SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.

Athletic.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS FOR THE BOYS.

The medals won at the amateur championship meeting of the Maritime Provinces Amateur Athletic Association, at St. John, are on exhibition in the windows of Messrs. M. S. Brown & Co., Granville street. The medals are 27 in number, including 14 gold and 13 silver two medals being given for the three mile walk, which resulted in a dead heat, and a gold clasp for the winner of the Brown medal race this year. The medals are similar in design and are extremely handsome. The gold medals are ornamented top and bottom, and in the centre is the monogram of the association, "M. P. A. A. A," in raised enamel letters in black and gold, surrounded by a gold laurel wreath with the figures "1889" in black and gold letters surmounting the monogram. The medals are hung in gold chains over a blue ribbon and a gold clasp, with the name of the event won by the athlete for whom the medal is intended in enamel. The enamelling on the silver medals is in blue, and looks very pretty. The work on the medals shows a great amount of labor, and the Messrs. Brown have certainly provided handsome prizes; especially for the amount at the disposal of the maritime associations for this purpose.—[Halifax Recorder.]

The Turf.

ABOUT TWO-YEAR OLDS.

There are 35 two-year olds who have won $5,000 and upwards in 1889, against 22 in 1887 and 28 in 1888.

In 1887, 22 colts and fillies won 115 races and $253,718.50. In 1888, 28 colts and fillies won 104 races and $349,653. In 1889, 35 colts and fillies won 142 races and $488,855.

The increase of 1889 over 1887 is 27 races and $235,138.50 in money won. The increase of 1889 over 1888 is 38 races and $139,202 in money won.

Largest winner in 1887, Emperor of Norfolk, 12 races and $37,020. Next largest winner, Kingfish, 5 races and $31,540

Largest winner in 1888, Proctor Knott 6 races $69,780. Next largest winner, Faverdale colt, 5 races and $2,045.

Largest winner in 1889, Chaos, 3 races and $63,550. Next largest winner, El Rio Rey, 7 races and $47,525.

El Rio Rey is the only unbeaten 2-year old in the list, starting seven times and winning seven.

SUNOL AND MAUD S.

Mr. Bonner says: When Sunol is taken east she will be trained for a year or two to give her an opportunity to break the record as far as possible and then she will be placed on his farm until some other horse approaches the record near enough to warrant a belief that it will be broken. Then Sunol will be given another chance. Mr. Bonner says he is quite sure that unless an accident should happen, Sunol will go in less than 2.08¾; he is also sure that Maud S will do better than that. Trotting is an acquired gait, says Mr. Bonner, and a sound animal improves with age up to 20 years at least. Goldsmith Maid made her great record when she was 17 years old, and I see no reason why Maud S. at 15 should not do likewise after her long rest. She broke her own record three successive years after I purchased her from Mr. Vanderbilt and I took her out of training then simply because I thought it useless to subject her to the wear and tear and dangers of hard training, when no other animal seemed to give promise of reaching her record.

Theatrical.

Notwithstanding the blustery weather of last night quite a good house attended at the Inutitute to see "The Private Secretary" played by the Wood-St. John Company. The piece is not unknown in this city, but it is ever new and ever laughter provoking, see it often as one may. Mr. Wood was the irascible old East Indian uncle to the life and Mr. J. Philip Doyley as the Rev. Robert Lambkin the Private Secretary was a real surprise. His playing throughout was remarkably effective and his every appearance provoked a laugh. Mr. Williams and Mr. Calvert as the nephew Harry Clutterbuck and Harry Marsland respectively, acquitted themselves so as to give satisfaction, while Mr. White as Gibson the tailor, merits more than passing praise. Miss St. John was a sweet Edith Marsland, and she was well supported by Miss Stone and Miss Randolph in their roles of Eva Webster and Miss Simpkins.

"The Private Secretary" will be given tonight again and as a good laugh is better than medicine and the hall is comfortable and warm, there is no reason why people should not enjoy all the fun this play affords.

At the matinee tomorrow afternoon, a double bill will be given viz "Man Proposes" which is a delightful piece, and "Sweethearts."

THE CITY OF MONTICELLO.

The Nature of the Repairs being Put on Her by Mr. Isaac Olive, Jr.

The work which is being done on this steamer gives employment to 47 men who are under the foremanship of Mr. Geo. U. Beatty, a workman of much stability. A reporter visited the boat this morning and was shown around by the contractor, Mr. Isaac Olive, jr. This gentleman's name is a guarantee for the neatness and stability of the work, as is known by many persons who may have seen the ship, "Theodore H. Rand," or the schooner "Patrol," both of which were built by Mr. Olive, and are models of naval architecture. When the work was begun on the Monticello it was thought the job would not last any longer than 2 or 3 weeks, but as Mr. Olive had received orders to renovate everything that he thought needed to be done, the work will take much longer, and, it is likely will be completed about Christmas. The boat's hull is of the best, but the woodwork, which is 23 years old, had begun to decay. The company however, will not spare any expense as they intend to make the Monticello one of the best boats in the Dominion. Mr. Olive has nearly completed the work forward of the paddle boxes and has commenced to work aft of them. Forward of the paddle boxes he has renewed all the beams on the port side, replaced the battery of the paddle boxes, with 2½ inch dried plank (slip tongued) the seams of which are covered with a thick coating of white lead to keep the water out of the hull. The stanchions on the lower deck which were before 3x3½ inches have been replaced by new ones 7x4 inches made of pitch pine and tamarac. The carlins have all been doubled and screw bolted. The bulwarks which were formerly ¾ of an inch thick have been replaced by new ones 1½ inches in thickness and the old sashes are replaced by 9 inch bull's eyes. A new engine frame supporting a weight of 6 tons, has been put in. This is said by competent judges to be as nice a job as has ever been done in the provinces. All the material used is of the very best and although this job is of a much more difficult nature than the work of repairing a sailing vessel yet Mr. Olive is giving the best of satisfaction in his work and is justly proud of it. The work has been greatly facilitated through the kindness of Mr. Frank Hathaway who has placed his large shed on Rodney wharf at the disposal of Mr. Olive and enables the men to work under cover on a stormy day. When the Monticello again resumes her trips she will present a beautiful appearance and likely soon pay for the cost of repairing her.
