MIDDLESEX W. C. T. U. CONVENTION ENDS WITH ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Middlesex W. C. T. U. convention closed this afternoon with the election of officers for the coming year. The election resulted as follows: President, Mrs. John Jones; vice-president, Mrs. Hooper; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Sargent; recording secretary, Mrs. F. Aldred, Glencoe, and treasurer, Mrs. S. Fennell, Newbury.

A resolution was passed in appreciation of the action of the conservation committee in limiting the use of motor cars on Sunday. It was further suggested that doctors' cars and other cars, the running of which might be essential on this day, should have some distinguishing sign, such as a green cross, suggested a short time ago in Toronto.

QUERIES REGARDING MILITARY SERVICE

Address Your Problems to the Military Editor of The Advertiser and They Will Be Answered From Official Information.

O. H. F. Q.—How could I find out my brother's military number, and regiment in the United States army? He was on the Mexican border two years ago.

A.—Write to Secretary of War, Washington, D. C., U. S. A., giving his full name and age. If you can also state what regiment he served with on the Mexican border it will facilitate locating him.

SUBSCRIBER. Q.—1. Having been re-examined lately and placed in category E, can I now obtain my discharge papers?

2. If not should I receive papers showing that I am now in category E?

A.—1. No. You should be exempted until men of category E are called.

2. You should receive exemption papers stating that you are in category E. Write to the Deputy Registrar, Royal Bank Building, London, Ont., applying for exemption as a category E man, and you will no doubt receive the proper documents in return.

W. A. R. Q.—1. From whom can a form for exemption claim be obtained and when should requests for such consideration be sent in?

2. I was placed in category E last January, but recently on re-examination was placed in category A. For the last four months I have been employed in a large Detroit ordnance plant, manufacturing munitions? I am almost thirty years of age and wish to claim exemption. How should I proceed?

3. Will men who were raised from category E to A be ordered to report before those who were placed in categories B, C and D last January?

4. Is it the intention of the authorities to examine all men in B, C, D and E categories?

A.—1. You should have sent in an appeal when ordered to register. No form is necessary now?

2. Obtain a declaration from your employers stating that you are required for Government work. Send it with full facts of the case, at the same time applying for exemption to the deputy registrar, who ordered you for re-examination.

3. Yes; it is most likely, as they are now in a higher category than the B, C and D men.

4. Yes, provided that the need for men continues and that their disabilities are not of a permanent nature.

ARTILLERY. Q.—1. Are they recruiting for the Canadian artillery at present?

2. Do they take A2 men?

A.—1. No; it is not likely that recruiting for this branch of the service will open for some time.

2. Yes, when recruiting is open.

SUBSCRIBER. Q.—I am 24 years of age, and am placed in category C, and have been exempted until this category is called. Are C men likely to be called, and if so when?

2. Are men in category C being re-examined?

3. Is it necessary to notify the deputy registrar of any change in address, provided that one still resides in Ontario, and if you expect to return to the former address in the near future?

A.—1. Yes; they are likely to be ordered to report for service, although there is no official information available as to when the order will be carried out.

2. No; not at present.

3. Regulations state that men under the military service act expecting orders to report for service or at present exempted from service must notify the deputy registrar, of ANY change of address under penalty of forfeiting exemption, and it would be avoiding trouble to notify him both when leaving home, and after you return to your old address.

FRIEND. Q.—I know of a kind old lady who has a son in the army. He has served for three years, and she is a widow 60 years of age. She had her arm broken, and is trying to work for a living. She adopted the boy and he enlisted under his adopted name. She is now living in the United States. Would she have to come to Canada to receive any money from the Canadian Government?

2. Is she entitled to any money from the Canadian Government?

3. If so, would she receive any back money from the time he enlisted?

4. Where would she apply for this money?

A.—1. No. Her case would be decided upon by the authorities, and if she were found entitled to the money it would be sent to her in the United States.

2. If her son was her sole support prior to enlistment, she is entitled to $25 per month separation allowance, provided that he assigns to her at least $15 per month of his pay.

3. If she is found to be entitled to this allowance she will receive it, dating back to the day of her son's enlistment.

4. She should write to the Paymaster General, S. A. and A. P. Branch, Ottawa, and a form will be sent to her to fill in as an affidavit, with particulars regarding her financial condition and the enlistment of her son.

READER. Q.—Have you any information as to when the 19-year-old draft will be called?

2. Would a youth 19 years of age, beginning a faculty course on October 1 have any chance to finish the course, which ends in June, 1919?

3. Can one be examined in London without enlisting if he is fit?

A.—1. No. Several months ago the Government announced that this class would not be called out before September of this year. Further than this, no official information is available at present.

2. This case would have to come before a tribunal when the 19-year class is called, and the nature of the course would aid in influencing the decision of the tribunal. The tribunal may take the view that the youth in question, realizing that he would be in danger of being called up began the course in order to claim exemption, and then again, the category of the appellant would affect the circumstances. Faculty students have already been refused exemption under the military service act in several cases throughout Canada.

3. No. That is not by the military authorities.

HESPELER. Q.—Would you please give me full information regarding the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps for service with the American forces?

A.—No details of this corps are available here. Write to the Secretary of War, Washington, D. C., U. S. A., for full information.

COURTRIGHT. Q.—Have you any information as to when they will hear appeal claims of men who appealed against the decisions of tribunals?

A.—Appeals are being heard constantly by the central appeal judge, and the decision will be announced to the appellants almost immediately after being dealt with by him. It may be some time before your case is heard.

It sprang from $13.00 and a set of drawing instruments. Today it is an organization serving millions of women

TWENTY-EIGHT years ago, with $13.00 and a set of drawing instruments for capital, a young man started to build a great business.
In New York, the great whirling city, where millions struggle in vain to outstrip others, and hundreds win their way to success, he dared to enter a field already overcrowded.
Today, the magazine he started is the foremost in its field; the pattern service which grew out of it has outdistanced every one of its competitors.

A NEW MAGAZINE for women! Why, already there were a dozen such, and the leading ones had twenty years and more of success behind them!
A new pattern for women! The pioneers in pattern making had already been forty years in the field!
Yet steadily, swiftly, the young publisher's unerring sense for the coming woman's interests, the designer's genius for line, and instinct for the American woman's taste in dress, made their impression.
Before long, women asked: "Where can we get patterns of these styles?"
And so the Pictorial Review Pattern service was born.
In twenty years the new patterns had sprung far ahead of every other!
"They are so practical," women insisted. These styles, which everyone recognized were newer and better, had so few pieces to put together that the veriest amateur could fashion for herself a dress of distinction from them.
And when Pictorial Review developed the plan of also furnishing cutting and construction guides with instructions of a simplicity hitherto unknown, the popularity of the patterns bounded ahead!
Today, Pictorial Review's peculiar appreciation of the taste of American women has placed their patterns in every city, town and village.
Seven thousand stores offer Pictorial Review Patterns to women!
1,500,000 copies of Pictorial Review are bought by women every month!
2,000,000 Fashion Quarterlies each year!
42,000,000 Monthly Fashion Books are distributed yearly through Pictorial Review Pattern agents.
Today more Pictorial Review patterns are bought by American women than any other pattern on the market.
