'We say at night, 'Would God the day were here,'
And say at dawn, 'Would God the day were dead.'"

How well Swinburne has emphasized the feelings of thousands of Earth's fairest daughters, who are laid prostrate by disease's fell-hand. But, instead of the anguish of despair, what a song of joy ascends from the hearts of those ladies who have used Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," and by its means been restored to the glorious sunshine of health. It is a positive remedy for those derangements, irregularities and weakness so common to our best female population. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

On the four sides of a handsome tombstone, erected by a man in Niles, Mich., over the grave of his wife, are these inscriptions: "The more Saints the more Hypocrites." "The more Peace the more Plenty." "The more Priests the more Poverty." "The more Religion the more Lying."

Mr. G. W. Macully, Pavillion Mountain, B.C., writes: "Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is the best medicine I ever used for Rheumatism. Nearly every winter I am laid up with Rheumatism, and have tried nearly every kind of medicine without getting any benefit, until I used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It has worked wonders for me, and I want another supply for my friends, &c."

Lace is said to be driving out frilling in England, and the Honiton factories at Exeter are overrun with orders.

CATHOLICITY.

[Adolph Harnack, (non-Catholic,) in Contemporary Review.]

"The whole of Catholicity is nothing else than the Christianity which has devoured the possessions of the Græco-Roman world. What an insight do we thus get into Catholicity? Whatever in the old world was still capable of life, noble and good, Christianity appropriated . . . and placed under the protection of the Gospel. Out of this material she created for herself a body. Thus did she preserve and save whatever was worth saving from the culture and the ideas of the Old World. To the young German peoples the Church came not only as the society of the Preacher of Galilee, but also as the great impressive secular power which alone held sway over all the forces of civilization, literature and law . . . Whatever the German people have received of spiritual good, the inheritance of antiquity and the inheritance of Christianity they have received through the patriotic literature. It appears, at the first glance, barren and without spirit. But when we think that it possessed spirit enough to found the mediæval literature of all European peoples, we shall see that it must be due to our defective study and understanding if we find no spirit in it."

REDUCTION DEMANDED.

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—The farmers on the Ponsonby estate in Cork have refused a proffered reduction of 20 per cent. and demand a reduction of 40 per cent.

THE FOUR CARDINAL POINTS.

The four cardinal points of health are the stomach, the liver, the bowels and the blood. Any irregularity of their action brings disease and derangement to the whole system. Regulate their condition with Burdock Blood Bitters to secure perfect health.

AN M.P.P.'S SUDDEN DEATH.

REPORTED DEMISE OF MR. ALEXIS LOUIS DEMERS, M.P.P. ELECT FOR IBERVILLE.

ST. JOHNS, Que., Oct. 22.—A sensation was caused here to-day when it was rumored that Mr. A. L. Demers, M.P.P. for Iberville, who was one of the two Liberals returned by acclamation on the 7th instant, had died suddenly. Enquiry elicited confirmation of the rumor, the cause being stated to be liver complaint. Mr. Demers was born at St. Jean Chrysostom on the 23rd of July, 1825, and was first returned to the assembly in 1881 as a Liberal, continuing to represent Iberville since. He was a captain of militia, mayor, councillor and J.P.

THE POPE'S INSTRUCTIONS.

ROME, Oct. 21.—Cardinal Jacobini, Papal Secretary of State, following the Pope's instructions, has sent circulars to all Papal nuncios abroad directing their attention to the principal political and ecclesiastical questions of the day, and urging them to cultivate good relations with the different governments with a view towards improving the situation of the church throughout the world.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladona Backache Plasters. tts

VERY MYSTERIOUSLY.

Mr. Wayback—Yes, beats all what queer things happen nowadays. We've got the durndest mystery you ever see in our town now. Omaha man—Ah! Some crime, I suppose. "Well, yes, something like that. You see a tramp has confessed that he stole $10 from the contribution box of our church." "Yes, but where's the mystery? You know who took it." "Why, we can't imagine how it got there, you see."—Omaha World.

THE ROCK ON WHICH MANY a constitution goes to pieces is Dyspepsia. The loss of vigor which the disease involves, the maladies which accompany it, or which are aggravated by it, the mental despondency which it entails, are terribly exhaustive of vital stamina. Its true specific is Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspepsia Cure, which likewise overcomes bilious maladies, female ailments, and those coupled with impurity of the blood.

GREAT DEPRESSION.

DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—The branches of the Irish National League in the counties of Cork and Waterford have been making enquiries regarding the condition of the farmers in those districts. They report that the harvest has been bad, and that oats are selling at from three to five shillings per barrel, and that a heavy fall in stock has rendered the farmers unable to pay their rents on account of the bad harvest. Farmers demand a reduction of from 45 to 50 per cent. in rents, and where reduction is refused they will pay nothing. A number of landlords offer a reduction of 35 per cent.

Severe colds are easily cured by the use of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, a medicine of extraordinary penetrating and healing properties. It is acknowledged by those who have used it as being the best medicine sold for coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs, and all affections of the throat and chest. Its agreeableness to the taste make it a favorite with ladies and children.

A singular kind of family register is kept in some parts of Switzerland. Wherever those big round cheeses are made it is the custom for the friends and relatives of a newly married couple to join in presenting them with an extra specimen of their dairy product, which is not intended to be eaten, but serves as a family register, on which the family events, such as births, deaths and weddings, are marked by crosses cut perpendicularly into the cheese. This custom dates back as far as the seventeenth century, and a good many cheeses two centuries old are said to be extant.

If your children are troubled with worms, give them Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; safe, sure and effective. Try it, and mark the improvement in your child.

At the Aztec fair, which will soon be held in Boston, two interesting mummies will be exhibited. One will be that of a Jesuit priest who for some crime was strangled and buried in the foundation wall of a dungeon. The carbonaceous nature of the building and the rarefied atmosphere kept the body in an excellent state of preservation, although it is 300 years old. The other mummy is that of a nun who was imprisoned alive in a stone foundation wall 570 years ago for trying to run away with a Spanish cavalier. This mummy is also well preserved.

Joseph Rusan, Percy, writes: "I was induced to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lameness which troubled me for three or four years, and I found it the best article I ever used. It has been a great blessing to me."

APPEARANCES AGAINST HER.

Old Lady (suffering from hiccoughs, to drug clerk)—Young—man, I want to—get some liquor—

Clerk (hastily)—Can't do it, madam. You've had enough already.

Old Lady (frigidly)—Some liquorice.

TRUTH VINDICATED.

London Tablet, September 25.

It is not an uncommon accusation against the Popes that they were long adverse to the study of anatomy, and especially that Boniface VIII. and Sixtus IV. excommunicated those who practiced the dissection of dead bodies. The Germania has recently been occupied in refuting, and that most successfully, these calumnies. One of the most interesting facts brought out is the fact that the distinguished Vienna Professor, Hyrtl, who in a work published in 1869 repeated all the old accusations on this head against the Holy See, in his latest (eighteenth) edition of 1885, has completely altered his views, and actually appears as the defender of the Popes. He explains very clearly that the fulminations of Rome were directed, not against the study of anatomy and medical dissection, but against the very common practice of denuding the bodies of distinguished persons of the flesh, in order that the bodies might be carried to their native land for burial (evisceratio et in aqua decoctio cadaverum, ut a carnibus nudata, in patrias terras ad sepulturam deveherentur.) This was done to the bodies of several nobles and even bishops of Barbarossa's army in Italy, and of that Emperor himself, in Syria; to those of St. Louis of France, who died before Tunis; of Philip the Bold, and others. On the contrary, says Hyrtl, the Popes expressly allowed dissection in the various universities, as may be seen in the statuta of their medical faculties. Michel Angelo received from the Prior of Santo Spirito, in Florence, a special hall for a dissecting room. Realdus Columbus (de re Anatomica, lib. xv.), states that the bodies of Bishops and Cardinals, and of one of the Generals of the Jesuits, were subject to post mortem dissections to ascertain the cause of death. Up to the middle of the sixteenth century there were actually several ecclesiastics who were distinguished anatomists. The very first Latin work on anatomy was written in the Monastery of Cassino, by the Benedictine Monk Constantine, who died 1087, and the second and third books of his treatise, De communibus medico cognitu necessariis locis, first printed at Basel in 1536.

A MODERN MIRACLE.

In a recent letter from R. W. Dowson, of Deloraine, Ont., he states that he has recovered from the worst form of dyspepsia, after suffering for fifteen years; and when a council of doctors pronounced him incurable he tried Burdock Blood Bitters, six bottles of which restored his health.

"MRS. GAMP" ANGRY.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Standard says: "Mr. Gladstone's latest contribution is not calculated to strengthen his position. Nobody denies that the Irish parliament of 1800 was bribed, but that is no reason for abandoning Ireland now to the tyranny of the League and American conspirators." Referring to the coming struggle on the rent question between the League and Lord Clanricarde, the Standard says:—"There would be little occasion for regret if the League resolves to precipitate a conflict that would be certain to end in its own defeat."

Mr. T. C. Wells, Chemist and Druggist, Port Colborne, Ont., writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspepsia Cure sells well, and gives the best of satisfaction for all diseases of the blood." It never fails to root out all diseases from the system, cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, etc, purifies the blood, and will make you look the picture of health and happiness.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—These world-renowned remedies are confidently recommended to miners, navvies, and all who have to work underground, or where noxious atmospheres exist. The minute particles of coal or metal which penetrate the air in such places tend to block up the lungs and air tubes, giving rise to bronchitis, asthma, and palpitation of the heart. In Holloway's remedies will be found a safe and easily-used medicament, for the penetrating properties of the Ointment relieve the local congestions, and the mildly laxative effects of the Pills cause the liver to act freely and the liver to become unembarrassed. By early resort to these remedies many a serious illness may be averted and soundness of health maintained.

FRANCE AND RUSSIA.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The diplomatic estrangement between France and Russia has ended. General Davoust, Duke of Anerstadt, takes the place vacated by General Appert at St Petersburg, and Baron Mohrenheim returns to Paris.

A COMPLETE BREAKDOWN.

"For ten years," says Jennie M. Herrett, of Wallaceburg, Ont., "I did not see a well day—was all broken down with dyspepsia, liver complaint, catarrh and debility. Three doctors abandoned hope for me, when Burdock Blood Bitters came to my rescue. It is the best medicine I have ever taken. I say this for the benefit of all suffering as I did.

"Puget Sound," writes Miss Kate Field picturesquely, "lies like a hand with its fingers stretching in and out of the shores that come plumply down to meet it on every side. It is a very well-kept hand, neat around its edges. I never saw salt water and land agree so well before."
