A FEW SHORT YEARS.

A few short years, O what is life to me
That soon to make his bed in the sea
Our restless spirits count
Gone!—like the fleet
That wafted us along
Our life's short journey
When sickness, sorrow, pain, and death
A few short years, O how short!
Is all we hope happy!
For wealth, and all the pomp of power,
Are in a glittering
The jovial scene, Death's lettering takes,
To us will soon be sought—
In death's relentless sleep will all
Those honors be forgot.

A few short years, and O how short!
Yet still we let them run,
As if, when life were quite half spent
It had but just begun.
Childhood and youth are as a dream,
And manhood's back is open;
Another step is tottering age,
And, weak in tottering man!

O'er time's narrow stream, if we
With careless eye but spare,
Enough present, which upon stand
That lie at best in shoals.
The falling leaf, and fading flower,
Are emblems of frailty—
No sooner is their fairest
They fade and die away.

The faithful glow that decks the cheek
Will soon its crimson lose,
These pulse and pleasing spirits fill
Their earthly stirring close.
May thoughts like these so wear our hearts
From hankering here below,
That when the day of life's past
We better theme may know.

VARIETIES.

Turkish Ladies.—A Constantinople correspondent says, that the Turkish ladies are progressing rapidly, and as proof remarks their veils grow thinner and thinner every day. They are also growing more and more sociable, according to the same authority, especially with their eyes. On of them, on a recent occasion even went further than to bonquet a handsome young ensign of a regiment, who happened to be strolling about that fashionable resort of the Turkish ladies, the Sweet Water of Europe, at a time when it was crowded by hundreds of the fair sex.

The poor eunuchs, sent out to guard the damsels, are kept in a continual stew of uneasiness; they dare not strike, or even complain, if an English or French officer goes so far as to smile or kiss his hand at any fair one committed to their charge. The old Turks dislike all this exceedingly, and scowl at the foreigners as they pass; but the women are fond of attention paid them, and seem to have lost all terror of sacks and deep-sea bathing in the Bosphorus.

Conventional Phrases.—How many phrases are there in common use that seem to mean something, but mean nothing whatever? We call lawyers, for example, "gentlemen of the long robe;" yet, whoever saw a lawyer in anything of the kind? We say that Judge So-and-so wears "the judicial ermine" with dignity, when he does not wear any ermine at all. We have seen newspaper reports of a new ship "gliding gracefully into her native element," when the world knows, that a ship's native element is not the sea, but the shore. We are told the way the tragic actor wears the "sock," and the comic actor the "buskin," and who ever say either wear either on the stage? Gentlemen partial to good living, we hear said, are "fond of the bottle," when it is the contents of that vessel, and not the vessel itself, they love so dearly. "The jury-box" is no box at all, nor does any court we ever saw sit on a "bench."

"How fortunate I am in meeting a rainbow in the storm," said a young lady who was caught in a shower the other day to her beau of promise who happened along with an umbrella. "And I," said he gallantly, "am as much rejoiced as the poor Laplander, when he caught a rainbow."

At a public school examination, one of the visiting committee was asking the class the meaning of words. They answered very well, until he came to "backbiter." It went down the class until it came to a simple little urchin, who looked sheepishly knowing and said: "I don't know sir."

"Mother, can I go and have my daguerreotype taken?" "No, I guess it isn't worth while." "Well, then, you might let me have a tooth pulled; I never go anywhere."

Why is the author of the Pleasures of Imagination like the cholic? Because he's Ache-inside.

We admire women because of their beauty; respect them because of their intelligence; and love them because we can't help it.

"If you can't keep awake," said a preacher to one of his hearers, "when you feel drowsy, why don't you take a pinch of snuff?" The shrewd reply was: "The snuff should be put in the sermon."

Admiral Duncan's address to the officers who came on board his ship for instructions previous to the engagement with Admiral de Winter, was both laconic and humorous:

"Gentlemen, you see a severe Winter approaching; I have only to advise you to keep up a good fire."

Bad Eggs.—All the Russian shells, on bursting, are intended to disturb a yolk.

Mrs Partington to the Proprietors.

Gentlemen,—The education of your beautiful and fragrant soap to me, was a work of a season, is very pleasant. From my experience in roots and herbs, in forty years that I have made soap, I must say that I never made any half as good and I will recommend it to my young friends all over the world for their twilight tables.

Yours,
Ruth S Partington.

Boston, Jan., 1854. mth.

Also,

Extracts Perfumes for the Handkerchief—which, for delicacy of fragrance and lasting odor, are pronounced by Chemists and those who have tested them to be superior to the best imported article.

Purified Oil Marrow with Ess. of Rosemary—for preserving and dressing the Hair. This article is so popular as not to become rancid, and is free after being put on the hair from all disagreeable odor.

For preserving the Hair, restoring it where bald places appear, and causing it to retain beauty and lustre to old age.

Dr. Adam's Celestial Ambrosia—An article that has gained a reputation by the daily excellent qualities it possesses for the purposes intended.

Particular care is taken in PREPARATION FOR THE TEETH. Experience has proved that the most efficacious to remove the animalcules from the Teeth is a paste chemically prepared in soap, and to meet the wants of those who prefer cleanse teeth and firm Gums, is their Saponary Tooth Paste an article that has achived the highest encomiums from scientific Dentists and Physicians.

Also Cooking Extracts, for flavoring Pastrys, Jellys, etc, etc, which will be found pure in their compound, and such as will suit the taste of the most delicate. Also—Boston Cheerful Washing Powder—admired because it makes washing easy and pleasant.

Washing made easy and Pleasant by Chemical Washing Powder.

This Powder, prepared by a practical Chemist, is a superior article for Washing Clothes. The process of using it simple and easy, and cleanses without injury to the finest fabric. One package of this Powder will answer two packages of soft soap, superior in quality for all domestic uses.

Nothing exceeds this powder, after having been made into soft soap for removing grease spots from woolen clothes and carpets.

☞ Dilute one fifth each package of the Powder in water. If followed, will give, after a fair trial, general satisfaction.

W. H. WARREN, General Agent for P. E. Island.

Sold also by M. W. Skinner, and T. Dexter.

Notice to Travellers.

IT has become an established fact that accidents still happen notwithstanding the card and attention which may be paid to the safety and convenience of travellers. Explosions will take place, bridges will be left open, and care not of the track so dead.

It is well enough for the public and legislators to suitably compensate to "widows," and "to take care of the orphans" when such a case is need, but yet these casualties will occur, which result in severe contusions, broken limbs, burns, bruises, &c.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment,

Upon such occasions, is invaluable! The wonderful effects of its soothing and healing properties have induced many, who have tried it, to always carry a bottle of it with them when they are travelling.

Frequent tests have proven it to be efficacious in curing Rheumatism, Piles, Scrofulous diseases, Cancers, Ulcers, Old Sores, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, &c. Also Spavin, Ring-bone, Scratches, Cracked Heels, Chafes, Galls, &c., on Horses and other animals. It is external in its application, and we GUARANTEE it to cure PERMANENTLY in every case for which we recommend it.

Many Physicians use it because they can depend upon it—as can their patients.

Farmers and Livery-stable Keepers.

Say they WILL have it, and will not be satisfied without it, after giving it a fair trial. Therefore we say to travellers upon highways and by-ways use the Mustang Liniment! It has become so thoroughly introduced throughout the United States, British Possessions, and West Indies, that it is almost impossible to step of the cars at any station without scrutinizing the gay banner of the "Mustang."

The prices are as follows:—25 cents, 50 cents, and $1 per bottle; the 50 cent being three times as large as the 25 cent size, and the $1 size nearly three times as large as the 50 cent size, so that the larger bottles are cheapest.

Elkington & Co's. Patent Electroplate.

HAS now been before the public since 1841, and after the most severe test of wear, by the vessels of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, the Peninsular and Oriental Company, the General Steam Ship Company, the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, and numerous Club Houses, Hotels, and Private Houses, in every part of the world, continues to give the most unqualified satisfaction, supplying as it does all the advantages of silver in utility and beauty of effect; and it will be found that the interest of money upon the cost of silver Goods for a period of seven years, is alone sufficient to purchase Electro Plate, and this, with the now established fact of its extreme durability, makes it a matter of great importance to all purchasers of such articles. It must be evident that the wear of all articles depends on the thickness of the deposit, and the Patentees refer with great satisfaction to the award made by the Royal Commission of the Great Exhibition, 1851, or the First Class or Council Medal for these productions.

A large assortment of the above Goods has just arrived per Cicely, direct from the manufacturers, and is now ready for sale.
