
Where her sweet little face used to sleep.

There is a vacant place now at the table
Which Mary's sweet face used to fill;
Her mother sits thinking and weeping,
But she knows that it is the Lord's will.

All our prayers are to meet her in heaven,
And sing with the angels on high;
Little Mary is waiting our coming,
For the present she has bid us goodbye.
