HAMILTON NEWS.

REUNITED IN THEIR OLD AGE.

A Romantic Case Which is Agitating the Ambitious City.

Col. Charles Magill and His Wife, After a Long Separation, Said to Have Been Reconciled—Warden's Dinner—Funeral of Mrs. Hanning—A Couple of Young Ladies Who Heard Something Drop—General News Notes.

Hamilton, Dec. 15.—(Special.)—A very romantic affair is reported to have taken place this afternoon in Hamilton. The actors are all in high life and known throughout the country. Some 20 years ago the happy married life of Colonel Charles Magill, now over 80 years of age, was clouded by the romantic marriage of his daughter to "Jack" Geddes, son of the late Dean. The colonel and his wife afterward separated, two daughters lived with him and one shared the mother's fortunes. For years the colonel, who is also an ex-Mayor of the city, has lived in the big, lonely mansion on Jackson-street, while Mrs. Magill has spent the weary years in a house two blocks away. The spell has been broken at last. It is reported tonight, and the daughter, whose marriage was alleged to be the cause of the trouble, and who has done penance all these years, has more than made atonement for it by bringing the lives of the old couple together again. People who saw the colonel to-day said that he walked with the vigor of youth.

The Warden's Dinner.

The annual banquet given by the Warden of the County of Wentworth took place tonight at the Dominion Hotel. Dr. McGregor presided, and covers were laid for 100. A. Freeman, J. S. Henderson, etc.

Charge Against the Big Chief.

Considerable interest was taken in the County Court case to-day of John Berlinghof v. Chief Aitchison, in which reckless driving was charged. The jury were out after 7 o'clock, and the verdict will not be handed in until 10 to-morrow. W. F. Walker, Q.C., appeared for the plaintiff.

Herald Sues Mr. Stair.

This evening The Herald Printing Company instituted proceedings against F. W. Stair, manager of the Opera House, charging him with criminal libel. A summons was served upon Stair by Inspector McMahon, and the preliminary examination will be held at the Police Court to-morrow. Carscallen and Cahill are acting for The Herald, and Nesbitt, Gauld & Co. for Stair. The alleged defamatory statement was made over Stair's name in The Spectator, and was to the effect that The Herald representative offered a scrubwoman money to make charges against him. The Herald has "roasted" Stair frequently, and some people think it is because he stopped advertising in that paper.

GREEN DIED IN HOSPITAL.

The Injury Caused by the Trolley Was More Than He Could Survive.

Hamilton, Dec. 15.—(Special.)—William Green, who was struck by a Barton-street car on Sunday last, died this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital. The deceased was caretaker of St. Lawrence's Church. He was a corporal in the 19th Bedfordshire Regiment, with which he came to this country. Coroner Woolverton opened an inquest this morning and the jury, after viewing the remains, adjourned until to-morrow evening.

Mrs. Carlyle-Hanning's Funeral.

Mr. Young, conducted the service. The pall-bearers were J. Munro, H. B. Witton, J. J. Evel, George Black, J. Kenrick, C. Arthur. Her three sons-in law were the chief mourners.

The lid of the casket was removed at the station and many old friends took a look at the face of the dead. The Earl and Countess of Aberdeen sent a card with this written upon it: "A tribute of respect to the memory of Thomas Carlyle's sister, with sincere sympathy."

They Heard Something Drop.

A fashionable boarding-house in the south end of the city has had something besides the weather to talk about the past two days. Two young ladies occupying one of the bedrooms were in the last act of retirement, when they heard something drop on the floor. It was an opera glass, and, looking up, they saw a big hole in the ceiling. The room above was occupied by a young fellow, who at breakfast was returned his possession. He is now looking around for another boarding-house.

Liquor and Drug Habits.

On the occasion of a lecture delivered before a large and appreciative audience in Windsor Hall, Montreal, in honor of the Father Mathew anniversary, Rev. J. A. McCallen, S.S. of St. Patrick's Church and President of St. Patrick's Total Abstinence Society, made the following remarks: "I wish to call attention to a new aid which Mr. Dixon brings to our temperance cause, and I do this without his knowledge or consent. A physical crave removed, the work of total obstinence becomes easy. If I am to judge of the value of 'The Dixon Remedy' by the cures which it has effected under my own eyes, I must come to the conclusion that what I have longed for 20 years to see discovered has at last been found by Mr. Dixon, namely, a medicine which can be taken privately without the knowledge of even one's own intimate friends, without the loss of a day's work or absence from business, and without danger for the patient, and by means of which the physical crave for intoxicants is completely removed. Therefore, on this Father Mathew anniversary, I do I pay willing and hearty tribute to 'The Dixon Remedy' for the cure of alcohol and morphine habits."—Montreal Gazette, Oct. 22, 1897.

Note.—The cure referred to above can be had of the discoverer, Mr. A. Hutton Dixon, No. 40 Park-avenue, Montreal, who will send full particulars on application.

S. Ackerman, Commercial Traveler, Belleville, writes: "Some years ago I used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for Inflammatory Rheumatism, and three bottles effected a complete cure. I was the whole of one summer unable to move without crutches, and every movement caused excruciating pains. I am now out on the road and exposed to all kinds of weather, but have never been troubled with rheumatism since. I, however, keep a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Oil on hand, and I always recommend it to others as it did so much for me." ed

ST. ANDREW'S INSTITUTE.

Lecture by Rev W. J. McCaughan and Addresses by Lord and Lady Aberdeen.

St. Andrew's Institute on Nelson-street was well filled last night to hear Rev. W. J. McCaughan deliver his lecture on the "Royal Standards," and to listen to addresses from Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Aberdeen. The object of the entertainment was to raise funds to enlarge the swimming tank and make other improvements about the institution. Mr. Justice Maclennan was in the chair, and many of Toronto's most prominent citizens were in the audience. Mr. McCaughan's lecture was most interesting from the standpoint of heraldic history. He traced to their origin, and showed the significance, of the various colors and emblems of the Royal Standard, and then traced the evolutions of each. That done, he spent some time in interesting ly relating tales of private emblems.

At 9.30 Their Excellencies arrived, accompanied by A. D. C. Tharp. The chairman, in calling on Lord Aberdeen, spoke of the kindly interest Their Excellencies took in all such institutions. Lord Aberdeen expressed his pleasure at being present, and thought the promoters of such an institution deserved all encouragement. He was much interested in boys, and believed such institutions one of the best ways of benefiting them by keeping them from roaming about the streets at night. A very large percentage of the inmates of reformatories came from the cities, and this was one of the ways of keeping them from such an end.

Lady Aberdeen said her great sympathy for the work aroused mingled feelings of envy, for it took her back to earlier years, when she similarly came in contact with boys. Latterly she had been engaged more in organization, but found the former work more inspiring. It was a question who received the most benefit, the helper or the helped. The work made us humbly remember the source of all blessings, and that all we had to give was given us. There were three difficulties in such work: The work itself, the humanity and frailty of the workers, and the spectators. For every one who helped there were 50 to criticize adversely. She hoped there was no such difficulty as the last in the present case.

At the conclusion, Mr. J. J. Langmuir, in a few happy words, moved a vote of thanks to their Excellencies. Mr. Melvin Jones seconded it, and it was most enthusiastically carried. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

HE PREACHED AGAINST FEATHERS

And Women Tore Them From Their Hats and Cast Them on the Floor.

Chambersburg, Pa., Dec. 15.—The almost unpardonable sin of women who wear feathers in their bonnets was the subject of a sermon here last night in the United Brethren Church by the Rev. Dr. R. H. Irwin of Lincoln, Neb. The Western evangelist so worked upon the feelings of the women in the congregation that many tore feathers from their bonnetse and cast them upon the floor. Dr. Irwin also preached against tobacco and the wearing of whiskers, and called down the heaviest punishment upon those who offended in either of these particulars.

W. Clendenan, presiding. One noticeable feature in the report, which shows that the empty houses of past years are this year tenanted, is the report of the waterworks system, which is now self-sustaining, when last year there was a deficit from this source of $1257. The total receipts for the year amounted to $60,310.18, as compared with $58,321 last year, showing that on a much lower assessment about $2000 more was received. The disbursements amounted to $51,824.99, which includes $400 paid on local improvement debenture principal and $5382.90 interest. There is a balance on hand of $857.28. Boys' Watches

We are making a Christmas leader of a real good Watch for Boy's Wear; not a temporary "makeshift," but a watch that will last into and through manhood if necessary.

It is STERLING SILVER—is a genuine Waltham, and of the right size—neither too small nor too large. Price $3.50, and splendid value at that.

We have cheaper lines also, of course—a GUN METAL CASE at $5.00, and a NICKEL CASE one at $2.75, are worthy of special note.

We handle only good Time-Keepers and always guarantee them.
