SAD OCCURRENCE—MAN LOST.—On the 20th ult, James Fisher, a native of Ireland, aged 32 years, was lost between Port Huron and this place, and continued in the woods until the 7th instant, when he was found by a gentleman of Tuscola county, the name of whom we have forgotten, far in the forest, on one of the tributaries of the Cass River. Fisher is a resident of the town of Warwick, in Canada on the London road, about 25 miles fr'om Port Huron. At the time of getting lost, he was in the employ of Mr. Stilson of Port Huron, getting sawlogs in the woods adjacent to Elk Creek, about twenty-five miles from the above place.

He started out on Sunday morning to visit the camp of a neighboring company of lumbermen about one and a half miles distant, and on returning stopped to pick up some beech nuts, when he lost his course and wandered far out of hearing of his c mrades. He was but thinly dressed, with no vest, and low shoes.—The next day it commenced snowing, and it will be remembered that the whole week ensuing was very inclement and wintry. He travelled for five or six miles briskly, and with very good courage, eating beech nuts and drinking copious draughts of water; but had become quite weak, and his feet were frozen and benumbed. On the morning of the eighth day, he had become so weak, and his feet were in such a condition, he could walk with the greatest difficulty, falling to the ground several times in going two or three rods. He was found in this condition, being scarcely able to make a human sound. He was kindly cared for and brought into Vassar near the middle of last week, where he is receiving kind attentions from Mr. Waterman, at his Inn in that place. His feet, especially his toes, are so frozen as to have turned entirely black, and will probably have to undergo a surgical operation

It is said ice was formed between the sole of his shoe and his foot at the time he was discovered. Being annoyed by wolves, he rested but little, reposing in some hollow log or in the branches of some recumbent tree. He saw some thirty elk, three wolves, otters, &c., in his travels. He will be provided for, and sent to Port Huron at the first convenient opportunity.—Saginaw Enterprise.

AN AMUSING RACE.—The next race on Sunday was ridden by a young Scotch Nobleman, and the sport of the former French ambassador, in the honors which they rode to the ground. It was a matchless sporting spot. The Frenchman was so palpably better mounted there was a general laugh when the ground was cleared and the two gentlemen spurred up and down to show themselves as antagonists. The Parisian himself stuffed his white handkerchief into his bosom, and jammed his hat upon his head with a confident laugh, and among the ladies there was scarce a bet on the grave Scotchman, who borrowed a stout whip, and rode his bony animal among the lines with a hard rein and his feet set firmly in the stirrups. The Frenchman generously gave him every advantage, beginning with the inside of the ring. The bell struck and the Scotchman drove his spurs into his horse's flanks and started away, laying on the whip most industriously. His opponent followed, riding very gracefully, but, apparently, quite sure he could overtake him at any moment, and content for the first round, with merely showing himself oil to the best advantage. Round came Sawney, twenty leaps ahead, whipping unmercifully, and the blood of his hired hack completely up, and himself as red in the face as an alderman, and with his eye fixed only on the road. The long tailed bay, of the Frenchman came after in fine style, sitting complacently upright, and in gathering up his reins for the first time to put his horse to his speed. The Scotchman whipped on. The Frenchman had disdained to take a whip but he drove his heels into his horse's side soon after leaving the post, and leaned forward quite in earnest. The horses did remarkably well, both showing, much more bottom than was expected. On they came, the latter gaining a little and working very hard. Sawney had lost his hat, and his red hair streamed back from his still redder face; but, flogging and spurring, with his teeth shut and his eyes fixed steadily on the road, he kept the most of his ground and rode away.—They passed me a horse's length apart, and the Scotchman's whip, flying to the last disappeared beyond me. He won the race by a couple of good leaps at least. The king was very much amused, and rode off laughing heartily, and the discomfitted Frenchman came back to his party with very ill concealed dissatisfaction.—W. P. Willis's summer cruise in the Mediterranean.

COLD BLOODED MURDER!—We are informed by an officer of the steamer Kate Hayes, that about dusk last evening, a Mexican, name unknown, rode up to the residence of Dr. Marshall, in San Antonio, and after dismounting, asked for a drink of water. This being given to him he turned to the Doctor, and while making some common place remarks about the weather, &c., drew a long knife from his boot and stabbed him three times. He then ran round to the back of the house where he again met the Doctor, who had obtained a pistol.—He instantly fired at the Mexican, and then staggering a few steps, fell and expired. The wife of the murdered man witnessed part of the tragedy, and beheld the Mexican mount his horse and gallop away.

This morning the supposed murderer was arrested, and is now waiting the evidence of Mr. Marshall. Great excitement prevails among the people of San Anotonia and vicinity, and it is believed the accused, if found guilty, will be summarily dealt with.—Placer Times.

A MODEL ENGINE.—The following paragraph is clipped from an Eastern paper:

The Hudson River Railroad Company is building a locomotive to run from New York to Albany—144 miles—in two and a half hours, and carry along six passenger cars at that. It is being constructed at Springfield, and will be placed on the road during the coming winter. She weighs over 30 tons, has eight feet driving wheels, and will cost $11,000. People who have seen her model, say she will be the most magnificent engine turned out in this country.

THE LATEST FEAT OF RUM.—Between 12 o'clock of Friday night and 4 o'clock of Saturday morning, North Chicago was the scene of as shudder-exciting a deed as ever burst upon a civilized community. Margaret Simons, widow, and mother of (too many) children, keeps a Grocery on Old Water-st. This miserable woman got drunk on Friday evening and vented her brutality on her own daughter—a girl about 12 or 13 years.—After beating and bruising the child, until her arms grew weary, the fiend dragged the poor child to a tub of water, and smothered her under its surface. Leaving her victim on the floor, the rum-drugged Hecate went to bed. A boy—a son! a brother! shortly after, discovered the body, and placed it on a bed. Before the Coroner's jury, the boy testified to the fact, and, a younger female still than the murdered one, told so much that—we would not have liked to be one of the inquest. It is one of these cases that are rightfully denominated terrible! A mother whipping her own daughter into lifelessness—then immersing her breath-receiving organs into a life-depriving element—a mother mudering her own daughter. The woman is in jail, and there is no bail allowed. Thou invisible spirit of rum, said a distinguished lawyer to us, I go for the Maine Law!—Chicago Courant.

HORRIBLE MURDER OF A SLAVE.—A fiend in human shape, named Thomas Motley, has been convicted at Walterborough, S. C; for the murder of a runaway slave. It was proved on the trial that he first shot the slave, wounding him severely, and then whipped him after which he put him in a vice, and subjected him to the most excruciating torture. He then set him loose, started bloodhounds after him, who ran him down, mangling him horribly; and finally cut him up and fed the dogs with his flesh

ANOTHER COMET.—A Mr. Robert Van Arsdale, of Newark, is said to have discovered another Comet on Friday evening, 25th November, in the constellation of Cassiopœia, which is nearly in the zenith; its approximate declination and right ascension at 6 o'clock, 50 min Right ascen. 2 hours 5 min. It came to the meridian at 9 o'clock 48 min, decl. 60 deg. Right ascen 2 hours 7 min: It is of a small, round, bright appearance with a exceedingly rapid motion, in a direction apparently opposite to that of the sun. After a short observation it changed its place very perceptibly. It is just apparent to the naked eye—Cor.

NEW PRINCIPLE IN SHIP-BUILDING.—The new system of ship-building recently developed by Mr. Jacob K. Hess, and now sought to be introduced in this mercantile community, and its supposed value put to a practical test, is attracting attention, and has been examined by several of our most experienced shipping merchants—one of whom contemplates the early construction of a full sized sailing ship, in which the principle may be fully applied. The schooner Eclipse which has just been in dry dock for inspection, is the first vessel of any size yet built on this plan and her success is considered as a satisfactory demonstration of its value. The invention presents many features altogether novel, and is so startling an innovation on the present system of ship-building as to excite a great diversity of opinion respecting its merits.—The late Jacob Bell, however, well known among the oldest of the New York shipbuilders, pronounced decidedly in favor of it. The most prominent feature is the application of the curve to the Eclipse to every part of the model, by which an egg-like and buoyant shape is imparted, and the centre of gravity made to invariably fall precisely amid-ships. A vessel thus modelled, consequently, has the same carrying capacity from the centre forward as from the centre aft. The displacement of water, with the same weight is the same at the keel as at the water line. These qualities are regarded as ensuring the vessel against logging" or straining. We might specify further particulars of the advantages claimed by its inventors, but builders and those more immediately interested will find them fully set forth in the advertisement of the proprietors.—N. Y. Jour. of Commerce.

PROMPT DESPATCH OF ENGLISH GOODS PASSING THROUGH BOSTON.—The steamboat St. Lawrence from Boston, Saturday evening, brought a quantity of iron and other English Goods for Montreal, just landed at Boston from the Packet ship Daniel Webster, and forwarded by Messrs. H. & S. Jones & Co., Commission Merchants and Forwarding Agents of Boston, who have also an office in this city, at No. 202 Fore street. This is the first lot of Bonded Goods sent from Boston to Montreal over the Grand Trunk Road; it is, however, but the beginning of a large trade, as we understand the Meridian, Sachem, and Star of Empire, all have goods consigned to the above firm for this route. The goods named above were promptly handed over to the Agent at the A. & St. L. Railroad on Monday morning, and immediately forwarded to Montreal, reaching there this day—Portland Argus.

Died.

On the 3rd inst. in the County Gaol, (where he was on Civil) his friends (alas, deserted him.) William West, aged 80 years.—He was a native of England, and nearly related to Earl Delewar. His Niece was lately married to Sir James Clarke, [the Queen's Physician.] Wife's Brother.

It is with the deepest feelings of regret we have to announce the death of Hugh Scobie, Esq., the editor of this journal since its establishment in 1838. He died of Aneurism, after a painful sickness of ten weeks, during which time he was for the most part confined to his bed. He was aged 49 years, and has left behind him a widow and a fatherless little girl. He died at his residence in Ann street on Sunday morning last, at half-past 8 of the clock.—[Colonist.]

GREAT LAND SALE IN THE TOWN of BAYFIELD ON LAKE HURON.

THIS Beautiful Town, formerly belonging to Baron DeTuyle, and lately purchased by the Hon. Malcolm Cameron, lies twelve miles below the Town of Goderich, near the Line of the Buffalo, Brantford and Goderich Railroad, and in the richest, best cultivated and most valuable portion of the Huron Tract. It is surrounded by wealthy farmers, and contains now over three hundred inhabitants with extensive Grist and Saw Mills, Stores, Mechanic Shops, Hotels, &c, &c. The Municipal Council of the United Counties of Huron & Bruce at their late sittings proposed to make a Gravel Road from Goderich to London via Bayfield, and already a large sum of money has been appropriated for the completion of its Harbor, which when completed will render it as safe a port for the transhipment of the produce of the Great West, as any Port on Lake Huron.

No such offer for a sale investment has hitherto arisen in Canada.

The Lots hereinafter mentioned will be put up separately at Public Auction, on the Fifteenth day of December next, and sold without reserve. The terms of payment and upset price to be made known on the day of Sale.

NEW MEDICAL HALL,

Stationery and Fancy Goods Emporium,

MARKET SQUARE, CORNER OF WEST STREET.

R. B. REYNOLDS & CO.

THE Undersigned most respectfully announce that they are about opening the above establishment, with the most complete and varied assortment of DRUGS, CHEMICALS, PATENT MEDICINES, PERFUMERY, TOILET GOODS, PAINTS, BRUSHES, GLASS-WARE, DYE STUFFS, STATIONERY, CABINET, PAPIER MACHE, PLATED AND JAPANED WARE, JEWELRY, &c., &c., &c.

From their long experience in the Compounding and Manufacturing departments of the Drug Trade, they can with confidence assure the Public that Pharmaceutical and Chemical preparations will be dispensed with accuracy and carefulness.

The DRUGS, CHEMICALS, and other goods comprising their Stock, have been selected with care from the best sources, and for variety and completeness, will compete favorably with any ever offered in this neighborhood.

The Subscribers would direct especial attention to their Stock of Patent, Proprietary and FAMILY MEDICINES, selected from the most popular and approved Patent Remedies of the day, and which always may be purchased when a genuine article is required.

They would also call attention to Farmers, Stage-Proprietors and others, having the care of Horses, that they have on hand for sale a spendid assortment of HORSE AND CATTLE MEDICINES, which they will warrant prepared from the purest and most unadulterated material.

Their Stock of PERFUMERY, Sponges, Toilet Goods, Fancy Soaps, Essences, Colognes and Lavender Waters, are extensively varied, extensive and well selected, and will repay an inspection by intending purchasers.

They can also recommend with confidence their Stock of STATIONERY, consisting of Post, Foolscap, Pot and Note Papers, all qualities; plain and fancy Envelopes in Pockets and Boxes, Black Account Books of every description, with a variety of Articles in Papier Mache, Bronzed and Japanned, all which they are determined to dispose of cheap for cash.

Intending purchasers of Drugs will find the NEW MEDICAL HALL their best market as a member of the firm a qualified physician and Surgeon (Dr. McDougall) will be constantly in attendance.
