COL. GUTHRIE IS RECOVERING WELL

His Wound Is In The Ankle, Says Cable

A PATRIOTIC NURSE

Margaret Phair Gives up Position in Morgan Family, New York, and Goes to War — Carleton County Soldiers Killed

A London cable says that Lieut.-Col. Guthrie was wounded in the ankle and is reported rapidly recovering.

Lieut. Aivah G. Good, son of Capt. and Mrs. F. A. Good, of Fredericton, is to go to the front with a draft of reinforcements from the Composite Regiment now stationed at Halifax. He is nineteen years old.

Away to Nurse at Her Own Expense

Miss Margaret Phair, daughter of Mrs. William Phair, Springhill, N. B., sailed from New York last week to join the Red Cross nursing sisters. She is going to Europe independently, paying her own expenses, and is leaving a lucrative position in New York, where she has been engaged as a nurse of a sister of J. Pierpont Morgan.

Private Alfred Brewer, son of A. B. Brewer, Burtt's Corner, writing to his father on May 25, tells of participating in the Festubert Orchard fight, with the 15th Battalion. He also tells of the great charge made by the 15th and 18th, in which three lines of German trenches were taken as well as 100 machine guns. Private Brewer enlisted when the first draft of the 71st Regiment left for Valcartier last summer, and was with the 12th Battalion in England, before being drafted to the 15th. He tells of meeting Guy R. Turner and William Neales, the latter a son of Very Rev. Dean Neales, both of whom are with the Canadian Engineers. Private Brewer is the third New Brunswick boy with the 15th Battalion. The other two are Sergt. Fred Wade, of Penniac, and Lance Corporal Jack McNairn, of Buctouche, both former members of the 12th.

Mrs. Alice Sears of Centreville has learned her two sons, Leonard and Stanley, have passed through the fighting thus far in safety. They are with the Ammunition Column at the front.

Following the recent recruiting meeting at Redbank, Lieutenants Smith and Murray visited Redbank and vicinity, and the lumbermen on Sevogle and the Little Southwest and secured seven recruits. Two more signed in Newcastle, making up to Monday night of last week twenty-four for the 55th from Northumberland West.

Carleton County Soldiers Killed

Private Frank Reddall, who was killed in action as reported in the casualty list on Friday, left Woodstock with members of the 67th Regiment, First Contingent. He was an English lad, adopted by a farmer there. A sister is living with Mr. Clowes, of Northampton. The other young men who had resided at Woodstock at different times, and are reported killed, are Wendell Holmes, John D. Arundell, H. McD. Cameron and Ivors Murray.

Four Sons At It

The Fredericton Gleaner prints a picture of Capt. George P. Ryder of St. Stephen and his four sons, all in uniform. Capt. Ryder was rejected because of his eyesight and the age limit, but his boys are all in active service. Lieut. Stewart Ryder left Canada with the 12th Battalion and has been stationed in England preparatory to going to the front. Sergeants Frank and Jack Ryder are with the 10th Battalion, having been transferred to that unit when Lieut.-Col. Guthrie became commanding officer, while "Jim", the baby of the quartette, celebrated his eighteenth birthday a few days ago by obtaining leave of absence from the Bank of Nova Scotia in St. Stephen and enlisting with the 55th Battalion.

Nova Scotia Biplane.

Lieut. Gov. McGregor of Nova Scotia has issued an appeal for $12,000 to purchase a biplane for the Royal Flying Corps and to be named "Nova Scotia."

THE SPOILERS NEXT WEEK

W. N. Selig will present his stupendous visualization of Rex Beach's famous novel "The Spoilers" in Imperial Theatre next week. This picture, in three acts and nine reels, tells most vividly the struggle of men and women who lead the onward search of civilization in a rugged bleak and frozen north. The story exemplifies real red-blooded Canadians, and is filled with action and incidents from start to finish that will live in the memory of those who witness it forever. It has been produced at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars, the company having chartered hundreds of special vessels to make the voyage from San Francisco to Nome, where most of the scenes were taken. William Farnum and Kathlyn Williams, who play the leading roles in "The Spoilers" need no introduction to lovers of the silent drama. Miss Williams has been for the past three years identified with all the great Selig wild animal productions, notably "Adventures of Kathlyn", and her courage has been envied in every country in the world. "The Spoilers" has created a furore in America, and at last the people of Canada are to have an opportunity to pass judgment on this world renowned production. In San Francisco thousands were unable to gain admission to see the picture.

GRIM TALE OF A BATTLEFIELD DUEL

Zouave and German Kill Each Other in Bayonet Fight

Boulogue, France, June 14—The story of a duel with bayonets in which both contestants were killed, is told in a Red Cross report.

"Two miles south of the hospital," says the writer, "a French Zouave became separated from his fellows when they retreated after an unsuccessful effort to take a German trench. A German soldier leaped out of the trench and charged the Zouave, bayonet fixed.

"The Zouave met his foe in like manner, and an extraordinary duel took place. It was about nine at night, and the moon illuminated the grim contest. The contest lasted for nearly five minutes, when suddenly both gave desperate lunges which went home. For a second the opponents each stood transfixed by the others bayonet. Then they fell dead."

Miss Mary Owens of Brindley street asserts that she saw the two missing girls pass her home last evening about seven o'clock, going toward Waterloo street. She is positive as to the Hodgens girl, who is a member of her Sunday school class.

George Rogers of Barrie, attached to the 40th battalion. Rogers has been invalided home. Though appearing well physically, he is all shot up and crippled. Nevertheless he is anxious to get back to the firing line. He came today to tender his services to the department in any capacity desired.

During the last three months forty-five vessels sailed from Halifax with lumber for the United Kingdom and the Bellglade was the only one lost.

ATTRACTIVE HOMES FOR THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS

The Eastmount Building Company is Providing Attractive, Comfortable and Modern Eight-room Houses, and Selling at Prices and Terms Within Reach of All

During the last two years, home building has become more popular than ever before, and it is indeed a pleasing sight to see in all parts of the city, and more particularly in the suburbs, new houses continually springing up, representing various styles of architecture, but all modern and attractive.

Of the several companies engaged in this work, none probably have succeeded in meeting the requirements more successfully than the Eastmount Home Building Company which is confining its attention entirely to a most attractive site on Rothesay Avenue, about twelve minutes' ride on the cars from the court house, which is usually referred to as the very centre of the city. From Eastmount, which is about two-thirds situated on a side hill, an excellent view of the city is obtainable and if one spent an hour yesterday on the verandah of any one of the dozen well satisfied owners of the houses already built, one would find as much of life and interest on Rothesay Avenue as at the same hour on Douglas Avenue, which for years has been one of the main residential streets.

The Eastmount Home Building Company is a recent organization, those interested having associated themselves for the purpose of building desirable houses, in a desirable locality, at desirable prices—and on desirable terms, a combination, the lack of which, it is said, has for years retarded building operations in St. John. F. G. Spencer as president, F. S. Thomas, treasurer and Amdur & Co., managers, are responsible for the Eastmount Home Building Co., and that they have something the people want, and at the price they can afford to pay, is readily indicated by the fact that the houses are invariably sold upon completion, or before. And this is not surprising to those who have inspected these up-to-the-minute eight roomed houses, with bath room, electric lights, and every convenience that one could get in an expensive building, all of which are procurable for $300 cash, on payment of which one is in possession of their own home, built on their own land, no lease owner or landlord to be dealt with henceforth.

The balance of the payments are arranged so that those in the most moderate circumstances can afford to pay in lieu of rent. During recent years numbers of communications have been addressed to our local papers, asking why attractive, comfortable, and well located houses could be built at prices that the average earner could afford to pay in other towns and cities, but apparently not in St. John. If this was a problem, the Eastmount Home Building Co. has solved it, and such letters will probably never again be written. For every family that is without a home of their very own, the Eastmount Home Building Co. has a message of interest, and if all such will call immediately at the office of Amdur & Co., 2 Sydney street, they shall be placed in possession of facts which will surely lead to a severance with the landlord and the attendant uncertainties of the future.

SON OF JUDGE EMMERSON MARRIES MISS MOSHER

A very quiet wedding was solemnized in the Methodist church, Windsor, N. S., on Saturday morning at eight o'clock, when Joan Thompson, daughter of Thomas A. Mosher of "Solhaugh," Newport Station, was united in marriage to Robert H. Emmerson, son of the late Judge Emmerson of Moncton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. W. Forbes. Both bride and groom were unattended. The bride looked charming in a blue silk suit with white hat. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Emmerson left by the D. A. R. express for Montreal, Toronto and other points. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Emmerson, mother of the groom, and Mr. McLaren of the I. C. R. staff, Moncton. The wedding march was played by Miss Beth Shand of Windsor. On their return they will reside at Point Du Chene for the summer.

SIR GEORGE E. FOSTER'S VISIT

Sir George E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce, and Rev. G. Colborne Heine of Montreal, arrived in the city today on their way to their native county of Kings for a holiday. They are accompanied by Lady Foster and Mrs. Heine.

Next week the gentlemen will be joined by Rev. Dr. Kierstead of McMaster University and G. W. Gaunce, ex-M. P., and together they will tour the county renewing old friendships. All are natives of Kings, having been born in Millstream, Norton, Colina and Springfield, respectively. They will hold meetings or reunions at these places and also in Sussex. Sir George would not say that it was a recruiting campaign but said that, no doubt, mention of the war would be made at the meetings.

Speaking of the work of his department the minister said that the war had lead to increased rather than decreased activity. The volume of business both domestic and foreign which must be looked after was very great. In addition there were also many special problems arising from the war which must be faced. Trade connections had been dislocated in some directions and these must be replaced and preparations must be made for the great increase in trade expected at the close of the war.

In the police court this morning Louis Jones was fined $100 or three months in jail for selling liquor without a license on Sunday, May 30. Magistrate Ritchie spoke in strong language against pocket peddling.

More evidence was taken in a case against Mrs. Annie Carlin, who, it is alleged, endeavored to obtain $26 from the Canadian Patriotic Fund recently with intent to defraud. She was then remanded.

ANOTHER OF THOSE DEADLY GAMES

Suffering remorse after their recent defeat at the hands of a professional baseball aggregation masquerading under the guise of actors, the newspapermen are anxiously looking forward to Thursday for a chance to "come-back." They used to know how to play ball, but that was in the long ago. Now they are seeking to revive their lost proficiency and to wield the bat as well as they can wield the pencil. So, on with the fray!

This time they will compete with a team of visiting Thespians from "The Chocolate Soldier," who have sent to Oromocto for an imported battery. In the meantime they intend to study the game, and any donations of rule books, baseball dictionaries, almanacs or Ring Lardner's bush-league stories will be gratefully received by Frank Boyle, who used to live near a baseball park, and for that reason has been elected manager of the Chocolate Soldiers.

Members of the chorus will be on hand to cheer their confreres on to victory, and incidentally to pass the hat in aid of a fund for patriotic purposes.

THE LADY MINSTRELS

St. John, N. B., June 14.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir:

May the Loyalist Chapter, I. O. D. E., publicly express through your paper their appreciation of the services of J. S. Ford, and E. M. Olive in their recent minstrel performance.

It was Mr. Ford's offer to become musical director, though he realized the work such an undertaking always means. It meant much work, and a sacrifice of much time for many weeks—surely this was a patriotic donation and a generous one.

Only those who have taken part in minstrel performances will realize how much is due to Mr. Olive for accepting the responsibilities of stage manager, as well as chief end man. It is expected that the proceeds of the minstrel show will amount to $970. The Loyalist Chapter are deeply grateful to Messrs. Ford and Olive, and feel that their share in this patriotic donation has indeed, been a large one.

Thanking you for your kind space, I remain, sincerely yours.

(Signed) EDITH M. SCHOFIELD.

PRESENTATION AND FAREWELL

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien of Johnville, was the scene of a pleasant gathering recently, when friends assembled to bid farewell to one who had been popular with them, Miss Alice McGinley, who has entered St. Vincent's Convent here as a novitiate. In behalf of the gathering, Rev. R. J. Coughlan presented to her a handsome silver watch, and in behalf of the Altar Society, a valuable fountain pen, as tokens of esteem. Miss McGinley was the recipient of heartiest wishes from those assembled. She has been an active member of the church of St. John the Evangelist, an efficient Sunday school teacher, prominent in the Altar Society, and president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, of the A. O. H. She also took a popular part in amateur theatricals where her rich native Irish tongue added to the pleasure of her audiences.

About forty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Robertson tendered them a novelty shower on their arrival home after their wedding trip on last Friday and presented to them many pretty and useful gifts. The evening was very enjoyably spent with games and music. Prizes for a guessing contest were won by Mrs. B. McAulay and James Brown. Among the gifts received was a double set of carvers from the Maritime Nail Works, where the groom is employed.
