JOHN MACDONALD & CO,
Wellington & Front Streets E., TORONTO.

A VERY SWELL WEDDING.

Mr. Larz Anderson Secures a Bride Who is Heiress to Seventeen Million Dollars.

Boston, Mass., June 10.—A wedding ceremony, the character of which placed it in rank as the grandest this city has ever seen, and which, in point of the wealth represented, also was first among the great weddings of the century in this country, was that whereby Mr. Larz Anderson, until very recently member of the United States diplomatic corps at Rome, Italy, and Miss Isabelle Perkins of this city, heiress to $17,000,000, today became husband and wife.

The bride is the daughter of Capt. George Hamilton Perkins, United States Navy (retired), and a grand-daughter of the late William F. Weld of this city, whose millions she inherits, together with her cousin, Mrs. Charles F. Sprague, the wife of Congressman Sprague of Massachusetts. The groom is the son of a well-known Washington family, the head of which, Gen. Nicholas Anderson, died abroad a few years ago. He was associated with Hon. Robert T. Lincoln in the United States Embassy at London, England, and later was first secretary of the legation in Italy, under Hon. Wayne McVeagh.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Cuckson, in the Arlington-street Church at noon, and among those who were present as guests were some of the most wealthy and prominent members of society in nearly every large city of the United States.

The Exquisite Gowns.

The gowns of the bride and the bridesmaids were the exquisite creations of Worth, Doucet and Paxon. The bride's gown was composed of heavy cream satin, lined throughout with taffeta silk. The seams are outlined from waist to hem with orange blossoms and the corsage with a surplice effect, with fluffy trimmings of tulle.

AT OSGOODE HALL.

The Chancellor of Ontario is a Hustler—A Case Regarding the Protection of the Lives of Employes.

The learned Chancellor of Ontario sat in Single Court yesterday and disposed of 47 applications, more or less, in shorter time than it takes to write the fact.

The Divisional Court, composed of Justice Ferguson (Presiding and Justice of Appeal Moss and Justice Robertson) allowed the plaintiff's appeal in May v. Werden to be placed on next Tuesday's list. J. Aloysius Donovan appeared for the plaintiff, but did not cite to the court any portion of his famous factum on the appeal to the Supreme Court in the case of May v. Logie. It is said that this factum is considered by the Supreme Court to be the next in importance to Magna Charta among the documents become famous in English history. One of the learned judges of the latter court remarked that it would eventually be read wherever the English language was spoken. It is not yet published in pamphlet form.

Judgment was reserved in Matheson v. Matheson.

An Employe's Life.

In Kervin v. Canadian Colored Cotton Mills Co., the Court of Appeal reserved judgment on the defendant's appeal from a Divisional Court (Boyd, C., Robertson, J., and Meredith J.) upon a motion to set aside a verdict and judgment for $3500. The question is whether there was evidence proper to be submitted to the jury that the accident which caused the death of James Kervin was caused by the negligence of the defendants. The deceased was employed to oil the bearings of two large pulleys or wheels about 45 feet apart, and partly sunk in the basement floor of the factory, and making 220 revolutions a minute, but having no guard or fence. His dead body was found, much injured, close to one of the wheels, but no one saw how the accident happened. Chief Justice Armour held that there was evidence from which the jury could reasonably infer that deceased was killed by the moving machinery, and he submitted the case to them and they found the verdict in question. The Divisional Court (Justice Meredith dissenting) affirmed the holding of the Chief Justice, and now the Court of Appeal are requested to agree with Justice Meredith or the other three judges, counsel coloring their respective arguments like the fabric the defendants manufacture.

The Time of Court Sessions.

A counsel was heard to complain that the sittings in some courts were as uncertain as the day of final judgment or a woman's fancy. One day, he says, it will sit at 10 a.m., and the next day it will sit at 11 a.m., and then it will take a notion and won't sit for a week. Then, fresh as Fitzsimmons at the 14th round, it will suddenly sit at 10 a.m., and everybody is found to be an hour late. This state of facts in these days of spiritualism has given rise to weird stories of what has been sometimes seen and heard at Osgoode Hall on a morning, but always between 10 and 11 a.m. Some people may smile at the angelology of the Jews in the year 10 B. C., but the days of Simon Magus are returning. Counsel who pride themselves on the inductive method declare that they have suddenly found the atmosphere of a court-room as hot as the air in Hamilton. Variety, however, is the spice of life, and if the courts sat at the same hour always how monotonous they would become.

To-Day's Lists.

Judge's Chambers at 11 a.m.: Dickerson v. Radcliffe, Dale v. Weston Lodge I.O.O.F., Vansickle v. Axon, Dryden v. Smith, White v. Scheuer, Dryden v. Smith.

Divisional Court at 11 a.m.: Carr v. Tonner, Blake v. Jarvis, Leavy v. Curtis, Garland v. Campbell.

Court of Appeal at 11 a.m.: West v. Benjamin (to be concluded), Wilson v. Manes.

Judgment will be delivered in Marwood v. Frazer at the opening of the court.

The winter wheat condition has improved materially during the last month, especially in the leading states of production, and the outlook for the spring wheat is reported as promising. The total production of spring and winter is estimated at 515,000,000 to 530,000,000 bushels. The oat area is 4 per cent. less than last year, but the condition is said to indicate a larger and better crop than last year.

TRADE IN CANADA.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Daily Bulletin says: Trade conditions at Montreal are practically unaltered, and our general remarks of last week will apply at date. Reports continue to come in from different parts of the province regarding frost damaged meadows and delayed field work. The dry goods trade benefited by a few days fine weather after last writing, but unfavorable conditions have again intervened. Travellers in this line are now all out with full lines of fall samples, but orders have not yet begun to come in freely, and at the moment wholesale business is confined to a moderate sorting demand, mainly from the country. Sugar refiners report some symptoms of a little improvement in the demand, so long of a sluggish character, but the general jobbing distribution of groceries shows no special activity. Orders for fall footwear are not as yet coming in plentifully, so that the leather market has not benefited from any improved enquiry for the general run of black leathers, though dongolas are selling fairly. Hides are steady, with a little better demand for calfskins, of which there has been considerable accumulation. Metals and hardware are quiet; more probably might be done, were it not for actual scarcity of certain lines of plates, etc. There is a steady export movement in cheese, fully equal to last year at this date, but butter shipments are light. General collections continue backward in character, and the money market is without a novel feature. There was a report that a leading bank had cut the discount rate on gilt-edged paper by ½ of 1 per cent., but enquiry fails to corroborate this.

The quiet trade in wholesale circles at Toronto this week is due in a measure to the unfavorable weather. The sorting up trade in dry goods is backward, the demand being slow owing to cool and wet atmosphere. The grain crops are not as promising as a week ago for the same reason, but the hay crop is likely to be very heavy. Some improvement is reported in groceries, there being a good demand for teas and sugars. The latter are firm in prices, with purchases larger than usual in consequence of the approach of the berry season. Dried fruits are scarce and firm. A fair business is reported in hardware and leather. Prices of the latter are firm in sympathy with hides. Hog products are firm. Live hogs have had a further advance, the best selling in this market at 5½c per pound. The general manager of the Bank of Montreal, in his annual report, says that the results of the year have been disappointing, and goes on to say that the situation is a delicate one. The business community has been weakened by a long fight against adverse circumstances. The settlement of the tariff with a due regard to vested interests, a good crop with fair prices, a lenient treatment and judicious assistance to those in business, are the forces and influences through which he expects a revival of prosperity. In the outlook he sees many hopeful signs.

CHICAGO GOSSIP.

Henry A. King & Co., 12 King-street east, received the following despatch today from Chicago:

Wheat—The speculation is most swayed by weather conditions in the West. The market opened stronger, especially in the July option. Shorts were active buyers to cover. Foreigners were fair buyers this morning. Northwest receipts are falling off, and the milling demand is increasing. Shipments from primary markets were considerably above the receipts. The weather both in the United Kingdom and on the continent is favorable for the growing crops. The cash demand was slack and we did not hear of anything taken for export. The weather generally was favorable throughout the spring and winter wheat belts. Advices from Europe say prospects for wheat crop in Russia, Roumania, Bulgaria and in France are better. And with favorable weather from now on that country is not liable to import as much wheat as at first estimated. The July shorts are in a critical condition and the sharp advance to-day has been looked for for the past few days. Most of to-day's buying was by insiders and outside orders were very scarce. St. Louis was rather quiet and they did nothing much either way. The market was very active and will continue so during the remainder of this month and we look for much higher prices.

Corn and Oats—Both ruled active and higher to-day on unfavorable crop news, the range covering about ⅞c on corn and ⅝c to ¾c on oats. The trade was reported good. Cash demand rather brisk. Commission people were the best buyers and selling orders were limited and scattered. Receipts liberal. Cars corn and 257 cars oats. The close was strong at top prices for the day. We think well of both grains, and advise purchasing on weak spots.

Provisions—The speculative market for hog products ruled fairly active within a narrow range, with prices a shade better on ribs and lard. Trade moderate and chiefly local in character. The cash demand was somewhat improved. Receipts of hogs to-day 28,000, with 24,000 estimated for to-morrow. Some reaction in the market seems likely, but in view of the liberal hog supply we think an improvement in the tone would only be temporary and think the different articles sale on bulges. The close was steady.

McIntyre & Wardwell (John J. Dixon) received the following despatch from Chicago to-day:

Provisions—Opened steady at about yesterday's closing prices and advanced on good buying by commission houses, International Packing Company sold about 1000 bbls. July and Sept. pork, also Sept. ribs. Swift & Co. sold Sept. ribs. Market declined on this selling, but closed steady on ribs and weak on pork. Estimated hogs to-to-morrow 25,000.

Wheat—The anticipation of a bullish Government report had much to do with the strength in wheat to-day and local shorts bought very freely. There was also a fair outside trade. Market ruled very firm and closed about 1c higher than last night. The revision of Bradstreet's figures, making the decrease in wheat afloat for and in Europe 3,000,000 bushels instead of 200,000 bushels, also helped the market materially. Cables were lower, but New York reported some buying for foreign account. Seaboard clearances were large, being about 450,000 bushels wheat and flour. The market looks firm to-night and we rather look for a little more advance.

Canadian Pacific opened ⅝ higher at 62⅞ and closed at 62¾.

American stocks in London are stronger to-day. St. Paul closed at 79¾, Erie at 14⅝, Reading at 16½, N.Y.C. at 102½ and Ill. Central at 99.

In Paris 3 per cent. rentes are easier at 104f.

The bullion gone into the Bank of England on balance to-day was £25,000.

Bank clearings at Winnipeg for the week were $1,252,737.

The sales of farm lands in Manitoba by the Canadian Northwest Land Company from Jan. 1 to May 31 were 12,750 acres for $69,850. The increase is over 50 per cent. for the same period of last year.
