Poetry & Miscellany.

In an explanation
Our tradesmen now aver,
They'd kill the English Nation,
Both infant and adult,
In spite what lots of trickery,
Or how they may,
The office is full of bumbug,
The beer is full of salt.

Nutrition for the nursery,
For invalids and aged,
Turn out upon butchery,
Impossible to be charged!
Malaga and Cowes
Are stands without the stamp
But how the dense will be go
Who drive such things to do?

What doctor is not has led a list
Of victims of malvern?
Kills a Brown excellent
The smart cure down.
And oh, how sad to view
Who customer Punch has sure,
That even good fresh butter
Is made from butterine!

The truthful cause can off—
Alas! his frauds are great,
Neither is vintner honest
Nor brewer, inter nos,
If you would wear gay locks on
Brains that with age won't fall,
Grow your own sheep and cows,
And brew your own gall.

Odds and Ends.

When a man breaks his neck trying to get out of the way of a flying train of cars, or jumps off to the hind-light of a locomotive, it is time for him to sign the pledge.

A fellow cut giving his daughters a drive, when they got some water-for the ladies fainted, being asked what he stopped for, replied "I'm watering my flowers."

A little boy at a concert, when a favorite singer was called back, rather took the starch out of things by crying out, "What's the matter, mother; didn't she do it right? Are the folks angry 'cause she squealed so?"

"Mamma," said little Nell, "could governess to dog-nafer what I'm not done? "No my dear child; but what do you ask for?" "Cause she flogged me to day when I didn't do my sum."

When you see a man with the knot of his necktie under his ear talking temperance to a lamp-post late at night, you can safely say that he is not in favor of local option. He simply believes in temperance.

A Connecticut man, whose son was ill, appealed to the physician: "Do bring him out of it in some way, doctor; do break up the fever at once, even if you charge as much as if he went through a whole course of fever."

An engineer on the Western North Carolina Railroad shouted to a crowd of rustics who had gathered to see the first train of cars come in: "Put down your umbrellas! You'll scare the engine off the track!" The umbrellas were lowered at once.

A Brooklyn young woman, who abandoned her old husband, says:—"He was too soft. I couldn't be hugging and kissing him all the while—it isn't my disposition. I couldn't bear to be obliged to sit on his lap and cuddle him every time I wanted a cent."

An Iowa paper reports the following as the actual form of a marriage service in a town in that State: "Join your right hands. Do you want one another?" (They both answer, "Yes") "Well, then love one another. You're man and wife."

A Virginia sheriff asked a murderer if he wanted to make a speech on the gallows, and the man replied: "Guess not; it looks like rain, and I don't want to get wet; go on with the hanging."

An Irish post boy having driven a gentleman a long stage during torrents of rain, the gentleman civilly said to him, "Paddy, sure you not very wet?" "Arrah! I don't care about being very wet, but, plase your honor, I'm very dry."

Pope dining once with Frederick, Prince of Wales, paid the prince many compliments. "I wonder, Pope," said the prince, "that you, who are so severe on kings, should be so complaisant to me." "Pris," said the wily bard, "because I like the lion before his claws are grown."

"O gracious! no," exclaimed Mrs. Marrowfat to Mrs. George, raising her hands and speaking in a very excited tone. She was ill when her new bonnet came home that she couldn't get up; but, dear sakes! Jane, that didn't matter nothing, for she just put the hat on and lay with her head out of the front window the whole afternoon."

"Do you," said Fanny, 't'other day, "In earnest love me as you say;
Or are these tender words applied
Alike to fifty girls beside?"
"Dear, cruel girl," cried I, "forbear,
For by those eyes, those lips, I swear—"
She stopped me as the oath I took,
And cried, "You've sworn—now kiss the book!"

A Scotchman went to a lawyer once for advice, and detailed the circumstances of the case. "Have you told me the facts precisely as they occurred?" asked the lawyer. "Oh, aye, sir!" replied he, "I thought it best to tell ye the plain truth. We can put the lies into it yourself!"

Gunnybags damned Smith for the amount due on a purchase, and Smith wrote, saying Gunnybags must let the account stand awhile longer. Gunnybags wrathily replied that he wouldn't. Then in his turn, retorted Smith, and Gunnybags was madder than ever.

"In my fertile country," said a Leicestershire man, "you could turn a horse into a field new mown, and the next morning the grass would be grown above his hocks." "Pooh! that's nothing," said a Yorkshire man; "you may turn a horse into a field in Yorkshire, and not be able to find him the next morning."

A lecturer on optics, in explaining the mechanism of the organ of vision, remarked, "Let any man gaze closely into his wife's eye and he will see himself so amazingly small that he hears the lecturer's voice was drowned by shouts of laughter and applause, which greeted his scientific remark."

A man who stood in trembling awe of his wife (no uncommon case) being at an evening party, it raised so fearfully that he was pressed to stay all night. He did not like to refuse the invitation, but in a few minutes thereafter he was missed from the company, and in about an hour afterwards he was ushered into the room, not unlike a drowned rat, literally drenched. He had been home to tell his wife that he was going to be out all night.

A good story is told of a dispute entered into by a Scotchman and an Englishman, as to which of their respective countries had produced the most eminent man. Every name was claimed by the Scotsman as that of a man who had been born north of the Tweed, till finally the Englishman said, "Surely you must claim Shakespeare as a Scotsman." "Well" replied the canny Scot. "if Shakespeare wasna Scotsman he was clever enough to be one."

During the personal canvass of a certain Parliamentary candidate among the electors, he and his friends, calling at a hackster's shop, found only a boy, who, having learned their business, went to the foot of the stairs and called, "Mother, here's a man as wants yer vote for him s'be a Parliament man." "Well" shouted the mother, "tell him thy feyther's not in, but if he'll chalk his name on th' counter, we'll inquire into his character."

Two Better Than One.—It is customary in dissenting congregations in the interval of about an hour between the forenoon and afternoon services, to offer the minister a glass of wine in the vestry. A highly respectable minister from England, happening to officiate in Edinburgh, one of the deacons of the church, as usual brought forward the wine with the modest apology:—I presume, sir, you can take a glass of wine?—"Oh, yes," replied the minister, seemingly rather astonished, "I can take two."

A PUBLIC CAUTION.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment are neither manufactured nor sold in any part of the United States, although they may be obtained in the British Provinces.

Each Pot and Box bears the Royal Government Stamp, with the words "Holloway's Pills and Ointment," Lincoln," engraved thereon.

It has become necessary to make this announcement, because the New York Chemical Company (who pay nobody), finding at last that their name has been so exposed, have assumed the title of "Holloway and Co.;" but, even now, no one will buy their medicines direct from them, so that they have made arrangements to supply exclusively the firm of Messrs. Henry and Co., of New York, with their so-called "Holloway's Pills and Ointment." [illegible] Messrs. Henry and Co. are in connection with the British Provinces and elsewhere, the public is very likely to be imposed upon by unscrupulous vendors and others unless they exercise great caution to prevent their being misled, by finding those medicines bearing a stamp with the name of "Holloway and Co., New York," printed thereon.

Many respectable Firms in the British Provinces, who obtain my medicines direct from here, have very properly suggested that it should, for the benefit of themselves and the public, insert their names in the papers, that it may be known that my medicines can be had genuine from them.

The following is a list of the Firms alluded to; and I particularly recommend those who desire to get my medicines to apply to some of the Houses named:—

Messrs. Avery, Brown & Co., Halifax, N. S.
Messrs. Forsyth & Logan, Halifax, N. S.
Messrs. T. H. Barker & Sons, St. John, N. B.
Mr. T. Dos Brisay, Charlotte Town, P. E. I.
Messrs. Langley & Co., Victoria, B. C.
Messrs. Moore & Co., Victoria, B. C.
Dr. John Pallen, Chatham, N. B.
Messrs. Munro & Co., Montreal.
Messrs. J. Winer & Co., Hamilton, Ont.
Mr. H. J. Rose, Toronto.
Mr. A. Chipman Smith, St. John, N. B.
Mr. John Stark, Goderich, Ont.
Messrs. Elliot & Co., Toronto
Mr. J. Claflouer, St. John, N. B.
Messrs. Hannington Bros., St. John, N. B.
Mr. R. S. Priddy, Windsor, Ont.
Mrs. Orpen, Morden, N. S.
Mr. George C. Hunt, Jun., Fredericton, N. B.
Mr. W. H. Thompson, Harbor Grace, N. F.
Mr. J. M. Wiley, Fredericton, N. B.
Messrs. W. & D. Yaile, Montreal.

The medicines are sold at the lowest wholesale prices, in quantities of not less less than £20 worth—viz., 8s. 6d., 22s., and 34s per dozen boxes of Pills or pots of Ointment, for which remittances must be sent in advance.

Chemists and other vendors of Holloway's genuine Pills and Ointment may have their names inserted in the local papers if they will please apply here—

Special Notices.

The great superiority of Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphites and Calisaya consists in its being purely physiological in its action, in correcting all forms of debility by supplying the waste of tissue resulting from mental and muscular exertion, and thus preventing nervous prostration, and promoting health. For building up constitutions of low vitality from scrofulous, or consumptive diseases, or impaired by dissipation and bad habits, is unequalled, as it immediately imparts energy to the digestive apparatus, and creates healthy blood, toning and vitalizing at once all the organs of the body in the same manner as our daily food. Phosphates are the only compounds of Phosphorus assimilated by the animal, and Dr. Wheeler's agents for maintaining the vital powers.

STOCK'S EXTRA
MACHINE OIL

Has been in general use for the past two years and giving the best satisfaction, as may be seen by testimonials from many of the leading houses in Ontario. It will not congeal in the coldest weather, it is therefore suitable for the lightest and fastest, as well as the heaviest machinery in use.

TESTIMONIAL

From the Joseph Hall Machine Works, ewa.

I consider Stock's oil cheaper at $1.00 per gallon than olive oil at 50 cents. Yours respectfully,
F. W. GLASS, President
