THEY DID GOOD WORK.

Annual Meeting of the King's Sons and Daughters—Mrs. Tilley Resigns—The Officers Elected.

At the seventh annual meeting of the King's Daughters and Sons last night at the "Y" rooms, Mrs. Evans presided, in the absence of Mrs. Tilley, the Dominion secretary, who is making an official tour of the Maritime Provinces. Mrs. Tilley, in her annual address, which was read, declined re-election as chairman of the local union, on account of her onerous duties. Much regret was expressed at her retirement from the position, which she has held for seven years.

The annual report, presented by the secretary, Miss Margaret C. Brown, showed that the London union comprised fourteen circles, with 434 members. Fifteen hundred visits among the sick and poor were reported, and $90 articles of clothing, 754 bouquets and $64 religious papers and magazines given among them. The total amount expended in charity was $677 66, and $27 46 was raised for the relief of the sufferers in India.

Mrs. L. Lawson presented the financial statement, showing the receipts to have been $55 78, and the expenses $42 89, leaving a balance of $12 87.

The fourteen circles in the union also presented short but very encouraging reports of their work among the sick and poor.

The election of officers resulted in the choice of Mrs. Sage as successor to Mrs. Tilley; Mrs. Evans as first vice-president; Mrs. Tilley, second vice-president; Miss Brown, recording secretary; Miss A. Wright, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Lawson, treasurer.

Miss Styles was appointed to represent the union at the Dominion and provincial conventions, to be held in Ottawa from Oct. 8 to 12.

Mrs. Tilley was chosen a member of the provincial executive.

Two pledges were submitted and very largely signed, one being to discountenance the Sunday delivery of milk, and the other to do all shopping possible early on Saturday, or on another day of the week, and thus assist in the early closing movement.

Tuck It On.

More Increases in the United States Tariff Affecting Canada.

High Rates of Lumber Are to be Increased.

Washington, June 5.—As the result of the activity of Senators McMillan and Burrows, the already high rates of the Senate bill on the lumber schedule are to be increased. Senator McMillan had discovered that heading bolts, stave bolts, etc., were inadvertently stricken out of the Senate bill, and he went before the steering committee yesterday and had them put back at 20 per cent ad valorem. Senator Burrows also went before the committee, of which he is a member, and induced his colleagues to raise the rates on lath from 15 to 25 cents per thousand, on shingles from 25 cents to 30 cents per thousand, besides placing an ad valorem duty of 20 per cent on telegraph, electric light and trolley poles. Senator Burrows also secured an amendment strengthening the retaliatory clause by including boom sticks and coupling chains among the articles enumerated therein. The effect of this amendment will be to place a duty upon them in case Canada imposes an export duty on logs.

The house in which the duke lived is still standing.

EKFRID WEDDING.

Appin, June 3.—At Ekfrid a very happy event took place, being the marriage of Mr. J. Hillman to Mrs. H. Domley, both of the same place, with Rev. Mr. Hughes performing the ceremony. The groom was assisted by Mr. J. Richmond and Mr. J. McGill, of Bothwell. Miss M. Case, of Metcalfe, and Miss Wentworth, of Glencoe, assisted the bride, of whom they were intimate friends. The bride looked charming, attired in cream-colored crepon silk dress, and was the recipient of many costly presents. The happy couple, amid showers of rice and old shoes, and best wishes of the community, left for a trip to the east, visiting Toronto, Buffalo and other cities of note, thence to Scotland to celebrate the Queen's Jubilee.

ARKONA.

Two New Bridges to be Built—A Wedding—Strawberry Prospects.

Arkona, June 4.—The village council have decided that we must have two new bridges this summer—one on King street and one on Main street. It has not been settled yet as to the kind.

Mr. Ben Munro was married on Wednesday afternoon to Miss Mary, second daughter of Mr. Waterman, of the fourth line of Warwick. Mr. and Mrs. Munro take up housekeeping on the fourth line amid the congratulations of their many friends.

Mrs. Westover, of Lapeer, Mich., sister of Mr. A. Barnes, is here at present visiting her brother and many other relatives and friends in town and vicinity.

If the present warm weather continues, the strawberry picking will soon begin.

Do not forget the farmers' excursion picnic to Guelph on June 12. A good number from around here are going, and expect to have a good time. Won't you be one of the number?

LUCAN.

The Transient Traders' Bylaw Creates a Stir.

Lucan, June 4.—Rev. Mr Dewar, of Ailsa Craig, preached in the Presbyterian Church here on Friday night.

A baker and a butcher sit on the Lucan council board at present, but the street corner politician vows vengeance against them in the future; and the wire pullers for which our village is noted, are exultant at the coming prospect. A few evenings ago the council passed a measure—a reasonable one, many say—placing a tax on transient traders and peddlers who might wish to do business in Lucan, thus placing them on the same footing with the business men of the town and thereby assisting to lower the poor man's taxes. For this crime the butcher and baker have been tried and adjudged guilty, in the opinion of some, and the angry populace only awaits next election to execute them. The introduction of the spinning jenny into England caused a wonderful consternation among the people, but not so long, loud and bitter, as the transient traders' law in Lucan.

Mr. Wm. Davis, who has been seriously ill for some time past, is recovering.

Mrs. (Rev.) Shaw is soon to start for a prolonged visit to her old home in Kincardine.

LAMBETH.

Lambeth, June 5.—A painful accident occurred yesterday to Mrs. Wm. Lown, while examining a corn-shelling machine on the property of Mr. R. Robinson, her hand got caught in the cog wheel, and before it could be removed the second right-hand finger was badly smashed. Dr. Routledge attended, and removed the finger at the joint.

Mrs. J. C. Stoneman and family, and Mr. Ed Robinson, of Hensall, are home on a visit.

The annual union picnic of the Lambeth A. O. U. W. and I. O. F. comes off on June 16. This year it is an excursion to Sarnia and Stag Island, and the fare is $1. No doubt a large number will attend.

The Royal Templars, at their last meeting elected their officers for the current term. The following is the list: P. S. C., W. B. Woodhull; S. C., A. McKerricher; V. S. C., Miss M. The cottage of Mr. W. Watson, on Adelaide street, which has been lately repainted, adds greatly to the appearance of the street, and is a credit to the village.

Mr. and Mrs. McCutcheon, of Petrolea, returned home last Thursday, after a short visit to friends in this place.

Our village is quite lively at present, but we cannot credit it to the dispensing of the market tickets, as an occasional correspondent would have it.

Through illness, Mr. John Turnbull is unable to leave his house.

A number of the citizens of London rode out today on their wheels to gather wildflowers.

Mr. John Sinclair has lately turned out of his shop a number of new and stylish buggies. Another fine one went out yesterday, the purchaser being Mr. L. Stilson.

Parliament.

Reduction of Coal Oil Duties Again Discussed.

Able Address by the Member for East Lambton.

Prominent Conservatives Advocate the Destruction of the Industry.

Ottawa, June 5.—Progress in the House with the tariff was not up to expectations yesterday. The discussion of the regulations under which corn may be imported for distilling occupied a long time, and the wheat duties took up the balance of the afternoon. The members from the west declared that they did not want 12 cents a bushel on wheat, and Mr. Ellis, of St. John, said the people of the Maritime Provinces certainly did not. Mr. Lavergne remarked that Quebec was of the same mind. The only people who thought it of any use were the Ontario Conservatives.

Mr. Fielding said the tariff was a compromise measure, and as it had been found necessary to retain duties on the things the farmer consumed, the Government had decided not to take more than 3 cents off the wheat duty.

Mr. Ross Robertson, in the evening, secured some changes in the book duty for the benefit of the printing trade, the sheets of books in an unfinished state being put on the 20 per cent list.

Mr. Erb made an attack on the leaving of oil paintings on the free list.

Mr. Fielding said the principle followed was that works of art were of an educational character, and were usually imported, not for the gratification of the individual merely, but for exhibition in places where the public saw them.

The book and paper schedule was put through, then the chemicals and drugs.

When the coal oil section was reached, the chief feature was a speech by Mr. Fraser (Lambton) favoring the duty being retained as at present. He had no hesitation in raising his voice against the most powerful monopoly of modern times—the Standard Oil Company, of the United States—known under many different names in Canada, and as the Queen City Oil Works in Toronto. He had been told that this company intended to take possession of the Canadian market at an early date. No greater harm could be done to producers of petroleum than to have the duties reduced. The oil industry, he said, was the most tempest-tossed industry in the country, and had been fighting for some years against the giant trust referred to. The shareholders in the enormous corporation numbered, he said, not more than eight, who divided last year among themselves $44,000,000. Mr. Fraser said the Canadian oil industry did not fear legitimate, but illegitimate competition. He made a strong point for the Canadian producer by showing that although oil costs in some places in Canada as much as 50 cents a gallon, all that the refiner in Petrolea gets is 8½ cents a gallon. The difference is chiefly caused by excessive freight rates. A reduction of the duty from 5 to 3 cents a gallon, as advocated by Mr. Ellis, of St. John, would destroy the industry. Mr. Ellis had presented a vigorous argument for reduction of duty in the interest of the consumer, and now moved for a reduction to 3 cents. This was defeated, as was another to make the duty 4 cents, by Mr. Ganong, an eastern Conservative.

Mr. Oliver was willing that the coal oil industry should be fairly protected. It was not, however, so much a question of duty as of transportation. It was the lack of transportation that made the oil so costly in the Northwest.

Rev. Mr. Douglas asked if anything had been done to meet the wishes of the west in regard to the introduction of oil in the tank cars. In the west the difficulty was more one of transportation than duty, and if their wishes could be met in that regard they should be satisfied without taking any stronger steps. Were the Government prepared to give satisfaction in that regard?

Mr. Fielding said the Government had in preparation a bill with the object of removing some of the restrictions complained of. The precise terms he could not yet state, but it would be in the direction hoped for by the honorable gentleman.

Mr. Davin attacked the coal oil industry, and seconded by Mr. Richardson, of Lisgar, moved that the duty be 1 cent per gallon. This was also defeated, and the duty stands at 5 cents.

Many members who had remained for this vote left, and rapid progress was made with the earthenware and glass schedules. The House rose at 11:45, having got half-way through the dutiable list of the tariff.

MORNING SITTINGS.

Sir Richard Cartwright gives notice "That after Tuesday, the 8th day of June, there shall be two distinct sittings of the House in each sitting day until the end of the session, on from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., and the other from 3 p.m. until the hour of adjournment.

MILLIONS IN IT.

New York, June 5.—It is learned that a company of capitalists are contemplating the formation of a pool of $50,000,000, to buy up 80,000,000 gallons of whisky now in bond in the State of Kentucky. The project of the men interested in this gigantic corner is to corral all the Burbon whisky now held in bonded warehouses in Kentucky. Outside of this the only available supply consists of 50,000,000 gallons of rye whisky, distilled in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, Wisconsin, and smaller quantities in other portions of the country. The combine will therefore have in its control two-thirds of the entire supply of whisky in the United States.

RINDERPEST AT THE CAPE.

Cape Town, June 5.—In the Legislative Assembly, the secretary for Agriculture, P. H. Faure, announced that the shooting of cattle had been stopped as being a useless attempt to maintain a clean belt. He added that it was impossible to prevent the rinderpest from reaching Cape Colony.
