BOWLING.

McAvity's League.

In McAvity's league, last night, on the Victoria Alleys the Vulcan Foundry team took four points from the King street, wholesale. Foohey, captain of team No. 4 has fallen off considerably in his bowling.

Y. M. C. I. League.

The Eagles got the first point in their game with the Owls last evening. Smith and Coughlan each with a score of 106 carried their team to victory in this string.

For the Owls, Cleary with 64 in the eighth box pulled off a spare with a strike on top of it and wound up with a 101. It was pretty bowling and both teams were loudly cheered by their followers.

The second string went to the Eagles with nineteen pins to the good. Maher and Riley were the two high men for the birds of prey.

The third string started with a rush, Smith of the Eagles opening with a nineteen spare and McCafferty with a strike. The Owls were out to get back the thirty-two pins the Eagles had on them for total pinfall.

At the end of the fourth box the Owls had won back twenty-five of the thirty-two they needed. The eighth box showed the Owls leading by forty-three pins. In the following two boxes spares by Cleary, Olive and Garvin increased this lead to fifty-five pins, making the total 502, a record string for the season. The Owls with their grand total of 1389 are now holders of the three-string record to date.

The scores last night were:

Eagles—				Total.	Avg.
Smith	106	85	105	296	98 2-3
Maher	88	96	92	276	92
Gamblin	87	81	87	255	85
Coughlin	106	90	81	277	92 1-3
Riley	85	95	82	262	87 1-3
	472	447	447	1366

Owls—				Total.	Avg.
McCafferty	95	93	91	279	93
Cleary	101	84	107	292	97 1-3
McCurdy	93	83	91	267	89
Olive	93	82	112	287	95 2-3
Garvin	77	86	101	264	88
	459	428	502	1389

Shots at the King Pin.

One of the best features of last night's game was the generous applause given by members of the different teams to a good hit or well picked up spare scored by their opponents. This is the right idea and shows true sportsmanship.

Coughlan of the Eagles proved himself a first-class clean-up man. His breaks were bad but he went after the nine and ten boxes and kept his average up.

Maher of the Eagles is one of this season's new men and gives promise of a high average.

Olive, who is one of this year's additions to the Owls, came across with a nice string of 112 in the last game when high scoring meant two points.

The birds of wisdom sure showed their ability to come up from behind. It means hard work for a team to overcome a lead of thirty-two pins buf the Owls did it in a most creditable fashion.

The games on the Y. M. C. I. alleys are open to spectators and many are taking advantage of it. Last night's game was largely attended by the fans who enjoyed watching some of the star bowlers of St. John striving for victory.

TURF.

Good Racing at Sydney.

Sydney, N. S., Oct. 24.—The curtain was rung down on harness racing in Cape Breton for the present season at North Sydney this afternoon, and the crowd that journeyed to the track saw the finest meeting of a season that has been featured with high class racing. Loleta Directum, the handsome mare owned by Frank Lewis of Point Edward, yesterday demonstrated that she is the champion of the fast ones in Cape Breton, winning the hardest fight in the free-for-all of the year.

The summary:

Free-for-All, Trot and Pace, Purse $250.

Loleta Directum, (Lewis)	2	1	1	2	1
Tonita C., (Hill),	3	3	2	1	2

FOOTBALL.

Hampton Wins Again.

The Hampton Consolidated School lads bagged their third victory in football this fall when they defeated Sussex High School yesterday on the Sussex grounds by a score of 6—3. The game was closely contested from start to finish, although Sussex and Hampton are keen rivals for the football laurels, the game was clean and exciting; no disputes were made and no penalties inflicted. The line-up was as follows:—

Hampton.	Sussex.
Full Back.
J. Angevine	Raleigh Keith
Half Backs.
S. Chipman	F. Denean
A. McPherson	D. McDonald
D. Angevine	F. Hiley, (Capt.)
M. Angevine	F. Reid
	R. Conrad
Quarter Backs.
S. Ross	J. Lamb
K. Rogers	P. Wright
B. Hill.
Forwards.
B. Lawrence (Capt.)	K. Creed
P. Raymond	E. Sharp
B. DeLong	E. Frier
V. DeLong	G. Brown
M. Seely	R. Lutz
H. Reid	F. Hunter
R. March	H. Gilchrist

The game was refereed by J. Rice and his decisions were accepted as being satisfactory. This ends the series between Sussex and Hampton. There is still another game to be played between Rothesay second team and Hampton on the Rothesay grounds.

U. N. B.-St. Dunstan's.

Fredericton, Oct. 24—(Special)—U. N. B. is negotiating with St. Dunstan's University, of Charlottetown, for a Rugby match in Fredericton in the event of St. Dunstan's coming as far as Sackville for a return match with Mount Allison.

BASEBALL.

Ruth Wants $20,000.

Boston, Oct. 24—Babe Ruth, world champion home run hitter of the Boston Americans, said before leaving for Los Angeles tonight that he would demand $20,000 salary next year.

"I will not play with the Sox," he declared, "unless I get $20,000. I feel that I made a bad move last year when I signed a three year contract to play for $30,000. The Boston club realized much of my value and I think that I am entitled to twice as much as my contract calls for."

Ruth, who plans to make an indefinite stay on the Pacific coast, said that he did not expect to hear from President Harry H. Frazee of the Boston club until the club was ready to move south.

POOL.

Dryden Set New Record.

In the pool tournament being held in Harrington's pool parlors, King Square, last night, L. P. (Kid) Dryden broke all previous local records by beating the marks set up by H. J. Gavnor and K. Spears. Dryden scored 106 for two shots, making runs of 44 and 62, giving him and average of 53. The tournament will continue until Monday evening.

BIG THREE LEAD TROTTING LISTS

Murphy, Cox and Geers Have Won More Than $170,000 on Trotting Tracks This Year

New York, Oct. 22—With the final events at Atlanta, the Grand Circuit of 1919 enterst into history. There were thirteen meetings in the entire series, and it is estimated that the winnings of such drivers as Geers, Murphy, and Cox will amount, for the entire series, to more than $170,000. Geer's accident at Syracuse, from which he so quicklyer-covered, had little effect in restricting his winnings for the season.

Most successful of all the reinsmen for the season of 1919 is Thomas W. Murphy. At Lexington Murphy jumped the number of winning mounts for the year to fifty-two and his cash column to $78,049. He had good success also last week at Atlanta, the events producing several spectacular battles between Murphy and Geers, and Murphy and Cox, the honors being fairly evenly divided.

The success of the reinsmen naturally varies with the amount of ability that their horses are able to show. A horse that at the start of the Grand Circuit events may look like big money for the entire season will pull up lame one day or another, and that is the fortune of the game. Nevertheless, in recent years there have been several drivers who have been able to discount the inevitable reverses, and have always landed right side up.

Perhaps the most notable instance of this refusal to admit the rebuffs of fortune is that old Pop Greers, who had been practically counted out for the season when he met with his accident at Syracuse, in the opening of the Grand Circuit events there on Sept. 8. In the 2.10 trot on that date Geers, driving Heglar, was caught in a pocket and, in the jostling that followed his effort to get clear, Helgar was thrown out of his stride and smashed through the railing and out of the enclosure, dragging Geers with him. Geers was picked up unconscious and for a time the doctors thought his injuries would keep him out of racing for the remainder of the season. But old Pop Geer's luck stood by him and a few weeks later he was again very busily engaged in driving home winners.

August was a good month for Geers. There was one day at Poughkeepsie, Aug. 21, when he drove home four winners, following this feat the next day, with a triple victory. He was likewise successful on the Readville track and in later events in which he participated.

His Debut in 1877

Pop Geers made his first appearance on the Northern tracks in 1877 with Alice West. Following his experience with this horse, he drove Mattie Hunter, Joe Braden, Brown Hal, Kate Ishler, Hal Pointer, Frank Buford and McEwan. At that point C. J. Hamlin persuaded Geers to transfer his flag from Tennessee to Buffalo, and there he soon inaugurated a successful career with Robert J., a 2:10½ champion; Star Pointer, Hal Braden, Hal Dillard, Nightingale, the three-mile champion, Fantasy, American Belle, The Monk, The Abbot, with which he reduced the trotting record to 2:03¼; Lord Derby, Dare Devil, Heir-at-Law, and Direct Hal. The last-named horse was bred by Pop Geers, raced by him, and retired from the turf with a record of never having been beaten.

Geers located at Memphis later and raced such fine horses as Anvil, Dudie Archdale, The Harvester, with whom he rdeduced the stallion record to 2.01, and the two-mile record to 4.15¼; Walter Direct Etawah, Onward Silver, June Red, Highball, and St. Frisco, the latter's race with Mabel Trask being the feature of three seasons of events.

Gears is now in his sixty-ninth year, and it is estimated that in his more than two-score years in the sulkey he has driven before more people than any other reinsman and has also won more races. Followers of the game will always associate his name with those of his contemporaries who have now passed on—Charles Marvin and Budd Doble. Doble won his first important race in 1861, and among the champions that he drove in later years were Dexter, Goldsmith Maid and Nancy Hanks. He also steered to victory McDoel, Bonnie McGregor, Monroe Chief, Jack, Charley Hogan, Johnston, Delmarch, Arrow, and Kinney Lou and his son, Wilbur Lou. Doble was 78 years old when he died in Los Angeles on Sept. 3 of this year.

Marvin died in 1904 at the age of 65. He attracted widespread attention in the racing world in 1876 with Smuggler in Palo Alto, at one time or another. Marvin reduced all of the world's records for trotters. In 1891 he lowered the two-year-old mark with the colt Arion to 2:10 3-4. The stallion record of 2.08 3-4, with Palo Alto, also fell to him and he established a world's record of 2.08¼ with Sunol. Marvin also drove Siliko, which won the Kentucky Futurity and afterward became the champion of Europe.

Among Geers's present day rivals Cox, who has been always one of the most active, is a product of New Hampshire. Cox's first experience in the game came when he was still a boy. He was given the chance to drive the gelding May Morning at a church picnic, the owner stipulated that Cox, instead of himself, should collect the $15 winnings, so that the latter would not be obliged to contribute a portion of it to the church fund. Cox did that and retained for his own services the magnificent sum of $5.

ROTHESAY WINS FROM FREDERICTON

Defeats Capital High School Team 5 to 0 And Leads The League

The Rothesay Collegiate school football team defeated Fredericton high school team on the Rothesay campus yesterday afternoon by a score of 5 to 0, and incidentally went into the lead for championship honors. The game was keenly contested and was brim full of interest from the time the ball was put into play until the whistle sounded to end hostilities. The Rothesay boys had an edge on their opponents and showed a big improvement over their previous performance against the St. John High School fifteen.

Neither team was able to score in the first half and honors were fairly evenly divided, but in the second half the collegiate boys kept the ball pretty much in their opponents territory, and five minutes after play was resumed Teed broke through for the first try of the game. Black followed up the good work by converting and making the score 5 to 0. Just prior to this McCready drove through the Fredericton backs and carried the ball across the goal line, but as he was tackled Referee Cooper decided that the ball was held and ordered a scrimmage five yards from the line opposite the spot where the play took place.

Soon after the goal was scored the Rothesay boys again carried the ball into Fredericton territory and it looked as if they would break through for another try, but Captain Clark got hold of the ball and carried it across his own goal line. The referee ordered a scrim at the spot whence it was carried back as no player is allowed to wilfully carry it back from the field of play over his own goal line. By resorting to kicking the Fredericton team worked out of the danger zone and carried the play into their opponents' territory where it remained for a short time.

The work of the Rothesay scrim was good and they got the ball out frequently to their backs. Captain Crease of the collegiate team and McCready, one of the halves, each played a great game and were instrumental in the victory. The other members also shared in the honors.

The Fredericton scrim had trouble getting the ball out and as a result their backs were unable to show to advantage. Their front line men seemed able to get hold of the ball, but the second and third line men got their feet tangled up and as a result lost many opportunities to give their back men a chance to work. At the first of the game they showed flashes of speed and might have been strong contenders for points.

The line-up of the teams follows:—

Rothesay—Fullback, White; quarters, Crease, Skinner and Gibson; halves, McCready, Teed, Douglas and Scammell; forwards, Tufts, Taylor, Stevens, Black, McPhail, Pethick and Bostwick.

Fredericton—Fullback, Flood; quarters, Dagget, Currie and Kane; halves, Kean, Williams, Clark (Captain), Gagnon; forwards, McGinn, Yerxa, Hawkins, Blair, Sheldon, McNally, Trafton. Spares, Everett, Boothe and Wishart.

The Fredericton team were the guests of Grade Eleven of the St. John High School last evening at a supper and dance held in Bond's. Principal W. J. and Mrs. Myles, Miss Wilson and Mrs. Ralph Fowler were chaperons. Addresses were given by Captain Thomas Gosnell, of the St. John team, Pr. Paterson, who is in charge of the Fredericton boys; Captain Clark of the visiting team and Mr. Myles.

MINNIE HAUK BLIND AND ALSO IN WANT

Famous Opera Singer Makes Appeal From Switzerland Villa

Sold Her Jewles For Food—Original Carmen, Who Last Sang in Metropolitan 28 Years Ago, Struggles With Late Husband's Debts

Minnie Hank, famous American opera singer and creator of Carmen in London as well as in New York, where she was born nearly seventy-seven years ago, is blind and in want of funds at her present home in Switzerland, according to word received by former friends in New York. She appealed recently to Philip Holland, Consul at Basle, and through him to Pleasant A. Stovall, the American Minister at Berne.

In the letter she said that she was helpless through practical loss of eyesight and also of her property, having sold her jewelry and heavily mortgaged her estate, the value of which, if advantageously disposed of, she believed would support her declining years. Her home, the Villa Tribschen at Lucerne, is said to be the same in which Richard Wagner composed the love music of "Tristan and Isolde."

Mme. Hank's Letter.

Mme. Hauk's letter to the American officials in Switzerland was as follows:—

"I ought to have written you e'er this to thank you for your kind friendship's offer to help me in my American affairs, and you have done a new kindness to me by writing to Mr. Grey to look after me. He has been to see me several times, and tels me he has written to my bank in New York. As for taxes, my income and capital are not worth mentioning, for I seem to have nothing but securities of no value, and with big outlays constantly coming in to be paid. I hardly know what to do to pay even running expenses. I had to pay a big tax on this property, which is mortgaged, and also has interest to be paid, and I am getting nothing worth mentioning from America or the little I have here.

"How my poor, deluded husband managed it al, I do not know; only, had I not sold my diamond jewelry, I might be at the starvation point. This big debt which my husband contracted at a bank here is eating my estate away, and my only desire is to be laid side by side in my poor husband's grave.

"It is hard to think of my past brilliant career and all I did for the needy, singing everywhere for benevolent concerts and entertaining people here at Tribschen—and to find myself now, in my great need, without a friend at Lucerne!

"My only woman friend, who comes to me and helps me in my corespondence, thinks—and even Mr. Grey said also—that my compatriots in America might assist me; that is, make a subscription or donation to help their original Carmen, which I created in America and London, singing the same about 600 times, all over the world.

"Oh, to find help to get me over this awful crisis in my sad helplessness, a great deal owing also to my awful affliction in not being able to see and help myself! Alas! there seems no way out of this awful chaos in my life. Do you think such a thing might be suggested to Mr. Stovall?

They ought not to let one of their noted singers, who did so much for art all over the world, waste and nearly kill herself by worying and weeping?

"I have only a short time to live and I pray daily to be taken away from this sad, sad world, at least for men, for I am more unhapy than words can express.

"Pardon this long epistle of woe, but you were so kind as to let me turn to you, and I have no one to tell all this to, for my life here at Tribschen is one of isolation, as I can go nowhere, with no eyes to see. The Chinaman says, 'No have eyes, no can see and no can go.' Very, very sensible and true."

It was said at the Metropoliton that Mme. Hauk last sang there with Abbey's stars in 1891, bath in "Carmen" and "L'Africaine." She appeared with the Stanton company just before, and with Colonel Mapleson's troupe she created Massenet's Manon on Dec. 23, 1885, at the old Academy, where she had first sung nearly nineteen years earlier, on Nov. 30, 1866, in "L'Etolle du Nord." Her stage debut was made as a child of about fourteen years in "Sonnambula" in Brooklyn just after the Civil War. She sang in al the capitals of Europe and made three trips around the world.

Mme. Hauk's husband, the Baron Ernest von Hesse-Wartegg, an author and traveler, died about a year ago, and since then visitors at Lucerne found conditions at her villa not as prosperous as formerly, but pride kept her silent and they supposed her income had been reduced by the war. One such guest, who forwarded the singer's letter, wrote also that Mme. Hauk "is now practically blind, scarcely able to find her way from room to room, and must be led when taking a walk."

For the last twenty years, added this friend, Americans abroad have enjoyed the hospitality of Minine Hauk. While it might be that many, if they knew of her condition, would come to her relief, it was thought impossible to reach so many scattered friends by personal appeal and it was therefore decided to put the facts before the public, and especially the opera-going public of her native New York.

CURLERS' FAIR.

At the Carleton curling club fair last night Black's orchestra provided a delightful programme of music and there was a very large attendance. The door prize, a load of coal, given by Charles R. Nelson, was won by Miss Marion Williams, the lucky holder of ticket 1499. The bean board prize, a brass jardiniere, was won by William Connor; the excelsior prize, a ham, by J. Medley Belyea; 1st for ten pins, a smoking set, by John Reardon, and 2nd, a shaving set, by Harold Clark. The gent's air gun prize, a safety razor, was won by Charles Cunningham.

A Quiet Birthday.

Amerongen, Wednesday, Oct. 22—The birthday of the former German Empress Auguste Victoria was celebrated quietly at the Bentinck Castle today. The chief guest of the occasion was ex-Prince August William, fourth son of the ex-Emperor and Empress, who came for a visit of a few days to his parents.

HIGH SCORES BY THE CUE EXPERTS

New York, Oct. 24—This was high score day at the national 18.2 balk line championship billiard tournament.

Walker Cochrane of Detroit won two games today, in the first of which he defeated Geo. Slosson of Boston, finishing the game in the tenth inning with a new world's record run of 265. This beats all previous balk line records where the championship title was involved.

In tonight's game Cochrane defeated Young Jake Schaeffer by 400 to 257. In doing so he left the championship title safe for Willie Hoppe. Had Schaeffer won tonight's game he would have had a chance to tie in the final match tomorrow night.

Incidentally Cochrane made another high run tonight, his 168 beating by three points the high mark he set for the tournament yesterday.

Earlier in the day, Hoppe won his fifth consecutive victory when he defeated Slosson.

Score of tonight's game:

Cochrane—Total, 400; average 26 10-15th; high runs 168, 99, 28.

Schaeffer—Total 257; average 18 5-14th; high runs 95, 50, 30.

CURIOUS OLD WATCH

Does Lot of Things That Ordinary Watches Cannot Do

Georgia is noted for some things and notorious for some others. It is noted for peaches among other things, and it appears that one of its citizens, a physician by the name of F. M. Ridley, is owner of a peach of a watch, to use a slang expression that under the circumstances seems appropriate. The like of this watch is seen but seldom.

Here are some of its features that raise it high above the plane of the commonplace. It strikes the hours and quarter-hours with a clear-cut tiny note that can be heard across an ordinary room. It is said it sounds like the lingering toll of a toy cathedral bell. It tells the day of the week, the day of the month, and the waxing and the waning of the moon from crescent through quarter and a half to full. In addition to this and its regular work of recording time like an ordinary watch in seconds, minutes and hours, it has a split second hand for timing horse races or any swiftly moving object. In shape it is round and only a trifle larger than the average watch; it is of solid gold and has a hutning case.

This curious watch was inherited and of course is not for sale, but if it were offered to buyers no one would want to think of bidding under four figures. Nothing is said in the sketch describing this novelty as to its accuracy in the legitimate task of keeping time—daylight saving, or the real thing. Rowever experience would seem to indicate that when it comes to catching trains and keeping important business dates, the ordinary watch of commerce would be more trustworthy. As a freak curiosity this watch, made in Switzerland, may be all right, and as an heirloom it is of course valuable, but for all the purposes of life the plain American-made article will answer very well—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

It's a pretty strong claim to say a cigar is the best on the Continent.

But we claim this distinction in the 7c field for the Pippin.
