

The Oldman River decision is obviously a fundamentally important decision for environmental regulation in Canada, and it will undoubtedly have widespread implications. The decision does not, however, adversely affect any of the Committee's recommendations regarding the division of powers on environmental issues. If anything, it supports many of the Committee's conclusions, and may be of assistance in their implementation.

Organizations and Individuals	Date	Issue
The Environmental Monitor and Synergistics Consulting Limited. Doug Miller, President	September 20, 1991	8
The Canadian Consulate in Boston. The Honorable Tom Mac Millan, P.C., Consul General	September 25, 1991	6
The Native Council of Canada. Don Smith, President	October 1, 1991	7
The Inuit Tapiriit of Canada. Eriksiana Nuptak, President Wendy Moss, Communications Advisor Joe Omlank, Executive Assistant	October 1, 1991	6
The Environmental Law Institute, Washington. A. William Fyfe, President	October 8, 1991	9
Stok Canada. Jack MacLeod, President and Chief Executive Officer	October 10, 1991	10
IronLife Children. Max McLeary, President and Chief Executive Officer	October 10, 1991	10
The Dawson Academy of Aquatic Science. Frances Hughes, Director of Policy Andrew Hamilton, Director of Special Projects	October 17, 1991	12
The Assembly of First Nations. Chief Bill Walker, General Secretary	October 20, 1991	13
The West Coast Environmental Law Association. William L. Andrews, Executive Director	October 24, 1991	15