HARD LUCK AT SCRANTON.

THE COALERS GIVE THE TORONTOS THE SHORT END OF A 6-4 SCORE.

Other Defeats and Victories in the Ball Field—Lacrosse and Cricket Points—Gossip of the Turf—No Racing at Sheepshead Bay—Spots of Sport.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 24.—The Torontos played in hard luck to-day and had reason to complain, as indeed did Scranton as well, of Umpire Sutton's decisions. The Torontos were also unfortunate in their batting. In the fifth inning they bunched hits off Backer and scored four clean runs. Several times thereafter their men would get up to the third bag, only to die for want of a timely hit or an opportune muff or fumble of some Scranton player. The Torontos batted to right and left without discrimination and Burke and Osterhout took nine chances, the latter losing the tenth, while the home team hit more chances to the infield, where they did not bat safely. Kearns played a weak game at second, although he managed to make good two-thirds of the opportunities offered him. While Crane was batted freely at times he was quite effective and filled his position well. The score is:

Dust from the Diamond.

The Hanover Baseball Club defeated the Midmay team on June 21 for the second time this season by a score of 20 to 15, with an innings to spare.

The Gooderham & Worts and Cobban clubs will play a match on the G. & W. grounds this afternoon to settle last year's championship of the Manufacturers' League.

Wilkesbarre has a lamentering for Utica's place in the International League.

Pitcher Hughes has recovered from his knock down by a pitched ball on the Toronto grounds, and will again be seen in the box for the Newarks.

The Syracuse Courier says Catcher Oldfield is unable to throw accurately to second.

The game between the Hamilton and Toronto journalists this afternoon on the Toronto grounds will commence at 3.30 o'clock.

The Jersey clubs are on their own grounds now, and it seems as if Newark will soon be in the lead again.

Five championship games will be played here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. On Thursday Hamilton will play in the morning and Buffalo in the afternoon. On the next day Buffalo will play two games, and on Saturday Torontos' great rivals, the Hams, will play the closing game of the jubilee series.

The "coal-heavers" secured their revenge yesterday. Torontos' errors did it.

Buffalo got its second dose of whitewash yesterday.

The Rochester heavy hitters only secured two hits yesterday at Newark. Stovey is evidently not an exploded phenomenon.

Toronto has received $100, the sum demanded for Jonathan Morrison's release. Rochester now has had to pay Toronto for two players' release so far this season.

The following are the players forming the Hamilton journalists' team who will meet the Toronto newsmen this afternoon: Cameron l.f., Mitchell c., Allan p., Southam 1b., Davis 2b., Nelson 3b., Morrison c.f., Buchanan r.f., Harris s.s.

H. W. Flower of Toronto has given notice with the Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa of an interim copyright for a chart to be called "The International Baseball Schedule."

Entries for the Glen Grove Meeting.

The secretary of Glen Grove Park announces a large list of entries for the summer trotting meeting which commences next Thursday. He has received seven and eight nominations in each race, and yesterday several telegrams from owners from distant places that horses were on their way and entries mailed which will make the list still larger. Everything now points to a big and successful meeting.

Racing at Sheepshead Postponed.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, June 24.—After the card had been prepared for to-day the Coney Island Jockey Club decided to postpone the meeting one day. Thus the fifth day's program will be run off to-morrow and Saturday's card will go over to Monday, that originally being an off day. The storm has left the track in bad condition, but Superintendent Frank Clarke hopes to have it in fairly good shape by to-morrow.

Racing at Niagara Falls.

BUFFALO, June 24.—A large number of horses have arrived at the Niagara Falls track from New York and Brooklyn, also some from the west, to participate in the race meeting to begin on Saturday, July 2. About sixty are now on the grounds, including J. T. Williams' Mahoney, McLaughlin and Panama. The tracks and buildings are finished. The meeting bids fair to be a great success. It is probable that several days extra will be added.

Prospects of a Six Furl Event.

Saxony stood out a great favorite in the Rapid Stakes of seven furlongs at Sheepshead on Thursday last. The hundreds that followed this colt felt as chilly as the atmosphere after the race, as he did no better than third. Captain S. S. Brown's chestnut mare Mona won from the flag to the finish, and she was 6 to 1 chance in the books, and the mutuals paid $42.10. Out of this race grew a challenge. Climax was second, and his owners, the Messrs. Lamasney Brothers, at once wanted to match him against Mona for $5000 a side, the same race over again, to be run on the last day of the meeting. Mr. B. Kahn, owner of Saxony, who was third at the finish, wanted to join, and make it a sweepstakes, $5000 each and $1000 forfeit. The representative of Captain Brown's owner was not averse to the proposition, and the three went to the office of Secretary Lawrence. Captain Brown's man at once put up his money; Mr. Kahn hesitated, and the Messrs. Lamasney Brothers would do so at the proper time. The three were called together in the early evening, and if the race is arranged the announcement will at once be made public.

Racing in England.

LONDON, June 24.—This was the opening day of the Derby meeting. The feature of the card was the Sudbury Stakes for 2-year-olds, won by Gen. Owen William's colt Senanus.

Gossip of the Turf.

The Washington Park meeting commences at Chicago to-day.

Mr. J. Nixon of this city has purchased from R. Burgess, Woodstock, the brown colt Valour, 4 years, by Virgil, dam Ulrica. The colt arrived here Thursday night, and will leave this afternoon with Mr. Nixon's horses Blanton and Willie W. by boat for Niagara Falls, to take part in the meeting there which begins next Saturday.

Church, the jockey who rode Maggie Mitchell in the first race at Sheepshead Bay on Thursday, was suspended, on complaint of Starter Caldwell, for the season, because of disobedience of orders.

Mr. James Galway, owner of the brown horse Hilmalvra, 6 years, by Virgil—Kentucky Belle, who finished third in the opening dash at Sheepshead on Thursday, sold him on the grounds immediately after to Mr. T. N. Miller for $1500.

Stone, the rider of Saxony in the Rapid Stakes run at Sheepshead on Thursday, was suspended by the starter for one year for disobedience of orders.

The weights for the Helter-Skelter Steeplechase to be run on the opening day of the Saratoga meeting have been announced by Secretary Wheatly, and are as follows: Bourke Cochran, 173, Tennessee, 169, Wellington, Will Davis and Jim McGowan, 158 each, Charlemagne, 154, Referee and Judge Griffith, 149 each, Repeater and Disturbance, 142 each, Abraham, W. R. Woodward, Bob Lockwood and Rose, 140 each, Swiney, Brunowa and Benero, 137 each, Rory O'More, 136, Puritan, Regal and Lord Francis, 123 each, Dr. Reed, 134, John Henry, 133, Justin Mack, Dunlade, Marmaduke and Joe Shelby, 132 each, Hop Bing, Hercules and Buffalo, 130 each, Captain and Ligero, 128 each, Jedburg and Wheatly, 125 each, Willie Palmer, 115, Cato, Hartford, Scalper, Brasewood, Geo. Singerly and Jack have been declared out, and the entry of Aurelian is void by death of nominator. Horse riders by gentleman riders are allowed 5 pounds below the above weights. The race will be run over Fractional Course No. 2, about a mile and a half.

Friar's Balsam, winner of the Pittsburgh Stakes for 2-year-olds run at Stockbridge on Thursday, was bred by Lord Alington, who probably still owns a share in the colt. The New Stakes at Ascot was his first race, and he won it easily. He is very heavily engaged, being in all the big stakes this year and next, including the 2000 Guineas, Derby, Grand Prix, St. Leger and several of the special £10,000 races to be run in 1888 and 1889. Among those who claim to know about the inside of the Kingsclere Stable in England Friar's Balsam is believed to have (barring accidents) a big chance for the next Derby.

The two extra races to be given by the Coney Island Jockey Club on Monday are as follows: First—For horses which were entered in the Bay Ridge Handicap, the winner, Exile, to carry 127 lbs.; the second, Boaz, 111 lbs.; the third, Ted Booker, 108 lbs.; other horses to be eligible to start at the weights which they were handicapped for the Bay Ridge, irrespective of their having been declared or not in their subsequent winnings; a sweepstakes of $50 each, with $1500 added, of which $350 to the second and $150 to the third; 1¼ miles. Second—A handicap hurdle race of $25 each, and only $5 if declared, with $600 added, of which $100 to the second, the third to receive $50 out of the stakes; 2 miles.

The books have already been opened in the Chicago pool rooms on the American Derby, which have installed the Baldwin pair, Goliah and Miss Ford, in the favorites' place, 3 to 1 being offered against them, while 6 to 1 each is to be had against Unite, Fenelon, Jim Gore and Wary, and from 7 to 100 to 1 against everything else in the race, odds being laid against everything that has not already been declared out by the owners. The odds against some of the candidates are ridiculously low, notably so in the case of White Nose, against whose chances but 10 to 1 are now offered.

Trial Heats of the Leander Club.

HAMILTON, June 24.—The trial races of the Leander Rowing Club were rowed this evening. Four crews competed. Mewburn's crew won the first race and Chapman's the second. The final will be rowed to-morrow afternoon.

Athletic Records Broken.

"Three new records," says The Hamilton Times, "were established beyond all question in the recent games at Dundurn, namely, in the hitch-and-kick, putting heavy stone (21 lbs.) and light stone (14 lbs.). The best previous record in hitch-and-kick was made on June 7, 1886, by F. B. Fogg at Nashville, Tenn., 8 feet 11½ inches. Wm. Boyd of Woodstock made 9 feet 2½ inches at Dundurn. The former record of putting heavy stone was 37 feet 3 inches, made by Geo. Davidson at Edinburgh, Scotland, on June 2, 1883. Chas. Currie of Parkhill made 39 feet 8 inches at Dundurn. The former light stone record was 46 feet 7 inches, made by Owen Duffy at Edinburgh, Scotland, June 2, 1883. Chas. Currie's throw at Dundurn, 48 feet 6 inches. Chief McKinnon purposes filing the necessary declarations in the offices of the Canadian Sportsman and New York Clipper."

Among the Cricketers.

Subscriptions are being taken up for a challenge cup to be played for annually by Port Hope School and Upper Canada College. Subscribers must belong to some public school in England! This reminds one of the anecdote circulated at the time that Marlboro' proposed joining in the public schools' matches played at Leeds. In reply to the Marlboro' challenge the captain of the Eton eleven said: "Harrow and Winchester we know, Rugby we have heard of, but who are ye?" As is the case with many other good old names the definition of "public school" has come to be a little elastic in these degenerate days, and schools crop up claiming recognition not known to old Harrowians and Wykehamists even by name. But no harm; the more the merrier.

The match between Toronto and Parkdale clubs will be played this afternoon on the Parkdale grounds, and not on the Toronto grounds, Bloor-street, as previously arranged.

Bicycle Notes.

The World received this yesterday: The Toronto Bicycle Club goes in for wheeling, not for ball playing, yet the club will always be open to wipe out or be wiped by the Wanderers' aggregation.

The Wanderers state that they will be ready to wipe out the Torontos, or vice versa.

Come on now, boys, and slug it out.

The Wanderers will have a run to-day, the meet being at the club house at 3 o'clock.

Lacrosse Points.

Editor World: What was the result of the lacrosse match, Young Toronto v. Meafords, played at Meaford on May 24; also of the Independents v. Orillias' match on June 10.

"LACROSSIER."

[The Young Torontos took 4 straights in 45 minutes. The Independents have dropped out and they did not play with the Orillias on June 10.]

The following will represent the Tecumseth Lacrosse Club in their jubilee match with the Acmes this afternoon on St. Michael's College grounds: A. Lawson, H. Willis, W. Morrison, F. Morrison, Joe Walker, H. Walker, G. Keith, Dave Furness, W. Dawson, H. Langley, F. McBrien, Pudney Bell; field captain, R. Dawkins.

The Young Standard Lacrosse Club, recently organized in the suburbs, is open for challenges from outside second twelve teams for a match on Dominion Day. Address Chas. Kendall, Secretary, Parkdale, P.O.

Yale Out-Rows Pennsylvania College.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 24.—The four mile straight away race between the Yale and Pennsylvania crews took place this evening, and, as was expected, Yale won easily. The race caused but little excitement and was witnessed by less than 1000 people.

The boats were lined up for a course, and as there were no provisions whatever made for the newspaper representatives, there was considerable delay in getting the line and getting to the telegraph offices. A start was made at 7.45, and Pennsylvania dipped first, starting at 34 to Yale's 33. On nearing the half-mile Pennsylvania raised the stroke to 37, while Yale increased to 36. They passed the half-mile point, Pennsylvania leading by a quarter of a length. In 3 mins. 5 secs.

The second half was made in 2 min. 19 sec., Yale rowing 38 and Pennsylvania dropped to 35. A little later Yale came down to 36 and the Pennsylvania crew pulled ahead until they got the stern of their boat in front of Yale. They maintained their strokes approaching the Navy Yard, and at the 2-mile flag Pennsylvania had a lead of two lengths.

At this point Pennsylvania lost the race. The water was quite rough, but it did not seem to affect the rowing, yet the Cox-swain of the Pennsylvania, steered wildly first heading to the east and then to the west shore, going fully half a mile farther than was necessary. When the shell was back on the course the positions were changed, Yale having the lead, which she kept until the finish, Yale crossing the winning line four and a half lengths ahead of Pennsylvania. Time 22.20.

Spots of Sport.

It is understood that the directors of the Rosedale Athletic Grounds intend improving the cinder path by raising it at the corners so that some first-class bicycle racing may be done.

The West India Cricket team that visited Canada and the United States last year, with E. F. Wright and P. J. T. Henry of Demerara added will visit England next season and play a series of matches.

Jack McAuliffe is in earnest about making the match with Jem Carney, and will go into training as soon as a bargain is made. It will be a great battle when they meet.

The telegraphic reports of the eight-round glove contest between Pete McCoy and Denny Kelliher at Boston Tuesday night indicate that Pete is falling both in physical strength and strength of eyesight. He was once the great middleweight of America, but apparently has gone back materially.

A one-mile handicap bicycle race took place at London, Eng., yesterday. In the trial heats Woodside and Morgan failed to get a place, and Temple was second in the final heat. The race was won by Marlow of Northampton, with Patrick of Wolverhampton second and Temple third.

In the recent competition between members of Bowmanville Rifle Association for Dominion and Ontario medals N. S. Young won the Dominion with 187. For the Ontario J. H. Morris and J. Sando tied with 179. Mr. Morris won the shoot off.

A CURVED BALL.

Explanation of the Flight of a Ball According to Science.

From Longman's Magazine.

When a ball (or in fact any missile) is advancing rapidly through the air, there is formed in front of it a small aggregation of compressed air. (In passing we may remark that the compressed air in front of an advancing cannon ball has been rendered discernible—we can hardly say visible—by instantaneous photography.) In shape the cushion of air is conical or rather conoidal, if the ball is advancing without spin; and therefore it resists the progress of the ball equally on all sides, and only affects the ball's velocity. The same is the case if the ball is spinning on an axis lying along its course. But in the case we have to consider, where the ball is spinning on an axis square to the course, the cushion of compressed air formed by the advancing ball is no longer this symmetrical shape. On the advancing side of the spinning surface the air cannot escape so readily as it would if there was no spin; on the other side its escapes more readily than it would but for the spin. Hence the cushion of air is thrown heavier on that side of the ball where the spin is forward, and removed from the other side. The same thing then must happen as where a ball encounters a cushion salant. A ball driven squarely against a very soft cushion plunges straight into it, turning neither to the right nor to the left, or if it deflected at all as against a billiard cushion) comes straight back on its course; but if driven salant against the cushion, it is deflected from the region of resistance. So with the baseball. As the cushion of air against which it is advancing is not opposed squarely to it, but is stronger on one side than on the other, the ball is deflected from the region of greatest resistance.

Canadian Sentiment.

From Friday's Montreal Gazette.

To the Editor: Referring to what sentiment has done for various nations, The Toronto World of Wednesday says:

If Canada is ever to be anything more than she is—if she is to even hold her own—sentiment must be a prominent factor in her upbuilding.

From this it is evident that The World thinks Canadians are not, as a rule, overstocked with national sentiment.

Suppose we should ask of Charlottetown, Halifax, St. John, Quebec and other commercial centres of "this Canada of ours" to the Pacific: What is your national sentiment? The answer would come back? Canadians! Is it doubtful. If we are to judge of men by what they say and do a separate designation would have to be given to each. In plain English, confederation is not yet complete.

In the dim future, when the present generation is forgotten, and individual, political and national lines are merged into one country, when every Canadian can heartily say "My country, 'tis of thee," we may look for this sentiment as a part of our national existence. Meantime, something might be done towards cultivating this grace of which we speak.

When anyone asks a man who is born or admitted to citizenship in Canada what country-man he is, instead of saying he is Scotch or English or Irish-Canadian, let him come out like a man and say, "I am a Canadian."

Sentiment doesn't grow in the dark, therefore let us bring our feelings, if we have any worth knowing about to the surface. A few prominent sentiments from Halifax to Victoria with "This is Canada" would help us.

Yours truly, Canadian to the core,

R. TURNBULL.

The University Senate.

On motion of Dr. Wilson and Prof. Wright the statute to establish a teaching faculty in medicine was read a second time and passed. Mr. Kingsford gave notice that he would introduce a statute referring to the granting of pass degrees.

The Chicago Bricklayers' Strike Off.

CHICAGO, June 24.—At a meeting of the Bricklayers' Union last night a resolution was passed withdrawing the demand for a Saturday pay day and declaring the strike off. A careful estimate made of the loss in wages to striking and locked-out employes in the vicinity of Chicago foots up nearly $2,500,000.

Throwing the Lines.

Now hies the angler to the brook,
Where, in some cool, sequestered nook
He labors hard, by book or crook,
To get a bite.
He bags a lot of bugs and ants,
He stains with green his stylish pants,
Then weaves a picturesque romance
To tell at night.

The fishermaid, with better bait
And guided by a kinder fate,
Now tries, with youthful hope elate
The waters blue.
With tackle better and completer,
She finds the occupation meeter
To fish for men, like Simon Peter,
And catch them, too.

Ivy.

Thou art a friend for evil days, and show
Thyself most constant when the summer crowd
That revels in the sun, dismayed and cowed,
Has shrunk away till softer breezes blow.
Exultingly thou shakest off the snow,
Emerging boldly from thy cold white shroud,
With beauty unimpaired, a conqueror proud.
A daring climber thou, and yet the few
Unsightly things of earth thou seekest out
To weave thy graceful tendrils round about.
Brave, faithful ivy! I would learn from thee
Amid life's ills invincible to be;
And in this tangled coil where lill I see
Be mine to veil it with sweet charity.

The Picnic Season.

The holidays have come and everyone is looking forward to a pleasant outing. It is however somewhat surprising that some of the pretticest and best places for enjoying a picnic are almost undiscovered, and yet are within a very easy distance of the city and can be reached by street cars. We refer especially to Greenwood Park, which is certainly no misnomer, the back portion of this property being well covered with trees and having a peculiarly parklike appearance. Here you find clear, cool springs, a beautiful running stream with watercress growing in places on its banks, wild flowers in abundance and the ground literally carpeted with strawberries at this season. And such strawberries! The finest ever forced will not equal the flavor of these planted by nature's hand. And then the rambles through the woods! Forests of trees with beautiful glades. Deep ravines alternate with well wooded heights, from the top of which you obtain an extensive view of a magnificent farming country through which the Don wends its way, and the lake in the distance. The solemn silence of the woods only broken by the note of the robin or the charming song of the cat-bird which has been called the Canadian mocking bird, and the murmuring ripple of the stream is as perfect here as it is fifty or a hundred miles from the city. This lovely spot can be reached by the Metropolitan Street Railway which connects with the Yonge-street service of the Toronto Street Railway every thirty minutes. A sidewalk is now being laid on Woodward-avenue to the edge of the woods. The proprietor has expressed his willingness to allow the public the free use of this park, only stipulating that he or his agents shall be satisfied that those wishing to obtain these privileges will conduct themselves properly and do no damage to the property. Permission can be obtained by picnic parties on application to Messrs. Monk & Greenwood, 27 Adelaide-street east.

A TICKET FORGER'S DEN.

What the Chicago Police Found as an Annex to a Barber Shop.

CHICAGO, June 24.—It was never suspected before Feb. 1 last that the basement of 123 South Clark-street was other than what it appeared to be, a barber shop. A young man named Stout was established there with a judicious assortment of barber paraphernalia. In with him were Frank Layfield, Henry Butler, Joseph Reed, Albert Reeves and Louis Stein. They were not barbers, however. Stout attended to the tonsorial demands and an industry termed "scalping," not in any way connected with Stout's art, was carried on by the others.

The difference between both operations is so considerable that the entire party found themselves on trial before Judge Baker this morning, with five ugly charges against them. Conspiracy is the offense alleged. The evidence offered is of a character altogether unique in the prosecution of railway ticket scalpers, for that is the business the defendants were engaged in. For three years they carried on the traffic under the shadow of police headquarters, and not one detective at the Central Station knew that within a stone's throw of that place were located a band of railway ticket forgers, possibly the most expert in the country.

The Pennsylvania Railway Company became aware of it first, but their knowledge was meagre. All they knew was that the general office was becoming flooded with tickets, the greater part of which were bogus, but so cleverly were they gotten up that at times the agents of the company could not tell which was good and which bogus. The case was given to a detective agency to work up. One day a farmer presented a conductor on the road a ticket, his destination, being Fort Wayne. Close scrutiny showed this ticket to have been "revised." Originally it was a suburban ticket and worth possibly 25c. The forgers, by means of colored ink and mechanical stamps, worked it up so that it was sold for $5, and the farmer said he purchased it at 123 South Clark-street. A day or two later the place was raided. The detectives were astonished at the find.

Said their superintendent: "We got and I don't know how many kinds, color pencils to restore the color of all tickets, a dozen or more punches and a pack of old and worn tickets belonging to every road in the United States. It was one of the finest arrays I have ever seen. Two of the men did the pen work. They could counterfeit any kind of signature and by means of their stamps could fill in the name of any road or make a ticket good for any destination. The acids were used to give the altered pasteboard a look of genuineness, and with the colored pencils and the colored inks any shade of color was reproduced. One of their schemes was to take an old ticket, say one that was two years old, fill in the punch mark, stamp on a new destination, apply an acid wash to give the paper a fresh look, then go over it with a color-pencil and the work would deceive any expert. In this way they could take a ticket worth 10 cents and make it worth $5. They got to making so much money that they opened a branch office at 7 West Madison-street. Butler had charge of this office and Layfield was the outside man. These two are confessed and will turn State's evidence. Stein, Stout, Reed and Reeves got the bulk of the profits, which must have been enormous. Stein is a New Yorker and is quite wealthy."

One estimate is to the effect that the scalpers sold an average of $50,000 worth of bogus tickets a year for the last three years.

A COUNTRY OF ROSES.

Blooming Fields of Bulgaria, where Flowers are Cultivated for Perfumes.

Bulgaria, the little country in Europe which we hear so much about of late, is a veritable rose garden in itself. In no part of the world, says Vick's Magazine, has the cultivation of the rose come so near perfection as in this small state, and they say the soil and atmosphere of the country has much to do with the success of the work, the native inhabitants have made such a long and careful study of the plant and its needs that they have created wonders out of their fields of blooming roses. As well known, the flowers are grown there for the purpose of extracting the precious aroma known as "attar of rose," but this circumstance does not detract in the least from the appearance of the roses. The bushes require considerable care and attention, and they are
