LAWYERS TILT IN LUMBER CASE

Application to Join Percy Doten as Plaintiff is Made

Hon. Dr. Baxter Proposes; Mr. Taylor Opposes and Court Considers

Two hours' argument of counsel in the matter of an application on the part of the plaintiff to join Percy Doten as plaintiff in the case of Luther B. Smith vs. the Bonny River Lumber Co. et al, occupied the proceedings before Mr. Justice Byrne in the Circuit Court this morning.

APPLICATION MADE.

Mr. Smith was still on the stand under cross-examination when court opened. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., leading counsel for the plaintiff, submitted an application in court to have Percy Doten joined as co-plaintiff with Mr. Smith. He contended that, whereas Mr. Doten's name had appeared on an assignment of a lease of the property in 1919, with that of Mr. Smith the former should be joined so that the plaintiff's right of action might not be prejudiced by the possibility of technical objections to the present suit.

Dr. Baxter submitted that Mr. Doten had really no interest in the property except possibly that of trustee for Mr. Smith, and that Doten should be joined or else disregarded altogether in connection with the present action.

OPPOSITION MADE.

Dr. F. F. Taylor, K. C., chief counsel for the defendants, strenuously opposed the application, maintaining that he had no proper notice of it until it was proposed in court; further that, if Mr. Doten were joined, the defendants would find themselves in the position of having to answer two separate actions, which they were not prepared to do without adjournment. Dr. Taylor further contended that it was possible that the Doten action, if there were one, would have been barred by the statute of limitations, and the defendants should have had a chance to offer this defence, and also take advantage of the examination of Doten for discovery. He also maintained that Doten would not be disregarded.

Dr. Taylor suggested that the application had been made merely to delay proceedings and that an unfair advantage would be taken of the defendants if it were granted.

The argument was enlivened by numerous tilts between Mr. Taylor and Dr. Baxter. Court took recess until 2.30 to consider the matter.

TRUCK KILLS WOMAN HOME IS WRECKED

Pennsylvania Authorities Probe Occurrences in Open Shop Mining Camps

Canadian Press.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 9.—Authorities today are investigating two occurrences in open shop mining camps of the Pittsburg Coal Company, near here last night, one of which resulted in a woman being crushed to death under a truck, and the other an explosion which wrecked the dwelling of a miner. In the latter instance the miner and has family of five escaped unhurt.

STORIES DISAGREE

Contradictory claims in the truck crash were put forth by coal company officials and Sheriff R. G. Woodside of Allegheny county on one side, and the United Mine Workers on the other. The truck ploughed into a group of persons, causing the death of Mrs. George Timko, 44, and the injury of another woman, a deputy sheriff and the truck driver.

The contention of the mine owner spokesman is that the commissary truck driver was attacked, causing him to lose control of the vehicle.

P. T. Fagan, president of the district union, charged that the driver "deliberately drove into the crowd," while traveling at a high rate of speed.

INSPECTOR IN CITY.

Ronald Currie, 250 City road, an inspector of the Agricultural Department, was injured about 10 o'clock this morning when a spray pump which he was using to disinfect wool at No. 6 shed, Sand Point, exploded and a part of the metal flew up and struck him in the throat. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital and was later removed to visit a specialist as his throat was badly swollen. His condition, however, is not considered serious.

NORTON SENDS BLOOMS

Two more dandelions, this time picked by Florence Moffett, at Norton, N. B., arrived at The Times-Star office this morning and although not quite so full flown as their cousin, sent in from Brookville yesterday, were wonderful specimens for Dec. 6. Perhaps the dandelions have heard, children, that Santa Claus is coming, and they, like you, are anxious to see what he looks like. There must be some reason for dandelions peeping out from their warm beds in December.

SON OF WEALTH IS FREED FROM PRISON

Ira Perry, Convicted of Murder in Holdup, Released From Joliet

Canadian Press.

CHICAGO, Ills., Dec. 9—Ira Perry, Jr., son of wealthy parents, given a life sentence in prison in April, 1922, for murder in a holdup, has been released from the Joliet penitentiary on parole, it was disclosed today.

Police officials and prosecutors, who said young Perry had confessed to two murders and about 60 holdups which netted some $200,0000, stated they had received no notice of the parole which was made effective October 31. The victims in both instances were jewelers.

At his trial Perry pleaded guilty and a plea of leniency brought a life term instead of death.

HELD INNOCENT.

The parole board took the stand that Perry was forced to drive the automobile used by the robbers and was ignorant of their purpose, that he remained outside the jewelry store in which the murder was committed and was induced to shoulder the blame because of threats against his family.

EARLY CHRISTMAS MAILING IS URGED

Postal Authorities Advise People —Through Service, Halifax to Bangor

The postal authorities here wish to remind the people that Christmas parcels which the senders expect to reach United States addresses for Christmas Day must be mailed early. This is because the parcels from Canada do not go direct to the United States addresses but must be taken to the Customs House at their destination and there examined. This work can be greatly facilitated and the parcels will reach their destinations in time if they are mailed in good time. The Department expresses the hope that this warning will be heeded by all those whom it concerns.

SPEEDING DELIVERY

A through mail service from Halifax to Bangor will be inaugurated by the Post Office Department on Dec. 17. Clerks from the Halifax and Saint John districts staffs will man the car on alternate days. With this arrangement the necessity of transferring and reshipping mail matter at Vanceboro and Saint John will be unnecessary and the arrangement will largely obviate delay and will facilitate delivery of mails for the United States during the seasonal rush which is soon to take place.

MARITIME MEETING VERY SUCCESSFUL

Saint John Representatives Are Home After Session on Transportation Matter

The Saint John representatives at the meeting of the Maritime Committee, which met yesterday at Halifax, returned to the city this morning. F. Maclure Sclanders, commissioner of the Board of Trade, said this morning that the meeting had been very successful and the committee felt the case prepared for the Maritimes was a strong one.

Mr. Cornell in his investigations has brought to light a number of cases of serious discrimination in the matter of freight rates, which were a handicap to the manufacturers of the Maritime Provinces. His investigation had also brought to light the necessity for the shippers of the Maritime Provinces keeping a close eye on freight rate tariffs and checking up to see that their interests were duly protected.

Premier Speaks of Grand Falls Report

Questioned respecting a report contained in an article in the Financial Post, and printed yesterday in the Fredericton Gleaner, that the New Brunswick Government is to enter into contracts with the International Pulp and Paper Co., Ltd., the Bathurst Company Ltd., and the Frasers' Ltd., whereby the power from the proposed Grand Falls development will be absorbed by these companies. Premier J. B. M. Baxter commented as follows this morning: "Neither the Financial Post nor the Fredericton Gleaner is dictating the policy of the Provincial Government."

The Premier re-iterated his statement that the Provincial administration had not finally dealt with the entire matter but that it was waiting to definitely ascertain the probable market if the development was undertaken.

CHEERY OVER WEST ON CHRISTMAS VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Day Come to West Saint John For Yuletide

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Day, who have been living in the West for more than 10 years, came back home today to spend the Yuletide with Mr. Day's father, Dr. R. G. Day of Duke street, West Saint John. Their home is in Edmonton, Alberta. Mr. Day is engaged with the Alberta Government in road construction.

SAYS WEST IMPROVING

Speaking of conditions in the West Mr. Day reports things to be improving. The bounteous harvest has been of course the prime influence in bringing back better times. Nearly all the wheat is threshed now and those not in the wheat pools, who received an advance of $1 per bushel on all deliveries are beginning to feel the stimulating effect of new money as well.

Referring to the efforts being put forth by western provinces to link up their new trunk highways into one continuous transcontinental automobile route, the former Carleton resident says Alberta is doing its share nobly. The British Columbia Government is building its highway almost to Calgary and there is a prospect of it extending to Edmonton. This is known out there as the Jaspar Highway.
