RAPS DUPLICITY OF MEIGHEN ON TARIFF ISSUES

Mrs. Grant Needham Tells London's Women Why Living Costs Are High.

FLAYS TORY BAD FAITH

Urges Voters To Champion Candidacy of C. R. Somerville.

"The way to know whether a country is prospering or not is to consider the customs returns. The first five months of last year in Canada they were $84,000,000. The first five months of this fiscal year they have been $43,000,000. By the end of the seven months which will complete the year, we will be $100,000,000 behind unless there is a change.

"Why hasn't the National Liberal Conservative Government attended to this?

"Why has the tariff not been revised to correct this?

"If Mr. Meighen is clamoring for a revision of the tariff, declaring that is the only thing to save the country from ruin, why didn't he revise it instead of bringing on an election?

"He wasn't obliged to have an election if the country imperatively needed something else to be done.

"In the country today we have instability, stagnation, inefficiency, lack of confidence, unemployment. Why hasn't Mr. Meighen revised the tariff and cured these ills? Early in his campaign he stated there was only one way in which he would revise the tariff and that was upwards.

"Why hasn't the National Liberal and Conservative Government done this and brought back the country to satisfactory conditions? Because the Meighen Government couldn't do it before an election, and it can't do it after. The Meighen Government is dead, dying. It is more than that. It is moribund. Not even a subsidized press can do anything but admit depression."

Address Was Eloquent.

It was with the foregoing words that Mrs. Grant Needham of Toronto brought to a close an eloquent and informing address on the issues of the present election campaign, with special emphasis on the relation of mal-administration to the high cost of living, delivered at the first meeting of the Women's Liberal Association of London in the interests of C. R. Somerville's candidature on Tuesday evening in the Masonic Hall.

A large audience of both men and women electors accorded the chief speaker of the evening an enthusiastic reception as she scored, point after point, by the presentation of facts and figures on behalf of Liberalism and against Conservative administrations from Confederation down to the present time.

Mrs. Jared Vining, president of the Women's Liberal Association, presided, introducing also as speakers Mr. R. J. Fisher and Miss Isabel C. Armstrong.

Mrs. Luta Laymon-Durst sang a particularly happy number for a campaign meeting, "Fight on, trust on, and we'll get there in the morning."

Early in her address Mrs. Needham expressed clearly her views on the relative merits of constructive work and destructive criticism in election campaigning.

"I feel," she said, "that it is criticism more dignified to make points for our own side than to pull down the other side, but in this case the sins and inquities of the other side are so great that it is impossible to escape the role of critic.

Has Four Reasons.

"There are four reasons why I am opposed to the Government which is going to the country. (1) It has not kept its pledges. (2) It has been autocratic. (3) It has been inconsistent. (4) It has been extravagant.

"When Sir Robert Borden's Government got into a tight corner it asked the Liberals to go in and help it to carry on through the war, promising to go to the country at the close of the war. The ink was scarcely dry on Armistice Day before the Conservatives in the Government began plotting how they could hold on."

With regard to the second charge that the Meighen Government has been autocratic, she cited as evidence the "political compact" which changed the name and leader of the party, springing a surprise on the country.

To those of Conservative birth and training in the audience the speaker had this to say: "This is not the historic government of Sir John A. Macdonald's time. The old Conservative Government did not rule by orders-in-council, by putting on closures, by a compact of twenty-two."

Cites Inconsistency.

As a notorious case of inconsistency, she drew attention to the engaging of American efficiency experts, the Griffenhagens, to investigate the Canadian civil service. "To say the least," she stated amid applause, "it would seem unwise to ask men from another country to come here and throw open to them all our secrets. How long do you suppose it will be before Washington will engage experts from Canada to go over the federal books and see exactly what the civil servants of the United States are getting and other inside information?

"The experts took their time at the job at $10,000 a month until an obligation of $150,000 or $200,000 had piled up. hen the Government parted with their services, and I was told the other day that some of the men whom they had dismissed were being put back for election purposes.

"In his manifesto of 1911, Sir Robert Borden denounced as gross extravagance and corruption the Laurier government's course which had increased the budget of the country from $36,000,000 in 1896 to $79,000,000 in 1910.

"See what we have today. Last year the estimates to run the country of the Meighen Government were $606,000,000. Of this, only $144,000,000 could be charged up to the war, $35,000,000 for land settlement; $31,000,000 for soldiers' pensions; $33,000,000 for soldiers' re-establishment; $8,000,000 for demobilizing. Where has the balance gone?

Soldiers Still in Need.

"As far back as Sept. 4th, 1920, Mr. Meighen made the statement in a speech in Quebec, that re-establishment was settled and the tariff had become the issue before the people. 5,800 soldiers are still in hospitals in Canada. In your own city and in Ste. Anne de Bellevue, there are 800 mental cases, and 700 sub-normal at Whitby."

Continuing, Mrs. Grant Needham declared that the work of re-training soldiers had been absolutely inadequate. There had been formerly 22 centres. Now there are only five. No soldier had received more than six or eight months training, absolutely insufficient to prepare him for a trade, while in the United States the soldiers are receiving three years' training.

She contrasted this treatment of the soldier with the policy of the Liberal platform to give cash grants, in addition to the pension for disability.

"If it was not such a serious question, the treatment accorded our soldiers would be a joke on them," declared the speaker.

The great prosperity of the Liberal era in Canada, when settlers flocked to the country, was contrasted by the speaker with the dreceding and succeeding depression of Conservative regimes.

Depleted Treasury.

"When the Conservatives have depleted the treasury and the Liberals come into power at a time of financial depression," said the speaker, "it is has been history that they go to work like beavers and fill the treasury to repletion. Then the Conservatives get up a canard and get in and spend it all."

Explaining the various taxes which make up the tariff, Mrs. Needham evoked prolonged applause when she drew attention to the fact that Great Britain with a tariff for revenue, as contrasted with other countries which have put up high tariff protective walls, is paying off her war debts quicker than any other country.

"The railway deficit in itself," she said, "has placed a tax of $15 a head on every man, woman and child in Canada. There is no question that the high cost of living is due to protected interests, that protection is responsible for the fact that cornflakes retailing in Windsor for 15 cents a package can be purchased for 8 cents in Detroit in a cardboard carton made from pulpwood shipped from Canada."

As a final word, the speaker urged upon women the importance of weighing issues for themselves, not only of voting themselves, but seeing that others vote to put in power a government that will give an economical administration to serve the best interests of all the people.

Mr. R. G. Fisher referred to the "right about face" of Mr. R. B. Bennett, who spoke in London Saturday night, since 1910, since the days when he accused Mr. Meighen of being the "gramophone of the Mackenzie-Mann interests."

"Why is it that the cost of meat is so high in London?" he asked.

"Because most of the meat sold in London is slaughtered in Toronto and sent back here. The big interests in Toronto come up to Western Ontario, buy up herds, pay freight to Toronto, then ship the meat back here. I asked a London butcher the other day if he couldn't go out and buy the animals cheaper to kill himself, and sell in London at a reasonable price. He replied he would be a fool to undersell the Toronto company."

Nearly Insane From Leg Ulcers

She tells of suffering and brief story of her relief.

Read these two letters from Sarah D. Lawrence of Roebuck, Ontario. "I can't sleep at night from leg ulcers. I am in pain most of the time. I have doctored but no use. A lady from Winnipeg says that D. D. D. relieved her of a bad case of eczema. That her sores are all healed. Can you help me?"

Now a few words from a later letter. "I have used D. D. D. as directed, and my leg is completely well."

Why not be convinced and try this remedy today for any form of skin disease? One application and the itch is gone. Your money back if relief doesn't come from the first bottle. $1.00 a bottle. Try D. D. D. Soap, too.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It.

In the year of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Sub-Acute Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

"I Had Sharp Pains Like Lightning Flashes Shooting Through My Joints."

I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and sub-acute (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address, and I will send it free to try. After you have used it, and it has proven itself to be that long-looked for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, One Dollar, but understand I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer, when relief is thus offered you free. Don't delay. Write today.

CROWD ATTENDS SCHOOL OPENING

Hundreds attended the opening of the new Western University Medical School Tuesday afternoon. The faculty was present and conducted the visitors through the building.

Wednesday the school will be open for inspection from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The official opening will take place at 3:30 p.m., Thursday. Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education for Ontario, will officiate. Immediately after the opening address a portrait of the late Dr. H. A. McCallum will be unveiled.

On Friday afternoon A. B. McCallum, M. A., M. B., Ph.D., Sc.D., LL. D., F. R. S., professor of bio-chemistry at McGill University, will address the faculty, students and alumni. Friday evening a reception will be tendered by the board of governors and the faculty of medicine.

ADOPTS NOVEL PLAN TO REACH RURAL VOTERS

Judge C. W. Colter, Liberal Candidate in East Elgin, Opens Campaign.

ANSWERS OPPONENTS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 15.—Although Judge C. W. Coulter, standard-bearer of the Liberals in East Elgin, is doing little or no personal canvassing in the riding, he nevertheless intends to reach every household and every voter within its confines before election day.

While he, of course, would like to meet all the men and women in his riding to explain his beliefs and to expose many of the misrepresentations which he claims have been made by various political leaders in the Government and the U. F. O., he realizes that any political campaign is much too short to reach everyone equally, and so rather than meet a few at the expense of the many, and having every part of the riding equally at heart, he has adopted an entirely different method.

Outside of his public speeches, many of which he and his committees have arranged for, Judge Colter will depend chiefly on a printed statement of his stand and beliefs, a copy of which he will send to every home within the riding. The statement, which is a lengthy one and very complete, is now in the hands of the printer, and by the end of the week it is expected that 4,000 copies will be ready for distribution.

A Copy for Everybody.

Into every home a copy will go, and every voter will have an opportunity of reading a powerful attack on Secretary Morrison, of the U. F. O., who, the judge claims, he treated without gloves, Sir George Foster, and other leaders of the Conservative party.

Then, too, Judge Colter expects to secure much assistance in his campaign by what he calls parlor meetings. One has already been held at the home of C. Brooks, in South Dorchester. At this informal gathering the Liberal candidate met some 25 or 30 men and women of the vicinity, who evinced deep interest in the issues at stake.

The judge talked to them for two hours on many different questions, and explained fully the stand of Liberalism, and what it meant. Fortified by the knowledge gained, the members of the gathering went forth into the riding to act, according to Judge Colter, as missionaries.

Several of these meetings have been planned; the next probably will be held at Malahide. In this way the candidate hopes to get many stanch workers who will accomplish much more than he could in a personal canvass.

Well Organized.

The district is fairly well organized, with headquarters at Aylmer. Many of the local organizations are particularly strong and much work is being accomplished among the women.

Meetings are to be held at the end of this week at both Sparta and Port Stanley, and as far as is known a meeting will be held in Springfield on Wednesday of next week. At these gatherings Judge Colter will deal with questions from angles not contained in his written message.

Particularly will he deal with statements made by Sir George Foster while in St. Thomas recently with Sir Arthur Meighen. The judge claims that many of the statements made at that time, especially dealing with the national debt, were complete misrepresentations, and he intends to use evidence to prove his claim. He will also go into the railway problem fully.

3 SEEK MAYOR'S CHAIR AT SARNIA

Announce Platforms on Which Election Will Be Asked.

SARNIA, Nov. 15.—Sarnia's municipal election brought into the limelight over the Grand Trunk water rate issue will become a three-cornered fight according to an announcement made tonight by a trio of citizens who have thrown their hats into the political arena.

Mayor George Crawford announces that he will be a candidate for re-election as the city's chief magistrate and that his platform will be his past performances. Alderman J. B. Dagan announces that he will go to the people and ask their support against allowing the Grand Trunk to secure water at a rate set by the council. Wilfred S. Haney, president of the Soldiers' Club has been named as the third candidate and may go to the polls on a straight soldiers' ticket. Haney, a war veteran who has attracted much attention to himself of late as the result of his activity to secure work for unemployed war veterans, has the support of a large number of returned men.

BELIEVE RUM-RUNNERS USED ABANDONED CAR

License Officials Report Fourth Car Discovered on Reserve.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, Nov. 15.—A sedan was found abandoned at the Indian Reservation near here early today by License Inspector W. J. Coulter.

Tracks leading from the car to the river, coupled with the fact that a fisherman reported one of his boats missing leads the officers to believe that the machine was used to transport a cargo of liquor from Windsor to Sarnia, and that the booze was taken to the American side in the stolen boat.

The car is the fourth found under similar circumstances on the reservation during the past year. Two license plates were found under the seat bearing the numbers 142-390 and 182-709. The serial number of the car is 313022, and the engine number C.313022.

Police have been unable to trace the owner of the car, but tonight a report was received from Toronto to the effect that the machine found had been reported stolen in that city.

COAL SCHOONERS LOST IN GALE

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Nov. 15—Three coal-laden schooners or Charlottetown were totally wrecked during the gale of Saturday night and Sunday morning, it became known here today. They were: The Arizona, Howard and Hazel Dell.

The crews of all three vessels escaped. The coal cargoes were insured.

Jobless Married Men To Control Eight Civic Ice Rinks

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BRANTFORD, Nov. 15.—The city council tonight authorized the installation of eight open-air skating rinks in Brantford this winter, each to be in charge of a married unemployed man. The council declined to put a curfew law for children into effect as suggested by the board of education. It was reported that tthe relief fund drive was a success, the amount raised being slightly over the $25,000 objective set.

CLAIMS CREAM OF FARM GOES TO HIRED MAN

Head of National Council of Women Addresses Woodstock Convention.

DOUBTS LURE OF SOIL

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, Nov. 15.—The annual convention of the executive of the National Council of Women convened here this morning with a large number of members present representing councils from all parts of the Dominion.

Mrs. Adam Shortt, vice-president, is presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Sanford, who is in Europe.

At the morning session the corresponding-secretary, Mrs. Parsons of Toronto, read her annual report in which she stated that Her Majesty Queen Mary had been pleased to accept a handsomely-bound copy of the last Year Book published by the council. Lady Byng has consented to become to the delegates, to which Mrs. Harry Cockshutt honorary vice-president.

Mayor Paul extended a civic welcome to the delegates to which Mrs. Shortt and Mrs. Tweed of Kitchener, replied, thanking the people of Woodstock for their hospitality.

At the afternoon session a resolution was passed expressing sympathy with the aim of the limitation of armaments conference in session in Washington, and expressing confidence in Canada's representative there.

Urges Law Study.

Another resolution was passed urging all councils to study their provincial laws relative to the disposition of a man's property, real and personal, after death, and to secure such amendments where necessary, which will guarantee to the legal wife and children at least such legal protection as is granted to illegitimate children.

A third resolution came in the form of a petition to the Federal Government to institute a further scheme of assisting in land settlement, so that the vacant fertile tracts of the Dominion adjacent to the railways and other communications might be immediately available for settlement. This step was deemed necessary, the petition said, from the fact that at present there is much unemployment in the cities.

Doubt Lure of Farm.

In reference to this resolution, Mrs. Shortt said, that in view of the present-day condition there was not much inducement for men to go on the farm. That matter as they stood, in her opinion, gave the "cream" of the farm profits to the hired man.

Mrs. Shortt compared the long hours on the farm and said there would have to be some change in the economic conditions before men could be beguiled to go to the farm in large quantities.

A splendid address on standardization of eggs was given by Professor Benson of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. He made a plea to those present to insist on eggs being classified as fresh, storage, preserved, cracked or dirty. Canada, he said, was the only country where eggs were standardized according to interior quality. People did not appreciate the food value of eggs and the important part they played in diet. Greater production of eggs should be urged, which would result in the lowering in the price and a decline in the quantity imported. At the present time the per capita consumption of eggs was one half per day.

He claimed there were no substitutes to take the place of eggs. Substitutes might be all right for cakes, but lacked food values.

HOLD CONFERENCE OVER M. C. R. ASSESSMENT

Railway Company Claims Increase of $350,000 Is Too Great.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 15.—A special meeting of the finance committee of the city council has been called for Wednesday evening, when several officials of the Michigan Central Railway from Detroit are expected to confer in reference to the assessment on M. C. R. property in this city. Under the latest assessment revision for the city, the valuation of the property has been increased approximately $350,000, an amount that is considered too high by the company. Final decision in the matter is expected Wednesday.

Hunters Enthused.

A party of hunters, comprising Gordon Penhale, Frank Moyer, Gordon Dennis, Albert Hepburn and George Bechil, returned Monday after a sojourn in the north woods, along the French River. Each was successful in securing his quota of deer, and is so enthused with the picturesqueness and scenic beauty of the north country that he is anxiously looking forward to a repetition of the trip next season.

Buried in St. Thomas.

The remains of James McDonald, who died in London on Sunday, were brought to his old home in St. Thomas on Tuesday morning and interred in the family plot in the Roman Catholic Cemetery. The funeral took place from the residence of his brother, Joseph McDonld, 37 John street, to the Holy Angels' Church, where requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Father Moran. Monsignor West said prayers at the grave. The pallbearers were four brothers, Thomas, John, Joseph and William, and two nephews, Bert Nealon and Leo Monohan. The late Mr. McDonald was the eldest of the family. He had lived in London for many years.

Dr. A. F. Tufford returned Monday evening from a three weeks' hunting trip on the French River.

Dr. A. H. Miller returns today from his annual hunting trip.
