—A rare artistic treat is promised those who attend St. James' Presbyterian Church to-morrow evening. Miss Norah Coleman is said to be an elocutionist of surpassing merit.

—A special memorial service was held yesterday morning for the late Mr. George Phillips and little Amy Crouch at the First Congregational Church. Rev. A. Aylward preached.

—Rev. W. J. Smith, of the Metropolitan Church, Toronto, preached at Queen's Avenue and Askin Street Methodist Churches yesterday morning and evening respectively.

—At a regular meeting of Union Degree Lodge, S. O. E. B. A., the following officers were elected: President, Thos. Spettigue; vice-president, J. Hayman; treasurer, H. J. Carter; secretary, W. H. Brown; chaplain, Ed. Neal; inside guard, E. Fountain; outside guard, Bro. Tezzel; first committeeman, H. Edmonds.

—The "Fast Mail," which will be presented at the Grand Thursday evening, is one of the most successful plays put upon the stage in recent years. The story is thrilling, and justice is done the startling and realistic scenes by a perfection of mechanical effects. Among other reproductions is a representation of an engine room on a Mississippi River steamboat, with the furnaces under the boilers fired up; a train of cars shoots across the stage in one scene, and in another there is a vivid, beautiful and awe-inspiring representation of Niagara Falls by moonlight.

A Minister's Advice.

A minister annoyed by tobacco chewing thus spoke to his congregation: "Take your quid of tobacco out of your mouth on entering the house of God, and gently lay it on the outer edge of the sidewalk or on the fence. It will positively be there when you go out, for a rat won't take it, a cat won't take it, a dog won't take it, neither will a hog; you are certain of your quid when you go after it. Not the filthiest vermin on earth would touch it."

Three More Nights.

Flint, the hypnotist, gave two performances to large audiences on Saturday. He opens in Toronto Thursday and has decided to remain in the city and appear at the Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week. Saturday evening he thrust the blade of a knife into a subject's arm, and after people had examined it permitted the blood to flow copiously, and then checked the hemorrage instantly by magnetic power. He had some lady volunteers on the stage, and promises to utilize them more fully this week.

Humane Society Work.

Mr. Minhinnick, of the London Humane Society, has recently investigated a case of cruelty to cattle, a few miles east of the city, which is the worst that has yet come under his notice. A herd of twenty young cattle in a field showed signs of very improper attendance, whilst in the barn he found four others so weak from apparent starvation as not to be able to rise. Two veterinary surgeons were called to examine them, and found that the flesh was festered and apparently rotting. The animals were covered with sores. It was thought necessary to kill them.

Walt Whitman's Home to be Preserved.

Walt Whitman's late home at Camden, N. J., a little frame house, worth about $1,500 or $2,000, is to be bought and preserved in his memory. Already circulars asking for subscriptions, have been sent out to Whitman's admirers. Mr. Traubel says the two bedrooms, where Whitman did all his literary work, and the parlor would be kept as they are. The interior will, however, be somewhat repaired and repainted. Whitman left a number of manuscripts, containing both prose and poetry, which have never been published. Among them was a poem, "Columbus," recently written, on the coming Columbian Exposition. There were also some personal effects, which, if sold, would bring large prices, but these will be kept in the old house.

Taken to the Asylum.

Governor Kelly and the lady matrons of the county jail have at last been relieved of the responsibility of caring for a number of insane inmates at the jail. On Saturday Mary Jane Hoover, of London, Sarah Ann Harris, of Strathroy, Isabella Geddes, of London, and Wm. Franks, of Westminster, all of whom have been confined in jail for some time, were transferred to the asylum. The delay has been caused by the lack of room in the latter institution. None but those who have had experience can realize the unpleasantness of having insane prisoners in a jail. Their yells continued through night and day cause many bursting headaches and many sleepless hours. It adds decidedly to a prisoner's punishment. Robert Harding, of Caradoc, is now the only insane prisoner in the Middlesex county jail.

St. George's Society at Church.

St. George's Society and the Sons of England attended divine service at the Memorial Church yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. They marched, about 200 strong, from their rooms, corner of Richmond and Carling streets, via Richmond, Dundas and William streets to the church. The Sons of England Band, under Bandmaster Charlton, headed the procession. Their sweet music and neat uniforms were favorably commented upon. Marshal Shoulders was in command. On arriving at the church the visitors occupied the center seats. After the opening service of song and prayer, Archdeacon Marsh preached a short but practical sermon. The lesson was read from I. Corinthians, xv., 3—"For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures." In Christian countries, said the reverend gentleman, men banded together to aid the poor. St. George's Society was purely a benefit society to help Englishmen who required assistance. They also had as one of their objects the aiding of Englishmen who came among them as strangers. The society should be liberally helped in the good work in which they were engaged. The procession returned via Queen's avenue.

To Aid Discharged Prisoners.

A meeting of the committee of the Prisoners' Aid Association was held at Mr. Hutchinson's office recently for the purpose of receiving report of collectors for the proposed Prison Gate Home, when the following subscriptions were reported: Wm. Bowman, $50; T. McCormick, $50; John Friend, $25; Dr. Arnott, $25; John Labatt, $25; P. W. D. Broderick, $25; N. S. Williams, $25; J. R. Shuttleworth, $20; Rev. A. C. Courtice, $10; Samuel Grigg, $10; Chas. Hutchinson, $10; Mrs. Thornley, $10; W. J. Little, $10; John Bowman, $10; James Bowman, $10; Rev. Mr. Rhodes, $10; John McClary, $10; D. S. Perrin, $5; R. Marshall, $5; Wm. Spencer, $5; Bishop Baldwin, $5; A. B. Cox, $5; J. S. Pearce, $5; Sheriff Glass, $5; T. B. Escott, $5; S. Stewart, $5; W. R. Hobbs, $5; Mrs. Geo. Burns, $5; James Duffield, $5; Patrick Kelly, $5; B. Cottam, $5; V. Cronyn, $5; Mr. Trebilcock, $5; Dean Innes, $5; Leonard & Son, $5; W. E. Nelles, $5; friend $4; W. E. Fessenden, $3; Mr. Tanton, $3; Mrs. Smart, $2; Mr. Boomer, $2; friend, $2; Mrs. Sparks, $1; Miss Hamilton, $1; Miss Moore, $1; friend, $1; Mrs. Kent, $1; Capt. Smith, S. A., $1; Capt. Busby, S. A., $1; Rev. W. J. Clark, $1; Mr. Bernard, $1; Mr. Coo, $1; Mrs. Rossiter, $1; A. Kent, $1; Robt. Gurd, Sarnia, $1; Francis Russell, 50 cents—making a total subscribed to date of $459 50. The amount required to furnish the home and to provide the necessary outfit for industrial purposes is $1,000, $540 50 is therefore yet wanting and all who feel interested in this good cause will, it is hoped, communicate without delay with Mrs. Hutchinson, of Beecher street, South London, the secretary of the committee, or Mrs. Talbot Macbeth, the treasurer, Kent street, city.

ITS 73RD BIRTHDAY.

City Oddfellows Celebrate the Order's Anniversary

By a Church Parade—A Large Turn-Out—Visiting Brethren—Dr. Campbell's and Rev. Mr. Murray's Addresses—A Novel Choir.

The foundation of the Independent Order of Oddfellowship was laid 73 years ago. The anniversary of this event is always commemorated by the brethren in some shape or form and wherever the order has an existence. The fraternity in the Forest City marked the occasion with the usual church parade, and a very imposing turnout they made yesterday afternoon. Oddfellows' Hall, corner Dundas and Clarence streets, was the rendezvous, and thither marched the brethren from the east end to join the city lodges. The full band of the Seventh was present in all the glory of red tunics and white helmets. They headed the procession and were followed by the members of London Canton, resplendent in plumed hats and gilt-edged uniform. Lieutenant-Colonel Stenberg was in command, assisted by Major Herald, Captain Coo and Lieutenants Darch and Abbott. The city lodges, including Harmony and Adelphian Encampments, were fully represented, and were officered as follows:

Eureka—H. R. Abbott, N.G.; J. Kirkpatrick, V.G.

Forest City—W. E. Jackson, N.G.; A. Ferguson, V.G.

Dominion—H. C. Allison, N.G.; E. Sanders, V.G.

Chorazin (East End)—George Grant, N.G.; H. Woodman, V.G.

About twenty brethren from Howard Lodge, Strathroy, came up for the occasion and were distinguishable by silk hats. A number from other places in the district helped to swell the gathering. The route of march lay along Dundas street to Waterloo to St. Andrew's Church. The procession was a long one the head of the column reaching the church when the rear had just left the hall.

The seats in the center of the church were reserved for members of the craft. They filled it completely and overflowed on the side. The remainder of the edifice was occupied by the general public. Rev. J. A. Murray, pastor, and Dr. Cl. T. Campbell, deputy grand sire of the order, occupied seats in the pulpit.

Dr. Campbell gave a short and interesting history of Oddfellowship which, he pointed out, had its origin in poverty and obscurity. A century ago English workmen, then in circumstances most deplorable, had been wont to meet in taverns for the exercise of convivial practices then recognized as legitimate. They were drawn together by common ties. It became the custom to lay by a few pence and form a little fund for use in sickness or distress. To add to their amusement they adopted a ludicrous form of ceremony for initiation—hence the name of Oddfellows. A few of them emigrated to America. Seventy-three years ago in the city of Baltimore there were five of them in a strange place, surrounded by strangers. These five, the leader of whom was a blacksmith, gathered in a tavern in Baltimore on April 26, 1819, and then and there established this society. They were men low in social standing; the general public turned away from them; they had national prejudices to contend against, for Baltimore had been besieged by the British army a few years back. But they grew in numbers and influence. Gradually the order reformed and reshaped itself, its ritual was modified and instead of being used for amusement it was made to teach virtue and morality and truth and sobriety. Time passed on and that lodge in Baltimore still existed with 9,000 more that had sprung up in America and many in Australia, in the Southern seas, in every civilized country except Great Britain, where the parent society—the Manchester Unity—still remained. The active membership of the Independent order was nearly 800,000. The modest fund of $100 raised by the first lodge had since swelled to $140,000,000, which had been paid out in charity. The annual revenue was more than $7,000,000. In Ontario there were 18,500 members and some $65,000 was yearly spent relieving distress. Dr. Campbell concluded with an eloquent reference to the moral and Christian principles animating Oddfellowship.

Rev. Mr. Murray followed in an admirable sermon. What Dr. Campbell had said must rejoice their hearts, he remarked. The principles of Oddfellowship he warmly commended. They taught brotherly love which was a requisite to love of God, "for if a man love not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love the Father whom he hath not seen?" There was a kind sentiment which tried to touch God with the tip of the little finger of one hand while the other hand grasped its money and its means against the warts of the world. True sentiment should have an open hand. The reverend gentleman beautifully analized charity, which he characterized as the grandest motive power in the universe.

A liberal collection was afterwards taken up, the proceeds to go to the maintenance of the Oddfellows' cot in the General Hospital.

A novel feature of the service was the choir, composed entirely of members of the order, all of whom belong to the various choirs of the city. Professor Roselle Pococke presided at the organ. The procession reformed and returned by way of Queen's avenue and Richmond street. Bro. J. M. Symonds took the chair at the hall, and votes of thanks were tendered Rev. J. A. Murray and the officials of St. Andrew's Church. Some of the visiting brethren made short addresses.

A FEW TESTIMONIALS FOR

Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure.

Miss Maria Brown, of Chatham, formerly of Glencoe, says she has much pleasure in testifying to the merits of Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure; that of nine corns which gave her great pain not one of them remains. It is surprising the testimonials that come in from all parts of the country for this celebrated corn cure.

Letter from Springfield.

W. S. Barkwell, Chemist. Dear Sir.—When in London I got a bottle of your celebrated Sure Corn Cure for a corn which I could get nothing to help. I have suffered from it for the last 15 years, and thought I would never get it cured, but yours acted like a charm and completely removed it. I am gratefully yours, Alvin Purdy, Springfield.
