YOUR EYES

In hyperopia (farsightedness) the eyeball is not sufficiently deep for rays of light to focus correctly on the retina.

While distant vision may be nearly normal, an unusual straining of the focusing muscles is necessary for reading. In fact, in hyperopia, certain muscles are practically under constant strain, which if unrelieved will result in permanent injury.

Relief can only be obtained by glasses which bring the rays of light to a correct focus. If you have symptoms of hyperopia, let us examine and relieve your eyes.

ONLY FOUR OUT OF 477 ELIGIBLES HERE HAVE JOINED COLORS

Over 500 Refused to Enlist in Entire District.

Out of 477 men in London, whose names appeared on the national service cards as eligible for military service, only four enlisted during the month of May, according to the reports collected at militia headquarters. Regardless of the proposed conscription measure, the men on the national service lists have been interviewed and of the above 477 residents of this city, only four joined the colors during the month. This is less than one per cent, while the average for the district is about ten per cent, and authorities at headquarters consider London's showing the worst in the whole district.

In the city of London, 714 men were canvassed, 237 were not at home when the interviewer called, 4 enlisted as a result of the canvass, 46 were medically unfit, 24 were under age, 16 over age, 25 had already enlisted, and 45 were marked as good prospects for further interviews.

In the whole of Military District No. 1 (Western Ontario), during the month 1,909 names of men supposed eligible were furnished the interviewing sergeants by militia headquarters, out of which 1,133 were interviewed. Of this number, 502 refused to enlist, 168 were medically unfit, 71 were under age, 114 signed up as a result of the interviews, 169 had already enlisted, and 109 were considered as good prospects for further interviews.

In the list of those who refused to enlist are included all those who declined, but in some cases they had valid reasons for not enlisting, while in other cases they had not. They must not, however, all be classed as slackers because they are among those who refused to join.

A TONIC FOR THE NERVES

Nervous people who have not yet developed a disease that can be recognized and treated by the medical profession have the greatest trouble in finding relief. Irritation, headache, sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia, all these discomforts make life miserable, but are endured rather than run a doctor's bill without definite hope of an improved condition.

Every sufferer should know the danger of such a condition to the nervous system. Nervous debility and even paralysis may result if the tone of the nerves is not restored.

The one big fact that brings hope and relief is that the nerves can be restored by building up the blood. It cannot be too often repeated that only through the blood can nourishment or medicine reach the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red and quickly restore vitality and energy to a weak, nervous system. A nervous person who gives these pills a trial is almost certain to see good results, and what is more, the benefit will be lasting because the trouble is attacked at its root. This blood makes weak nerves: building up the blood restores the nerve force. That is why people who occasionally take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always feel bright, active and strong.

If you are weak, nervous, or feeling "out of sorts," give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and you will be surprised to see how quickly the nervousness will pass away and your former energy return. You can get these pills through your medicine dealer; or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.
