RECIPROCITY IN U. S. SENATE

Mr. Ridder, in reply to questions from members of the committee, declared that he, as president of the Publishers' Association had sent out word to the members of the association telling them the reciprocity agreement was of vital importance.

"But I would not have favored the agreement," added Mr. Ridder, "If I had not thought it would be of good to the whole country independent of my interest in it as a newspaper publisher."

Robbing Publishers.

Mr. Ridder declared that while he was in favor of reciprocity as a whole his reason, as a newspaper man, for urging its passage, was that he might get out of the clutches of the "paper trust," which, he said, was robbing the newspaper publishers of the country.

"Have you ever made an effort," asked Senator Bale "to have the 'Paper trust' punished by the department of justice?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Ridder, "I had 52 paper makers in New York indicted, and they paid $2,000 a piece. These were manufacturers of various kinds of paper, although it has not been possible as yet to prove legally that a white paper trust exists. Mr. Wallock, vice-president of the International Paper Company swore before the Mann paper committee that there was no combination of any sort, although reports were being made to him every month as to what the various paper mills of the country were doing.

"I want health during my life time," said Mr. Ridder. "I have not yet seen any trust magnates go to jail. I favor the measure so that I may buy paper in the open market. I do not intend, if I can help it, to let the 'paper trust' dictate to me what I must pay for paper."

Mr. Ridder said he was opposed to all trusts.

Hearing Concluded.

Public hearing on the Canadian reciprocity bill was concluded by the senate finance committee today, representatives of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association and of the Associated Press being the last to appear before the committee.

Secretary of State Knox at the request of Senator Bailey had been asked to explain to the committee tomorrow whether the Root amendment to the paper section of the bill providing that it shall not be in force until the president is satisfied and has issued a proclamation to the effect that paper and wood pulp are being admitted free into all the provinces of Canada is in full accord with the agreement as understood by the commissioners from both countries, who prepared the treaty. On Wednesday the committee will take up the bill in executive session to discuss committee action.

Both Herman Ridder, until recently president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association and Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, testified today in answer to queries from various senators that in their opinion no effort had been made by the newspapers of the country to present only one side of the reciprocity argument, to color their reports on the question or to suppress any facts which were of news value. Bruce Haldeman, president of the Publishers' Association and Frank B. Noys, president of the Associated Press also appeared.

Mr. Ridder's Argument.

The chief interest which the newspapers of the country have had in the matter, Mr. Ridder told the committee, is their desire to free themselves from the paper manufacturers' trust, which now, he added, has the publishers at its mercy. The readers of the country would benefit by cheaper paper as well as the publishers, he declared, because the money saved on paper could be used to furnish a larger and better news service.

The hearings wound up with a friendly philosophizing between Senators Bailey, Smoot, Lafollette and Clark on the one hand, and Mr. Stone on the other, as to whether or not it would be better for the public if the newspapers gave them more of the serious, solid and instructive sort of news and less of the sensational.

Mr. Ridder, who occupied the greater part of the day before the committee acknowledged that the Publishers' Association had sent out bulletins and letters urging the passage of the reciprocity measure. "But I would not have favored the measure," he said, "if I had not thought it would be of benefit to the country as a whole, independent of my interest in it as a newspaper publisher."

When Mr. Ridder attacked the paper trust, which, he said, limited the output fixed the price and told a publisher where he must buy his paper, both Senators McCumber and Bailey, opponents of the bill, declared that if there was such a trust they wanted to see it prosecuted by the government. Mr. Ridder insisted in answer to numerous questions, that any amendment to the bill would in his opinion, endanger and probably kill the measure and that therefore he was in favor of seeing the bill passed exactly as it came from the house.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to the Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of general interest on the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of senators. All representatives, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides.

Council Held Long Session Yesterday

Much Time Spent In Discussion Of Purchase Of Saddle For Mounted Policeman — Debate Abruptly Dropped When It Was Found The Saddle Had Already Been Bought And Used.

The monthly meeting of the Common Council was held on Monday afternoon in the Court House, with Mayor Frink in the chair and all the aldermen present Considerable important business was transacted, but longest discussion was given to the price paid for a saddle for the mounted policeman.

Contracts involving a considerable expenditure for coal and supplies for the various departments as recommended in the reports were confirmed and the permanent employees of the city were granted holidays of 14 days in each year. The Chief of Police and the City Engineer were both given leave of absence to attend conventions, but a motion to allow the chief $50 for expenses was voted down.

Another harbor bridge committee was appointed and a committee to arrange for band concerts was named and allowed $500 to expend. A motion to grant an additional $500 to the Coronation Committee was referred to the Treasury Board.

The eligibility of the pupils of St. Vincent's school for the Corporation gold medal was not decided but was passed along to the Treasury Board.

The condition of the market building and the character of those who frequent it called for some vigorous remarks from Mayor Frink.

Charges against the city constables preferred by H. A. Robertson and the latter's request for an investigation were referred to the Recorder.

The discussion of the motion for the payment of $50 for a saddle for the mounted policeman lasted half an hour. At the end of the time it being pointed out that the military saddle was the only type that could be depended upon to stand the steady service and that the price included also a bridle, neck piece, etc., and that the saddle was actually purchased and in use, the debate came to an abrupt end.

The council was called to order shortly after three o'clock and after the minutes of the last meeting had been approved the reports of the boards were taken up.

The Treasury Board report was adopted as it stood, the only item calling for discussion arising from the recommendation for an appropriation for the Corporation gold medal. The grant of $50 was made and it was decided to leave the decision as to whether the pupils of St. Vincent school were eligible, to the Treasury Board.

When the section of the report of the Board of Public Works, referring to the lease of the Star line wharf was reached, Ald. Potts objected to the principle of leaving the decision of the council until the courts decide the suit now pending. He thought the council should accept the responsibility and moved that a report on the matter be submitted to the council.

Ald. McGoldrick pointed out that only fourteen feet of river frontage was involved and that both parties were agreeable to the proposed action. Ald. Potts accordingly withdrew his motion.

Ald. Potts also objected to the purchase of creosote paving blocks, characterizing them as an expensive luxury. He said that there was no necessity to spend such sums on pavement. The city had secured a better pavement on Orange street at a cost of 60 cents a yard than on Germain street which cost altogether over $13,000.

Ald. Jones said that it would cost the city more like $5 a yard to do the work itself and it was necessary to have it done.

Ald. McGoldrick explained that the creosote blocks were only to be used between the car tracks and the section was adopted.

On motion of Ald. McGoldrick a flag for King Square, West St. John was ordered purchased and the report was adopted as a whole.

The report of the safety board was also adopted without change, the only amendment proposed being lost. This was Ald. Potts' motion to allow the chief of police $50 for expenses as well as leave of absence to attend the annual convention of the chiefs of police at Ottawa.

Ald. J. B. Jones opposed the motion and was followed by Ald. C. T. Jones, also in opposition. The latter said that while it was desirable that the chief should do all in his power to fit himself more completely for his work, he should do so at his own expense, as he was well able to afford to do so.

The Cost of a Saddle.

A supplementary report from the safety board was submitted asking for payment of $50.43 for a saddle purchased from the military department for the mounted policeman, recommending the purchase of new uniforms for John Cunningham and Charles Gallagher, of No. 5 company to replace those destroyed at the Spar Cove fire and also recommending that Ald. Wigmore be added to the board.

The first item caused a half hour's discussion.

Ald. J. B. Jones stated that he had inquired the price of saddles and found that a good one could be secured for $20 and he did not see why they should pay $50.

"The saddle I refer to," he said, "was an imported article, and was made of pigskin, and you know what that means, your honor."

Ald. Elkin—Is this saddle new or second hand?

Ald. Russell—I don't know, I never saw it.

Ald. Elkin—Well, I know something about saddles; I lived in the Rocky Mountains for seven years, and was in a saddle constantly and I think $20 is enough to pay for one.

Ald. Potts maintained that there were saddles and saddles, and this one was probably worth the money.

Ald. Russell—It was picked by the director, the comptroller, the recorder, and the chief of police, and we should have got our money's worth.

After considerable further discussion the mayor asked the use of further talk as the saddle had been bought and had to be paid for.

Ald. Elkin then withdrew his motion to refer the section back and it was approved.

The balance of the report was also adopted.

The report of the water and sewerage board was taken up and adopted without amendment.

Mayor Frink questioned the advisability of the purchase of 200,000 bricks at $9.500 per M, It was explained that the material is required for a sewer on Brussels street and for the new catch basins.

Ald. Jones inquired if the relative cost of bricks and concrete for this work had been ascertained and the chairman replied that the engineer considered that concrete was still an experiment in this kind of work and wanted brick work.

Ald. Potts objected to the recommendation that the Mill street sewer be renewed before the granite paving is laid, on the grounds that he had moved that sewers be renewed a year in advance of permanent paving being laid.

The City Market.

When the section of the market committee's report recommending the expenditure of $25 for securing the conviction of persons destroying the market property was reached, the mayor gave his opinion of the situation in a very frank manner. He said that the condition of the halls and rooms was disgraceful, that the building had become a rendezvous for drunkards and persons of dissolute habits and that it was outrageous that such conditions should continue with two policemen on the beat and the police station only a couple of blocks away.

Ald. Kierstead moved that a fee of $5 be collected from every trader using the market stands, saying that the present arrangement was unfair and that one man was openly boasting of evading any charge for a stand.

Ald. Jones informed the chair that the ferry committee was dealing with the matter.

Ald. Potts declared that such a tax could not be imposed impartially and that it would drive trade from the market. He added that the steps already taken had lessened the market revenue by $1000 per annum.

The motion was withdrawn.

The report of the ferry committee with an additional clause providing for 14 days' vacation for employes was adopted.

Ald. Smith's report on the progress of the ferry steamer Newport was greeted with applause by the other aldermen.

The report of the appeals committee was adopted without discussion.

A communication from the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners asking that the carpenters employed by the city be paid $3.00 per day was ordered filed.

The same course was taken with regard to a request for aid for the Toronto Free Library for the Blind.

Wm. J. Johnston's protest against the erection of a dam near his property at Loch Lomond was referred to the Water and Sewerage Board.

The request of the Board of Trade for information regarding city lots was the cause of a long discussion

Ald. Kierstead moved that the request be complied with, and Ald. Elkin moved an amendment that the information be laid before the Council before it is given to the Board of Trade. Mayor Frink characterized the letter as one of half a dozen stereotyped communications received from the Board of Trade and said that the engineer would supply the information when it was ready.

Ald. Kierstead wanted to insist on the information being given inside of three months, but the mayor explained at some length the difficult nature of the job, owing to the lack of sufficient data.

Ald. Elkin's amendment was carried.

Complains of Constables.

H. W. Robertson complained by letter of the treatment he had received from the city constables. He gave specific instances of their not making returns and refusing to serve papers for him, and stated that the present lack of control over the constables encouraged bribery and theft. He also alleged that there was a conspiracy against him, and asked for an investigation.

Ald. Scully moved that the matter be referred to the Recorder. In seconding the motion Ald. Potts said that if the statements could be proved the men involved should be instantly dismissed.

The motion was adopted.

Ald. Scully then moved that all pupils in the city taking Grade XI. examinations be eligible for the Corporation Gold Medal. Ald. Green would agree to this provided that all the competitors took the examination in the same room, under the same conditions.

Ald. Kierstead moved in amendment that the matter be referred to the Treasury Board with power to act, and the amendment carried.

On motion of Ald. Scully the Mayor was given power to appoint a harbor bridge committee to report back from time to time. His Worship selected Ald. Scully, Kierstead, McLeod, Smith and Russell.

Ald. Scully moved that the dispute between the C. P. R. and the residents of Germain street, West End, be referred to the Mayor and Recorder to find a solution. The motion was carried with the addition of Ald. Scully's name to the committee.

On motion of Ald. Green the Recorder's opinion on the proposed changes in the early closing law (referred to elsewhere), was read. Ald. McGoldrick moved that each alderman be furnished with a copy. Carried.

Ald. Hayes moved that all city employes be instructed to supply all information asked for by the committee engaged in drawing up the charter for the commission form of government.

On motion of Ald. McGoldrick the City Engineer was granted ten days' leave of absence, dating from June 30, for the purpose of attending the annual convention of civic engineers, at his own expense.

Ald. McGoldrick's motion that a sewer be laid on Barker street was referred to the Water and Sewerage Board for a report.

Ald. J. B. Jones moved that a committee be appointed to arrange for band concerts, and that $500 be placed at their disposal.

Ald. McGoldrick wanted some of the concerts arranged for Saturday afternoons, and Ald. Potts wanted $100 of the amount devoted to paying the pipe bands. The original motion carried, and as the Mayor asked to be excused he named a committee consisting of Ald. Jones, Wigmore, Elliott and McLeod.

Ald. McLeod enquired about the progress of negotiations for the widening of Mill street. The Mayor reported on the correspondence between himself and the C. P. R. and assured the aldermen that it was as much in the interests of the railway as of the city to have the street widened.

An additional appropriation of $500 for the coronation committee was proposed by Ald. Green, and after some discussion the matter was referred to the Treasury Board.

In reply to Ald. Potts Ald. Kierstead stated that he had received a communication from the Inglewood Pulp Co. stating that they could supply more power and at cheaper rates than the Hydro-Electric Company, and informing him that as soon as their engineer's report was completed they would submit more detailed information.

Ald. Jones moved that the Mayor be made a committee to secure the four obsolete guns now on Barrack Square to be used as ornaments at different parts of the city. Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

THE BATH TUB MURDER CASE

Man Charged With Slaying His Wife Claims He Can Furnish Absolute Proof Of His Innocence.

New York, June 5.—Alexander Karlin, attorney for Henry A. Scheib, makes public Scheib's defense to the charge of slaying his wife, Lillian, whose body was found in a bathtub last Tuesday. Karlin admits most of the claims of the police, but declares that Mrs. Scheib died of tuberculosis, and that Scheib had not visited the flat since March 25. He scouts the statement that the body had been in the bathtub for four months and declares that he can produce a perfect alibi in rebuttal to the evidence of any witness claiming to have seen Scheib leave the flat last Sunday.

Karlin adds that the warm weather since May1 was responsible for the condition of the body when found. It was his opinion, he said, that Mrs. Scheib died while taking a bath.

The evening's proceedings which were enjoyed with greatest attention were brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

Track Meet.

On the college campus at 2.30 p. m. the regular annual inter-class track meet took place. The affair was interesting from start to finish. The weather which was bright and warm, seem to furnish the necessary stimulus for record breaking. All the events were warmly contested and all the classes showed up to good advantage.

At sharp 2 o'clock the officials started the first events.

The hundred yard dash—At the crack of the pistol Rattray got the start with Roy 2nd, Robinson 3rd. With a magnificent burst of speed Roy soon forged to the front, Robinson taking second place. Working strenuously they breasted the tape in this order. Roy's time was 10 4-5 seconds.

The high jump was won by Porter, and Andrews after a pretty exhibition of jumping, 5 feet 6 1-4 inches.

The broad jump was well contested, Andrews won by a pretty jump of 20 feet 8 inches; Porter second, 19 feet 11 3-4 inches.

The rest of the events were run off quickly. Fitch took the shot put at 35 feet 1 inch.

Robinson the 220 yard dash, after a pretty race.

Lyons proved a surprise, taking the hammer at 88 feet 6 inches.

In the 440 yards Roy started off strong, but Robinson, with his old characteristic sprint, forged to the front 20 yards from the mark and won out handily. Time 53 4-5 seconds.

Perhaps the best events of the day were the hurdles, the pole and the mile.

Porter, who took first at Halifax, won the hurdles in one of his best races. Time 18 seconds.

In the pole vault Higgins, who broke the intercollegiate record at Halifax, left all competitors behind, breaking all records and attaining 10 feet 8 1-4 inches.

The mile proved exciting, Allen going in for two laps to set the pace. The four competitors started out, Allen, Richmond, Correy and Brown. They kept this order until the third lap. Allen having dropped out, Richmond gradually gained on his opponents, finishing amid loud applause as he broke the inter-class record. Time 4 minutes 51 3-5 seconds. After the last event Dr. Cutten distributed the prizes with a few well chosen words to each.

Among recent guests in town for closing are, T. H. Estabrooks, E. M. Sipprel, St. John; W. W. Clarke, Bear River; H. E. Haley, St. Stephen; Roy L. Sipprel, St. John; L. C. McMillin, Amherst; F. M.
