RECENT DEATHS

The death of Miss Elisa Jane Armstrong took place yesterday morning at her residence, 172 King street east, after an illness of six months. She was a daughter of the late Robert and Margaret Armstrong, and leaves three sisters, Mrs. William Fleming and Misses Sarah C. Armstrong and Helen L. Armstrong, and one brother, William Armstrong, at home.

Robert Clark, aged seventeen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Clark, Whitehead, Kings county, died on the steamer Maggie Miller, on Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock, while en route to the Hospital here for treatment. He was engaged in runing a circular saw when a stave which he was cutting "kicked back" and struck him in the abdomen.

The death of Mrs. John Ritchie, sister-in-law of Sir Robert Borden, premier of Canada, occurred in Wollaston, Quincy, on June 20. Mrs. Ritchie formerly lived in Halifax.

The death of Miss Frances Meek of Richibucto, occurred on June 19. She was twenty-one years old. She was the daughter of Rev. H. A. and Mrs. Meek.

Narcisse D. LeBlanc of Shediac died yesterday morning. He was a commercial traveller and was known throughout the province.

RATIONS FOR BRITISH BOYS WHO WORK ON THE LAND.

London, June 21—The war office has arranged to issue rations to more than 10,000 boys from the public and secondary schools who have volunteered to work on the land during the summer holidays. The boys, in all probability, will be formed into camps, and will draw their rations like soldiers from the nearest army service corps depots.

Thousands of boys are cultivating land near their schools under the supervision of masters.

A brigantine, Le Voluntaire, was launched in Shelburne yesterday. The vessel is 225 tons and will be used in the fishing industry.

AWFUL ATTACKS OF HEART TROUBLE
EASED BY SECOND DOSE OF
Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

One of the first danger signals announcing something wrong with the heart is the irregular beat or violent throb. Often there is only a fluttering sensation, or an "all-gone" sinking feeling, or, again you may experience a smothering sensation, gasp for breath and feel as though about to die.

In such cases the action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in quieting the heart, restoring its normal beat and its parting tone to the nerve centres, is, beyond question, marvellous.

Mrs. Frank Arseneau, Newcastle, N.B., writes: "I had awful attacks of heart trouble for the past five or six years, and as I had tried many kinds of medicine without getting any better, I decided to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial, and to my surprise I found ease from the second dose. I continued taking them until I had used six boxes, and now I feel as well as can be.

"At present my sister is taking them for nervousness, and finds great comfort by their use."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SUNDAY CLOSING

The undersigned druggists have decided not to open their stores on Sunday during the summer, from June 28 to September 15, inclusive.

This action has become necessary because of the large number of experienced drug clerks that have been withdrawn from our stores by the operation of the Military Service Act.

Our customers and the public are earnestly requested to make their necessary purchases during the week.

SEVEN DAYS' LEAVE WINS APPROBATION

War Melodrama at Imperial Enthuses Great Audience and is Thoroughly Enjoyed

The German spy theme offers endless opportunities for the play writer and if the action in "Seven Days Leave," which opened at the Imperial Theatre last evening, give the production a right to a place in the class of melo-drama it is no more sensational than many of the actual happenings which have marked the progress of the war. The plot does not prove the most enthralling feature of the play, the interest of the audience centreing in the incidents of the plot, rather than in its development. In this respect, however, there is little room for criticism and the action of the piece holds the close attention of the audience until the final drop of the curtain.

A quiet little English village—one of the last places where one might expect to find material for so thrilling a drama—is the scene of action. Here the backeddies of the war bring together a pair of unscrupulous German spies. An officer on leave on whom they have designs and the representatives of the British secret service, while off shore lies a submerged submarine which is to carry the spies and their victim back to Germany, and incidentally attack a convoy of British transports. The conspirators are foiled, the submarine destroyed and two of the officers find time to win the girls of their choice, all within the short period of the seven days leave.

It is an oddly assorted group of characters who are brought together, war's levelling influence being illustrated by the relations between the son of the Vicar's cook, who has won his commission, and Lord Arthur Pendenis, a private in his platoon, who both are guests at the same houses and who are in love with the same girl.

While there is no star role, there are several important parts which are well played and the minor roles are adequately filled. Perhaps the most striking figure is that portrayed by Rosalind Ivan as the German woman parading as a Belgian refugee to carry out her work as a spy, to which she is inspired by her love for the German crown prince. Her work throughout the play is clever and convincing and she was at her best in the scene where she was unmasked. Miss Ivan was ably abetted by Alfred Brixton, her suposed brother, a German officer who poses as a Belgian hero.

W. L. Meehan is one of the central figures of the drama, in the role of the British officer who possesses the secrets of new heavy guns which the enemy wants and who manfully plays his part in the plot to defeat the spies, at the risk of losing the love of Lady Mary Heather (Lillian Lee Anderson.)

John Wintrop is delightfully natural as the cook's son who has been elevated to the commissioned rank and who has difficulties with his table manners and the letter "h." With him is the duke's son, portrayed by Jack Nortin, who preferred to serve in the ranks and whose humorous role was one of the best bits. Their scenes with the vicar's daughter (Leon Courtney) a charming ingenue, were very good.

Maud Williams came in for a generous share of the applause for her presentation of the character of the cook, who finds the social system upset by the elevation of her son to the rank of an officer and whose love for her convict brother blossoms suddenly when he dies and leaves her a fortune. As the secret service officer, Frank Holland, plays an important part in an effective manner. His declamation of "Carry on" was one of the best bits in the play. H. M. Harriman makes a rather likeable old vicar.

One of the best features of the play is the way in which it is staged. The effects are carefully worked out and tableaux in the third act are extremely realistic the scene from the deck of the British cruiser being unusually good.

The Imperial orchestra added considerably to the enjoyment of the production. The big theatre was entirely filled and it was a well satisfied audience which filed out at the close of the performance. The play will be repeated tonight.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the opposition, is in the hands of his physicians and will be unable to visit Toronto. He is suffering from neuralgia.

Sir George Foster is to take a rest in the maritime provinces. In his absence Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, will be acting prime minister.

Postal inspectors in the United States arrested a number of traveling agents of the Western Union Telegraph Company on trains between Boston, Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore and Washington yesterday and seized suit cases filled with messages for transmission by telegraph. The practise is in violation of postal laws.

Chief of Police William Gunn has been appointed inspector for the town of Shediac under the prohibition act.

Rev. Walter Cox of Gananoque was chosen grand master, and Guy O. Lake of Hamilton grand marshall of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., at a meeting in Hamilton yesterday.

American workingmen, through the American Federation of Labor yesterday reaffirmed their position of refusing to meet representatives of workers of the central powers until Germany's military machine has been crushed.

German airplanes attacked a British naval squadron north of Heligoland Bight on June 19. The German machines made no hits and one seaplane was destroyed.

The transport Santa Anna, from Bizerta for Malta, was torpedoed and sunk on the night of May 10-11. There were on board 2,150 soldiers and native workmen, of whom 1,512 were saved.

Owing to the apparent laxness of the British government in dealing with Germans in Great Britain, a feeling has arisen that some secret influence has been at work. This feeling has become so marked that the premier has announced his intention of giving the matter his personal attention.

CORRECT DRESS FOR MEN

20th Century Brand fashionable clothes are recognized the country over by men who know as the acme of perfection in ready - for - service clothes. The most cursory inspection will convince you that the styles are absolutely correct, that the tailoring is of the highest order, and that the fabrics are of undoubted quality. And to try on the garments of your size will satisfy you that few tailors can fit you any better, if as well.

NINE BOILS

Kept Coming on Neck One After The Other

Anyone who has ever suffered from boils knows how sick and miserable they make you feel.

When you think you are about cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your wretchedness. All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not cure them and stop more coming.

Boils are simply bad blood bursting out, and the bad blood must be made pure before the boils disappear.

Burdock Blood Bitters is the greatest blood purifier known. It cleanses the system and removes every particle of foul material from the blood, then never another boil comes and the cure is permanent.

Mr. Geo. Ayers, 302 Gloucester street, Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I wish to tell you what I know about your wonderful Burdock Blood Bitters. In the spring I suppose my system needed cleaning out, for I had nine boils come on my neck one after the other. I quickly got a bottle of B.B.B., and before it was half finished I felt a great change, and it certainly put an end to my boils, otherwise I might have had a lot more. I recommend B.B.B. to all I can, for I know it to be a great remedy."
