tic. This is said to form the basis of the proposition submitted by the President of the Senate, a few days ago, and finally acted upon on Friday; the substance of which is supposed to be as we have above stated. The precise terms of the proposition, have not been ascertained for publication, and the strict secrecy observed by the Senators, with respect to the President's communication, and their action upon it, indicate that a publication of the particulars would retard, rather than advocate its success, just now.

The following is reported to be the vote of the Senate upon the question:—Yeas 41. Nays 14.—Absentees 7.

Destructive Fires in Roxbury! 15 horses burned to death! The work of a Villainous Incendiary.—Between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock on Monday evening last, Engine House No. 2, on Centre street Roxbury, was discovered to be on fire, and before the flames could be stayed, the building and some of its fixtures were entirely destroyed.

☞ Another alarm about 12 o'clock, was caused by fire being discovered in the large stable in Lowell street, Roxbury, occupied by Mr. Thomas Murphy, proprietor of the Tremont Road line of Omnibuses. We are sorry to say that 15 valuable horses belonging to Mr. Murphy were burned to death, as it was impossible to save them, the fire having made considerable progress before it was discovered.—Boston Paper.

Later from the Army on the Rio Grande.—Gen. Taylor was at Matamoros, waiting for reinforcements to march on Monterey. Seven hundred and fifty of the Louisiana volunteers were stationed at La Barita, five hundred at Point Isabel, the balance with the commanding general at Matamoros making in all about nine thousand strong. The Mexican forces were between Matamoros and Monterey, for the purpose of repelling Gen. Taylor's advance.—Reports at the Rio Grande estimate the Mexican forces at 15,000; but little reliance is placed on them.

The squadron is dispersed about the mouths of the different rivers. The St. Marys off Tampico; frigates Raritan and Mississippi off Vera Cruz, brig Lawrence off Rio Grande, brig Somers off Alvera, the Porpoise gone to St. Domingo with a special messenger on board, schooner Flirt left the Rio Grande on the evening of the 8th, with Purser Watson on board, bearing despatches to the senior officer then in command off Vera Cruz. Reinforcements were arriving slowly, from 50 to 60 still inside the bar off Rio Grande and Brazos St. Iago.

The following note speaks for itself, and while it must be gratifying to Capt. Healy, must also highly recommend him to passengers who may hereafter be desirous of emigrating to this port:

SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
Fredericton, 23d June, 1846.

SIR,—I am directed by His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor to express to you the very great satisfaction which he has received, at your attention to the health and comforts of Emigrants, during their passage in the British Queen, as reported to His Excellency, by the Emigrant Agent, Moses H. Perley, Esquire, and for which His Excellency desires me to return you his best thanks.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your most obedient servant,
JOHN S. SAUNDERS.

Captain OLIVER HEALY,
British Queen.

☞ The Public Meeting at Halifax, in aid of the sufferers by fire at Newfoundland, took place according to announcement, and Committees were appointed in the different Wards to collect subscriptions. At the close of the meeting the Right Rev. Bishop Welch placed his name at the head of the list for £20; several other gentlemen subscribed the same amount, and some £50, others £25, &c.

Launched, yesterday morning from Mr. Wright's ship yard Courtney Bay, a splendid Brigantine, named the Ely. She is owned by Mr. William Thompson, is for the New York trade, and is to be commanded by Captain Keith.

WOODSTOCK, June 20.—We have heard of considerable loss of property sustained in the neighbourhood of the St. Francis, by a disastrous fire that ran through the woods in that quarter on the 4th May. We were not able to ascertain the particulars until a few days ago. It appears that the wind was westerly, and blew a violent gale. The woods all around were exceedingly dry, and abounding in all manner of combustible stuff, such as remains left in lumber woods, consisting of brush of all sizes, chips, &c. These became speedily ignited, and the neighbourhood of the St. Francis become almost one general conflagration.

It was with the utmost difficulty and through the most persevering exertions that the destroying element was stayed in its progress; and that several houses, barns, brows of timber, &c. were not consumed in the general destruction. A number of buildings we understand were destroyed. It would perhaps be unnecessary to particularize individual losses at this late hour. From the information furnished by a gentleman from that neighbourhood it appears that between there and some back settlements there were destroyed about 25 buildings, half of them dwelling houses the other half barns, some of them containing Hay, and grain of every kind; the whole occasioning a very serious loss to that community.

HALIFAX, June 17.—Arrival of Troops.—H. M. Troop ship Athol, Com. Porne, arrived on Saturday evening last in 25 days from Portsmouth, with a detachment of the Rifle Brigade; also, troop ship Arabian, Robertson, 23 days from Cork, with detachments for the 77th, 33d, and Newfoundland Veterans. The Rifles and 77th landed yesterday, and joined their respective regiments in garrison.

To Correspondents.—'Poor Man's Friend' has been received, but is unavoidably deferred until next week. Other favors came to hand this morning, too late for insertion.

CORRECTION.—Some errors occurred in the communication signed James Dunn, published in our last: A line of manuscript is left out of the 2d paragraph, 6 lines from the bottom, after the word adopted, which should read "which resolution you will observe only allows the clergy of," &c. There are several grammatical errors likewise, solely ascribable to the compositor.
